Said applicant, if an alien, resident or non-resident, shall pay to the officer countersigning and issuing the license, the sum of ten dollars ($10.00) as a license fee, and shall obtain a class C license, which shall entitle him to fish with hook and line or rod in hand, as authorized by this act; and such alien, on like application and on the payment of the sum of thirty dollars ($30.00) as a license fee, shall obtain a license of class C-1, which shall entitle him to pursue, hunt, shoot, kill and take game birds, as authorized by this act; and such alien, on like application and on the payment of the sum of fifty dollars ($50.00) as a license fee, shall obtain a license of class C-2, which shall entitle him to pursue, hunt, shoot, kill, capture, take and possess game animals, as authorized by this act, provided, however, that any person in possession of first citizenship papers shall not be considered a resident of the state of Montana for the purpose of this act.

To every license, whether issued to a resident, non-resident or alien, which authorizes the licensee to kill elk or deer in this state, there shall be attached to said license certain tags, coupons or other markers, the form of which shall be prescribed by the state fish and game commission, and when any person shall take or kill any deer or elk under such license such person shall immediately thereafter detach from his license, and attach in plain sight to the carcass of said animal or animals the proper tag, coupon or other marker, which said tag, coupon or other marker shall be kept attached thereto so long as any considerable portion of the carcass remains unconsumed. When the proper tag, coupon or other marker is so attached to the said game so killed, the same may be possessed, used, stored and transported; provided the necessary permit to transport the same accompanies the shipment. To said license to hunt or take elk or deer shall also be attached a card, which said card shall on or before the first day of January of the year following the date of the issuance of said license, be returned by the holder of said license to the fish and game commission and a report made to said commission of the game taken under said license and the place where the same was taken, it being the intent of this act to require every licensee to make said report whether any game was taken under said license or not. It shall be unlawful and a misdemeanor punishable, accordingly, for anyone killing any deer or elk under said license, to fail or neglect to attach the tag, coupon or other markers so provided by said license to any deer or elk killed by them immediately after the same had been killed or to fail to keep said tag, coupon or other marker attached to said deer or elk or portions thereof while the same is possessed by him.

The applicant for a class D license, or trapper's license, must be the owner and in possession of a class A-2 license, and upon the payment of the sum of ten dollars ($10.00) to the officer to whom the application for a class D license is made, shall receive and obtain a class D license, or trapper's license, which shall authorize the holder thereof to trap fur-bearing animals within the state at such times and in such manner as may be lawful so to do under the laws of this state and the regulations of the fish and game commission, and at such places as may be designated in said license.

All sums collected for licenses sold, or received for permits issued, from the sale of seized game, or from fines, or the sale of firearms or other chattels confiscated, from damages collected for violations of the fish and game laws of this state, from appropriations, or received by the state fish and game commission from any and all other sources are hereby appropriated to and placed under control of the state fish and game commission. All moneys so received shall be remitted by the state fish and game warden to the state treasurer to be by him placed to the credit of the fish and game fund.

The sum of seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500.00) shall be transferred on or before January first of each year from the fish and game fund to the bounty fund of the state to be used to pay bounties on predatory animals as provided by law; said sum of seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500.00) shall be matched with a like sum of the said bounty fund money derived from the tax on livestock now provided by law providing a fund of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000.00). At the close of any bounty paying season of any year fifty per centum (50%) of any unexpended balance shall be re-transferred to the state fish and game fund. Nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to prevent the livestock commission from expending from its bounty fund any part thereof in excess of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000.00), which may be necessary for the purpose of paying bounties.

It shall be unlawful for anyone to take, capture, shoot, kill, or attempt to take, capture, shoot or kill, any game animal, or game bird from any automobile or on or from any public highway in the state of Montana or by the aid or with the use of any set gun, jack-light, or other artificial light, trap, snare, or salt lick, nor shall any such set gun, jack-light or other artificial light, trap, snare, salt lick or other device to entrap or entice game animals or game birds be used, made or set; provided, however, that this does not prohibit the shooting of wild water fowl from blinds or over decoys with a gun only, not larger than a number ten (10) gauge fired from the shoulder, nor shall any game fish be caught, captured, or taken, or attempted to be caught, captured or taken by the aid or with the use of any gun, or trap, nor shall any such set gun, or trap or other device to entrap game fish be used, made, or set, nor shall any game birds or game or fur-bearing animals be killed, taken or hunted from an aeroplane, nor shall any aeroplane be used for the purpose of concentrating, pursuing, driving, rallying or stirring up any game or migratory birds, game or fur-bearing animals, nor shall any power boat, sail boat, or any boat under sail or any floating device towed by a power boat, sail boat, or any boat under sail be used for the purpose of killing, capturing, taking, pursuing, concentrating, driving or stirring up any game birds, or migratory water fowl, or game or fur-bearing animals, nor shall any person take into a field or forest or have in his possession while out hunting, any device or mechanism devised to silence or muffle or minimize the report of any firearms, whether such device or mechanism be operated from or attached to any firearm; nor shall any person chase with dogs any of the game or fur-bearing animals as defined by the fish and game laws of this state; provided, however, that live-stock owners, employees of the state fish and game commission and of the United States bureau of biological survey may use dogs in the pursuit of stock killing bears, or other means of taking stock killing bears except the use of the dead fall; providing, however, that traps used in capturing bear shall be inspected twice each day, which inspection shall be twelve hours apart; and provided further, that a person may take game birds during the open season thereof, with the aid of a dog or dogs and any person or association organized for the protection of game, may run field trials at any time upon obtaining written permission from the state fish and game warden.

3695. Private artificial lake or pond—stocking—license—bond—reports—restrictions on catching fish. Any person who owns or lawfully controls an artificial lake or pond may stock the same with fry procured from the federal or from the state government at the prevailing market price, providing there is a surplus of said fry, or from any other lawful source, and shall thereafter have the right and privilege to take from said lake or pond in any manner, except by the use of poison or explosives, the fish therein contained, and to sell and dispose of said fish and of eggs and fry therefrom. The words “artificial lake or pond” as herein used shall not be construed to include any natural pond or body of water created by natural agencies, but shall be limited only to such bodies of water as are created by the artificial diversion or storage of water and shall not exceed 500 acres of surface area. Constitutionality

The constitutionality of the creation of the railroad commission and the authority of the state, in the exercise of its police power for the preservation of the lives and property of its citizens, to place transportation by motor vehicles, trucks and busses, whether by common carrier or by individuals, under the supervision and control of such a commission are not here questioned. Similar action has been taken in practically every state of the Union and has been universally upheld. State v. Johnson, 75 M 240, 248, 243 P 1073.

The term "railroad" shall be taken to mean any corporation, company, or individual owning or operating any railroad, in whole or in part, in this state. It shall also include express companies and sleeping-car companies. The term "board" in this act shall be taken to mean the board of railroad commissioners of the state of Montana. 3794. Power of board to fix rates, schedules, and classifications. The power and authority is hereby vested in the said board, and it is hereby made its duty to adopt, as soon as practicable after the organization of the board, all necessary rates, charges, and regulations to govern and regulate freight and passenger tariffs, to correct abuses, and prevent unjust discrimination and extortion in the rates of freight and passenger tariffs on the different railroads in this state, and to make the same effective by enforcing the penalties prescribed in this act. The said board shall have the power, and it shall be its duty, to fairly and justly classify and subdivide all freight and merchandise of whatsoever character that may be transported over railroads of this state, into such general and special classes or subdivisions as may be deemed necessary or expedient. The said board may fix different rates for different railroads and for different lines under the same management, or for different parts of the same lines, if found necessary to do justice, and may make rates for express companies different from the rates fixed for railroads. Said board shall also have the power, and it shall be its duty, to fix and establish for all or any connecting lines of railroad in this state reasonable joint rates of freight charges for the various classes of freight, and cars that may pass over two or more lines of such railroads. The rates, tolls, or charges on any property, which shall for any reason remain unclassified by the board, shall not in any event exceed the highest rates fixed for any classification by said board. And it shall be within the province of the board to entertain and hear complaints made by any shipper to the effect that unjust discrimination is being made as against the state of Montana, or any point therein, in the way of rates for the transportation of freight or passengers from points without the state to points within the state, and vice versa; and in proper cases, where it appears that the United States interstate commerce commission law has been violated, it is hereby made the duty of said board to make complaint to the interstate commerce commission of the United States, and to aid such commission in any investigation it may make concerning violations of the United States law, by furnishing evidence, and in any other manner which may seem best suited to enforce both the United States and state law, and to protect the interests of the people.

Complaint

Since the presumption obtains that the railroad commission fixed and established reasonable rates in obedience to this section, and that the rate as established is in accordance with the approved and published tariff, a complaint which fails to allege that freight charges were not in accordance with such tariff is defective. Doney v. Northern Pacific Ry. Co. et al., 60 M 209, 227 et seq., 199 P 432.

Established Tariff Has Effect of Statute

A tariff duly filed and published by the railroad commission has the force and effect of a statute and is binding alike upon the shipper and carrier, until modified by the tribunal authorized to change it. Doney v. Northern Pacific Ry. Co. et al., 70 M 209, 227 et seq., 199 P 432.

Exclusive Remedy

Held, that the remedies prescribed by the railroad commission act for recovery of damages caused by the exaction of discriminatory or unreasonable freight charges, are exclusive, and that therefore a complaint based upon the common-law remedy and drawn in entire disregard of the provisions of the statute did not state a cause of action, the common-law remedies having been superseded by said chapter. Doney v. Northern Pacific Ry. Co. et al., 70 M 209, 227 et seq., 199 P 432.

Powers Distinguished from I. C. C.

While under the interstate commerce act railroad rates are voluntary, initiated and filed by the carriers, under the Montana act the rates are prescribed or approved by the state board of railroad commissioners. Montana etc. Co. v. Great Northern Ry. Co., 91 M 194, 199, 7 P 2d 919.

Rates Cannot be Changed Retroactively

Held, that under the railroad commission act creating, and prescribing the duties of, the board of railroad commissioners, the board has no authority to make a retroactive order to the effect that rates (previously approved by the board) charged and collected on a shipment of livestock, were unjust and unreasonable, thus permitting the shipper to recover the difference between the amount collected and that subsequently found by the board to be a reasonable rate, the board's powers being limited to the changing or modification of existing rates as to the future. (Language in Doney v. Northern Pac. Ry. Co., 60 M 209, inconsistent with the above holding and at variance with the correct conclusion announced therein, overruled.) *Montana etc. Co. v. Rates in General

Determination whether a shipper has in the past been wronged by the exaction of an unreasonable or discriminatory rate is a judicial act, while determination as to what rate shall be charged in the future is a legislative or administrative. Montana etc. Co. v. Great Northern Ry. Co., 91 M 194, 199, 7 P 2d 919.

Id. Under the provisions of the railroad commission act, a carrier is prohibited from collecting rates either higher or lower than those fixed by the state board of railroad commissioners.

Id. A voluntary reduction of a rate by a carrier, with the consent of the board of railroad commissioners, does not make the prior rate unlawful, unreasonable or discriminatory or the basis of an action for damages.

Id. So long as railroad rates established by the state railroad commission are in force, they are presumed to be reasonable, and neither the commission nor the courts have power retroactively to declare such rates unreasonable, and thus permit recovery of damages to the extent of the overplus paid by a shipper or an undercharge collected by the carrier.

3795. Making schedules effective. When any schedules shall have been made or revised, it shall be the duty of said commissioners to cause notice thereof to be published for two successive weeks in some newspaper published in the city of Helena, which notice shall state the date of taking effect of said schedule, and said schedule shall take effect at the time so stated in such notice, and a printed notice of such schedule shall be conspicuously posted by such common carrier in each freight office, and passenger depot upon its lines; provided, that before finally fixing and deciding what the original maximum rates and classifications shall be, it shall be the duty of the railroad commissioners to publish ten days' notice in two daily papers, one of which is published in the city of Helena, setting forth in such notice that at a certain time and place they will proceed to fix and determine such maximum rates and classification; and they shall at such time and place, and as soon as practicable, afford to any person, firm, corporation, or common carrier who may desire it, an opportunity to make an explanation or showing, or to furnish information to said railroad commissioners on the subject of determining and fixing such maximum rates and classification. All classifications and rates fixed and established by the board shall become effective twenty days after the railroad affected thereby shall have received certified copies thereof from said board. Each railroad affected by the provisions of this act shall display, in a conspicuous place in each of its stations in this state, a schedule printed in plain, legible, English type, showing all classifications and rates fixed and established by the said board. Any failure or refusal on the part of any railroad to comply with the provisions of this section shall subject such railroad to a penalty of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars for each day that such failure or neglect is continued.

3796. Power to alter classification or rate—hearing complaint. The said board shall have the power from time to time to change, alter, amend, or abolish any classification or rate established by it when deemed necessary, and such amended, altered, or new classifications or rates shall be put into effect in the same manner as original classifications or rates. The said board shall make and establish reasonable rates for the transportation of passengers over each and all of the railroads subject hereto, and shall prescribe rates, tolls, and charges for all other services performed by any railroad subject hereto. The said board shall not make or establish any increase or raise in the rate of charge for the transportation of freight by any railroad within the state of Montana, unless ten days' notice be published in two daily papers, one of which shall be published in the city of Helena, setting forth in said notice that at a certain time and place the board will proceed to make and establish such increase or raise in the rate of charge for the transportation of freight; and the board shall at such time and place hold a public hearing thereon, at which time and place the public generally, or any person, firm, or corporation, shall be given an opportunity to present such facts, information, or statistics as shall be pertinent to the hearing then being held. The said board must, within forty days after the filing with such board of a complaint by a shipper, or other person interested, proceed to investigate and determine the justness and reasonableness of any classification, rate, charge, toll, regulation or order made by said board.

Hearing Complaint

A shipper deeming himself aggrieved by a rate fixed by the railroad commission because unjust, unreasonable or discriminatory, must proceed under section 3810, if he desires to have it declared so; where no rate has been fixed or the one established is considered excessive, he must apply to the commission for investigation and determination of his contention, under this section, before he can maintain an action in the courts; and if his case is predicated upon freight charges made in excess of those fixed and established by the commission, his complaint must so allege and the action must be brought within twelve months from the date of payment, under section 3808. Doney v. Northern Pacific Ry. Co. et al., 60 M 209, 227 et seq., 199 P 432.

3797. General powers of board. The board shall have the general supervision of all railroads, express companies, car companies, sleeping-car companies, freight and freight-line companies, and any common carrier engaged in the transportation of passengers or property in this state, in all matters appertaining to the duty of said board and within its power and authority under the provisions of this act; and shall investigate any alleged neglect or violation of the laws of the state by any railroad or other company above specified doing business therein, or by the officers, agents, or employees thereof. The board shall also have the power and authority, and it shall be its duty, to examine and inspect, or cause to be examined and inspected, under its authority, all books, records, files, and papers of the persons and companies specified above, in so far as the same may be pertinent to any matter under investigation before said board, and to hear and take testimony in the progress of any inquiry or investigation authorized by this act.

3798. Investigation into accidents. The said board, or some members thereof to be deputed by it, shall investigate and make inquiry into every accident occurring in the operation of any railroad in this state, resulting in death, or injury to any person of such gravity as to require the attention of a physician or surgeon, or in the destruction of property greater in value than two thousand dollars. 3799. Duty of railroad company to report accidents. It is hereby made the duty of every railroad company operating any line of railroad within this state, promptly upon the occurrence or in connection with the operation of its line within the state, of any accident such as is mentioned in the next preceding section, to report the same to the board of railroad commissioners, in which report shall be stated the time and place of the accident, the names of the persons killed or injured, and the value of any property destroyed.

3800. Witnesses—compensation; immunity. The said board, in making any examination or investigation provided for in this act, shall have the power to issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses, by such rules as it may prescribe. Each witness shall receive the sum of three dollars per day, together with the sum of five cents per mile traveled by the nearest practicable route in going to and returning from the place of meeting of said commission. And no witness furnished with free transportation shall receive mileage for the distance he may have traveled on such free transportation. No person shall be excused from attending or testifying, or producing any books, papers, documents, or any thing or things, before any court or magistrate, or commissioner or board, upon any investigation, proceeding or trial under the provisions of this act, or for any violation of any of them, upon the ground or for the reason that the testimony or evidence, documentary or otherwise, required of him, may tend to convict him of a crime, or to subject him to a penalty or forfeiture; but no person shall be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any transaction, matter, or thing concerning which he may so testify, or produce evidence; and no testimony or evidence so given or produced shall be received against him upon any civil or criminal proceeding, action, or investigation.

3801. Power to compel railroad companies to provide adequate accommodations and service. The board shall have the power, and it shall be its duty, to compel any and all railroads subject hereto, to provide, maintain, and operate sufficient train service, both freight and passenger, for the proper and reasonable accommodation of the public, and to provide and maintain suitable waiting-rooms for passengers, and suitable rooms for freight and baggage at all stations.

The attorney general is hereby constituted the attorney and counselor of said board, and the county attorney of every county in the state shall, on the request and at the direction of the attorney general, assist in all cases, proceedings, and investigations undertaken by said board under this law, in his own county; provided, that said board shall have power and authority to employ special counsel, with the consent and approval of the attorney general, to assist in any case, matter, proceeding, or investigation instituted under this law. It is hereby made the duty of the attorney general, upon direction of said board, and of the county attorney of each county in this state, upon direction of the attorney general, to institute and prosecute, and to appear and defend, any action or proceeding arising under the provisions of this law. All suits and proceedings filed in any court of this state, under the provisions of this law, shall have precedence over all other business in such court, save and except criminal business and original proceedings in the supreme court. The fees and expenses of additional counsel shall be fixed and determined by the state board of examiners, and allowed and paid as items of expense the same as other items of expense of said board of railroad commissioners.

3803. Court review of action of board—pleadings. Actions to review the determination of the board fixing any classification, rate, toll, charge, regulation, or order, or the refusal of said board to make, fix, or establish any classification, rate, toll, charge, regulation, or order, shall be commenced in the district court of the county having jurisdiction thereof by the filing of a complaint, duly verified as provided for the verification of pleadings in civil actions, and notice may be served upon the party defendant, either by summons issued and served as provided for in the code of civil procedure in civil actions, or the court may issue an order directed to the defendant requiring him to answer the complaint at such time as the court may deem reasonable; provided, however, that such time shall not be less than five days from the time of the service of such order. Upon the appearance of the defendant, he may deny or admit the facts set forth in said complaint, by answer, which shall be verified as the pleadings in other civil actions. If, upon the hearing, the court shall find that the rates fixed or the classifications made are unjust and unreasonable, it shall thereupon be the duty of said board to make new rates or a reclassification, as the case may be. 3804. Prohibition against rebates and discrimination. If any railroad subject hereto, directly or indirectly or by any special rate, rebate, drawback, or other device, shall charge, demand, or receive from any person, firm, or corporation, a greater or less compensation for any service rendered, or to be rendered, in the transportation of property subject to the provisions of this act, than that fixed by the said board of railroad commissioners for such service, such railroad shall be deemed guilty of extortion, and shall forfeit and pay to the state of Montana not less than five hundred dollars nor more than two thousand dollars for each offense; provided, that nothing herein shall be so construed as to prevent any railroad or railroad corporation from giving excursion rates to or from any point within or without the state.

3805. Discrimination in rates and charges. If any railroad subject to this act, or its agents or officers, shall hereafter collect, charge, demand, or receive from any person, company, firm, or corporation, a greater rate, charge, or compensation than that fixed and established by the said board of railroad commissioners for the transportation of freight, passenger, or cars, or for the use of any car on the line of its railroad, or any line operated by it, or for receiving, forwarding, handling, or storing any such freight-car, or for any other service performed, or to be performed by it, such railroad and its agents and officers shall be deemed guilty of extortion, and shall forfeit and pay to the state of Montana a sum not less than five hundred dollars nor more than two thousand dollars.

3806. Jurisdiction to enforce orders of board. The district court shall have jurisdiction to enforce, by proper decree, injunction or order, the rates, classifications, rulings, orders, and regulations made or established by the commission. The proceeding therefor shall be by equitable action in the name of the state, and shall be instituted by the attorney general or county attorney, whenever advised by the board that any railroad is violating or refusing to comply with any rule, order, rate, classification, or regulation made by the commission and applicable to such railroad. Such proceedings shall have the precedence over all other business in such courts, except criminal business. In any action the burden of proof shall rest upon the defendant, who must show by clear and satisfactory evidence that the rule, order, regulation, rate, or classification involved is unreasonable and unjust as to them. If, in such action, it be the decision of the court that the rule, regulation, order, rate, or classification is not so unreasonable or unjust, and that in refusing compliance therewith the railroad is thereby failing or omitting the performance of any duty, debt, or obligation, the court shall decree a mandatory and perpetual injunction compelling obedience to and compliance with the rule, regulation, order, rate, or classification by the defendant, and its officers, agents, servants, and employees, and may grant such other relief as may be deemed just and proper. Any violation of such decree shall render the defendant and officer, agent, servant or servants, or employee of the defendant, who is in any manner instrumental in such violation, guilty of contempt, and shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars for each offense, or by imprisonment of the person guilty of contempt until he shall sufficiently purge himself therefrom, and such decree shall continue and remain in effect and be in force until the rule, regulation, order, rate, or classification shall be modified or vacated by the board; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to deprive either party to such proceedings of the right to trial by jury, as provided by the seventh amendment to the constitution of the United States, or as provided by the constitution of this state. An appeal shall lie to the supreme court from the decree in such action, and the cause shall have precedence over all other civil actions of a different nature pending in the supreme court.

3807. Appeals to supreme court. Appeals may be taken to the supreme court from the judgment of any district court in any action brought under the provisions of this act; such appeals shall have precedence over all other business, except criminal business and original proceedings in such court, and shall be heard and determined as are appeals in civil actions.

History: En. Sec. 25, Ch. 37, L. 1907; Sec. 4388, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 3807, R. C. M. 1921.

3808. Actions to recover excess charges. Any sum or amount of money paid to any railroad by any person or shipper in excess of the rates, tolls, or charges fixed and established by the board for such service, may be recovered from such railroad by the person or shipper in any action instituted and maintained in the district court of the county in which such payment was made, provided such action shall be brought within three years from the date of such payment. No contract or agreement, written or otherwise, between such person or shipper and the said railroad, shall be admissible in evidence for the purpose of showing a waiver of the right given by this section. No voluntary payment by any person or shipper of any such excess or overcharge to any railroad shall be, or held to be, a waiver on the part of such person or shippers of the right to sue and recover for such excess or overcharge, as provided for in this section. If, upon the trial of such action, it shall satisfactorily appear to the court or jury that such overcharge was wilfully made, the person or shipper bringing the said action shall be awarded damages in treble the amount of such excess or overcharge, together with the costs and expenses of such action, including a reasonable attorney's fee, to be taxed and collected as other costs in the action.

Board Without Power to Change Freight Rates Retroactively

Held, that under this chapter, creating, and prescribing the duties of, the board of railroad commissioners, the board has no authority to make a retroactive order to the effect that rates (previously approved by the board) charged and collected on a shipment of livestock, were unjust and unreasonable, thus permitting the shipper to recover the difference between the amount collected and that subsequently found by the board to be a reasonable rate, the board's powers being limited to the changing or modification of existing rates as to the future. (Language in Doney v. Northern Pac. Ry. Co., 60 M 209, inconsistent with the above holding and at variance with the correct conclusion announced therein, overruled.) Montana etc. Co. v. Great Northern Ry. Co., 91 M 194, 7 P 2d 919. Decision affirmed in Sunburst O. & R. Co. v. Great Northern R. R. Co., 91 M 216, 7 P 2d 216, 278 U. S. 358.

Jurisdictional Allegation

Under this section an allegation that payment of alleged discriminatory or unreasonable freight charges was made in the county in which the action is brought is jurisdictional. Doney v. Northern Pacific Ry. Co. et al., 60 M 209, 227, 199 P 432.

3808.1. Time for commencement of action. All actions at law by carriers subject to this act for recovery of their charges, or any part thereof, shall be begun within three years from the time the cause of action accrues and not after.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 155, L. 1925.

3809. Action to determine reasonableness of rates or classification. Any railroad may bring an action in the district court of the county where the principal office or place of business is situated, or in any county where any such classification, rate, toll, charge, regulation, or order of the board is applicable, against the said board as defendant, to determine whether or not any such classification, rate, toll, charge, regulation, or order made, fixed, or established by the board under the provisions of this act is just and reasonable; provided, that until the final decision in any such action the classification, rate, toll, charge, regulation, or order of the board affecting rates or charges shall be deemed to be final and conclusive; and provided further, that in any action, hearing, or proceeding in any court, the classification, rate, tolls, charges, regulations, and orders made, fixed, and established by said board shall prima facie be deemed to be just, reasonable, and proper. All costs and expenses incurred in the hearing, trial, or appeal of any action brought under this section shall be fixed and assessed as to the court may seem just and equitable.

Injunction

The district court has no power of control over any order of the railroad commission relating to rates and charges, except by final judgment; and this necessarily deprives a railroad company, as well as the shipper, of the right to invoke, and prohibits the court from issuing a preliminary injunction in this behalf. It has, however, jurisdiction to use the provisional remedy of injunction in limine to suspend an order made by the commission, requiring a railroad company to operate a local passenger-train each way daily between designated stations, pending a final determination of an action brought by the company to have the order reviewed as unjust and unreasonable. State ex rel. Board of Railroad Commrs. v. District Court, 53 M 229, 233, 163 P 115.

3810. Action by shippers. Any shipper, or other person interested, may bring an action in the district court of the county where the principal office or place of business of such railroad is situated, or in any county where any classification, rate, toll, charge, regulation, or order of the board is applicable, against the said board of railroad commissioners as defendant, to determine whether or not any such classification, rate, toll, charge, regulation, or order, made, fixed, or established by the board under the provisions of this act, is just and reasonable; provided, that until the final decision in any such action, the classification, rate, toll, charge, regulation, or order of the board affecting rates or charges shall be deemed to be final and conclusive, except as herein otherwise provided; and provided further, that in any action, hearing, or proceeding in any court, the classifications, rates, tolls, charges, regulations, and orders made, fixed, and established by said board shall prima facie be deemed to be just, reasonable, and proper. Costs shall be awarded in all actions brought under the provisions of this section as in other civil causes.

Procedure

inatory, must proceed under this section, if he desires to have it declared so; where no rate has been fixed or the one established is considered excessive, he must apply to the commission for investigation and determination of his contention, under section 3796, before he can maintain an action in the courts; and if his case is predicated upon freight charges made in excess of those fixed and established by the commission, his complaint must so allege and the action must be brought within twelve months from the date of payment, under section 3808. Doney v. Northern Pacific Ry. Co. et al., 60 M 209, 234, 199 P 432.

Held, on application for a writ of certiorari to annul an order of the board of railroad commissioners directing the station facilities at a certain town to be removed to another town, relator had a sufficient remedy under this section, by an action in the district court to determine whether the order was just and reasonable, and that therefore certiorari did not lie. State v. Board of Railroad Comms., 73 M 1, 5, 6, 234 P 834.

3811. Penalty for violation of law by railroad. If any railroad shall wilfully violate any provision of this act, or shall do any other act herein prohibited, or shall refuse to perform any and all lawful orders emanating from said railroad commission relating to rates and charges, or any other duty enjoined upon it, for which a penalty has not herein been provided, for every such act of violation it shall pay to the state of Montana a penalty of not more than five hundred dollars.

3812. Recovery of penalties and forfeitures. All penalties and forfeitures incurred, levied, and made under the provisions of this act, shall be collected by said board of railroad commissioners and paid over to the state treasurer and credited to the general fund; provided, however, that should the said board fail or refuse to institute appropriate action for the recovery of any penalty or forfeiture provided for herein, for the space of sixty days after notice of the cause of complaint by such person or shipper aggrieved, such person or shipper may institute and prosecute such action in the name of the state against such railroad, in the same manner as could the said board.

3813. Acceptance of favors and gratuities from railroads prohibited. No railroad commissioner nor the said secretary shall, directly or indirectly, solicit or request from or recommend to any railroad corporation, or any officer, attorney, or agent thereof, the appointment of any person to any place or position. 3830. Proceedings in district court. The district court shall have jurisdiction to enforce, by proper decree, injunction, or order, the rulings, orders, and regulations made or established by the commission under the provisions of this act. The proceeding therefor shall be by equitable action in the name of the state, and shall be instituted by the attorney general or county attorney, whenever advised by the board that any railroad is violating or refusing to comply with any rule, order, or regulation made by the commission, and applicable to such railroad. Such proceedings shall have the precedence over all other business in such courts, except criminal business. In any action the burden of proof shall rest upon the defendant, who must show by clear and satisfactory evidence that the rule, order, or regulation involved is unreasonable and unjust as to them. If, in such action, it be the decision of the court that the rule, regulation, or order is not so unreasonable or unjust, and that in refusing compliance therewith the railroad is thereby failing or omitting the performance of any duty or obligation, the court shall decree a mandatory and perpetual injunction compelling obedience to and compliance with the rule, regulation, or order, by the defendant, and its officers, agents, servants, and employees, and may grant such other relief as may be deemed just and proper. Any violation of such decree shall render the defendant and officer, agent, servant or servants, or employees of the defendant, who are in any manner instrumental in such violation, guilty of contempt, and shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars for each offense, or by imprisonment of the person guilty of contempt until he shall sufficiently purge himself therefrom, and such decree shall continue and remain in effect and be in force until the rule, regulation, or order shall be modified or vacated by the board; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to deprive either party to such proceedings of the right to trial by jury, as provided by the seventh amendment to the constitution of the United States, or as provided by the constitution of this state. An appeal shall lie to the supreme court from the decree in such action, and the cause shall have precedence over all other civil actions of a different nature pending in the supreme court.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 136, L. 1909; re-en. Sec. 3830, R. C. M. 1921.

3831. Appeals to supreme court. Appeals may be taken to the supreme court from the judgment of any district court in any action brought under the provisions of this act; such appeals shall have precedence over all other business, except criminal business and original proceedings in such court, and shall be heard and determined as are appeals in civil actions.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 136, L. 1909; re-en. Sec. 3831, R. C. M. 1921.

3832. Action to determine reasonableness of rule. Any railroad may bring an action in the district court of the county where the principal office or place of business is situated, or, in any county where any such rule, regulation, or order of the board is applicable, against the said board as defendant, to determine whether or not any such rule, regulation, or order, made, fixed or established by the board under provisions of this act, is just and reasonable; provided, that until the final decision in any such action, the rule, regulation, or order of the board affecting any railroad shall be deemed to be final and conclusive; and provided further, that in any action, hearing, or proceeding in any court, the rules, regulations, and orders, made, fixed, and established by said board, shall prima facie be deemed to be just, reasonable, and proper. All costs and expenses incurred in the hearing, trial, or appeal of any action brought under this section shall be fixed and assessed as to the court may seem just and equitable.

The board of railroad commissioners of the state of Montana shall have power and authority, in addition to all other powers hereafter vested in said board, whenever the line of one railroad or railway shall cross, intersect, or parallel (overhead, at grade, or otherwise) the railroad or railway of another company or corporation, after notice and hearing, to order and compel the installation of suitable platforms and station-houses for the convenience of passengers desiring to transfer from one road to the other, and for the transfer of passengers, baggage, or freight, whenever the same shall be ordered by the board of railroad commissioners. And such company or corporation shall, when so ordered by the board of railroad commissioners, keep such passenger station warmed, lighted, and opened to the ingress and egress of all passengers a reasonable time before the arrival and after the departure of such trains as accommodate such station, carrying passengers on such railroad or railway. And said railroad or railway companies crossing, intersecting, or paralleling (overhead, at grade, or otherwise) shall stop such trains at said station-house so located for the transfer of baggage, passengers, and freight, so as to furnish reasonable facilities for that character of a station when so ordered by the board of railroad commissioners, and the expense of construction and maintenance of such station-house and platform shall be paid by such corporations in such proportions as they may agree, and if they fail to agree, as may be fixed by order of the board of railroad commissioners. Such corporation connecting by crossing, intersecting, or paralleling (overhead, at grade, or otherwise) shall also, when so ordered, after notice and hearing by the board of railroad commissioners, unite and connect the tracks of said several corporations so as to permit the transfer from the tracks of said several corporations to the tracks of each other, of loaded and unloaded cars designed for transportation on both roads; provided, however, that no such union or connection shall be ordered except where and when necessary to properly serve the public. The expense of construction and maintenance shall be apportioned, and the material to be used and the route to be followed shall be determined by such corporations as they may agree, and in the event that they fail to agree, as may be fixed by order of the board of railroad commissioners, and the expense thus incurred by the board of railroad commissioners shall be paid by the railroad or railway companies jointly interested, on such basis as the commission may order.

3836. Joint rates—division among carriers. Whenever the board of railroad commissioners of the state of Montana shall have established a joint rate for the transportation of freight carried over two or more connecting lines of railroad, railway, or common carrier, the railroads, railways, or common carriers affected by such joint rate may, by agreement, provide for the distribution thereof between themselves, and in the event that the railroads, railways, or common carriers affected by such rates shall fail to agree upon the distribution of such rate for a period of sixty days after the order fixing and determining such joint rate shall have been made by the board of railroad commissioners, then the said board of railroad commissioners shall have power, and it is hereby made its duty, to call a hearing, of which hearing the railroads, railways, or common carriers affected by such joint rate shall have at least twenty days' notice, and upon such hearing the board of railroad commissioners shall proceed to fix and determine the pro rata distribution of such joint rate between the railroads, railways, or common carriers affected thereby.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 105, L. 1913; re-en. Sec. 3837, R. C. M. 1921.

3838. Enforcement of regulation in district court. The district court shall have jurisdiction to enforce, by proper decree, injunction, or order, the rulings, orders, and regulations made or established by the commission under the provisions of this act. The proceedings therefor shall be by equitable action in the name of the state, and shall be instituted by the attorney general or county attorney, whenever advised by the board that any railroad, railway, or common carrier is violating or refusing to comply with any rule, order, or regulation made by the commission, and applicable to such railroad, railway, or common carrier. Such proceedings shall have precedence over all other business in such courts, except criminal business. In any action the burden of proof shall rest upon the defendant, who must show by clear and satisfactory evidence that the rule, order, or regulation involved is unreasonable and unjust as to him. If, in such action, it be the decision of the court that the rule, regulation, or order is not unreasonable or unjust, and that in refusing to comply therewith the railway, railroad, or common carrier is thereby failing or omitting the performance of any duty or obligation, the court shall decree a mandatory and perpetual injunction compelling obedience to, and compliance with the rule, regulation, or order by the defendant, and its officers, agents, servants, and employees, and may grant such other relief as may be deemed just and proper. Any violation of such decree shall render the defendant, officer, agent, servant, or servants or employees of the defendant, who is in any manner instrumental in such violation, guilty of contempt, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars for each offense, or by imprisonment of the person guilty of contempt, until he shall sufficiently purge himself therefrom, and such decree shall continue and remain in effect and be in force until the rule, regulation, or order shall be modified or vacated by the board of railroad commissioners; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to deprive either party to such proceedings of the right to trial by jury, as provided by the seventh amendment to the constitution of the United States, or as provided by the constitution of this state. History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 105, L. 1913; re-en. Sec. 3839, R. C. M. 1921.

3847.1. Definition of terms. Unless the language or context clearly indicates that different meanings are intended, the following words, terms and phrases shall, for the purposes of this act, be given the meanings hereinafter subjoined to them.

(a) The word “board” means the board of railroad commissioners of the state of Montana.

(b) The term “corporation” means a corporation, company, association or joint stock association.

(c) The term “person” means an individual, firm or copartnership.

(d) The word “certificate” means the certificate of public convenience and necessity authorized to be issued under the provisions of this act.

(e) The term "public highway" means every public street, road, highway, or way in this state.

(f) The term "motor vehicle" shall include all vehicles or machines propelled by any power other than muscular used upon the public highways for the transportation of persons and/or property.

(g) The words "between fixed termini or over a regular route" when used in this act, mean the termini or route between or over which any motor carrier usually or ordinarily operates any motor vehicles, even though there may be periodical or irregular departures from said termini or route. Whether or not a motor vehicle is operated by a motor carrier between fixed termini, or over a regular route, or otherwise, within the meaning of this act, shall be a question of fact to be determined by the board.

(h) The term "motor carrier," when used in this act, means every person or corporation, their lessees, trustees, or receivers appointed by any court whatsoever, operating motor vehicles upon any public highway in the state of Montana for the transportation of persons and/or property for hire, on a commercial basis either as a common carrier or under private contract, agreement, charter, or undertaking; provided that nothing in this act shall be construed as affecting the operation of school busses which are used in conveying school children to and from district or other schools, or to the transportation of freight or passengers by motor vehicles when done occasionally and not as a regular business, or to the transportation by means of motor vehicles in the regular course of business of employees, supplies, and materials by any person, firm or corporation engaged exclusively in the construction or maintenance of highways, or engaged exclusively in logging or mining operations, insofar as the use of employees, supplies and materials in construction and production is concerned.

(i) The words "for hire" mean for remuneration of any kind, paid or promised, either directly or indirectly. An occasional accommodative transportation service by a person not in the transportation business shall not be construed as a service for hire, even though the persons transported shares in the cost or pays for the service.

(j) The word "compensation," as used in this act, shall mean the charge imposed upon motor carriers in consideration of the use of the highways in this state by such motor carriers, as provided in section 3847.16.

(k) The word "railroad" means the movement of cars on rails, regardless of the motive power used therefor.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 184, L. 1931.

Constitutionality

Held, that the motor carrier act, regulating the use of state highways by motor carriers for hire, is a valid enactment as against the contentions of a private contract carrier that by requiring him to obtain from the state board of railroad commissioners a certificate of public convenience and necessity, the act is invalid, as denying him the right to contract, and offending against the equal protection of the law and the due process of the law clauses of the constitution. (Justices Ford and Angstman dissenting.) Barney v. Board of Railroad Comms., 93 M 115, 125 et seq., 17 P 2d 82; Fulmer v. Board of Railroad Comms., 96 M 22, 25 et seq., 28 P 2d 849.

Held, that the motor carrier act is not violative of section 23, article V, of the constitution, nor is it rendered unconstitutional as special legislation (const., art. V, sec. 26). State v. Healow et al., 98 M 177, 38 P 2d 285.

Held, that the motor carrier act (this act), is not unconstitutional as offending against the provisions of sections 23 and 26, article V, constitution, with relation to defect of title and the enactment of special laws, by the provision in section 14 of the chapter as to the county in which a suit for injunction for the enforcement of the act may be brought. Great Northern Ry. Co. v. Hatch et al., 98 M 269, 277, 38 P 2d 976.

Operation and Effect

In the construction of the motor carrier act (chapter 184, L. 1931), the purpose of which is the supervision, regulation and control of the state highways by motor carriers for hire, a matter of legislative discretion, all existing statutes relating to their use must be taken into consideration. Barney v. Board of Railroad Comms., 93 M 115, 125 et seq., 17 P 2d 82.

Id. The state highways belong to the people for use in the ordinary way; their use for the purpose of gain is special and extraordinary, which the state may prohibit altogether or permit on such conditions as it may deem proper to impose.

Id. As a means of protecting its highways from abusive use, and the public from the evils incident to unregulated competition, the state has the power to require both common and private motor carriers for hire to obtain from the state railroad commission certificates of public convenience and necessity as a condition precedent to the right to conduct such business. (Chapter 184, L. 1931.)

The requirement of this chapter that one desiring to operate a motor vehicle for hire must secure a certificate of convenience and necessity carried with it a discretion on the part of the board of railroad commissioners to refuse it if in its judgment it is unwise to grant it; hence the contention that it has no power to deny it to one qualified and capable to furnish adequate service is without merit. Fulmer v. Board of Railroad Comms., 96 M 22, 25 et seq., 28 P 2d 849.

Id. Under this chapter, making it incumbent upon the board of railroad commissioners in passing on an application for a certificate to operate motor vehicles for hire, to give "reasonable consideration" to existing transportation facilities, including railroads, the general rule is that the certificate should be denied, unless the service furnished is inadequate, or additional service would benefit the general public, or unless the existing carrier has been afforded an opportunity to furnish such additional service as may be required.

Held, that the provisions of the motor carrier act relating to the persons who must procure certificates of convenience and necessity before they may operate a motor vehicle for hire, are broad enough to include the driver thereof, employed by its owner to operate it (whether such owner be an individual or corporation), and that therefore, in a prosecution against owner and driver, contention that a penalty for a violation of the act could not be imposed upon the latter, may not be sustained. (Mr. Justice Angstman dissenting.) State v. Healow et al., 98 M 177, 186, 38 P 2d 285.

3847.2. Classification of motor carriers—operation according to provisions of act required. (a) Motor carriers are hereby divided into three (3) classes for the purposes of this act, to be known as:

Class A motor carriers,

Class B motor carriers,

Class C motor carriers.

Class A motor carriers shall embrace all motor carriers operating between fixed termini or over a regular route, under regular rates or charges, based upon either station to station rates or upon a mileage rate or scale.

Class B motor carriers shall embrace all motor carriers operating under regular rates or charges based upon either station to station rates or upon a mileage rate or scale, and not between fixed termini or over a regular route.

Class C motor carriers shall embrace all motor carriers operating motor vehicles for distributing, delivering or collecting wares, merchandise, or commodities, or transporting persons, where the remuneration is fixed in and the transportation service furnished under a contract, charter, agreement or undertaking.

(b) It shall be unlawful for any corporation or person, its or their officers, agents, employees, or servants, to operate any motor vehicle for the transportation of persons and/or property for hire on any public highway in this state except in accordance with the provisions of this act.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 184, L. 1931.

3847.3. Board of railroad commissioners to supervise and regulate motor carriers. The board of railroad commissioners is hereby vested with power and authority, and it is hereby made its duty to supervise and regulate every motor carrier in this state; to fix specific, just, reasonable, equal and non-discriminatory rates, fares, charges and classifications for class A and class B motor carriers; to regulate the properties, facilities, operations, accounts, service, practices, affairs and safety of operations of all motor carriers; to require the filing of annual and other reports, tariffs, schedules, or other data by such motor carriers and to supervise and regulate motor carriers in all matters affecting the relationship between such motor carriers and the traveling and shipping public. The board shall have power and authority by general order or otherwise to prescribe rules and regulations in conformity with this act applicable to any and all motor carriers. All rules and regulations in relation to schedules, service, tariffs, rates, facilities, accounts and reports shall have due regard for the differences existing between class A, class B, and class C motor carriers as herein defined, and shall be just, fair and reasonable to the said classes of motor carriers in their relations to each other and to the public. In fixing the tariff or rates to be charged by class A and class B motor carriers for the carrying of persons and/or property, the board shall take into consideration the kind and character of service to be performed, the public necessity therefor, and the effect of such tariff and rates upon other transportation agencies, if any, and as far as possible avoid detrimental or unreasonable competition with existing railroad service or service furnished by a motor carrier.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 184, L. 1931.

3847.4. Rates—reasonableness—schedule to be fixed by board—filing of schedule. All fares, rates and charges made for any service rendered or to be rendered in the transportation of persons or property by any class A or class B motor carriers, or in connection therewith, shall be reasonable and just; and every unjust and unreasonable charge for such service is prohibited and declared unlawful. The board of railroad commissioners is authorized to make for each class A and class B motor carrier doing business in this state, a schedule of specific reasonable fares, rates and charges for the transportation of persons and property in this state, and authority to make schedules shall include the power of classification of all freight. The board shall have authority to fix different rates or schedules of rates for different motor carriers, of the same or different classes, and for different routes and different parts of the same route of any motor carrier. The board shall from time to time and as often as circumstances may require, change and revise such schedule. Every class A and class B motor carrier shall file with the board its schedule or tariffs showing all effective rates, fares, charges, and classifications for the transportation of persons and property in this state, or for any service in connection therewith; and no time schedule, tariff, rate or classification shall be changed or altered without the written consent of the board.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 184, L. 1931.

3847.5. Order of board required for discontinuance of service. No class A or class B motor carrier shall abandon or discontinue any service established under this act without an order of the board therefor.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 184, L. 1931.

3847.6. Discrimination forbidden. No class A or class B motor carrier shall charge or demand or collect or receive a greater or less or different remuneration for the transportation of passengers or property, or for any service in connection therewith, than the rates, fares, and charges which have been legally established and filed with the board; nor shall any such motor carrier refund or remit in any manner or by any device any portion of the rates, fares, and charges required to be collected by the tariffs on file with the board; nor make or give any preference or advantage to any particular person, company, partnership, corporation, or locality, or any particular description of traffic, in any respect whatever, nor subject any particular person, company, partnership, corporation, or locality, or any particular description of traffic, to any prejudice or disadvantage in any respect.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 184, L. 1931.

3847.7. Revocation of certificate or privilege after hearing—right of review. The board may at any time, by its order duly entered, after a hearing had upon reasonable notice to the holder of any certificate or privilege hereunder and an opportunity to such holder to be heard, at which it shall appear that such holder violated, violates, or refuses to observe any of the board's orders, rules, or regulations, or any provision of this act, suspend, revoke, alter, or amend any certificate or privilege issued under the provisions of this act; but the holder of any such certificate or privilege shall have all the rights of rehearing and review, as to such order of the board, as is provided in this act.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 184, L. 1931.

3847.11. Hearing to consider applications—notice—matters considered—manner of conducting hearings. Upon the filing of such application by a class A or class B or class C motor carrier, the board shall fix a time and place for hearing thereon, which shall not be less than ten (10) days after such filing. The board shall cause a copy of such petition and notice of hearing thereon to be served upon an officer or owner of any motor carrier that in the opinion of the board might be affected by the granting of any such certificate and upon any railroad company operating into or through any town or city located on the proposed route of the applicant, and upon the state highway commission, at least ten (10) days before the date of hearing, and any such motor carrier or railroad company, and the state highway commission, and the governing board or boards of any such county, town or city into or through which such route or service as proposed may extend, and any person or corporation concerned are hereby declared to be interested parties to such proceedings, and may offer testimony for or against the granting of such certificate. If after hearing upon application for a certificate, the board shall find, from the evidence, that public convenience and necessity require the authorization of the service proposed, or any part thereof as the board shall determine, a certificate therefor shall be issued. In determining whether or not a certificate should be issued, the board shall give reasonable consideration to the transportation service being furnished or that will be furnished by any railroad, or other existing transportation agency, and shall give due consideration to the likelihood of the proposed service being permanent and continuous throughout twelve (12) months of the year and the effect which such proposed transportation service may have upon other forms of transportation service which are essential and indispensable to the communities to be affected by such proposed transportation service or that might be affected thereby. Provided, however, that an application by a class A or a class B or a class C motor carrier for a certificate may be disallowed without a public hearing thereon when it appears from the records of the board that the route or territory sought to be served by the applicant has previously been made the basis of a public investigation and finding by the board that public convenience and necessity do not require such proposed motor carrier service unless it is made to affirmatively appear in the application by a recital of the facts that conditions obtaining over said route or in said territory and affecting transportation facilities therein have materially changed since said public investigation and finding and that public convenience and necessity do now require such motor carrier operation.

Provided further that any investigation, inquiry or hearing which the board has power to undertake or to hold, under the provisions of this act, may be undertaken or held by or before any member of the board, or by and before any agent or examiner of the board designated for the purpose by the board, and every finding, order, or decision made by a member of the board, or agent or examiner of the board so designated, pursuant to such investigation, inquiry or hearing, when approved and confirmed by the board and ordered filed in its office, shall be, and be deemed to be the finding, order or decision of the board; provided also, that any agent or examiner of the board designated as aforesaid, shall have power to administer oaths, examine witnesses and receive evidence.

3847.12. Authorization of board required for transfer of privilege—partial or conditional granting of privilege—duration of certificate. Any right, privilege or certificate held, owned, or obtained by any motor carrier may be sold, assigned, leased, transferred and inherited as other property only by the authorization of the board. The board may issue the certificate, as prayed for, or issue it for the partial exercise only of the privilege sought; and may attach to the exercise of the rights granted by such certificate such terms and conditions as in its judgment the public convenience and necessity may require. When a certificate has once been issued to a motor carrier, as in this act provided, such certificate shall continue in force until terminated by the board for cause, as herein provided, or until terminated by the owner's failure to comply with section 3847.13.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 184, L. 1931.

3847.13. Compliance with rules and regulations of board required of certificate holder. No certificate shall be issued or remain in force unless the holder thereof shall comply with such rules and regulations of the board as it shall adopt governing the filing of bonds, policies of insurance, or such security or agreement in such form and adequate amount and conditioned as the board may require for: (a) the prompt payment of all compensation or fees due the state under the provisions of this act, and (b) the payment of any final judgment which may be rendered against any such motor carrier arising out of the death of or injury to any passenger or injury to other persons or property as a result of any negligent operation of the motor vehicles or such motor carrier, with power in the board to permit self-insurance whenever, in its opinion, the financial ability of the motor carrier warrants.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 184, L. 1931.

3847.14. Manner of procedure—enforcement of orders of board. Insofar as possible and applicable, the provisions of statutes prescribing the procedure before the board in cases involving rates, facilities, service or other affairs of railroads in this state, including forms of applications, complaints, answers, orders, and notices of hearing, the conducting of hearings, compelling the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of records, data and information, the preparation, recording and serving of reports and orders of the board, shall be followed and shall govern in all proceedings and investigations before the board in cases arising in connection with the performance by the board of its duties or the exercise of its jurisdiction under the provisions of this act. Orders and final determinations of the board in all proceedings pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be enforced in the manner provided for the enforcement of orders of the board of railroad commissioners by the provisions of chapter 309 of the political code, and laws amendatory thereof. Provided, further, that if any motor carrier shall operate in violation of the provisions of this act, or shall fail or neglect to obey any lawful order of the board, the board or any party injured may apply to any court of competent jurisdiction, in any county where such motor carrier is engaged in business, for the enforcement of this act or such order; and the court shall enforce obedience thereto by writ of injunction, or other proper process, mandatory, or otherwise, and to restrain such carrier, its officers, agents, employees, or representatives from further violation of this act, or such order, or to enjoin upon it, or them, obedience to the same.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 184, L. 1931.

Operation and Effect

Though, generally speaking, all equitable suits (injunction, inter alia) are properly triable, under section 9096, in the county in which defendants, or any of them, reside, this section specifically provides that a party injured by the illegal operation of a motor vehicle for hire may by writ of injunction seek enforcement of the act in any county in which the motor carrier is engaged in business; hence, where injunctive relief was sought against such a carrier in a county between the county seat of which and that of his home county defendant was doing business, the court erred in granting a change of venue to the latter county. Great Northern Ry. Co. v. Hatch et al., 98 M 269, 277, 38 P 2d 976.

3847.15. Provisions for review of orders of board. The provisions of chapter 309 of this code, and laws amendatory thereof, shall be applicable and shall govern in all proper cases for the review by the district or supreme court of orders and final determinations of the board in proceedings involving the rates, services, facilities, or other affairs of motor carriers in this state.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 184, L. 1931.

3847.16. Annual fee for motor carriers—fee for seasonal operators—compliance required of motor carriers operating in more than one state—revocation of certificate for failure to pay fees—lien of fees and charges.

(a) In addition to all of the licenses, fees or taxes imposed upon motor vehicles in this state, and in consideration of the use of the public highways of this state, every motor carrier, as defined in this act, shall, at the time of the issuance of a certificate and annually thereafter, on or between the first day of July and the fifteenth day of July, of each calendar year, pay to the board of railroad commissioners of the state of Montana the sum of ten dollars ($10.00), for every motor vehicle operated by the carrier over or upon the public highways of this state.

Provided, that a motor carrier engaged in seasonal operations only, where its said operations do not extend continuously over a period of not to exceed six (6) months in any calendar year, shall only be required to pay compensation and fees in a sum equal to one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) of the compensation and fees herein provided, and, provided further, that the compensation and fees herein imposed shall not apply to motor vehicles maintained and used by a motor carrier as standby or emergency equipment. The board shall have the power and it is hereby made its duty to determine what motor vehicles shall be classed as standby or emergency equipment.

(b) When transportation service is rendered partly in this state and partly in an adjoining state or foreign country, motor carriers shall comply with the provisions of this act relating to the payment of compensation and to the making of annual or special reports or statements herein required, and shall show the total business performed within the limits of this state and such other information concerning its operation within this state as may be required by the board as fully and completely and in the same manner as herein required of motor carriers operating wholly within this state.

(c) Upon the failure of any motor carrier to pay such compensation, when due, the board may in its discretion revoke the carrier's certificate or privilege and no carrier whose certificate or privilege is so revoked shall again be authorized to conduct such business until such compensation shall be paid.

(d) All compensation, fees, or charges, imposed and accruing under the provisions of this act, shall be a lien upon all property of the motor carrier used in its operations under this act; said lien shall attach at the time the compensation, fees, or charges become due and payable, and shall have the effect of an execution duly levied on such property of the motor carrier and shall so remain until said compensation, fees, or charges are paid or the property sold for the payment thereof.

3847.17. Motor carrier fund—composition—use. All of the fees and compensation charges collected by the board under the provisions of this act shall be transmitted to the state treasurer who shall place the same to the credit of a special fund designated as "motor carrier fund"; such fund shall be available for the purpose of defraying the expenses of administration of this act and the regulation of the businesses herein described, and shall be accumulative from year to year. All expenses of whatsoever kind or nature of the board incurred in carrying out the provisions of this act shall be audited by the state board of examiners and paid out of the "motor carrier fund." Such fund shall not come within the restriction of any law of this state governing payment of expense incurred in a previous year, it being intended that such fund shall be applied to the payment of any necessary costs or expenses in carrying out the provisions of this act, whether incurred during the ensuing year or previous fiscal years, and such "motor carrier fund" or accumulations thereof, are hereby appropriated for the payment of the costs and expenses rendered necessary in the carrying out of the provisions of this act.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 184, L. 1931.

3847.18. Records of motor carriers to be open for inspection by board—system of accounts to be prescribed—reports required. All records, books, accounts and files of every class A and class B motor carrier in this state, so far as the same shall relate to the business of transportation conducted by such motor carrier, shall at all times be subject to examination by the board or by any authorized agent or employee of the board. The board shall prescribe a uniform system of accounts and uniform reports covering the operations of such class A and class B motor carriers and every motor carrier authorized to operate as such in accordance with the provisions of this act shall keep its records, books, and accounts according to such uniform system, insofar as possible. On or before the fifteenth day of July of each year, every motor carrier authorized to engage in such business shall file with the board a report, under oath. In addition to such annual reports every motor carrier shall prepare and file with the board, at the time or times and in the form to be prescribed by the board, annual reports, special reports and statements giving to the board such information as it shall require in order to perform its duties under this act.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 184, L. 1931.

3847.19. Penalties for violations. Any motor carrier, subject to the provisions of this act, or, whenever any such motor carrier is a corporation, any director or officer thereof, or any receiver, trustee, lessee, agent, or persons acting for or employed by such corporation, who violates or fails to comply with or who procures, aids, or abets in the violation of any provision of this act, or who fails to obey, observe, or comply with any lawful order, decision, rule or regulation, direction, demand, or requirement of the board, or any part of provisions thereof, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not less than five dollars ($5.00) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100.00), or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not more than thirty (30) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

History: En. Sec. 19, Ch. 184, L. 1931.

3847.20. Continuation of business by motor carriers already licensed. All motor carriers legally licensed by the board of railroad commissioners, under the provisions of chapter 154, laws eighteenth legislative assembly, 1923, as amended by chapter 103, laws nineteenth legislative assembly, 1925, and chapter 141, laws twenty-first legislative assembly, 1929, and engaged in business at the time of the effective date of this act, shall be entitled to receive from the board, without further application, a certificate as provided in this act authorizing the continuance of their businesses.

History: En. Sec. 20, Ch. 184, L. 1931.

Operation and Effect

Where several city mercantile establishments entered into a contract of purchase of a truck agreeing to pay the seller $1,000, payable $100 down and $75 per month for twelve months, the truck to be used for transporting merchandise bought or sold, the purchasers assuming the expense of upkeep and operation as a certain ratio as between themselves based on the weight of merchandise carried for each per mile, the seller being employed as transportation manager at $6 per day, he to receive a bonus for good service, neither the purchasers nor the seller, their employee, were carriers for hire, and, therefore, under this section, were not required to secure a certificate of public convenience and necessity from the board of railroad commissioners to entitle them to the use of state highways in the transportation of such merchandise. Christie T. & S. Co. v. Hatch, 95 M 601, 603, 28 P 2d 470.

3847.22. Private carriers not converted into common carriers. Nothing in this act shall be construed as converting or attempting to convert a private carrier into a common carrier, and it is hereby declared that this act is intended primarily as a regulation of the public highways of the state of Montana.

3847.23. Application of act to interstate carriers and motor carriers operating in national parks. History: En. Sec. 23, Ch. 184, L. 1931.

3847.24. Invalidity of part of act not to affect remainder. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this act is for any reason held unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislative assembly declares that it would have passed this act and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

3847.25. Repealing clause. History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 8, Ex. L. 1921; re-en. Sec. 3848, R. C. M. 1921.

3849. Pipe lines public utilities—jurisdiction. It is declared that the operation of these pipe lines, to which this act applies, for the transportation of crude petroleum, in connection with the purchase or purchase and sale of such crude petroleum, is a business in mode of the conduct of which the public is interested, and as such is subject to regulation by law; and accordingly it is provided that from and after the expiration of thirty days from the time this law takes effect the business of purchasing, or of purchasing and selling crude petroleum, using in connection with such business a pipe line of the class subject to this act to transport the crude petroleum so bought or sold shall not be conducted, unless such pipe line so used in connection with such business be a common carrier within the purview of this law and subject to the jurisdiction herein conferred upon the board of railroad commissioners of Montana. It shall be the duty of the attorney general to enforce this provision by injunction or other adequate remedy.

3850. Regulation of construction pipe lines—eminent domain. The right to lay, maintain, and operate pipe lines, together with telegraph and telephone lines incidental to and designed for use only in connection with the operation of such lines along, across, or under any public stream or highway in this state, is hereby conferred upon all persons, firms, limited partnerships, joint-stock associations, or corporations coming within any of the definitions of common carrier pipe lines as hereinbefore made. Any person, firm, limited partnership, joint-stock association, or corporation may acquire the right to construct pipe lines and such incidental telephone and telegraph lines along, across, or over any public road or highway in this state, by filing with the board of railroad commissioners of Montana an acceptance of the provisions of this law, expressly agreeing in writing that in consideration of the rights so acquired it shall be and become a common carrier pipe line, subject to the duties and obligations conferred or imposed in this act. This right to run along, across or over any public road or highway, as before provided for, can only be exercised upon condition that the traffic thereon be not interfered with, and that such road or highway be promptly restored to its former condition of usefulness, and the restoration thereof be subject also to the supervision of the county commissioners of the county in which said highway is situated. And, provided that in the exercise of the privileges herein conferred, such pipe lines shall compensate the county for any damage done to such public road, in the laying of pipe lines, telegraph or telephone lines, along or across the same; and nothing herein shall be construed to grant any pipe line company the right to use any public street or alley in any incorporated city or town, except by express permission from the city or governing authority thereof.

Every person, firm, corporation, limited partnership, joint-stock association, or association of any kind mentioned in this act, which shall have filed with the board of railroad commissioners of Montana its acceptance of the provisions of this act, is hereby granted the right and power of eminent domain in the exercise of which he, it, or they may enter upon and condemn the land, rights of way, easements, and property of any person or corporation necessary for the construction, maintenance or authorization of his, its, or their common carrier pipe line, the manner and method of such condemnation and the assessment and payment of the damages therefor to be the same as is provided by law in the case of railroads.

3851. Establishment of rates—hearing—complaints. The board of railroad commissioners of Montana shall have the power to establish and enforce rates of charges and regulations for gathering, transporting, loading, and delivering crude petroleum by such common carrier in this state, and for the use of storage facilities necessarily incident to such transportation and to prescribe and enforce rules and regulations for the government and control of such common carriers in respect to their pipe lines and receiving, transferring and loading facilities, and it shall be its duty to exercise such power upon petition by any person showing a substantial interest in the subject. No order establishing or prescribing rates, rules, and regulations shall be made except after hearing and at least ten days' and not more than thirty days' notice to the person, firm, corporation, partnership, joint-stock association, or association owning or controlling and operating the pipe line or pipe lines affected. In the event any rate shall be filed by any pipe line and complaint against same or petition to reduce same shall be filed by any shipper, and such complaint be sustained, in whole or in part, all shippers who shall have paid the rates so filed by the pipe line shall have the right to reparation or reimbursement of all excess in transportation charges so paid over and above the proper rate as finally determined on all shipments made after the date of the filing of such complaint.

3852. Railroad commissioners may require connections—facilities—rules. Every common carrier as above defined shall exchange crude petroleum tonnage with each like common carrier, and the board of railroad commissioners of Montana shall have the power to require such connections and facilities for the interchange of such tonnage to be made at every locality reached by both pipe lines whenever a necessity therefor exists and subject to such rates and regulations as may be made by the board of railroad commissioners of Montana; and any such common carrier under like rules and regulations shall be required to install and maintain facilities for the receipt and delivery of crude petroleum of patrons at all points on such pipe line. No carrier shall be required to receive or transport any crude petroleum except such as may be marketable under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the board of railroad commissioners of Montana which they are hereby empowered and required to prescribe. The board of railroad commissioners of Montana is also empowered and required to make rules for the ascertainment of the amount of water and other foreign matter in oil tendered for transportation, and for deduction therefor and for the amount of deduction to be made for temperature, leakage, and evaporation. It is provided, however, that the recital herein of particular powers on the part of said board of railroad commissioners of Montana shall not be construed to limit the general powers conferred by this act. Until set aside or vacated by some decree or order of a court of competent jurisdiction, all orders of the board of railroad commissioners of Montana as to any matter within its jurisdiction shall be accepted as prima facie evidence of their validity.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 8, Ex. L. 1921; re-en. Sec. 3852, R. C. M. 1921.

3853. Tariffs and reports—board's authority to hear complaints—witnesses—enforcement of orders by board. Such common carriers of crude petroleum shall make and publish their tariffs under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by said board of railroad commissioners of Montana, the board of railroad commissioners of Montana shall require them to make reports and may investigate their books and records kept in connection with such business. The board of railroad commissioners of Montana shall require of such common carrier pipe lines monthly reports, duly verified under oath, of the total quantities of crude petroleum owned by such pipe lines and of that held by them in storage for others, as also of their unfilled storage capacity, provided no publicity shall be given by the board of railroad commissioners of Montana to the reports as to stock of crude petroleum on hand of any particular pipe line; but the board of railroad commissioners of Montana in its discretion may make public the aggregate amounts held by all the pipe lines making such reports, and of their aggregate storage capacity. The board of railroad commissioners of Montana shall have the power and authority to hear and determine complaints, to require attendance of witnesses, and to institute suits and sue out such writs and process as may be necessary for the enforcement of its orders.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 8, Ex. L. 1921; re-en. Sec. 3853, R. C. M. 1921.

3854. Discrimination prohibited—establishment of rates. No such common carrier in its operations as such shall discriminate between or against shippers in regard to facilities furnished or service rendered or rates charged under same or similar circumstances in the transportation of crude petroleum; nor shall there be any discrimination in the transportation of crude petroleum produced or purchased by itself directly or indirectly. In this connection the pipe line shall be considered as a shipper of the crude petroleum produced or purchased by itself directly or indirectly and handled through its facilities. No such carrier in such operation shall directly or indirectly charge, demand, collect, or receive from any one a greater or less compensation for any service rendered than from another for a like and contemporaneous service; provided, this shall not limit the right of the board of railroad commissioners of Montana to prescribe rates and regulations different from or to some places from other rates or regulations for transportation from or to other places, as it may determine; nor shall any carrier be guilty of discrimination when obeying any order of the board of railroad commissioners of Montana. When there shall be offered for transportation more crude petroleum than can be immediately transported, the same shall be equitably apportioned. The board of railroad commissioners of Montana may make and enforce general or specific regulations in this regard. No such common carrier shall at any time be required to receive for shipments from any person, firm, corporation, or association of persons, exceeding three thousand barrels of petroleum in any one day.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 8, Ex. L. 1921; re-en. Sec. 3854, R. C. M. 1921.

The board of railroad commissioners of Montana, when necessary, shall make and enforce rules and regulations either general in their nature or applicable to particular oil fields for the prevention of actual waste of oil or operations in the field dangerous to life or property.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 8, Ex. L. 1921; re-en. Sec. 3855, R. C. M. 1921.

3856. Penalty for violation of act—recovery of damages. Any common carrier as herein defined who shall violate any provisions of this act or who shall fail to perform any duty herein imposed or any valid order of the board of railroad commissioners of Montana, when not stayed or suspended by order of court, shall be subject to a penalty of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars for each offense, such penalty to be recoverable at suit of the attorney general of the state of Montana in the name of the state and for its use. Actual damages may also be recovered by and for the use of any person, corporation or association of persons against whom there shall have been an unlawful discrimination as herein defined; such suit to be brought in the name of and for the use of party aggrieved, and may be maintained in any court of proper jurisdiction having due regard to the ordinary statutes of venue. For the wilful violation of any of the provisions herein forbidding discrimination on the part of common carriers, it is hereby provided that the owners, officers, agents, or employees of such carriers who may be guilty thereof shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor; each violation of any of such provisions shall be deemed a separate and distinct offense and upon conviction thereof the party violating same shall be fined in a sum of not less than fifty dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, and may be further punished by confinement in the county jail for not less than ten days nor more than six months.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 8, Ex. L. 1921; re-en. Sec. 3856, R. C. M. 1921.

3857. Duty to transport without discrimination. Subject to the provisions of this act and the rules and regulations which may be prescribed by the board of railroad commissioners of Montana, every such common carrier shall receive and transport crude petroleum delivered to it for transportation and shall so receive and transport same and perform its other duties with respect thereto without discrimination.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 8, Ex. L. 1921; re-en. Sec. 3857, R. C. M. 1921.

3858. Effect of partial invalidity act. If any of the provisions of this act shall be held unconstitutional, or for any reason shall be held void, such holding shall not have the effect to nullify the remaining parts or provisions of this act, but the parts not so held to be void shall nevertheless remain in full force and effect.

and barges, including pleasure crafts propelled by machinery navigating on any of the navigable waters of this state.

3865. Rules of navigation. The following rules shall be observed in navigating steam vessels, steamboats, and all other boats propelled by machinery, and sailing crafts on any of the navigable waters of the state of Montana affected by the provisions of this act.

Rule 1. All steamboats or other boats propelled by machinery shall be equipped with either steam or compressed-air whistles.

Rule 2. When two boats are meeting, or nearly end on, so as to involve risk of collision, each shall alter her course to starboard, so that each may pass on the port side of the other.

Rule 3. When two boats are crossing so as to involve risk of collision, the boat which has the other on her starboard shall keep out of the way of the other.

Rule 4. When a steamboat or boat propelled by machinery and sailing boat are proceeding in the same direction, so as to involve risk of collision, the boat propelled by machinery shall keep out of the way of the sailing craft.

Rule 5. When, by any of these rules one of the two of the vessels is to keep out of the way, the other shall keep her course and speed.

Rule 6. Every boat propelled by machinery under way and approaching another boat or vessel of any kind so as to involve a risk of collision, shall slacken her speed, or, if necessary, shall stop and reverse her engine, and every boat propelled by machinery shall, when in a fog, go at a moderate speed.

Rule 7. Any boat propelled by machinery overtaking another boat propelled by machinery shall keep out of the way of the last-named boat.

Rule 8. When two boats propelled by machinery are going in the same direction, and the stern boat wishes to pass the other, she shall signal the forward boat of her intention to pass on the port side, by two distinct whistles, and to pass on her starboard side by one distinct whistle, which shall be answered by the forward boat by the same number of whistles, and the forward boat shall keep on her course as if no signal had been given.

Rule 9. When two steamboats or other boats propelled by machinery are approaching each other, and if the course of such boats is so far on the starboard side of each other as not to be considered by the pilot as meeting end on or nearly so, or, if such boats are approaching each other in such a manner that passing is not as in rule 2, being deemed unsafe, the pilot of one boat shall give two short and distinct blasts of his whistle, which the pilot of the other boat shall answer by two blasts of his whistle, and they shall pass to the left (on the starboard side) of each other.

Rule 10. Steamboats or other boats propelled by machinery approaching each other at not less than three hundred yards distance from each other shall give a signal with one loud distinct whistle.

Rule 11. When two steamboats or other boats propelled by machinery are approaching each other, and the pilot of either boat fails to understand the course or intention of the other, whether from signals being given or answered erroneously, or from other causes, the pilot so in doubt shall immediately signify the same by giving several short blasts of his whistle, and if the boats shall have approached within five hundred yards of each other, both shall immediately slow up to a speed barely sufficient for steering, or until the proper signals are given, answered, and understood, or until the boats have passed each other.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 52, L. 1913; re-en. Sec. 3879, R. C. M. 1921.

Constitutionality

Sections 3879 et seq., creating a public service commission and defining its powers, are constitutional. Public Service Commission v. City of Helena, 52 M 527, 159 P 24.

Id. Regulations made by the public service commission must be reasonable in order to be valid, and any regulation which imposes upon a city an obligation which is invalid is not reasonable.

Id. The act conferring authority upon the public service commission must be construed in harmony with the theory of self-government in cities, and the retention of police power by the state.

Inasmuch as a franchise contract made in 1912 between a city and a gas company must be presumed to have been entered into with knowledge that the state could thereafter enact legislation toward exercising the power of rate regulation reposed in it, and thus change the rates fixed by the contract, this act is not open to attack on the ground that it impairs the obligation of the contract made the year before. State ex rel. Billings v. Billings Gas Co., 55 M 102, 111, 173 P 799.

See also Great Northern U. Co. v. Public Ser. Com., 88 M 180, 207, 293 P 294, for discussion of constitutionality of the public service commission act.

Operation and Effect

In the enactment of this law the legislature intended to provide a comprehensive and uniform system of regulation and control of public utilities, by a specially created tribunal, through which the state itself exercises its sovereign power. State ex rel. Billings v. Billings Gas Co., 55 M 102, 112, 173 P 799.

The public service commission is a creature of, and clothed with only such powers as are clearly conferred upon it, by the statute to which it owes its being. Great Northern U. Co. v. Public Ser. Com., 88 M 180, 207, 293 P 294.

An ordinance granting a public utility franchise after the enactment of the public service commission law is not invalid merely for the reason that such act vests exclusive jurisdiction in the commission, but is valid until the commission sees fit to act; until then the rate of compensation payable by the company is valid and binding. City of Baker v. Montana Petroleum Co., 99 M 465, 44 P 2d 735.

Powers of Commission

The legislature in enacting the public service commission act intended not only to empower the commission to regulate charges or fix rates, but also to see to it that reasonable service is rendered by the utility and that its equipment is reasonably adequate. Great Northern U. Co. v. Public Ser. Com., 88 M 180, 207, 293 P 294.

Id. Held, that the public service commission, under its power to regulate a public utility is clothed with authority not only to fix maximum, but also minimum or precise rates.

Public Utilities Defined

Held, that an irrigation company organized for the purpose of supplying water for the irrigation of agricultural lands is not a "public utility" within the meaning of this act, and is therefore not subject to supervision and regulation by the public service commission. (Mr. Chief Justice Brantly and Mr. Justice Galen dissenting.) State v. Boyle et al., 62 M 97, 204 P 378.

When one devotes his property to a use in which the public has an interest, he in effect grants to the public an interest in that use and must submit to control by the public for the common good to the extent of the interest he has thus created. Great Northern U. Co. v. Public Ser. Com., 88 M 180, 207, 293 P 294.

3880. Railroad commissioners as ex-officio commission. The board of railroad commissioners of the state of Montana shall be ex-officio the public service commission hereby created, and for the purposes of this act shall be known and styled "Public Service Commission of Montana." It shall provide itself with a seal bearing these words, by which its official acts shall be authenticated in all cases where a seal is required; and in the name as above set forth, it may sue and be sued in the courts of the state and of the United States. The secretary of the railroad commission of Montana shall act as secretary of the commission hereby created, but the business of the public service commission shall be kept entirely separate from that of the railroad commission.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 52, L. 1913; re-en. Sec. 3880, R. C. M. 1921.

3881. "Public utility" defined. The term "public utility," within the meaning of this act, shall embrace every corporation, both public and private, company, individual, association of individuals, their lessees, trustees or receivers appointed by any court whatsoever, that now or hereafter may own, operate, or control any plant or equipment, or any part of a plant or equipment, within the state, for the production, delivery, or furnishing for or to other persons, firms, associations, or corporations, private or municipal, heat, street-railway service, light, power in any form or by any agency, water for business, manufacturing, household use, or sewerage service, whether within the limits of municipalities, towns and villages, or elsewhere, telegraph or telephone service; and the public service commission is hereby invested with full power of supervision, regulation, and control of such utilities, subject to the provisions of this act, and to the exclusion of the jurisdiction, regulation, and control of such utilities by any municipality, town, or village.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 52, L. 1913; re-en. Sec. 3881, R. C. M. 1921.

Intent of Act

It was the intention of the legislature to go no further than to provide that, within the limited sphere of its jurisdiction, the public service commission may make reasonable regulations which the city must heed, and to that extent only is the authority of the city superseded. It was not intended to take from the city the active management of its water plant, or the authority to appoint the proper officers and employees to operate it, or to interfere with such officers in the proper discharge of their duties. Public Service Commission v. City of Helena, 52 M 527, 541, 159 P 24.

Public Utilities Defined

Held, that an irrigation company organized for the purpose of supplying water for the irrigation of agricultural lands is not a "public utility" within the meaning of this act and is therefore not subject to supervision and regulation by the public service commission. (Mr. Chief Justice Brantly and Mr. Justice Galen dissenting.) State v. Boyle et al., 62 M 97, 204 P 378.

Held, under the rule that where one corporation acquires and holds all of the stock of another corporation, save a share each held by directors for the purpose of preserving the corporate organization of the latter the two corporations in effect become merged, and the holding company will be deemed to own and control the other, that where a foreign corporation licensed to do business in Montana conveyed natural gas by pipe-line from a neighboring state into this state and furnished it to a domestic corporation whose entire capital stock with the exception of five of its 2,500 shares it owned, for distribution to its customers, was a public utility within the meaning of this section, and as such subject to the jurisdiction of the public service commission of Montana and therefore required to furnish such commission annual reports of its operations. Gallatin N. G. Co. v. Public Service Com., 79 M 269, 275, 256 P 373.

3882. Power to prescribe rules of procedure—judicial power. In addition to the modes of procedure hereinafter prescribed in particular cases and classes of cases, said commission shall have power to prescribe rules of procedure, and to do all things necessary and convenient in the exercise of the powers by this act conferred upon the commission; provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed as vesting judicial powers on said commission, or as denying to any person, firm, association, corporation, municipality, county, town, or village the right to test, in a court of competent jurisdiction, the legality or reasonableness of any fixed order made by the commission in the exercise of its duties or powers.

3891. Schedules of rates, tolls, and charges. Every public utility shall file with the commission, within a time fixed by the commission, schedules which shall be open to public inspection, showing all rates, tolls, and charges which it has established, and which are in force at the time, for any service performed by it within the state, or for any service in connection therewith, or performed by any public utility controlled or operated by it. The rates, tolls, and charges shown on such schedules shall not exceed the rates, tolls, and charges in force at the time of passage of this act. Every public utility shall file with, and as a part of such schedule, all rules and regulations that in any manner affect the rates charged or to be charged for any service. A copy of so much of said schedule as the commission shall deem necessary for the use of the public shall be printed in plain type, and kept on file in every station or office of such public utility, where payments are made by the consumers or users, open to the public, in such form and place as to be readily accessible to the public, and as can be conveniently inspected.

When a schedule of joint rates or charges is or may be in force between two or more public utilities, such schedule shall in like manner be printed and filed with the commission, and so much thereof as the commission shall deem necessary for the use of the public shall be filed in every such station or office as prescribed in the first paragraph of this section.

No change shall thereafter be made in any schedule, including schedules of joint rates, except upon twenty days' notice to the commission, and all such changes shall be plainly indicated upon existing schedules, or by filing new schedules in lieu thereof ten days prior to the time the same are to take effect; provided, that the commission, upon application of any public utility, may prescribe a less time within which a reduction may be made; provided, however, that no advance or reduction of existing schedules shall be made without the concurrence of the commission. Copies of all new or amended schedules shall be filed and posted in the stations or offices of public utilities as in the case of original schedules. The commission may prescribe such changes in the form in which the schedules are issued by any public utility as may be found to be expedient.

Commission Empowered to Fix Not Only Maximum but Also Minimum or Precise Rates

Held, that the public service commission, under its power to regulate a public utility (secs. 3879-3913), is clothed with authority not only to fix maximum but also minimum or precise rates. Great Northern Utilities Co. v. Public Service Commission, 88 M 180, 293 P 294. See also, Great Northern Utilities Co. v. Public Service Commission, 52 F 2d 802.

Judicial Review of Rates

Order fixing utility's minimum rate so high as to repel patronage and destroy utility's investment may be judicially annulled. (Const. amend. 14). Great Northern Utilities Co. v. Public Service Commission, 52 F 2d 802.

Id. Public service commission order fixing minimum gas rates held unreasonable, where utility sought to lower rates for purpose of self-preservation on account of joint occupancy with rival utility, of a field which could support only one. (Const. amend. 14).

Public Utility May Not Change Schedule of Rates Without Concurrence of Commission

Under the rule that where one must secure leave from someone to entitle him to exercise a right, the irresistible implication is that a discretion is lodged in the other to refuse to grant it, if in his judgment it is improper or unwise to give the required consent, held, that the contention of a company engaged in furnishing gas to the inhabitants of a city, that after the filing of the initial schedule of rates with the public service commission, the company may change the schedule by the mere filing of a new one and giving the notice required by this section, and that the new schedule becomes effective without the act of concurrence on the part of the commission, may not be sustained. Great Northern U. Co. v. Public Ser. Com., 88 M 180, 293 P 294.

3892. Greater or less charges than those prescribed—rebates and privileges. It shall be unlawful for any public utility to charge, demand, collect, or receive a greater or less compensation for any service performed by it within the state, or for any service in connection therewith, than is specified in such printed schedules, including schedules of joint rates, as may at the time be in force, or to demand, collect, or receive any rate, toll, or charge not specified in such schedules. The rates, tolls, and charges named therein shall be the lawful rates, tolls, and charges until the same are changed, as provided in this act. It shall likewise be unlawful for any public utility to grant any rebate, concession, or special privilege to any consumer or user, which, directly or indirectly, shall or may have the effect of changing the rates, tolls, charges, or payments, and any violation of the provisions of this section shall subject the violator to the penalty prescribed in section 3888 of this code. This, however, does not have the effect of suspending, rescinding, invalidating, or in any way affecting existing contracts.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 52, L. 1913; re-en. Sec. 3892, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

The concluding sentence of this section refers to the sentence immediately preceding, forbidding rebates, concessions etc., and was not intended to except from the operation of the act rate contracts made between cities and public utilities prior to its passage. State ex rel. Billings v. Billings Gas Co., 55 M 102, 112, 173 P 799.

Since this section exempts from the operation of the act all "existing contracts" and does not exclude from the provisions of the exempting clause renewals or extensions of such contracts, the renewal or extension of the contract involved in this case was not unlawful. Helena Light & Ry. Co. v. Northern Pacific Ry. Co., 57 M 93, 186 P 702.

Held, that the last sentence in this section: "This, however, does not have the effect of suspending, rescinding, invalidating or in any way affecting existing contracts," refers to the preceding sentence and not to the entire act, and means that, until changed by the commission, the rates, tolls and charges were to remain as fixed in existing contracts, even though such contracts granted rebates, concessions and special privileges, and that pending change by the commission the public utility was protected from prosecution; overruling the decision in Helena L. & Ry. Co. v. Northern Pac. Ry. Co., 57 M 93, in so far as it conflicts with the above holding. City of Billings v. Public Service Com., 67 M 29, 214 P 608.

3893. Classification of service. The commission may prescribe classifications of the service of all public utilities, and such classifications may take into account the quantity used, the time when used, and any other reasonable consideration. Each public utility is required to conform its schedule of rates, tolls, and charges to such classifications.

3894. Rules as to inspections—public hearings. The commission shall have the power to adopt reasonable and proper rules and regulations relative to all inspections, tests, audits, and investigations, and to adopt and publish reasonable and proper rules to govern its proceedings, and to regulate the mode and manner of all investigations and hearings of public utilities, and other parties before it. All hearings shall be open to the public.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 52, L. 1913; re-en. Sec. 3894, R. C. M. 1921.

3895. Inquiry into and investigation of management of all public utilities. The commission shall have authority to inquire into the management of the business of all public utilities, and shall keep itself informed as to the manner and method in which the same is conducted, and shall have the right to obtain from any public utility all necessary information to enable the commission to perform its duties.

The commission or any commissioner, or any person or persons employed by the commission for that purpose, shall, upon demand, have the right to inspect the books, accounts, papers, records, and memoranda of any public utility, and to examine, under oath, any officer, agent, or employee of such public utility in relation to its business and affairs.

Any person, other than one of said commissioners, who shall make such demand, shall produce his authority to make such inspection.

The commission may require, by order or subpoena, to be served on any public utility, in the same manner that a summons is served in a civil action in the district court, the production, within this state, at such time and place as it may designate, of any books, accounts, papers, or records kept by such public utility in any office or place without the state of Montana, or verified copies in lieu thereof, if the commission shall so order, in order that an examination thereof may be made by the commission, or under its direction.

Any public utility failing or refusing to comply with any such order or subpoena, shall be subject to the liability named in section 3888 of this code.

3896. Employment of engineer and other help—salary of secretary. The commission is authorized to employ an engineer at a salary of four thousand dollars per annum, also examiners, experts, clerks, accountants, or other assistants as it may deem necessary, at such rates of compensation as it may determine upon; and it is further provided that the secretary of the public service commission shall receive an annual salary of six hundred dollars ($600), such salary to be in addition to the salary now provided by law to be paid to the secretary of the board of railroad commissioners of the state of Montana.

3897. Complaints against public utility—hearing. Upon a complaint made against any public utility by any mercantile, agricultural, or manufacturing society or club, or by any body politic or municipal organization, or association or associations, the same being interested, or by any person or persons, firm or firms, corporation or corporations, provided such persons, firms, or corporations are directly affected thereby that any of the rates, tolls, charges, or schedule, or any joint rate or rates, are in any way unreasonable or unjustly discriminatory, or that any regulations, measurements, practices, or act whatsoever affecting or relating to the production, transmission, or delivery or furnishing of heat, light, water, or power, or any service in connection therewith, or the conveyance of any telegraph or telephone message, or any service in connection therewith, is in any respect unreasonable, insufficient, or unjustly discriminatory, or that any service is inadequate, the commission shall proceed, with or without notice, to make such investigation as it may deem necessary. But no order affecting such rates, tolls, charges, schedules, regulations, measurements, practice or act complained of, shall be entered without a formal hearing.

The commission shall give the public utility and the complainant or complainants at least ten days' notice of the time when and the place where such hearing will be held, at which hearing both the complainant and the public utility shall have the right to appear by counsel or otherwise, and be fully heard. Either party shall be entitled to an order by the commission for the appearance of witnesses or the production of books, papers, and documents containing material testimony. Witnesses appearing upon the order of the commission shall be entitled to the same fees and mileage as witnesses in civil cases in the courts of the state, and the same shall be paid out of the state treasury in the same manner as other claims against the state are paid; but no fees or mileage shall be allowed, unless the chairman of the commission shall certify to the correctness of the claim.

3898. Subpoena to witnesses. If any party ordered to appear before the commission as a witness shall fail to obey such order, the commission or any member, or the secretary thereof, may apply to the clerk of the nearest district court, for a subpoena commanding the attendance of said witness before the commission. It shall be the duty of such clerk to issue such subpoena, and of any peace officer to serve the same. Disobedience to such subpoena shall be deemed a contempt of court, and punished accordingly.

3899. Fixing rates and making regulations on hearing—complaint by public utility. If, upon such hearing and due investigation, the rates, tolls, charges, schedules, or joint rates shall be found to be unjust, unreasonable, or unjustly discriminatory, or to be preferential or otherwise in violation of the provisions of this act, the commission shall have the power to fix and order substituted therefor, such rate or rates, tolls, charges, or schedules, as shall be just and reasonable. If it shall in like manner be found that any regulation, measurement, practice, act, or service complained of is unjust, unreasonable, insufficient, preferential, unjustly discriminatory, or otherwise in violation of the provisions of this act, or if it be found that the service is inadequate, or that any reasonable service cannot be obtained, the commission shall have power to substitute therefor such other regulations, measurements, practices, service, or acts, and make such order relating thereto, as may be just and reasonable.

When complaint is made of more than one rate, charge, or practice, the commission may, in its discretion, order separate hearings upon the several matters complained of, and at such times and places as it may prescribe. The commission may at any time, upon its own motion, investigate any of the rates, tolls, charges, rules, regulations, practices, and service, after a full hearing, as above provided, by order make such changes as may be just and reasonable, the same as if a formal complaint had been made.

Any public utility may make complaint as to any matter affecting its own product or service with like effect as though made by any mercantile, agricultural, or manufacturing society, body politic, or municipal organization, or person or persons. Notice of the hearing upon any such complaint shall be given to the persons interested in such manner as the commission may by rule prescribe.

the utility may, under this section make complaint and thereupon a hearing must be held and an order made, the effect of which must be just and reasonable. Great Northern U. Co. v. Public Ser. Com., 88 M 180, 203, 210 P 294.

3902. Privilege of witnesses—perjury. No person shall be excused from testifying, or from producing books and papers, in any proceedings based upon or growing out of any alleged violation of the provisions of this act, on the ground of, or for the reason that, the testimony or evidence, documentary or otherwise, required of him may tend to incriminate or subject him to penalty or forfeiture; but no person having so testified shall be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any transaction, matter, or thing, concerning which he may have testified or produced any documentary evidence; provided, that no person so testifying shall be exempted from prosecution or punishment for perjury in so testifying.

3903. Refusal of public utility to fill blanks or produce evidence. Any officer, agent, or employee of any public utility who shall wilfully fail or refuse to fill out and return any blanks as required by this act, or shall wilfully fail or refuse to answer any questions therein propounded, or shall knowingly or wilfully give a false answer to any such questions, or shall evade the answer to such questions, where the fact inquired of is within his knowledge, or who shall, upon proper demand, wilfully fail or refuse to exhibit to any commission or any commissioners, or any person also authorized to examine the same, any book, paper, or account of such public utility which is in his possession or under his control, shall be subject to the penalty prescribed in section 3888 of this code.

All regulations, practices, and service, prescribed by the commission, shall be enforced and action shall be brought for that purpose, pursuant to the provisions of the next section, or until changed or modified by the commission itself upon satisfactory showing made.

Mandamus Lies to Compel Obedience to Orders

In view of the provisions of this and the next sections, that the rates fixed by the public service commission for a public utility shall remain in full force and effect pending final determination by the courts of a proceeding calling them in question, and the provision of section 3911, specifically authorizing mandamus proceedings to compel obedience to the orders issued, the fact that a proceeding questioning the legality of the rates is pending in court does not bar the commission from applying for a writ of mandate to compel obedience to its order pendente lite. State v. Great Northern Utilities Co., 86 M 442, 446, 284 P 772.

Orders Prima Facie Lawful

Under this act, rates fixed by the public service commission for a public utility furnishing hot-water heat in a city are prima facie lawful, can be attacked in court on the sole ground that they are unlawful or unreasonable, and must be deemed reasonable and just until final determination by the courts, the burden of proof resting upon the party attacking the order of the commission. Billings Utility Co. v. Public Service Com., 62 M 21, 29, 203 P 366.

The orders of the public service commission are by this section made prima facie lawful until changed or modified. Great Northern U. Co. v. Public Ser. Com., 88 M 180, 202, 293 P 294.

Power of State

The establishment of a rate is a legislative, and not a judicial, act, and the power of the courts is circumscribed and restrained so far as interference with determinations reached within the scope of legislative authority is concerned. Billings Utility Co. v. Public Service Com., 62 M 21, 29, 203 P 366.

A municipality and a party to whom it grants a franchise to construct and operate a public heating plant enter into the contract with the knowledge that while the municipality may contract respecting rates, the state may at any time thereafter in furtherance of the public welfare exercise its inherent power of rate regulation and control. City of Billings v. Public Service Com., 67 M 29, 35, 214 P 608.

Power to Change Rates

The act creating the public service commission confers upon the commission the power, within the lawful exercise of its authority, to change the rates, tolls and charges in public utility contracts, even though they existed prior to the passage of the act. City of Billings v. Public Service Com., 67 M 29, 35, 214 P 608.

The legislature in enacting the public service commission act intended not only to empower the commission to regulate charges or fix rates, but also to see to it that reasonable service is rendered by the utility and that its equipment is reasonably adequate. Great Northern U. Co. v. Public Ser. Com., 88 M 180, 202, 293 P 294.

Id. Held, that the public service commission, under its power to regulate a public utility (secs. 3879-3913), is clothed with authority not only to fix maximum, but also minimum or precise rates.

3906. Action to set aside rates or charges fixed by commission. Any party in interest being dissatisfied with an order of the commission fixing any rate or rates, fares, charges, classifications, joint rate or rates, or any order fixing any regulations, practices, or services, may within ninety days commence an action in the district court of the proper county against the commission and other interested parties as defendants, to vacate and set aside any such order on the ground that the rate or rates, fares, charges, classifications, joint rate or rates, fixed in such order is unlawful or unreasonable, or that any such regulation, practice, or service, fixed in such order, is unlawful or unreasonable. The commission and other parties defendant shall file their answer to said complaint within thirty days after the service thereof, whereupon such action shall be at issue and stand ready for trial upon twenty days' notice to either party.

All actions brought under this section shall have precedence over any civil cause of a different nature pending in such court, and the court shall always be deemed open for the trial thereof, and the same shall be tried and determined as other civil actions; any party to such action may introduce evidence in addition to the transcript of the evidence offered to said commission.

No injunction shall issue suspending or staying any order of the commission except upon application to the court or judge thereof, notice to the commission having been first given and hearing having been had thereon; provided, that all rates fixed by the commission shall be deemed reasonable and just, and shall remain in full force and effect until final determination by the courts having jurisdiction.

If, upon the trial of such action, evidence shall be introduced by the plaintiff which is found by the court to be different from that offered upon the hearing before the commission, or additional thereto, the court, before proceeding to render judgment, unless the parties to such action stipulate in writing to the contrary, shall transmit a copy of such evidence to the commission, and shall stay further proceedings in said action for fifteen days from the date of such transmission. Upon receipt of such evidence, the commission shall consider the same, and may modify, amend, or rescind its order relating to such rate or rates, fares, charges, classifications, joint rate or rates, regulation, practice, or service complained of in said action, and shall report its action thereon to said court within ten days from the receipt of such evidence.

If the commission shall rescind its order complained of, the action shall be dismissed; if it shall alter, modify, or amend the same, such altered, modified, or amended order shall take the place of the original order complained of, and judgment shall be rendered thereon, as though made by the commission in the first instance. If the original order shall not be rescinded or changed by the commission, judgment shall be rendered upon such original order.

Either party to said action, within sixty days after service of a copy of the order or judgment of the court, may appeal or take the case up on error as in other civil actions. Where an appeal is taken to the supreme court of Montana, the cause shall, on the return of the papers to the higher court, be immediately placed on the calendar of the then pending term, and shall be assigned and brought to a hearing in the same manner as other causes on the calendar.

In all actions under this act, the burden of proof shall be upon the party attacking or resisting the order of the commission to show that the order is unlawful or unreasonable, as the case may be.

3907. Investigation of accidents—report as to accident. The commission or some member thereof, or some person deputed by it, shall investigate and make inquiry into every accident occurring in the operation of any public utility in this state, resulting in death, or injury to any person of such gravity as to require the attention of a physician or surgeon. The testimony taken at such hearing shall be transcribed and filed in the office of the commission.

It is hereby made the duty of every public utility operating within this state, promptly upon the occurrence of any accident, such as is mentioned above, to report by telegraph, followed by written report, the same to the commission, in which report shall be stated the time and place of accident, the names of persons killed or injured, and in concise form the nature and cause of such accident. The commission shall prescribe forms for the purpose of making such written reports. Reports of accidents as referred to in this section shall be included in the commission's annual report to the governor.

If any public utility shall violate any provision of this act, or shall do any act herein prohibited, or shall fail or refuse to perform any duty enjoined upon it, or upon failure of any public utility to place in operation any rate or joint rate or do any act herein prohibited, for which a penalty has not been provided, or shall fail, neglect, or refuse to obey any lawful requirement or order made by the commission or any court, for every such violation, failure, or refusal, such public utility shall be subject to the penalty prescribed by section 3888 of this code.

3910. Recovery of forfeitures and penalties. Any forfeiture or penalty herein provided shall be recovered and suit thereon shall be brought in the name of the state of Montana in the district court of any county having jurisdiction of the defendant. The attorney general of Montana shall be the counsel in any proceeding, investigation, hearing, or trial, prosecuted or defended by the commission, as also shall any prosecuting attorney selected by said commission, or other special counsel furnished said commission in any county where such action is pending.

3911. Mandamus, injunction, and other remedies. In addition to all the other remedies provided by this act for the prevention and punishment of any and all violations of the provisions thereof and all orders of the commission, the commission may compel compliance with the provisions of this act and of the orders of the commission by proceedings in mandamus, injunction, or by other civil remedies.

Specifically, such tests shall cover and be applicable to:

(a) Any of the enumerated commodities manufactured or refined in this state and distributed to dealers in this state;

(b) Any of the enumerated commodities shipped into this state from points outside thereof and resold or distributed to dealers for resale or distribution in this state;

(c) Any of the enumerated commodities exposed or offered for sale in this state.

Any gasoline, petroleum or distillate shipped into this state for the use by shipper or consignee in any place where the same is or may be dangerous to human life or public safety shall be subject to test and inspection by the public service commission as in this act provided.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 109, L. 1927.

3913.11. Designation of state chemist to make analyses and tests. The head or chairman of the department of chemistry of the state college of agriculture and mechanic arts of the state of Montana is hereby designated as state chemist, and is authorized, and it shall be his duty, to make all analyses and tests of articles inspected under the terms of this act, and to employ in such analyses and tests the standard methods of analysis. The state chemist shall receive no compensation for his services, nor shall he charge any fee for testing or analyzing any samples required to be analyzed by him under the terms of this act; provided, however, that neither the state chemist nor the department of chemistry of the state college of agriculture and mechanic arts shall be required to receive for analysis any unofficial samples submitted by any agency other than the public service commission of Montana.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 109, L. 1927.

Operation and Effect

Held, on application for writ of mandate made under this chapter, to compel the head of the department of chemistry of the state college of agriculture and mechanic arts, as state chemist, to make analyses of petroleum products for the public service commission without compensation therefor, that this chapter unambiguously provides that such service shall be rendered without compensation by the chemist or a qualified assistant who is a member of the college staff; that chapter 203, laws of 1919, providing for the inspection of oil products, displaced by this chapter, likewise made it the duty of the chemist to make analyses without compensation, and that therefore recourse may not be had to the erroneous contemporaneous construction of the provisions of both acts by the officers entrusted with the execution of their provisions by allowance of partial compensation, in determining the intention of the legislature in this regard. State v. Brannon et al., 86 M 200, 203 et seq., 283 P 202.

Id. Held, that under this chapter, the only allowance that may be made out of the gasoline inspection fund by the public service commission for making analyses of petroleum products at the request of the commission, is for laboratory expenses.

Id. Held, that while the primary function of the state university and its units is educational, the legislature may broaden its functions and require, among other things, research and experimental work for the public benefit, or impose additional duties upon its teaching staff as it did by making it the duty of the state chemist, as the head of the department of chemistry of the agricultural college, under this chapter, to make analyses of petroleum products, the welfare of society in general being furthered thereby, and that such requirements are not open to the contention that they are either noneducational or antagonistic to the purposes for which the university was established.

3913.12. Assistants may make analyses—appointment of assistants. All analyses herein directed to be made by the state chemist may, in the discretion of such state chemist, be made by any competent assistant acting under his supervision; provided, however, that such assistant shall be appointed under the rules and regulations of the state board of education.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 109, L. 1927.

3913.13. Chemist and assistants to give evidence—fees as witnesses. It shall be the duty of the state chemist or his assistants to attend and give evidence in all prosecutions instituted for the enforcement of this act, and such chemist or assistant shall receive the same fees and mileage for attendance in such cases as are prescribed by the laws of the state of Montana to be paid to witnesses in courts of record.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 109, L. 1927.

3913.14. Notice to be posted concerning grade of products offered for sale—samples for testing to be furnished. All dealers shall post in at least two conspicuous public places in each and every plant, filling station or distribution agency operated by and through them, a notice to the public, on forms to be prescribed by the public service commission, advising the public in plain terms of the grade and character of commodities offered for sale or sold therein. If such dealers are engaged in selling more than one grade, quality or character of commodity under the description "high test" or "winter gasoline" or "high power gasoline" or "more mileage gasoline," or under any term indicating that the commodity has been specially treated to produce special results and secure particular effects, said notice shall plainly state the difference in the character, grade or quality of the commodity.

It is hereby made the duty of every dealer subject to the provisions of this act, to submit to the public service commission for transmission by said commission to the state chemist for analysis and report, such quantity of the commodity to be tested as the commission shall require, accompanied by such data with respect thereto as the commission may prescribe and upon the completion of each test required to be made, the state chemist shall certify to the public service commission of Montana, on forms which said chemist and said commission shall prescribe, report of the analysis made by said state chemist, together with any remarks respecting the commodity analyzed.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 109, L. 1927.

3913.15. Manufacture or sale of low gravity distillates not prevented—labeling required. Nothing in this act contained shall prevent the manufacture or sale of engine distillates, power distillates, or kerosene distillates of a lower specific gravity on the Baume scale than gasoline, and which do not conform to the standards of quality, purity, and strength prescribed by this act; provided, however, that the package or other container in or from which the same are sold, or offered for sale, shall be plainly labeled in a conspicuous manner easily visible to the purchaser in such a manner as to indicate the name and character thereof; and the packages, containers and dispensers thereof shall be plainly marked in the manner prescribed by the public service commission.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 109, L. 1927.

3913.16. Registration of trade name of product—exclusive use of name by registering party. Any dealer within the provisions of this act or any other seller or distributor of the commodities named herein, selling or offering for sale under any trade name, designation or description any of the commodities named herein may make application to the public service commission of Montana for registration of said trade name, designation, description or device, and if the same shall, in the judgment of the commission be a fair name, and not confusing to users and buyers of commodities named herein, and if the same shall not conflict with any previously registered name, said commission shall register such name and the same shall be the exclusive property of the dealer so registering the same, and any infringement thereof in public advertisement or competitive salesmanship shall constitute cause for revocation of the license of the infringer after due hearing as in this act provided.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 109, L. 1927.

3913.17. Misrepresentation of product unlawful—revocation of license. It shall be unlawful for any dealer under this act to misrepresent the quality, essential characteristics or brand of any of the enumerated commodities sold by him or to substitute without the knowledge and consent of the purchaser a different quality or brand of commodity than that ordered by such purchaser, and a violation of these requirements shall constitute cause for revocation of license.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 109, L. 1927.

3913.18. “Misbranded” defined. For the purpose of this act, the term “misbranded” shall be construed as follows: All articles, the package or labels of which shall bear any statement, design, or device regarding the same, or regarding ingredients or substances therein, or regarding the properties of such articles, which are false or misleading in any particular whatsoever, shall be deemed misbranded.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 109, L. 1927.

3913.19. Samples of product may be taken by commission or user—inspection by commission—interference with inspections—inspectors—compensation. For the purpose of obtaining information regarding suspected violation of this act, said public service commission or any member thereof, or duly authorized representative shall have access to all places where the commodities enumerated herein are sold, offered for sale or kept for sale, manufactured, transported, or stored, and may take samples therefrom for analyses tendering payment therefor.

Any user or customer shall have the right, upon tendering payment therefor to receive from any dealer, a sample of any commodity sold for purpose of having analysis and test thereof made by the state chemist through the public service commission.

Any member of said commission, or any duly authorized representative thereof shall have the right to inspect any of the commodities enumerated herein, whether the same originate at points without the state or otherwise and whether the same are in transport or at rest in places where they are dangerous to human life or public safety.

Any person obstructing any entry or inspection authorized by this section, or failing upon request to assist therein shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished therefor in accordance with law. The public service commission shall employ from time to time such inspectors as said commission shall deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, and said commission shall fix the compensation of such inspectors. The inspectors herein provided for shall be paid from the “gasoline inspection fund” provided for in this act and all expenses of carrying out the provisions of this act shall be paid from said fund.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 109, L. 1927.

3913.20. Inspection and classification of measuring devices. The commission shall have power to inspect and classify all meters and measuring, gauging or testing devices and apparatus used in connection with the wholesale or retail distribution of the products enumerated herein, and may prescribe suitable standards of accuracy for such meters and measuring devices, conformable to the standards fixed by the United States bureau of standards for such devices.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 109, L. 1927.

3913.21. Revocation of license for violations—hearing required. If the commission shall find that any dealer operating under this act has violated any of the provisions hereof, or of any lawful order or decision of the commission, promulgated pursuant to the provisions of this act, the commission shall, after due hearing thereon, noticed for not less than ten days, revoke, cancel, or suspend any license that it has theretofore granted; and such revocation, cancellation or suspension, may be conditioned on such terms as to the commission may seem just and proper.

History: En. Sec. 19, Ch. 109, L. 1927.

3913.22. Revocation of license of petroleum dealers for unreasonable or discriminatory prices—procedure. The public service commission of the state of Montana is hereby vested with authority to revoke the license to engage in the business of selling gasoline and other petroleum products within the state of Montana, issued by such commission to any person, firm, partnership, association or corporation, where such person, firm, partnership, association or corporation is by such commission found guilty of charging an exorbitant or unreasonable price for gasoline sold within the state to residents of the state, or of discriminating between individuals or localities within the state in the prices charged for gasoline, or of discriminating between citizens of this state and citizens of adjoining states, to the disadvantage of the former, in the prices charged for gasoline. Anybody aggrieved by the action of such person, firm, partnership, association or corporation in so charging an exorbitant or unreasonable price for gasoline or in so discriminating between individuals or localities or in so discriminating between citizens of this state and citizens of adjoining states may file written charges with such commission against such person, firm, partnership, association or corporation, and thereupon the commission shall issue a citation to such person, firm, partnership, association or corporation to show cause before the commission within twenty days thereafter why his, their or its license should not be revoked. Such person, firm, partnership, association or corporation may appear by counsel at the hearing and contest the charge. If the charge be established by a preponderance of the evidence the commission shall make an order revoking the license, otherwise the charge shall be dismissed. Within thirty days after the order of revocation is made such person, firm, partnership, association or corporation may appeal therefrom to the district court of the county in which the hearing was had. The appeal must be tried in the district court upon the record made before the commission, but it shall not of itself result in staying the order of revocation. Nothing provided in this act is intended to interfere with or regulate commerce between states, the legislature in passing the same being actuated solely by a desire to protect the citizens of Montana against imposition.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 147, L. 1935.

3913.23. Effect of partial invalidity of act—construction. If any clause, sentence or provision in this act shall be declared invalid, such invalidity shall not affect any other part or parts of this act. Any provision of this act is not intended to nor shall it be construed as modifying or repealing any of the provisions of sections 2420.1 to 2420.11, inclusive of these codes.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 147, L. 1935.

3913.24. Penalty for violations. If any person, firm, co-partnership or corporation coming within the provisions of this act shall violate any of the provisions of this act or shall do any act herein prohibited, or shall fail or refuse to perform any duty enjoined upon it, for every such violation, failure or refusal such person, firm, co-partnership or corporation, shall, in addition to the forfeiture of license as hereinbefore provided, be for the first offense punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars ($10.00) and not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), and shall be punished for any subsequent offense by a fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50.00) nor more than five thousand dollars ($5,000.00), or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

4036. Examination of papers and issuance of statement—revocation of permit. It shall be the duty of the investment commissioner to examine the statements and documents so filed, and if said investment commissioner shall deem it advisable, he shall make or have made a detailed examination, audit or investigation of such investment company's affairs; providing, that such investment company may at its option, in writing, refuse to have such investigation made, in which event said investment commissioner shall reject its application. If he finds that such investment company is solvent, that its articles or incorporation or association, its constitution and by-laws, its proposed plan of business, and proposed contracts contain and provide for a fair, just and equitable plan for the transaction of business and that its promotion expense shall not be greater than twenty-five per centum (25%) of the sale price of its securities, and in his judgment promises a fair return on the stocks, bonds, or other securities by it offered for sale, the investment commissioner shall issue to such investment company a statement, entitling it to sell such securities in the state of Montana, and reciting that such company has complied with the provisions of this act, that detailed information in regard to the company and its securities is on file in the investment commissioner's office, and that such investment company is permitted to do business in this state; and such statement shall also recite in bold type that the investment commissioner in no wise recommends the securities to be offered for sale by such investment company. Such permit, however, shall be subject to revocation at any time by the investment commissioner for cause to him sufficient, but no order revoking such permit shall be entered without a formal hearing. The commissioner shall at least ten (10) days before revoking a permit, send by registered mail to the permittee, a written notice of his intention so to do, specifying therein the reasons for such revocation, the time when and the place where such hearing will be held, at which hearing the permittee shall have the right to appear by counsel, or otherwise, and be fully heard; provided however, that pending said hearing the investment commissioner shall have power to suspend said permit and thereafter the sale or offer for sale of securities by the permittee shall be unlawful. The permittee shall have the right to appeal from any and all final orders entered by the investment commissioner upon the formal hearing so had, which said appeal shall be in the manner and form as provided in section 4038. But if said investment commissioner finds that such articles of incorporation or association, charter, constitution and by-laws, plan of business, or proposed contract contain any provision that is unfair, unjust, inequitable, or oppressive to any class of contributors, or if he decides from his investigation or examination of its affairs that said investment company is not solvent, or does not intend to do a fair and honest business, or in his judgment does not promise a fair return on the stocks, bonds, or other securities by it offered for sale, then he shall not grant such company a permit as herein provided, and shall notify said company in writing of his decision.

Constitutionality

This section before its amendment by chapter 47, laws 1933, held invalid as depriving permittee of property without due process of law. Investors Syndicate v. Porter, 52 F 2d 189, (Bourquin, J., dissenting). Reversed in the supreme court of the United States, 286 U. S. 461, on the ground that the federal court did not have jurisdiction because the administrative remedy provided in the state courts had not been exhausted before seeking an injunction from the federal court. See also the same case on rehearing, 287 U. S. 346, adhering to the decision in 286 U. S. 461.

4037. Granting to stock-brokers of permit to do business. The foregoing sections 4033 to 4036, inclusive, shall apply to stock-brokers, providing that stock-brokers shall not be required to file a copy of each stock, bond, or other security it shall handle, and that said investment commissioner shall make special investigation and ascertain the reputation of such stock-broker, especially as to the class of stocks, bonds, and other securities handled by such broker, and that the granting of a permit to such stock-broker shall be further contingent upon such stock-broker having the reputation of handling such stocks, bonds, and other securities as said investment commissioner shall decide to be a good, legitimate investment. Such permit shall entitle such stock-broker to handle such stocks, bonds, and other securities in the state of Montana as are not objected to by the investment commissioner; providing, that such stock-broker shall file on the first day of each month a list of the stocks, bonds, and other securities on hand for sale, and handled by it during the preceding month; and providing, further, that said investment commissioner shall have authority to prohibit said stock-broker from handling any of such issues at any time, or to cancel said broker's permit at any time he decides that said broker is not handling such securities as he deems good, legitimate investments.

4038. Action to vacate findings of commissioner—appeals. Any interested person, who has appeared, co-partnership, association or corporation being dissatisfied with any finding, findings or decision of the commissioner made in accordance with the provisions of this act, may within thirty days from the making thereof, commence an action in any court of competent jurisdiction against said commissioner as defendant, to vacate and set aside said finding, findings or decision, on the ground that the said findings or decision are unjust or unreasonable. The rules of pleading and procedure in such action shall be the same as are provided by law for the trial of equitable actions in the district courts of this state and on the hearing the judge of said court may set aside, modify or confirm said findings or decision as the evidence and the rules or equity may require. Appeals may be taken from the decision of the district court to the supreme court by either party in the same manner as is provided by law in other civil actions. Pending any such action, the said findings or decision of said commissioner shall be prima facie evidence that they are just and reasonable and that the facts found are true, and pending any such action the said findings or decision of the commissioner shall remain in full force and effect. If no action be brought to set aside said findings or decision within thirty days, the same shall become final and binding.

Provided, however, that the original application with reference to which an appeal is herein provided for shall not be heard by the investment commissioner until notice of hearing on the same has been published in some newspaper published at the capital city daily, in at least seven issues of such paper, and provided further, that upon such hearing on the original application, any person, co-partnership, association or corporation interested in or opposed to said application may appear.

Such permit, however, shall be subject to revocation at any time by the investment commissioner for cause appearing to him sufficient. The conversion by an agent of securities, or the practice of trading in of securities of any company, commonly known as "twisting" or "high-grading" shall be grounds for having his permit revoked upon hearing.

Each such statement shall be accompanied by a filing fee in the amount as provided in section 4050. 4058. Real estate broker defined. A "real estate broker," within the meaning of this act, is a person who for a compensation, or promise thereof, sells or offers for sale, buys, or offers to buy, negotiates, or offers to negotiate, either directly or indirectly, whether as the employee of another or otherwise, the purchase, sale, exchange of real estate, or any interest therein, for others, as a whole or partial vocation. Operation and Effect estate broker cannot maintain an action for compensation unless he alleges and proves that at the time the cause of action arose he was duly licensed to act as a broker, has no application, under this section, to one who acts in that capacity in connection with a single transaction only. Harbolt v. Hensen, 73 M 228, 233, 253 P 257.

Id. Evidence that a broker's contract was written on plaintiff's stationery showing his name and the legend "Real Estate" and his statement at the trial that he never "deducted a mortgage on a commission" held too unsubstantial to warrant a finding that at the time the transaction in question took place he was a broker within the meaning of this section.

4061. Disposal of fees and collections. All fees and collections paid to the commissioner by any person, under the provisions of this act, shall be by him paid to the state treasurer on the tenth and twenty-fifth days of each calendar month, and shall be placed by the state treasurer in the general fund of the state of Montana.

Copies of all records and papers in the office of the commission certified to be a true copy under the hand and seal of the commissioner, shall be received in evidence in all cases equally and with like effect as the originals.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 195, L. 1921; re-en. Sec. 4062, R. C. M. 1921.

4064. Scope of licenses. No license issued by the commissioner shall authorize any person other than him to whom the license shall be issued to act as a real estate broker. Whenever a license is issued to a corporation, it shall entitle the corporation officers, not to exceed three, designated in the application for the license, to act in the capacity of real estate broker, in behalf of the corporation; and whenever a license is issued to a co-partnership it shall entitle the members of the co-partnership named by the co-partnership in its application for the license, to act in behalf of the co-partnership in the capacity of real estate broker.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 195, L. 1921; re-en. Sec. 4064, R. C. M. 1921.

4065. License — application — bond — issuance — fee. Any person, co-partnership, or corporation, desiring to carry on the business of real estate broker in this state shall make application for a license so to do upon a form prescribed by the commissioner, and shall file the same with the commissioner; when an individual makes the application, in the application shall be stated the full name of the applicant, and his business address, which shall be the place where he maintains his home office. The applicant shall file with the application a written recommendation, signed by at least five responsible freeholders of the county in which the home office of the applicant is, in which the freeholders must certify that they believe the applicant to be a man of good moral character, and in their judgment well qualified to carry on the business of real estate broker. The applicant shall also file with his application a good and sufficient bond in the sum of one thousand dollars, conditioned that the applicant shall conduct his business as real estate broker in accordance with the requirements of this act.

When a co-partnership makes application for a license it shall state in the application the full names of all the partners, their business addresses, the place where the principal office shall be maintained, and the commissioner shall require a recommendation, signed by at least five responsible freeholders of the county in which the home office of the co-partnership is, in which the freeholders must certify that they believe that each of the members of said co-partnership is a man of good moral character and in their judgment well qualified to carry on the business of real estate broker. The co-partnership shall also file with their application a good and sufficient bond in the sum of one thousand dollars, conditioned that the co-partnership shall conduct their business as real estate brokers in accordance with the requirements of this act.

An unincorporated association shall comply with the rules prescribed for a co-partnership.

When a corporation makes application for a license, it shall state in its application a list of its officers and directors, and their addresses, its principal place of business in this state, which shall be deemed its home office, and the names of the officers for whom a license is asked; the commissioner shall require its filing of a recommendation for each of said officers as in the case of an individual applicant, a good and sufficient bond in the sum of one thousand dollars, conditioned that the corporation shall conduct its business as a real estate broker in accordance with the requirements of this act.

The commissioner may require such other proof as he may deem advisable as to the honesty, truthfulness and good reputation of any applicant for a license, whether an individual or member of a co-partnership or officer of a corporation, before issuing the license; provided, however, that if a real estate broker has once been licensed under this act, upon his application for a renewal of his license, the commissioner may, in his discretion, waive the filing of new recommendations or references.

Upon the filing of the application, if the same be accompanied with a proper recommendation or recommendations, bond or bonds, and fee herein-after specified, if the commissioner is satisfied with the showing made, he shall forthwith issue the license, which shall continue thenceforward, unless revoked, until the first day of April next ensuing. If the commissioner shall not be satisfied with the showing made by the applicant, or if the necessary bond or bonds, satisfactory to the commissioner be not given, he may refuse to issue the license, in which case the applicant may appeal to the district court within ten days after notice that his application has been rejected.

For every real estate broker's license issued, the commissioner shall require, before issuance, a fee of ten dollars, provided, that if a license be taken out after the first day of October, but one-half the fee shall be required, but the license shall expire on the first day of April following, and in case of licenses issued to co-partnerships, unincorporated associations, and corporations, he shall require such fee for each such co-partnership, unincorporated association, or corporation to whom such license is issued.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 195, L. 1921; re-en. Sec. 4065, R. C. M. 1921.

4066. Salesman's license. The commissioner may issue a license to a person who acts as an agent for a duly licensed real estate broker, and who shall be designated as a salesman; the license shall be issued to him as a real estate broker (salesman). An applicant for a salesman's license shall comply in every respect with the rules and regulations provided for real estate brokers, except that he need not himself maintain a fixed place of business, but he must designate as his home office the office of a regularly licensed real estate broker, and must not change his home office without the commissioner's permission. A salesman shall pay an annual fee of five dollars, which shall accompany his application for a license, which license shall also expire on the first of April following.

4067. Bonds—approval—action upon. All bonds given under the provisions of this act shall run to the state of Montana, shall be approved by the commissioner and be filed in his office. Any person who may be damaged by the wrongful acts of a real estate broker shall, in addition to the other legal remedies, have a right of action on the broker's or salesman's bond.

A person having a right of action against an agent acting in the scope of his authority shall have a right of action not only against the agent but also against the principal, and the principal's bond shall be liable for the acts of his agent.

4068. Consent to suit by non-resident applicants. If an applicant be a non-resident of this state, he shall file an irrevocable consent that suits and actions may be commenced against him in any county of this state in which the plaintiff having a cause of action or suit may reside, and that service of any process or pleadings in said suit or action may be made by delivering same to the state insurance commissioner. Such service when so made to be taken and held in all courts to be as valid and binding upon the applicant as if in fact made upon said applicant in this state within the jurisdiction of the court in which said suit or action is filed; said "irrevocable consent" shall be in a form prescribed by the commissioner, shall be acknowledged before a notary public and if the applicant be a corporation said consent shall be accompanied by a duly certified copy of the resolutions of the board of directors of such corporation authorizing the execution of the same; any process or pleading above mentioned so served upon the state insurance commissioner shall be served in duplicate copies, one of which shall be filed in the office of the state insurance commissioner, and the other immediately forwarded by registered mail to the office of the applicant named in his application and service shall be deemed to have been made upon said applicant on the third day following the deposit in the mail of said copy of said process or pleadings.

4069. Home office of real estate brokers. Each person, corporation, or co-partnership licensed to act as real estate broker shall be required to maintain a definite place of business in the state of Montana, which shall serve as his or its home office. In the home office shall be displayed constantly, in a conspicuous place, the license, and if a salesman be employed his license shall likewise be displayed. If any person, co-partnership, association or corporation shall establish or maintain any office or place of business in addition to his or its principal place of business, then upon application to the commissioner, he shall, upon the payment of a fee of one dollar for each duplicate, issue a duplicate of said license for each additional office, which duplicate shall at all times be displayed in said additional office in like manner as the original, and each copy shall be plainly marked "duplicate" by the commissioner. Upon the issuance of a license to any real estate broker or to a salesman, the commissioner shall issue to the broker or salesman a pocket card of convenient size reciting that the broker is licensed to act as a real estate broker, or a real estate broker (salesman), for a stated period, showing the business address of the broker, or salesman, which card shall be signed and sealed by the commissioner. Notice in writing shall be given the commissioner of any change of business location, whereupon the commissioner shall issue a new license and pocket card covering the new business address, without charge; provided that the license previously issued, together with the pocket card shall be taken up by the commissioner before issuing the new one. A change of business location without notification to the commissioner shall automatically cancel the license heretofore issued.

It shall be unlawful for any licensed real estate broker or real estate broker (salesman) to pay any part or share of a commission or other compensation received by him in his capacity as a real estate broker, or real estate broker (salesman) to any person who is not duly licensed under the provisions of this act, except to brokers in other states or countries.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 195, L. 1921; re-en. Sec. 4069, R. C. M. 1921.

4070. Suspension or revocation of license. The commissioner may, upon his own motion, and shall, upon verified complaint in writing of any person, investigate the actions of any person engaged in the business or acting in the capacity of a real estate broker or salesman within this state, and shall have the power to suspend or revoke licenses issued under the provisions of this act at any time where the holder thereof in performing or attempting to perform any of the acts mentioned in section 4058 of this code is guilty of:

- (a) Making any substantial misrepresentations, or
- (b) A continued or flagrant course of misrepresentation or making of false promises, whether through agents or salesmen, or otherwise; or
- (c) Failure to account for or remit for any property or moneys coming into his possession which belong to another; or
- (d) Any other conduct whether of the same or a different character than hereinbefore specified which constitutes dishonest dealing.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 195, L. 1921; re-en. Sec. 4070, R. C. M. 1921.

4071. Suspension or revocation—appeal and bond. If the commissioner shall refuse to grant an application for a license, or shall suspend or revoke a broker's or salesman's license, and the broker or salesman shall feel aggrieved by the decision of the commissioner, he may appeal to the district court of the county in which he has his principal place of business by giving notice of such appeal in writing to the commissioner and filing a bond with the clerk of the district court in the sum of three hundred dollars, to be approved by the judge of said court, conditioned to pay all costs that may be awarded against such appellant in the event of an adverse decision, said bond and notice to be filed within ten days from the date of the commissioner's decision. The filing of such notice and bond shall supersede the order of the commissioner until the final termination of such appeal. The judge of the court shall summarily hear and determine the questions involved upon said appeal, and shall receive and consider any pertinent evidence whether oral or documentary concerning the matter. If such aggrieved party shall fail to perfect his appeal or file said transcript as herein provided, said stay shall automatically terminate. Appeals from judgment of the district court may be taken to the supreme court in the same manner as appeals are taken in civil actions.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 195, L. 1921; re-en. Sec. 4071, R. C. M. 1921.

4072. Power of commissioners concerning oaths, subpoenas, process and witnesses. The commissioner shall have power to administer oaths, certify to all official acts and shall have power to subpoena and bring before him any person in this state as a witness, compel the production of books and papers, and take the testimony of any person by deposition in the same manner as is prescribed by law in the procedure of the district courts of this state in civil cases. Process issued by the commissioner shall extend to all parts of the state and may be served by any person authorized to serve process. Each witness who shall appear by order of the commissioner shall receive for his attendance the same fees and mileage allowed by law to a witness in civil cases appearing in the district court, which amount shall be paid by the party at whose request such witness is subpoenaed. When any witness who has not been required to attend at the request of any party shall be subpoenaed by the commissioner, his fees and mileage shall be paid in the same manner as other expenses of said department are paid.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 195, L. 1921; re-en. Sec. 4072, R. C. M. 1921.

4073. Complaints for violation of act—duty county attorney. The commissioner may prefer a complaint for violation of any section of this act before any court of competent jurisdiction. It shall be the duty of the county attorney of each county in the state to prosecute all violations of the aforesaid provisions of this act in their respective counties in which such violations occur.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 195, L. 1921; re-en. Sec. 4073, R. C. M. 1921.

4074. Penalty for acting without license. Any person or corporation acting as a real estate broker or real estate broker (salesman) within the meaning of this act without a license as herein provided, shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not to exceed six hundred dollars.

History: En. Sec. 19, Ch. 195, L. 1921; re-en. Sec. 4074, R. C. M. 1921.

4075. Proof of license in actions for compensation. No person, co-partnership, association, or corporation, engaged in the business of, or acting in the capacity of a real estate broker, or salesman within this state shall maintain any action in any of the courts of this state to recover compensation for his services alleged to be earned as a real estate broker, or salesman, without alleging and proving that such person, co-partnership, association, or corporation was duly licensed under the provisions of this act at the time the alleged cause of action arose.

History: En. Sec. 20, Ch. 195, L. 1921; re-en. Sec. 4075, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

The provision of this section that one acting in the capacity of a real estate broker cannot maintain an action for compensation unless he alleges and proves that at the time the cause of action arose he was duly licensed to act as a broker, has no application, under section 4058, to one who acts in that capacity in connection with a single transaction only. Harbolt v. Hensen, 78 M 228, 233, 253 P 257.

Id. One who is not a real estate broker within the meaning of this section to enable him to recover commissions on a sale procured by him is not required to allege and prove that at the time he was not a broker; if he was a broker it was incumbent upon the defendant to so allege and prove, and by failing to do so he waived the point.

Where a defect in the complaint affects only the capacity of plaintiff to sue, as where a real estate broker in an action to recover commissions does not allege that he was duly licensed to act as a broker, such allegation being made a condition precedent to his maintaining the action (this section), defendant by failing to take advantage thereof by special demurrer or answer, waives it, a general demurrer not reaching the point, and may not for the first time raise it on appeal. Piatt & Heath Co. v. Wilmer, 87 M 382, 386, 288 P 1021.

4076. Notice termination employment of broker. Upon the termination of the employment of any real estate broker acting in the capacity of a salesman, a written statement of the facts, in reference thereto, shall be filed forthwith, by the employer, with the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 195, L. 1921; re-en. Sec. 4076, R. C. M. 1921.

4077. Mailing list licensed brokers. The commissioner shall at least annually mail to each person licensed under the provisions of this act, a list of the names and addresses of all licensed brokers in this state.

History: En. Sec. 22, Ch. 195, L. 1921; re-en. Sec. 4077, R. C. M. 1921.

4078. Effect of partial invalidity of act. If any section, sub-section, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional or inoperative, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act.

History: En. Sec. 23, Ch. 195, L. 1921; re-en. Sec. 4078, R. C. M. 1921.

NOTE.—Uniform state law.

Sections 4079 through 4138 constitute the “Uniform Warehouse Receipts Act” approved by the National Conference of Commissioners of Uniform State Laws and adopted in every state of the United States with the exception of Georgia, Kentucky, New Hampshire and South Carolina. It has also been adopted in Alaska, District of Columbia, Philippine Islands and Porto Rico.

4080. Warehouse receipts—terms—liability for omission of terms. Warehouse receipts need not be in any particular form, but every such receipt must embody within its written or printed terms:

- (a) The location of the warehouse where the goods are stored;
- (b) The date of issue of the receipt;
- (c) The consecutive number of the receipt;
- (d) A statement whether the goods received will be delivered to bearer, to a specified person, or to a specified person or his order;
- (e) The rate of storage charges;
- (f) A description of the goods or of the packages containing them;
- (g) The signature of the warehouseman, which may be made by his authorized agent;
- (h) If the receipt is issued for goods of which the warehouseman is owner, either solely or jointly or in common with others, the fact of such ownership, and
- (i) A statement of the amount of advances made and of liabilities incurred for which the warehouseman claims a lien. If the precise amount of such advances made or of such liabilities incurred is, at the time of the issue of the receipt, unknown to the warehouseman or to his agent who issues it, a statement of the fact that advances have been made or liabilities incurred and the purpose thereof is sufficient.

A warehouseman shall be liable to any person injured thereby, for all damages caused by the omission from a negotiable receipt of any of the terms herein required.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4080, R. C. M. 1921.

4081. Insertion of other conditions—effect. A warehouseman may insert in a receipt, issued by him, any other terms and conditions, provided that such terms and conditions shall not—

- (a) Be contrary to the provisions of this act;
- (b) In any wise impair his obligation to exercise that degree of care in safe-keeping of the goods entrusted to him which a reasonably careful man would exercise in regard to similar goods of his own.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4081, R. C. M. 1921.

4082. Non-negotiable receipt—definition. A receipt in which it is stated that the goods received will be delivered to the depositor, or to any other specified person, is a non-negotiable receipt.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4082, R. C. M. 1921.

4083. Negotiable receipt—definition. A receipt in which it is stated that the goods received will be delivered to the bearer, or to the order of any person named in such receipt is a negotiable receipt.

No provisions shall be inserted in a negotiable receipt that is non-negotiable. Such provisions, if inserted, shall be void.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4083, R. C. M. 1921.

4084. Duplicate receipts, how marked—liability for failure to mark. When more than one negotiable receipt is issued for the same goods, the word “duplicate” shall be plainly placed upon the face of every such receipt, except the one first issued. A warehouseman shall be liable for all damage caused by his failure so to do to any one who purchased the subsequent receipt for value supposing it to be an original, even though the purchase be after the delivery of the goods by the warehouseman to the holder of the original receipt.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4084, R. C. M. 1921.

4085. Non-negotiable receipts, how marked—option of holder when not properly designated. A non-negotiable receipt shall have plainly placed upon its face by the warehouseman issuing it “non-negotiable,” or “not negotiable.” In case of the warehouseman’s failure so to do, a holder of the receipt who purchased it for value supposing it to be negotiable, may, at his option, treat such receipt as imposing upon the warehouseman the same liabilities he would have incurred had the receipt been negotiable.

This section shall not apply, however, to letters, memoranda, or written acknowledgments of an informal character.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4085, R. C. M. 1921.

4086. Delivery of goods upon demand. A warehouseman, in the absence of some lawful excuse provided by this act, is bound to deliver the goods upon a demand made either by the holder of a receipt for the goods or by the depositor, if such demand is accompanied with—

- (a) An offer to satisfy the warehouseman’s lien;
- (b) An offer to surrender the receipt if negotiable with such indorsements as would be necessary for the negotiation of the receipt, and
- (c) A readiness and willingness to sign, when the goods are delivered, an acknowledgment that they have been delivered, if such signature is requested by the warehouseman.

In case the warehouseman refuses or fails to deliver the goods in compliance with a demand by the holder or depositor so accompanied, the burden shall be upon the warehouseman to establish the existence of a lawful excuse for such refusal.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4086, R. C. M. 1921.

4087. To whom goods may be delivered. A warehouseman is justified in delivering the goods, subject to the provisions of the three following sections, to one who is—

(a) The person lawfully entitled to the possession of the goods, or his agent;

(b) A person who is either himself entitled to delivery by the terms of a non-negotiable receipt issued for the goods, or who has written authority from the person so entitled either indorsed upon the receipt or written upon another paper, or

(c) A person in possession of a negotiable receipt by the terms of which the goods are deliverable to him or order or to bearer, or which has been indorsed to him or in blank by the person to whom delivery was promised by the terms of the receipt or by his mediate or immediate endorsee.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4087, R. C. M. 1921.

4088. Warehouseman when liable for conversion. Where a warehouseman delivers the goods to one who is not in fact lawfully entitled to the possession of them, the warehouseman shall be liable as for conversion to all having a right of property or possession in the goods if he delivered the goods otherwise than as authorized by subdivisions (b) and (c) of the preceding section and though he delivered the goods as authorized by said subdivisions he shall be so liable, if prior to such delivery he had either—

(a) Been requested, by or on behalf of the person lawfully entitled to a right of property or possession in the goods, not to make such delivery, or

(b) Had information that the delivery about to be made was to one not lawfully entitled to the possession of the goods.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4088, R. C. M. 1921.

4089. Liability of warehouseman for failure to take up negotiable receipt. Except as provided in section 4114 of this code, where a warehouseman delivers goods for which he had issued a negotiable receipt, the negotiation of which would transfer the right to the possession of the goods, and fails to take up and cancel the receipt, he shall be liable to any one who purchases for value in good faith such receipt, for failure to deliver the goods to him, whether such purchaser acquired title to the receipt before or after the delivery of the goods by the warehouseman.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4089, R. C. M. 1921.

4090. Same—liability when portion of goods delivered. Except as provided in section 4114 of this code, where a warehouseman delivers part of the goods for which he had issued a negotiable receipt and fails either to take up and cancel such receipt, or to place plainly upon it a statement of what goods or packages have been delivered he shall be liable, to any one who purchases for value in good faith such receipt, for failure to deliver all the goods specified in the receipt, whether such purchaser acquired title to the receipt before or after the delivery of any portion of the goods by the warehouseman.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4090, R. C. M. 1921.

4091. Alteration of receipt—when not an excuse from liability. The alteration of a receipt shall not excuse the warehouseman who issued it from any liability if such alteration was—

- (a) Immaterial;
- (b) Authorized, or
- (c) Made with fraudulent intent.

If the alteration was authorized, the warehouseman shall be liable according to the terms of the receipt as altered. If the alteration was unauthorized, but made without fraudulent intent, the warehouseman shall be liable according to the terms of the receipt, as they were before alteration.

Material and fraudulent alteration of a receipt shall not excuse the warehouseman who issued it from liability to deliver, according to the terms of the receipt as originally issued, the goods for which it was issued, but shall excuse him from any other liability to the person who made the alteration and to any person who took with notice of the alteration. Any purchaser of the receipt for value without notice of the alteration shall acquire the same rights against the warehouseman which such purchaser would have acquired if the receipt had not been altered at the time of the purchase.

4092. Court may order delivery when receipt has been lost or destroyed—bond and costs. Where a negotiable receipt has been lost or destroyed, a court of competent jurisdiction may order the delivery of the goods upon satisfactory proof of such loss or destruction and upon the giving of a bond with sufficient sureties to be approved by the court to protect the warehouseman from any liability or expense, which he or any person injured by such delivery may incur by reason of the original receipt remaining outstanding. The court may also, in its discretion, order the payment of the warehouseman's reasonable costs and counsel fees. The delivery of the goods under an order of the court as provided in this section, shall not relieve the warehouseman from liability to a person to whom the negotiable receipt has been or shall be negotiated for value without notice of the proceedings or of the delivery of the goods.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4092, R. C. M. 1921.

4093. Duplicate receipt—warranty of what. A receipt upon the face of which the word "duplicate" is plainly placed is a representation and warranty by the warehouseman that such receipt is an accurate copy of an original receipt properly issued and uncanceled at the date of the issue of the duplicate, but shall impose upon him no other liability.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4093, R. C. M. 1921.

4094. Delivery of goods by warehouseman—when excused by title or right of possession. No title or right to the possession of the goods, on the part of the warehouseman, unless such title or right is derived directly or indirectly from a transfer made by the depositor at the time of or subsequent to the deposit for storage, or from the warehouseman's lien, shall excuse the warehouseman from liability for refusing to deliver the goods according to the terms of the receipt.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4094, R. C. M. 1921.

4095. Procedure on suit when goods are claimed by more than one person. If more than one person claims the title or possession of the goods, the warehouseman may, either as a defense to an action brought against him for non-delivery of the goods, or as an original suit, whichever is appropriate, require all known claimants to interplead.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4095, R. C. M. 1921.

4096. When warehouseman may retain goods in case of adverse claim. If some one other than the depositor or person claiming under him has a claim to the title or possession of the goods, and the warehouseman has information of such claim, the warehouseman shall be excused from liability for refusing to deliver the goods, either to the depositor or person claiming under him or to the adverse claimant, until the warehouseman has had a reasonable time to ascertain the validity of the adverse claim or to bring legal proceedings to compel all claimants to interplead.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4096, R. C. M. 1921.

4097. Claim of third person not a defense to action for failure to deliver. Except as provided in the two preceding sections and in sections 4087 and 4114 of this code, no right or title of a third person shall be a defense to an action brought by the depositor or person claiming under him against the warehouseman for failure to deliver the goods according to the terms of the receipt.

History: En. Sec. 19, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4097, R. C. M. 1921.

4098. Liability of warehouseman for non-existence of goods or failure to correspond to description. A warehouseman shall be liable to the holder of a receipt for damages caused by the non-existence of the goods or by failure of the goods to correspond with the description thereof in the receipt at the time of its issue. If, however, the goods are described in a receipt merely by a statement of marks or labels upon them, or upon packages containing them, or by a statement that the goods are said to be goods of a certain kind, or that the packages containing the goods are said to contain goods of a certain kind, or by words of like purport, such statements, if true, shall not make liable the warehouseman issuing the receipt, although the goods are not of the kind which the marks or labels upon them indicate, or of the kind they were said to be by the depositor.

4099. Liability for want of care. A warehouseman shall be liable for any loss or injury to the goods caused by his failure to exercise such care in regard to them as a reasonably careful owner of similar goods would exercise, but he shall not be liable, in the absence of an agreement to the contrary, for any loss or injury to the goods which could not have been avoided by the exercise of such care.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4099, R. C. M. 1921.

4100. Goods to be kept separately to permit identification. Except as provided in the following section, a warehouseman shall keep the goods so far separate from goods of other depositors, and from other goods of the same depositor for which a separate receipt has been issued, as to permit at all times the identification and re-delivery of the goods deposited.

History: En. Sec. 22, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4100, R. C. M. 1921.

4101. When interchangeable goods may be commingled. If authorized by agreement or by custom, a warehouseman may mingle fungible goods with other goods the same kind and grade. In such case the various depositors of the mingled goods shall own the entire mass in common and each depositor shall be entitled to such portion thereof as the amount deposited by him bears to the whole.

History: En. Sec. 23, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4101, R. C. M. 1921.

4102. Liability of warehouseman to depositors of commingled goods. The warehouseman shall be severally liable to each depositor for the care and re-delivery of his share of such mass to the same extent and under the same circumstances as if the goods had been kept separate.

History: En. Sec. 24, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4102, R. C. M. 1921.

4103. When goods cannot be attached or levied on in warehouseman's possession—surrender of receipt. If goods are delivered to a warehouseman by the owner or by a person whose act in conveying the title to them to a purchaser in good faith for value would bind the owner, and a negotiable receipt is issued for them, they cannot thereafter, while in the possession of the warehouseman, be attached by garnishment or otherwise, or be levied upon by an execution, unless the receipt be first surrendered to the warehouseman, or its negotiation enjoined. The warehouseman shall in no case be compelled to deliver up the actual possession of the goods until the receipt is surrendered to him or impounded by the court.

4104. Remedies of creditors. A creditor whose debtor is the owner of a negotiable receipt shall be entitled to such aid from courts of appropriate jurisdiction, by injunction and otherwise, in attaching such receipt or in satisfying the claim by means thereof as is allowed at law or in equity, in regard to property which cannot readily be attached or levied upon by ordinary legal process.

History: En. Sec. 26, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4104, R. C. M. 1921.

4105. Warehouseman's lien. Subject to the provisions of section 4108 of this code, a warehouseman shall have a lien on goods deposited or on the proceeds thereof in his hands, for all lawful charges for storage and preservation of the goods; also for all lawful claims for money advanced, interest, insurance, transportation, labor, weighing, cooping, and other charges and expenses in relation to such goods; also for all reasonable charges and the expenses for notice, and advertisements of sale, and for sale of the goods where default has been made in satisfying the warehouseman's lien.

History: En. Sec. 27, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4105, R. C. M. 1921.

4106. Enforcement of warehouseman's lien. Subject to the provisions of section 4108 of this code, a warehouseman's lien may be enforced—

(a) Against all goods, whenever deposited, belonging to the person who is liable as debtor for the claims in regard to which lien is asserted, and

(b) Against all goods belonging to other which have been deposited at any time by the person who is liable as debtor for the claims in regard to which the lien is asserted if such person has been so entrusted with the possession of the goods that a pledge of the same by him at the time of the deposit to one who took the goods in good faith for value would have been valid.

History: En. Sec. 28, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4106, R. C. M. 1921.

4107. How lien is lost. A warehouseman loses his lien upon goods—

- (a) By surrendering possession thereof, or
- (b) By refusing to deliver the goods when a demand is made with which he is bound to comply under the provisions of this act.

History: En. Sec. 29, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4107, R. C. M. 1921.

4108. Lien in case negotiable receipt is issued. If a negotiable receipt is issued for goods, the warehouseman shall have no lien thereon, except for charges for storage of those goods subsequent to the date of the receipt, unless the receipt expressly enumerate other charges for which a lien is claimed. In such case there shall be a lien for the charges enumerated so far as they are within the terms of section 4105 of this code, although the amount of the charges so enumerated is not stated in the receipt.

History: En. Sec. 30, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4108, R. C. M. 1921.

4109. Warehouseman may refuse delivery until lien is satisfied. A warehouseman having a lien valid against the person demanding the goods may refuse to deliver the goods to him until the lien is satisfied.

History: En. Sec. 31, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4109, R. C. M. 1921.

4110. Warehouseman entitled to charges and advances in all cases. Whether a warehouseman has or has not a lien upon the goods, he is entitled to all remedies allowed by law to a creditor against his debtor, for the collection from the depositor of all charges and advances which the depositor has expressly or impliedly contracted with the warehouseman to pay.

History: En. Sec. 32, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4110, R. C. M. 1921.

4111. Satisfaction of warehouseman's lien—advertisement and sale of goods and disposition of proceeds. A warehouseman's lien for a claim which has become due may be satisfied as follows:

The warehouseman shall give written notice to the person on whose account the goods are held, and to any other person known by the warehouseman to claim an interest in the goods. Such notice shall be given by delivery in person or by registered letter addressed to the last known place of business or abode of the person to be notified. The notice shall contain—

- (a) An itemized account of the warehouseman's claim, showing the sum due at the time of the notice and the date or dates when it became due;
- (b) A brief description of the goods against which the lien exists;
- (c) A demand that the amount of the claim as stated in the notice, and of such further claim as shall accrue, shall be paid on or before a day mentioned, not less than ten days from the delivery of the notice if it is personally delivered, or from the time when the notice should reach its destination, according to the due course of post, if the notice is sent by mail, and
- (d) A statement that unless the claim is paid within the time specified the goods will be advertised for sale and sold by auction at a specified time and place.

In accordance with the terms of a notice so given, a sale of the goods by auction may be had to satisfy any valid claim of the warehouseman for which he has a lien on the goods. The sale shall be had in the place where the lien was acquired, or, if such place is manifestly unsuitable for the purpose, at the nearest suitable place. After the time for the payment of the claim specified in the notice to the depositor has elapsed, an advertisement of the sale, describing the goods to be sold, and stating the name of the owner or person on whose account the goods are held, and the time and place of the sale, shall be published once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper published in the place where such sale is to be held. The sale shall not be held less than fifteen days from the time of the first publication. If there is no newspaper published in such place, the advertisement shall be posted at least ten days before such sale in not less than six conspicuous places therein.

From the proceeds of such sale the warehouseman shall satisfy his lien, including the reasonable charges of notice, advertisement, and sale. The balance, if any, of such proceeds shall be held by the warehouseman, and delivered on demand to the person to whom he would have been bound to deliver or justified in delivering the goods.

At any time before the goods are so sold any person claiming a right of property or possession therein may pay the warehouseman the amount necessary to satisfy his lien and to pay the reasonable expenses and liabilities incurred in serving notices and advertising and preparing for the sale up to the time of such payment. The warehouseman shall deliver goods to the person making such payment if he is a person entitled, under the provisions of this act, to the possession of the goods on payment of charges thereon. Otherwise the warehouseman shall retain possession of the goods according to the terms of the original contract of deposit.

4112. Notice to pay charges and remove perishable and other goods—sale and disposition. If goods are of a perishable nature, or by keeping will deteriorate greatly in value, or by their odor, leakage, inflammability, or explosive nature, will be liable to injure other property, the warehouseman may give such notice to the owner, or to the person in whose name the goods are stored, as is reasonable and possible under the circumstances, to satisfy the lien upon such goods, and to remove them from the warehouse, and in the event of the failure of such person to satisfy the lien and to remove the goods within the time specified, the warehouseman may sell the goods at public or private sale without advertising. If the warehouseman, after a reasonable effort is unable to sell such goods, he may dispose of them in any lawful manner, and shall incur no liability by reason thereof.

The proceeds of any sale made under the terms of this section shall be disposed of in the same way as the proceeds of sales made under the terms of the preceding section.

4113. Remedy for enforcing lien not exclusive. The remedy for enforcing a lien herein provided does not preclude any other remedies allowed by law for the enforcement of a lien against personal property nor bar the right to recover so much of the warehouseman's claim as shall not be paid by the proceeds of the sale of the property.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4113, R. C. M. 1921.

4114. Liability of warehouseman after goods have been sold to satisfy lien. After goods have been lawfully sold to satisfy a warehouseman's lien, or have been lawfully sold or disposed of because of their perishable or hazardous nature, the warehouseman shall not thereafter be liable for failure to deliver the goods to the depositor, or owner of the goods, or to a holder of the receipt given for the goods when they were deposited, even if such receipt be negotiable.

History: En. Sec. 36, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4114, R. C. M. 1921.

4115. Negotiation of receipts—by delivery—when receipt is indorsed. A negotiable receipt may be negotiated by delivery—

(a) Where, by the terms of the receipt, the warehouseman undertakes to deliver the goods to the bearer, or

(b) Where, by the terms of the receipt, the warehouseman undertakes to deliver the goods to the order of a specified person, and such person or a subsequent indorsee of the receipt has indorsed it in blank or to bearer.

Where, by the terms of a negotiable receipt, the goods are deliverable to bearer, or where a negotiable receipt has been indorsed in blank or to bearer, any holder may indorse the same to himself or to any other specified person, and in such case the receipt shall thereafter be negotiated only by the indorsement of such indorsee.

History: En. Sec. 37, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4115, R. C. M. 1921.

4116. Negotiation by indorsement. A negotiable receipt may be negotiated by the indorsement of the person to whose order the goods are, by the terms of the receipt deliverable. Such indorsement may be in blank, to bearer or to a specified person. If indorsed to a specified person, it may be again negotiated by the indorsement of such person in blank, to bearer or to another specified person. Subsequent negotiation may be made in like manner.

History: En. Sec. 38, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4116, R. C. M. 1921.

4117. Transfer of non-negotiable receipts. A receipt which is not in such form that it can be negotiated by delivery may be transferred by the holder by delivery to a purchaser or donee.

A non-negotiable receipt cannot be negotiated, and the indorsement of such receipt gives the transferee no additional right.

History: En. Sec. 39, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4117, R. C. M. 1921.

4118. Who may negotiate a receipt. A negotiable receipt may be negotiated—

(a) By the owner thereof, or

(b) By any person to whom the possession or custody of the receipt has been intrusted by the owner, if, by the terms of the receipt, the warehouseman undertakes to deliver the goods to the order of the person to whom the possession or custody of the receipt has been entrusted, or if at the time of such intrusting the receipt is in such form that it may be negotiated by delivery.

4119. Rights of transferee when receipt has been negotiated. A person to whom a negotiable receipt has been duly negotiated acquires thereby—

(a) Such title to the goods as the person negotiating the receipt to him had or had ability to convey to a purchaser in good faith for value, and also such title to the goods as the depositor or person to whose order the goods were to be delivered by the terms of the receipt had or had ability to convey to a purchaser in good faith for value, and

(b) The direct obligation of the warehouseman to hold possession of the goods for him according to the terms of the receipt as fully as if the warehouseman had contracted directly with him.

History: En. Sec. 41, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4119, R. C. M. 1921.

4120. Rights of transferee when receipt has not been negotiated—notice to warehouseman—when and how rights may be defeated. A person to whom a receipt has been transferred but not negotiated, acquires thereby, as against the transferor, the title of the goods, subject to the terms of any agreement with the transferor.

If the receipt is non-negotiable such person also acquires the right to notify the warehouseman of the transfer to him of such receipt, and thereby to acquire the direct obligation of the warehouseman to hold possession of the goods for him according to the terms of the receipt.

Prior to the notification of the warehouseman by the transferor or transferee of a non-negotiable receipt, the title of the transferee to the goods and the right to acquire the obligation of the warehouseman may be defeated by the levy of an attachment or execution upon the goods by a creditor of the transferor, or by a notification to the warehouseman by the transferor or by a subsequent purchaser from the transferor of a subsequent sale of the goods by the transferor.

4121. When transferee of negotiable receipt may enforce indorsement. Where a negotiable receipt is transferred for value by delivery, and the indorsement of the transferor is essential for negotiation, the transferee acquires a right against the transferor to compel him to indorse the receipt, unless a contrary intention appears. The negotiation shall take effect as of the time when the indorsement is actually made.

History: En. Sec. 43, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4121, R. C. M. 1921.

4122. Warranty in case of negotiation or transfer of receipt for value. A person who, for value, negotiates or transfers a receipt by indorsement or delivery, including one who assigns, for value, a claim secured by a receipt, unless a contrary intention appears, warrants—

(a) That the receipt is genuine;
(b) That he has a legal right to negotiate or transfer it;
(c) That he has a knowledge of no fact which would impair the validity or worth of the receipt, and

(d) That he has a right to transfer the title to the goods and that the goods are merchantable or fit for a particular purpose whenever such warranties would have been implied, if the contract of the parties had been to transfer without a receipt the goods represented thereby.

History: En. Sec. 44, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4122, R. C. M. 1921.

4123. Indorser of receipt not liable for what. The indorsement of a receipt shall not make the indorser liable for any failure on the part of the warehouseman or previous indorsers of the receipt to fulfill their respective obligations.

History: En. Sec. 45, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4123, R. C. M. 1921.

4124. Mortgagee or pledgee when debt is paid not deemed to warrant what. A mortgagee, pledgee, or holder for security of a receipt who in good faith demands or receives payment of the debt for which such receipt is security, whether from a party to a draft drawn for such debt or from any other person, shall not by so doing be deemed to represent or to warrant the genuineness of such receipt or the quantity or quality of the goods therein described.

History: En. Sec. 46, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4124, R. C. M. 1921.

4125. Non-impairment of the validity of negotiation of a receipt. The validity of the negotiation of a receipt is not impaired by the fact that such negotiation was a breach of duty on the part of the person making the negotiation, or by the fact that the owner of the receipt was induced by fraud, mistake, or duress to entrust the possession or custody of the receipt to such person, if the person to whom the receipt was negotiated, or a person to whom the receipt was subsequently negotiated, paid value therefor, without notice of the breach of duty, or fraud, mistake, or duress.

History: En. Sec. 47, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4125, R. C. M. 1921.

4126. Negotiations for value of a receipt not affected by what. Where a person having sold, mortgaged, or pledged goods which are in a warehouse and for which a negotiable receipt has been issued, or having sold, mortgaged, or pledged the negotiable receipt representing such goods, continues in possession of the negotiable receipt, the subsequent negotiation thereof by that person under any sale, or other disposition thereof to any person receiving the same in good faith, for value and without notice of the previous sale, mortgage or pledge, shall have the same effect as if the first purchaser of the goods or receipt had expressly authorized a subsequent negotiation.

History: En. Sec. 48, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4126, R. C. M. 1921.

4127. Rights of purchaser for value of a receipt not defeated by seller's lien or stoppage in transit—unpaid seller to surrender receipt to warehouseman. Where a negotiable receipt has been issued for goods, no seller's liens or right of stoppage in transit shall defeat the rights of any purchaser for value in good faith to whom such receipt has been negotiated, whether such negotiation be prior or subsequent to the notification to the warehouseman who issued such receipt of the seller's claim to a lien or right of stoppage in transit. Nor shall the warehouseman be obliged to deliver or justified in delivering the goods to an unpaid seller unless the receipt is first surrendered for cancellation.

History: En. Sec. 49, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4127, R. C. M. 1921.

4128. Penalty for warehouseman to issue receipt when goods have not been delivered. A warehouseman or any officer, agent, or servant of a warehouseman who issues or aids in issuing a receipt knowing that the goods for which such receipt is issued have not been actually received by such warehouseman, or are not under his actual control at the time of issuing such receipt, shall be guilty of a crime and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding five years, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars or by both.

History: En. Sec. 50, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4128, R. C. M. 1921.

4129. Penalty for warehouseman to fraudulently issue receipt. A warehouseman, or any officer, agent, or servant of a warehouseman, who fraudulently issues or aids in fraudulently issuing a receipt for goods knowing that it contains any false statement, shall be guilty of a crime and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by both.

History: En. Sec. 51, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4129, R. C. M. 1921.

4130. Penalty for warehouseman to issue duplicate negotiable receipt when original is outstanding without marking the same "duplicate." A warehouseman, or any officer, agent, or servant of a warehouseman, who issues or aids in issuing a duplicate or additional negotiable receipt for goods knowing that a former negotiable receipt for the same goods or any part of them is outstanding and uncanceled, without plainly placing upon the face thereof the word "duplicate," except in the case of a lost or destroyed receipt after proceedings as provided for in section 4092 of this code, shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding five years, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars or by both.

History: En. Sec. 52, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4130, R. C. M. 1921.

4131. Penalty for issuing negotiable receipt for goods of which warehouseman is owner. Where there are deposited with or held by a warehouseman goods of which he is owner, either solely or jointly or in common with others, such warehouseman, or any of his officers, agents or servants who knowing this ownership, issues or aids in issuing a negotiable receipt for such goods which does not state such ownership shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by both.

4132. Penalty for delivering goods against which negotiable receipt is outstanding without obtaining possession of same. A warehouseman, or any officer, agent, or servant of a warehouseman who delivers goods out of the possession of such warehouseman, knowing that a negotiable receipt, the negotiation of which would transfer the right to the possession of such goods if outstanding and uncanceled, without obtaining the possession of such receipt at or before the time of such delivery, shall, except in the cases provided for in sections 4092 and 4114 of this code, be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by both.

History: En. Sec. 54, Ch. 154, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4132, R. C. M. 1921.

4133. Penalty for negotiating receipt for deposited goods with defective title. Any person who deposits goods to which he has not title, or upon which there is a lien or mortgage, and who takes for such goods a negotiable receipt which he afterwards negotiates for value with intent to deceive and without disclosing his want of title or the existence of the lien or mortgage shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction, shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by both.

“Abstract of Title”—Definition

An “abstract of title” is an epitome of the conveyances, transfers and other facts relied upon as evidence of title, together with all such facts appearing of record as may impair the title. State v. Abstracters Board of Examiners, 99 M 564, 577, 45 P 2d 668.

Constitutionality

This section held constitutional in State v. Abstracters Board of Examiners, 99 M 564, 45 P 2d 668.

Operation and Effect

In a proceeding in mandamus to compel the abstracters board of examiners to issue to plaintiff a certificate under the provision of this chapter, requiring an applicant for a certificate permitting him to do business as an abstractor to have for use a set of "abstract books or other systems of indices or records showing in a sufficiently comprehensive form all instruments affecting title to real property in a county," held that a showing that the applicant had access to the records of the county was insufficient to meet the requirements of the act. State v. Abstracters Board of Examiners, 99 M 564, 45 P 2d 668.

Id. Held, on application for writ of mandate to compel the abstracters board of examiners to grant a certificate to relater, an abstractor of many years' experience and well qualified to conduct such business, that the board in denying the request because he did not own or control the requisite plant and tract indices prescribed by this chapter, did not abuse its discretion, and that the district court in declaring otherwise committed error.

4139.2. Abstracters board of examiners. There is hereby created a board to be known as the abstracters board of examiners, to carry out the purposes and enforce the provisions of this article; said board shall consist of three members to be appointed by the governor of the state of Montana, and who shall at all times be registered abstracters as provided in this act, and no two members of said board shall be appointed from the same county. Each member of said board shall serve thereon for a term of three years and until his successor is appointed and qualified, excepting that the first members of said board shall be appointed from abstracters who have been actively engaged in the preparation of abstracts of title to real estate in the state of Montana for at least five years immediately preceding the first day of March, 1931, and who can qualify under section 4139.9, and shall be appointed, one for one year, one for two years, and the other for three years; the term of office to commence on the date this law goes into effect. Each member of said board shall qualify by taking the oath provided by law for public officers; vacancies on said board caused by death, resignation or otherwise shall be filled by appointment by the governor, as above provided.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 105, L. 1931.

4139.3. Organization of board. Said board shall organize by the election of a chairman and a secretary. The secretary may or may not be a member of said board, but shall be a registered abstractor as hereinafter defined and shall be engaged in that business. The board shall have a seal and shall have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses, and the chairman and secretary shall have power to administer oaths. Said board may adopt such rules and regulations as it shall deem necessary for the proper administration of its powers and duties and the carrying out of the purposes of this act.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 105, L. 1931.

4139.4. Compensation of members of board—disposition of funds. Each member of the board shall receive a compensation of five dollars per day for actual services while attending meetings or otherwise engaged upon business connected with the board, and shall receive ten cents per mile for each mile actually traveled, and the further sum of five dollars per day for expenses while absent from home upon business connected with the board, which amount shall be paid upon verified vouchers after allowance by said board out of any funds in the hands of the state treasurer in the abstracters board fund.

And there is hereby established a fund to be known as the abstracters board fund. All fees and moneys received under the provisions of this act shall be deposited with the state treasurer to the credit of the abstracters board fund, to meet the expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of this act; provided, the expenses of said board shall not exceed the fees collected.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 105, L. 1931.

4139.7. Registered abstracters defined. Before a certificate of authority shall be issued, the applicant shall file with the board a bond or bonds, to be approved by it, running to the state of Montana, in the penal sum of five thousand dollars, for the use of any owner, mortgagee or other person having an actual interest in the real estate covered by an abstract of title, or any title insurance company licensed and authorized to do business in this state, who may be aggrieved; such bond or undertaking shall be conditioned for the payment by such abstracter of any and all damages that may be sustained by or may accrue to any such person or company by reason of or on account of any error, deficiency or mistake in any ab-abstract or certificate of title, or any continuation thereof, made or issued by such abstracter; said bond shall be written by some surety or other company issuing such bonds and licensed and authorized to do business in this state, and no personal bonds are to be accepted under this provision. The bond or undertaking herein provided for shall be in full force and effect for a period of one year, and may be renewed annually by a continuation certificate; such continuation certificate, however, shall not increase the amount of liability under the original bond. The board shall also have and it is hereby given the power to cancel and revoke any certificate of authority issued to any person, firm or corporation under the provisions of this act for failure to furnish the bond or bonds, or other securities, required by section 4139.13, or such new or additional bonds as the board deems necessary, or for failure to maintain such indices and abstract records, or for failure to have in charge of such business a registered abstracter as herein provided, or shall otherwise violate any of the provisions of this act. The board shall cause a transcript of any testimony taken, to be made by a stenographer. Either the abstractor or the complainant may appeal from the decision of the board to the district court of the county in which the abstractor has his or its place of business. Such appeal shall be taken within thirty days after the decision of the board, by causing a written notice of appeal to be served on the secretary of the board and executing a bond to the state of Montana, with surety to be approved by the secretary of the board, conditioned to prosecute such appeal to effect and to pay all costs that may be adjudged against the appellant. The secretary of the board, upon an appeal being taken, must immediately make out a return of the proceedings in the matter before the board, with its decision thereon, and file the same, together with the bond and all the papers therein in his possession, including a certified record of the testimony taken at the hearing, with the clerk of the district court to which said appeal is taken. The district court shall hear the appeal in a summary manner on such record, and the cost of such appeal including the furnishing of the testimony shall be taxed against either the abstractor or the complainant, whichever is defeated on such appeal. History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 105, L. 1931.

4139.18. To whom provisions of this act shall not apply. Nothing in this act shall be construed as prohibiting any person, firm or corporation holding a valid and subsisting certificate of authority as herein provided, from employing such additional clerical and stenographic assistants as may be necessary; provided, however, that such assistants are at all times under the supervision of a registered abstractor, and provided further, that the provisions of this act shall not apply to county clerks and recorders or persons employed by counties in the preparation of abstracts of title.

4213. Unit of extension. The standard yard is the unit or standard measure of length and surface from which all other measures of extension, whether lineal, superficial, or solid, are derived and ascertained.

History: En. Sec. 3121, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2010, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4213, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3210.

4214. Division of the yard. The yard is divided into three equal parts, called feet, and each foot into twelve equal parts, called inches; for measures of cloths and other commodities commonly sold by the yard it may be divided into halves, quarters, eighths, and sixteenths.

History: En. Sec. 3122, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2011, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4214, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3211.

The avoirdupois pound, which bears to the troy pound the ratio of seven thousand to five thousand seven hundred and sixty, is divided into sixteen equal parts, called ounces; the hundred-weight consists of one hundred avoirdupois pounds and twenty hundred-weight constitute a ton. The troy ounce is equal to the twelfth part of the troy pound.

The selling and delivery of any commodity or article of merchandise shall be prima facie evidence of the representation on the part of the vendor that the quantity sold and delivered was the quantity bought by the vendee. There shall be taken into consideration the usual and ordinary leakage, evaporation, or waste that there may be from the time a package or container is filled by a vendor until he sells the same. A slight variation from the stated weight, measure, or quantity for individual packages not to exceed three per cent. is permissible; provided, that the variation is as often above as below the weight, measure, or quantity stated.

CHAPTER 336

DEFINITIONS, COURSES, AND SURVEYS

- Section 4293. County defined.
 4294. Courses deemed true.
 4295. Directions deemed due.

 4297. Same.
 4298. Surveys to definitely establish unsettled boundaries.

 4304. Collection of old taxes when county is divided or boundary altered.

4293. County defined. A county is the largest political division of the state having corporate power.

Limit of Powers

Prerogative or its synonym sovereignty means the inherent power of the people; it must involve the general interest of the state at large, and though the prerogative of the state may be invoked for the protection of the rights of a county, its agent or creature, the county, in the absence of express authority granting it, does not itself possess the power of the sovereign. Bignell et al. v. Cummins, 69 M 294, 298, 222 P 797.

Counties and school districts are subdivisions of the state government with fixed powers and duties, and any act taken by the commissioners of the former or the trustees of the latter must be justified by the provisions of the statutes defining and limiting their powers. State v. McGraw, 74 M 152, 155, 240 P 812.

Counties are subdivisions of the state of purely statutory creation and when they assume to exercise a power, authority therefor must be found in the statute conferring it upon them or necessarily implied from the power expressly conferred; and wherever a power is conferred upon the board of county commissioners, but the mode in which the authority is to be exercised is not indicated, it may in its discretion select any appropriate mode or course of procedure. State ex rel. Blair v. Kuhr, 86 M 377, 283 P 758.

4294. Courses deemed true. In describing courses the words “north,” “south,” “east,” and “west” mean true courses, and refer to the true meridian unless otherwise declared.

History: En. Sec. 4103, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2784, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4294, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3903.

4295. Directions deemed due. The words “northerly,” “southerly,” “easterly” and “westerly” mean due north, due south, due east, and due west, unless controlled by other words, or by lines, monuments, or natural objects.

History: En. Sec. 4104, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2785, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4295, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3904.

4296. Meaning of terms. The words “to,” “on,” “along,” “with,” or “by” a mountain or ridge, mean summit-point, or summit-line, unless otherwise expressed.

History: En. Sec. 4105, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2786, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4296, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3905.

4297. Same. The words “to,” “by,” “along,” “with,” “in,” “up,” or “down” a creek, river, slough, strait, or bay mean the middle of the main channel thereof, unless otherwise expressed.

4298. Surveys to definitely establish unsettled boundaries. All common boundaries and common corners of counties not adequately marked by natural objects or lines, or by surveys lawfully made, must be definitely established by surveys jointly made by the county surveyors of all the counties affected thereby, and approved by the boards of county commissioners of such counties.

History: En. Sec. 4150, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2844, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4298, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3969.

4299. Reports to governor on disagreement of commissioners. If the boards of county commissioners do not agree upon and finally approve the survey, each county surveyor must make a report to the governor, with surveys, maps, notes, and explanations touching disputed points.

4300. Governor to determine boundary thereupon or to order new surveys. Upon such reports the governor must finally determine and establish the common boundaries and corners, if he can collate a satisfactory description therefrom. If the reports are insufficient for such purpose, he must cause surveys to be made, and when approved by him the surveys so made establish such common boundaries and corners.

History: En. Sec. 4152, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2846, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4300, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3971.

4301. Approved surveys to be conclusive. All surveys finally approved under the provisions of this chapter are conclusive ascertainment of lines and corners included therein.

History: En. Sec. 4153, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2847, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4301, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3972.

4302. Previous surveys validated—their force as evidence. All surveys and maps of boundary lines heretofore legally made and approved are declared valid and are prima facie evidence of the establishment of such lines, except so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of this code.

4303. Apportionment of cost of survey—provision for payment thereof. The cost of making such surveys must be apportioned equally among the counties interested, and the board of county commissioners must audit the same, and the amounts must be paid out of the general county fund.

4304. Collection of old taxes when county is divided or boundary altered. When a county is divided or a boundary is altered, all taxes levied before the division was made or boundary changed must be collected by the officers of and belong to the county in which the territory was situated before the division or change.

History: En. Sec. 4156, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2850, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4304, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 3976.

Operation and Effect

Delinquent taxes paid on property incorporated in a new county, in the interim between the passing of the resolution by the board of commissioners of the parent county and the expiration of the ninety-day period after its filing with the secretary of state, belong to the parent and not to the new county. County of Hill v. County of Liberty, 62 M 15, 20, 203 P 500.

Id. Under section 4398, providing for the apportionment of property and debts between a new and the old county or counties out of which it is created, taxes upon property situated in that portion of the parent county or counties incorporated in the new county which are delinquent upon creation of the new one or were delinquent and remain unpaid for previous years, are collectible by and belong to the new county. (See Opinion on Motion for Rehearing.)

REMOVAL OF COUNTY SEAT

- Section 4369. Removal of county seat—petition.
 4370. Submission to electors—who are taxpayers.
 4371. Election, notice of, how held and conducted.
 4372. Voter to vote for place he prefers.
 4373. Publication of result.
 4374. Place chosen to be county seat.
 4375. Statement of result and notice transmitted.
 4376. No second election to be held within four years.
 4377. County seat may be removed from time to time.

4369. Removal of county seat—petition. Whenever the inhabitants of any county of this state desire to remove the county seat of a county from the place where it is fixed by law, or otherwise, to another place, they may present a petition to the board of county commissioners of their county praying such removal, such place to be named in the petition, and that an election be held to determine whether or not such removal must be made. The petition to remove the county seat of the county from the place where it is fixed by law to another place must be presented to the board of county commissioners at least sixty days prior to any action thereon being taken by the board of county commissioners, and action on said petition by the board of county commissioners must be had at a regular meeting of said board of county commissioners. Such petition must be filed with the county clerk, and the county clerk, immediately upon the filing of said petition, must cause to be printed in every newspaper published within said county a notice to the effect that a petition praying for the removal of said county seat has been filed with the county clerk, and that said petition is open to the inspection of any and all persons interested therein, and that said petition will be presented to the board of county commissioners at its next regular session for action thereon. No other or additional petition than the one originally filed shall be considered by the board of county commissioners, except that at any time on or before the date fixed for the hearing, any person having signed the original petition for the removal of the county seat may file a statement in writing with the county clerk that he desires to have his name withdrawn from such petition; provided, that not more than one withdrawal shall be permitted by the same person.

Operation and Effect

A board of county commissioners exercises judicial functions when it decides whether a petition for the submission of the removal of the county seat to the electors of the county is signed by sufficient number to require such submission. State ex rel. Buck v. Board of Commrs., 21 M 469, 474, 54 P 939.

The words "changing" and "removing" found in the constitution and the statute laws refer to the act of changing or removing a county seat that has been definitely located, and have no reference to a so-called temporary or provisional county seat. State ex rel. Geiger v. Long, 43 M 401, 412, 117 P 104.

Conceding that the selection or removal of a county seat is a purely political function, that function has not been confided to judges of election or to the canvassers of the returns, but to a certain proportion of the qualified electors of the county affected; it rests with the courts to ascertain and decide whether the choice actually made by the requisite proportion of the qualified electors has been duly declared; and, if not, to declare it and make it effective. Poe v. Sheridan County, 52 M 279, 288, 157 P 185.

4370. Submission to electors—who are taxpayers. If the petition is signed by sixty-five per cent. of the taxpayers of such county, the board of county commissioners must at the next general election submit the question of removal to the electors of the county; provided, that the term "taxpayers" used in this section shall be deemed to mean "ad valorem taxpayers," and that for the purpose of testing the sufficiency of any petition which may be presented to the county commissioners as provided in this section, the county commissioners shall compare such petition with the poll-books in the county clerk's office constituting the returns of the last general election held in their county, for the purpose of ascertaining whether such petition bears the names of sixty-five per cent. of the tax-paying voters listed therein; and they shall make a similar comparison of the names signed to the petition with those appearing upon the listed assessment-roll of the county for the purpose of ascertaining whether the petition bears the names of sixty-five per cent. of the ad valorem taxpayers as listed in said assessment-roll; and if such petition then shows that it has not been signed by sixty-five per cent. of the voters of the county who are ad valorem taxpayers thereof, after deducting from the said original petition the names of all persons who may have signed such original petition, and who may have filed, or caused to be filed, with the county clerk of said county or the board of county commissioners, on or before the date fixed for the hearing, their statement in writing of the withdrawal of their names from the original petition, it shall be deemed insufficient, and the question of the removal of the county seat shall not be submitted.

Official Duty Presumed Performed.

The official duty devolving upon the commissioners is presumed to have been regularly performed; it is presumed that the board compared the names signed to the petition with the poll-books of the "last election." State ex rel. Stringfellow v. Board of Commrs., 42 M 62, 77, 111 P 144.

Sufficiency of Petition

A petition for the removal of a county seat is sufficient if it is signed by the required number of ad valorem taxpayers of the county, provided all the persons necessary to make up such number are qualified voters. State ex rel. Stringfellow v. Board of Commrs., 42 M 62, 78, 111 P 144.

Under this section the board of county commissioners is limited in its investigation of the sufficiency of a petition for the removal of the county seat to a comparison of the names appearing thereon with the poll-books to ascertain whether the signers are voters, and with the assessment-roll, whether they are taxpayers, and may not, therefore, eliminate from the petition names of persons who have ceased to be legal voters or taxpayers. Ainsworth v. McKay, 55 M 270, 175 P 887.

Where a petition signed by the requisite number of ad valorem taxpayers of a county, who were qualified voters, for the change of a county seat, was submitted to the county commissioners, and was denied because it did not contain the number of taxpayers of the county required by the statute, it must be presumed that the petition was found sufficient, except for the fact that the board claimed that it should contain such number of taxpayers, which was determined to the contrary, in which case there was no discretion for the board to exercise, and mandamus was available to compel them to give legal effect to the petition. State ex rel. Stringfellow v. Board of Commrs., 42 M 62, 78, 111 P 144.

4371. Election, notice of, how held and conducted. Notice of such election, clearly stating the object, must be given, and the election must be held and conducted, and the returns made, in all respects in the manner prescribed by law in regard to the submitting of questions to the electors of a locality under the general election law.

4373. Publication of result. When the returns have been received and compared, and the results ascertained by the board, if a majority of the qualified electors of the county have voted in favor of any particular place, the board must give notice of the results by posting notices thereof in all the election precincts of the county, and by publishing a like notice in a newspaper printed in the county at least once a week for four weeks.

In the notice provided for in the next preceding section, the place selected to be the county seat of the county must be so declared from a day specified in the notice not more than ninety days after the election. After the day named in the notice, the place chosen is the county seat of the county.

4375. Statement of result and notice transmitted. Whenever any election has been held, as provided for in the preceding sections of this chapter, the statement made by the board of county commissioners, showing the result thereof, must be deposited in the office of the county clerk, and whenever the board gives the notice prescribed by section 4374 of this code, they must transmit a certified copy thereof to the secretary of state.

4376. No second election to be held within four years. When an election has been held and a majority of the votes are not cast for some other place than that fixed by law as the former county seat, no second election for the removal thereof must be held within four years thereafter.

4380. Proceedings after petition for county seat election.
4381. Division of county into registration and polling precincts.
4382. Registration of voters.
4383. Judges of election—ballots, books, and records.
4384. Applicability of general election laws.

4389. Submission of question of locating permanent county seat to voters—elections.

4378. Meeting and organization of board of commissioners on creation of new county—county clerk. Whenever a county is created hereafter in this state by legislative enactment, it shall be the duty of the persons appointed to the office of county commissioners of such county by the act creating it, to meet at some place in the county, to be agreed upon by a majority of said county commissioners, within fifteen days after the passage of the act creating the county, and then and there organize as a board of county commissioners by electing one of their number chairman.

The person appointed to the office of county clerk in the bill creating the county shall be notified in writing by the county commissioners, or some one of them, of the time and place of said meeting, and he must attend the meeting and act as the clerk thereof and keep a record of the proceedings. If no person is appointed to the office of county clerk by the act creating the county, the commissioners shall at such meeting select some person qualified to hold office of county clerk to act as clerk of such meeting.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 135, L. 1911; re-en. Sec. 4378, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

Prior to the passage of this measure, there was no general law by which a so-called temporary county seat could be located, changed, or removed, so that a temporary county seat, once designated, became in fact, permanent. State ex rel. Geiger v. Long, 43 M 401, 412, 117 P 104.

In this act there is no evidence of intention to require incorporation as a qualification for county seat in the use of the term "city or town." State ex rel. Powers v. Dale, 47 M 227, 231, 131 P 670.

References

Cited or applied as chapter 135, laws of 1911, in Poe v. Sheridan County, 52 M 279, 283, 157 P 185.

4379. Designation of temporary county seat—special election. Immediately after the organization of the board of county commissioners, as provided in the preceding section, said board shall, by a resolution spread upon the minutes of its proceedings, designate some place within said county as and to be the temporary county seat until the permanent county seat shall be located as hereinafter in this act provided. The place so designated shall be the temporary county seat of said county until the permanent county seat is located by the electors of said county at the general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November of the next even-numbered year after the creation of the county, or at a special election as hereinafter provided.

In the event of a majority of the county commissioners failing to agree upon the location of the temporary county seat, then each county commissioner shall write the name of the place he favors as the temporary county seat on a slip of paper and said slips be inclosed in envelopes of the same size, color, and texture, and shall be deposited in a box or other suitable receptacle, and the county clerk, in the presence of said commissioners, shall draw out one of the said slips. Thereupon the county commissioners shall, by resolution spread upon the minutes, declare the place named on the slip so drawn by the county clerk to be the temporary county seat of said county.

At said first general election after the creation of the county, it shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners and county clerk to have separate official ballots printed and distributed for the use of the electors at said election; which ballots shall be in the form and contain the same matter as the ballots provided for in section 4385 of this code, and the provisions of section 4386 of this code shall apply to and govern the manner of voting and of canvassing said ballots, and the board of county commisisoners shall declare the result of such election and the location of the permanent county seat, and said county seat shall be located in the manner and according to the provisions of said section 4386.

Provided, however, that at any time within six months after the passage of an act creating a new county, a petition or petitions may be filed with the county clerk of the board of county commissioners of such county asking the board to submit the question of the location of the permanent county seat to the electors of the county at a special election to be called and held in the manner hereinafter in this act provided. Said petition or petitions must contain in the aggregate the names of at least one hundred taxpayers, whose names appear upon the assessment-books containing the last assessment of the property situated in such new county, and whose names also appear as registered electors in some registration district established and existing in the territory embraced in the new county at the last general election held therein.

The petition or petitions when filed with the board must also have certificates attached thereto from the county clerk of the county in which the person or persons signing the petition resided before the creation of the new county, certifying that the names of the person signing said petition or petitions appear in the last assessment-books of his county, and also in the registration-books of his county containing the names of the electors registered in the last general election in the districts now embraced in the new county.

4380. Proceedings after petition for county seat election. Upon filing said petition or petitions, duly certified to as provided in the preceding section, with the county clerk of the new county, he must immediately notify the chairman of the board of county commissioners who, upon receipt of such notice, must call a meeting of the board to be held within ten days after the filing of said petition, for the purpose of considering the same. If the board at such meeting finds that said petition conforms to the requirements of and is in accordance with the provisions of the preceding section, it shall at said meeting, by a resolution spread upon its minutes, call a special election of the qualified electors of said county for the purpose of voting upon the question of the location of the permanent county seat.

Said election shall be held on Tuesday and not less than forty nor more than sixty days after the date of calling the same. The board must issue an election proclamation containing a statement of the time of the election and the question to be submitted. A copy of this proclamation must be published in some newspaper printed in the county, if any, and posted at each place of election at least ten days before the election.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 135, L. 1911; re-en. Sec. 4380, R. C. M. 1921.

4381. Division of county into registration and polling precincts. At the meeting of the board at which the special election is called for the purpose of locating the permanent county seat, the board shall, by resolution spread upon its minutes, divide the county into registration districts and establish polling precincts in the manner provided by law. It must also, at such meeting, make an order designating the house or place within each precinct where the election shall be held. It must also at the same session of the board appoint registry agents for the several registration districts established by it, who must possess the qualifications required by law for registry agents. The county clerk must furnish the said registry agents with books, blanks, and other stationery required for the proper performance of their duties.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 135, L. 1911; re-en. Sec. 4381, R. C. M. 1921.

4382. Registration of voters. The period for the registration of electors shall be between the hours of nine a. m. and nine p. m. on all legal days from nine a. m. of the fourth Monday prior to the date of said election to nine p. m. of the second following Saturday. It shall be the duty of each registry agent to publish and post notices of the time and places of registration in the manner provided by law for the publication of notices of registration for general elections. No person shall be entitled to register and vote at such special election unless he is a qualified voter of the state of Montana of the age of twenty-one years, and will have been a resident of Montana one year and of the territory embraced within the boundaries of the new county for a period of one hundred and eighty days on the day next preceding the day of such election, and also takes and subscribes to the oath provided in section 479, Revised Codes of Montana.

The general election laws of this state governing the registration of electors and defining the duties of the registry agents shall apply to and govern the registration of electors in elections held under this act in so far as the same do not conflict herewith.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 135, L. 1911; re-en. Sec. 4382, R. C. M. 1921.

NOTE.—Section 479, above referred to, was repealed by chapter 113, laws of 1911.

4383. Judges of election—ballots, books, and records. At the same meeting of the board of county commissioners at which the special election for the location of the permanent county seat is called, the board shall appoint three judges of election for each precinct in the county who shall act as the judges at said election. It shall be the duty of the county clerk to have printed and distributed to the judges of election the necessary ballots, the form of which shall be as provided in sections 4379, 4385, and 4387 of this code, and also supply the judges with the necessary books, records, stationery and ballot-boxes required to hold such election in the manner provided by law.

4384. Applicability of general election laws. The judges appointed for said special election must qualify as required by the general election law, and the polls must be opened and closed, the voting done, the ballots counted, returns made to the board of county commissioners, and all other matters connected with said election carried on and conducted in accordance with and as provided by the general election laws of this state.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 135, L. 1911; re-en. Sec. 4384, R. C. M. 1921.

4385. Form of ballot. The form of the ballot used at such elections shall be as follows: There shall be a stub across the top of each ballot, and separated therefrom by a perforated line. The part above the perforated line, designated as the stub, shall extend the entire width of the ballot, and shall have a depth of not less than two inches. Upon the face of the stub there shall be printed in what is known as brier capitals the following instructions:

“To vote this ballot the elector will write in the blank space on the ballot the name of the town or place at which he desires the permanent county seat to be located.”

The ballot below the perforated line shall be in the following form:

“For the permanent county seat of.....county my choice is”; (here insert name of county)

Provided, that any person who, from any cause, is unable to write, may have one of the judges in the presence of another judge write his choice on the ballot.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 135, L. 1911; re-en. Sec. 4385, R. C. M. 1921.

4386. Canvass of returns—result of election. When the name of a town or place in a county shall be so inserted in the blank space on such ballot by an elector, and the ballot has been cast as provided by law, the same shall be deemed a vote for the designated town or place as the location of the permanent county seat of said county. The board of county commissioners of said county shall canvass the returns of said election in the manner provided by law for the canvassing of election returns, and upon such canvassing of returns the town or place found to have received a majority of all votes cast on such questions shall be declared by the board the permanent county seat of the county. The order declaring the result of such election shall be entered of record in the minutes of the proceedings of the board of county commissioners by the county clerk, and from the date of the declaration of the results of the election the town or place selected shall be and remain, until lawfully changed in the manner provided by law, the permanent county seat of such county. Within ten days after the declaration of the result of such election, all records and county offices of the county, if elsewhere located, must be moved to and remain at the place declared the permanent county seat.

4387. Re-election in case of failure to select county seat. If no town or place receives a majority of all votes cast on such question, then the town or place receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared by the board and immediately become the temporary county seat of the county, and at the next general election the two towns or places receiving the greatest number of votes at said first election shall be the candidates for the permanent county seat. At said next general election, the county clerk shall have separate ballots in the form provided for in section 4385 of this code printed and distributed as provided by law containing the names of said candidates for the permanent county seat. On the stub of such ballots shall be printed the following instructions:

“To vote this ballot the elector will place an X in the square before the name of the town he intends to vote for.”

The form of such ballots below the perforated line shall be as follows:

.....for the permanent county seat

Of said towns or places the one receiving a majority of all the votes cast on such question shall be declared the permanent county seat, and the board of county commissioners must canvass the returns and declare the result, and the county seat must be located in accordance with the provisions of this act.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 135, L. 1911; re-en. Sec. 4387, R. C. M. 1921.

4388. Applicability of general laws to new counties and officers. All laws of general nature applicable to the several counties of the state of Montana and to the officers thereof, and to their powers and duties, shall be applicable to a new county and the officers thereof from and after the creation of the county, except as otherwise provided in this act, or the act creating the county.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 135, L. 1911; re-en. Sec. 4388, R. C. M. 1921.

4389. Submission of question of locating permanent county seat to voters—elections. Any county heretofore created, in which the permanent county seat has not been located by valid election held for the purpose of locating the permanent county seat of said county, may have a special election, for the purpose of voting on such question, called and held under the provisions of this act, or if no special election is held for such purpose, then said question shall be submitted by the county commissioners at the next general election after the passage of this act and in the manner provided herein for the submission of such questions at general elections; provided, however, that no special election shall be called for the purpose of submitting such question unless a petition or petitions containing in the aggregate the names of one hundred taxpaying electors of such county, whose names appear upon the last assessment book, and also on the last registration-books of said county, are filed with the clerk of the board of county commissioners within six months after the passage and approval of this act.

Upon the filing of such petition or petitions within said time, containing the requisite number of taxpaying electors, which must be ascertained by the board from the records of said county, said board must immediately call such special election as herein provided.

If registration districts and polling precincts have already been established in said county, they shall remain the same for such special election, but a new registration shall be had and said special election conducted and the result determined as in this act provided.

The provisions of this section shall not apply in any case where there has been a permanent county seat located and maintained for a period of three years from the date immediately subsequent to the date of the approval of this act, whether the same was located by a legal election or otherwise.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 135, L. 1911; re-en. Sec. 4389, R. C. M. 1921.

New counties may from time to time be formed and created in this state from portions of one or more counties, which shall have been created and in existence for a period of more than two years, in the manner set forth and provided in this act; provided, however, that no new county shall be established which shall reduce any county to an assessed valuation of less than twelve million dollars ($12,000,000.00), inclusive of all assessed valuation as shown by the last preceding assessment; nor shall any new county be established which shall reduce the area of any existing county from which territory is taken to form such new county, to less than twelve hundred square miles of surveyed land, exclusive of all forest reserve and Indian reservations within old counties nor shall any new county be formed which contains an assessed valuation of property less than ten million dollars ($10,000,000.00), inclusive of all assessed valuation as shown by the last preceding assessment, of the county or counties from which such new county is to be established, nor shall any new county be formed which contains less than one thousand square miles of surveyed land exclusive of all forest reserve land or Indian reservations, not open for settlement, nor shall any line thereof pass within fifteen miles of the court house situate at the county seat of the county sought to be divided; provided, that such county line may be run within a distance of ten miles of a county seat in cases where the natural contour of the county, by reason of mountain ranges or other topographical conditions, is such as to make it difficult to reach the county seat, and in such cases a petition, signed by at least fifty-eight per centum (58%), of the voters in the proposed new county, shall be presented to the judge of the district court in which the county affected is located, asking for the appointment of a commission of five (5) disinterested persons, who shall determine if the topographical conditions are such as to warrant the fixing of the county division lines closer than at fifteen miles from the county seat, as such boundaries are legally fixed and determined at the date of the filing of the petition or petitions referred to in section 4393 of this code.

Every county which shall be enlarged or created from the territory taken from any other county or counties shall be liable for a prorata proportion of the existing debts and liabilities of the county or counties from which such territory shall be taken, and shall be entitled to a prorata proportion of the assets of the county or counties from which such territory is taken, to be determined as provided by sections 4391, 4392 and 4398 of this code.

History: The first new county act was Ch. 112, L. 1911. The first four sections of this act were amended and the rest re-enacted by Ch. 133, L. 1913; Sec. 7 of the act was also amended by Ch. 135, L. 1913. All these acts were repealed and a complete new county law enacted by Ch. 139, L. 1915, which was repealed by Ch. 226, L. 1919. This section en. Sec. 1, Ch. 226, L. 1919; re-en. Sec. 4390, R. C. Operation and Effect

Since the enactment of statutes providing for the creation of new counties, the involuntary character of counties in this state is somewhat modified, but the change does not affect their status as political subdivisions of the state for governmental purposes; only incorporated cities and towns are municipal corporations in this 4391. Basis of taxation upon creation of new county—terms used in law defined. For the purposes of this act the assessed valuation of all property, whether included within the boundaries of a proposed new county, or remaining within the boundaries of any existing county or counties from which territory is taken, shall be fixed and determined on the same basis as is used for the imposition of taxes in the state of Montana, to-wit: By taking that percentage of the true and full value of all taxable property in any county specified by section 2000 of this code.

Whenever in this act the term "assessed valuation" or "valuation based on the last assessment roll" is used, said terms shall be construed as meaning taxable valuation determined as herein provided, not the full and true valuation of property.

4392. Cities and towns eligible for county seat. No city, town, or village shall become the temporary or permanent county seat of any county organization under the provisions of sections 4390 to 4407 of this code, or created by an act of the legislative assembly, unless such city or town shall have been incorporated in the manner provided by law, or unless such village shall have been regularly platted and a plat thereof filed in the office of the county clerk and recorder, and there be fifty qualified electors residing within the boundaries of such platted village, and the temporary county seat selected upon the organization of such county shall remain as such county seat until the permanent county seat shall be established as provided by law.

4393. Petition for creation of new county—attached affidavits—notice and hearing. Whenever it is desired to divide any county or counties and form a new county out of a portion of the territory of such then existing county or counties, a petition shall be presented to the board of county commissioners of the county from which the new county is to be formed, in case said proposed new county is to be formed from but one county, or to the board of county commissioners of the county from which the largest area of territory is proposed to be taken for the formation of such new county, in case said new county is to be formed from portions of two or more existing counties; and such board of county commissioners shall be empowered and have jurisdiction to do and perform all acts provided for to be done or performed in this act, for each of the several counties from which any proposed territory is to be taken, and shall direct that a certified copy of all orders and proceedings had before such board of county commissioners shall be certified by the county clerk to the board of county commissioners of each of the several counties from which any territory is taken by the proposed new county; and all officers of any such county shall comply with the orders of the board of county commissioners, in the same manner as if said order had been duly made by the board of county commissioners of each respective county from which territory is proposed to be taken. Such petition shall be signed by at least fifty-eight per cent. of the qualified electors of the proposed new county, whose names appear on the official registration books and who are shown thereon to have voted at the last general election preceding the presentation of said petition to the board of county commissioners as herein provided; provided, that in cases where the proposed new county is to be formed from portions of two or more counties, separate petition shall be presented from the territory taken from each county; and each of said separate petitions shall be signed by at least fifty-eight per cent. of the qualified electors of each of said proposed portions. Such signatures need not all be appended to one paper, but may be signed to several petitions which must be similar in form, and when so signed the several petitions may be fastened together and shall be treated and presented as one petition.

Such petition or petitions shall contain:

1. A particular description of the boundaries of the proposed new county.
2. A statement that no line thereof passes within fifteen miles of the court house situated at the county seat of any county proposed to be divided, except as hereinafter in this act provided.
3. A statement of the assessed valuation of such proposed county as shown by the last preceding assessment, inclusive of all assessed valuation.
4. A statement of the surveyed area in square miles which will remain in the county or counties from which territory is taken to form such new county, after such county is formed, and a statement of the surveyed area in square miles which will be in the new county after formed.
5. The name of the proposed new county.
6. A prayer that such proposed new county be organized into a new county under the provisions of this act.

There shall be attached and filed with said petition or petitions an affidavit of five qualified electors and taxpayers residing within each county sought to be divided, to the effect that they have read said petition and examined the signatures affixed thereto, and they believe that the statements therein are true, and that it is signed by at least fifty-eight per cent. of the qualified electors as herein provided, of the proposed new county, or of the proposed portion thereof, taken from each existing county, where the proposed new county is to be formed from portions of two or more existing counties; that the signatures affixed thereto are genuine; and that each of such persons so signing was a qualified elector of such county therein sought to be divided, at the date of such signing. Such petition or petitions so verified, and the verification thereof, shall be accepted in all proceedings permitted or provided for in this act, as prima facie evidence of the truth of the matters and facts therein set forth. Upon the filing of such petition or petitions and affidavits with the clerk of the said board of county commissioners, said clerk shall forthwith fix a date to hear the proof of the said petitions and of any opponents thereto, which date must be not later than thirty days after the filing of such petition with the clerk of said board. The county clerk shall also, at the same time, designate a newspaper of general circulation published in the old counties, but not within the proposed new county, and also a newspaper of general circulation published within the boundaries of the proposed new county, if there be such, in which the said county clerk shall order and cause to be published, at least once a week for two weeks next preceding the date fixed for such hearing, a notice in substantially the following form:

Notice

Notice is hereby given that a petition has been presented to the board of county commissioners of county (naming the county represented by the board of county commissioners with which said petition was filed), praying for the formation of a new county out of portion of the said county and county (naming the county or counties of which it is proposed to form the new county), and that said petition will be heard by the said board of county commissioners at its place of meetings (designating the city or town and the day and hour of the meeting so to be held), and when and where all persons interested may appear and oppose the granting of said petition, and make any objections thereto.

....., County Clerk.

Said petitioners shall, on or before the date fixed for said hearing, file with the said board of county commissioners a bond to be approved by said board, in an amount of five thousand dollars, payable to the county in which said petition is filed, conditioned that the obligors named in said bond will pay to said county all expenses incurred in the election provided for in this act, not exceeding the amount specified in said bond, in the event that at the election herein provided for more than forty-two per cent. of the votes cast at said election are "for the new county of (naming the proposed new county)," "No."

At the time so fixed for said hearing, the board of county commissioners shall proceed to hear the petitioners and any opponents and protestants upon the petition or protests filed on or before the time fixed for the hearing. No petition or protest or petition for the exclusion of territory shall be considered unless the same is filed at least one day before the time fixed for the hearing, and such petition for the exclusion of territory shall contain the names of not less than fifty per cent. of the qualified electors who are resident property taxpayers of any territory to be excluded. All such territory being excluded must be in one block, and contain an area of not less than thirty-six square miles, and be totally within one county, and contiguous thereto, and the board of county commissioners may adjourn such hearing from time to time, but not for more than ten days after the time fixed for the hearing, and shall receive the proof to establish or controvert the facts set forth in said petition. No withdrawals of signatures to the original petition for the creation of a proposed county shall be filed or considered which have not been filed with the county clerk on or before the date fixed for the hearing. No withdrawals of any signature from the petition for the exclusion of territory shall be received or considered which is not filed within five days after the filing of the petition for such exclusion of territory.

The board of county commissioners, on the final hearing of such petition or petitions, shall, by a resolution entered on its minutes, determine:

1. The boundaries of the proposed new county, and the boundaries so determined by said board of county commissioners shall be the boundaries of such proposed new county, if it be created as herein provided.

2. Whether the said petition contains the genuine signatures of at least fifty-eight per cent. of the qualified electors of the proposed new county as herein required, or in cases where separate petitions are presented from portions of two or more existing counties as herein required, whether each petition is signed by at least fifty-eight per cent. of the qualified electors of that portion of each of such existing counties which it is proposed to take into the proposed new county.

3. Whether any line of the proposed new county passes within fifteen miles of the court-house situate at the county seat of any county proposed to be divided, except as hereinbefore provided.

4. Whether the proposed new county will contain property, according to the last preceding assessment, which will equal in amount at least four million dollars, inclusive of all assessed valuation.

5. Whether the area of any existing county from which territory is taken to form such new county will be reduced to less than twelve hundred square miles of surveyed land, by taking the territory proposed to be taken therefrom to form such new county.

6. Whether the area of the proposed new county will contain at least one thousand square miles of surveyed land to form such new county.

7. The class to which said proposed new county after its creation will belong, and the name of said proposed new county, as stated in such petition.

8. Whether the area embraced within the proposed new county will be reasonably compact.

On final hearing the board of commissioners, upon petition of not less than fifty per cent. of the qualified electors (as shown by the official registration books on the day of the filing of any such petition) of any territory lying within said proposed new county contiguous to the boundary line of the said proposed new county, and of the old county from which such territory is proposed to be taken, and lying entirely within a single old county and described in said petition, asking that said territory be not included within the proposed new county, must make such changes in the proposed boundaries as will exclude such territory from such new county, and shall establish and define such boundaries. On final hearing the board of commissioners, upon petition of not less than fifty per cent. of the qualified electors who are resident property taxpayers of any territory lying outside said proposed new county, and contiguous to the boundary line of said proposed new county, and of the old county or counties from which such territory is proposed to be included, asking that said territory be included within the proposed new county, must make such changes in the proposed boundaries as will include such territory in such new county, and shall establish and define such boundaries; provided, however, that the segregation of such territory from any old county or counties shall not leave such county or counties with less than twelve million dollars of assessed valuation, based upon the last assessment-roll; provided, that no change or changes so made shall result in reducing the valuation of the proposed new county to less than an assessed valuation of ten million dollars, inclusive of all assessed valuation; and provided, further, that no change shall be made which shall leave the territory so excluded separate and apart from and without the county of which it was formerly a part. Petitions for exclusion shall be disposed of in the order in point of time in which they are filed with the clerk of the board of county commissioners, and on final determination of boundaries no changes in the boundaries originally proposed shall be made except as prayed for in said petition or petitions, or to correct clerical errors or uncertainties.

Counter Petition for Exclusion

The board of county commissioners, which is intrusted with the duty of passing upon the sufficiency of the petition required to be filed to effect the elimination of certain territory from a proposed new county, must read it in connection with the original petition for the creation of such county; and if thus, by any fair intendment, a description of the territory sought to be eliminated may be arrived at, it is the duty of the board to give the intention of the petitioners full force and effect. State v. Board of Commrs., 44 M 51, 60, 61, 118 P 804.

Id. The fact that a board of county commissioners, in erroneously rejecting a petition seeking the elimination of certain territory from the area of a proposed new county as insufficient, acted in a quasi-judicial capacity is not any defense to the issuance of mandamus.

Id. A board of county commissioners, in passing upon the sufficiency of the petition, is presumed to understand the method pursued by the government in its surveys of public land, and is chargeable with knowledge of the territory included within its own county, as well as its boundaries.

Id. The petition for an elimination of certain territory from the area included within the boundaries of a proposed new county, must contain a description of the territory sought to be eliminated, and a prayer for the relief demanded. The other facts may be made to appear by evidence upon the hearing, without being specially alleged.

A valid petition describing the territory to be included within the proposed new county was the very foundation of the proceedings for the creation of a new county. While under certain circumstances the board of county commissioners was authorized to exclude territory, there was not any authority in the board to incorporate within the boundaries of a proposed new county territory which was not included in the petition praying for its creation, or to exclude territory unless a proper petition for withdrawal thereof was presented. State ex rel. Jacobson v. Board of County Commrs., 47 M 531, 537, 134 P 291.

In determining whether a petition for the exclusion of territory from a county proposed to be created was signed by 50 per cent. of the qualified electors therein, the board of county commissioners may resort to whatever competent evidence it has at hand, including the great register of voters. State ex rel. Lang v. Furnish, 48 M 28, 35, 134 P 297.

A recital in the affidavit verifying a petition for the elimination of certain territory from the area included within the boundaries of a proposed new county, that fifty per cent. of the qualified electors of the territory sought to be withdrawn had signed such petition, was sufficient prima facie showing of that fact. State v. Board of Commrs., 44 M 51, 68, 118 P 804. But this is not so where the petition is unaccompanied by such affidavit, in which case it may not be taken as prima facie evidence of such facts. State ex rel. Lang v. Furnish, 48 M 28, 38, 134 P 297.

The decision in this case is rigidly confined to counter-petitions for exclusion, and does not in terms or effect apply to original petitions for the creation of new counties. State ex rel. Wood v. Board of County Commrs., 49 M 165, 167, 140 P 728. See, also, State ex rel. Fadness v. Eie, 53 M 138, 145, 146, 162 P 164.

A counter-petition for the exclusion of territory from a proposed new county must contain the signatures of at least fifty per cent. of the qualified electors resident in the territory sought to be excluded, and the burden is on the counter-petitioners to show that fact on the hearing. State ex rel. Lang v. Furnish, 48 M 28, 37, 134 P 297; State ex rel. Wood v. Board of County Commrs., 49 M 165, 170, 140 P 728.

Since the statute does not require the verification of counter-petitions, and does not authorize the acceptance of it as probative, the counter-petitions, though verified, cannot be given any evidentiary value. State v. Board of County Commrs., 49 M 165, 171, 140 P 728; State ex rel. Arthurs v. Board of County Commrs., 44 M 51, 68, 118 P 804, explained by the above case.

A verification to a counter-petition asking for the exclusion of territory sought to be included in a proposed new county, which merely averred that each affiant believed that the counter-petition was signed by at least fifty per cent. of the qualified electors of the territory sought to be excluded, was of no probative value as to the facts alleged. State v. Board of County Commrs., 49 M 165, 170, 171, 140 P 728.

In enacting this statute, it was competent for the legislature to prescribe the order in which an exclusion petition and an inclusion petition should be considered by the board, but it failed to do so. It did, however, create the board a special tribunal, and clothed it with authority to hear the petitions and determine them, and in the absence of legislative restrictions, this necessarily involved the authority to determine which of the two should be considered first. Apparently the legislature referred this question to the sound discretion of the board, and in the absence of fraud its action thereon is not subject to judicial control by mandamus. State ex rel. Koefod v. Board of Commrs., 56 M 355, 360, 185 P 147.

Notice of Hearing

Held, on certiorari, that publication of notice of hearing on petitions for the creation of a new county required by this act, in certain newspapers for at least once a week for two weeks next preceding the date fixed for it, is jurisdictional, and that therefore failure of publication in one of the papers designated in the week immediately preceding the date of the hearing was fatal to jurisdiction and rendered all subsequent proceedings, including the election, invalid. State ex rel. Stevens v. McLeish, 59 M 527, 529, 198 P 357.

Id. Designation by the county clerk of a newspaper by the wrong name, in which to publish notice of the date of hearing of petitions for the creation of a new county, amounted to noncompliance with the statutory direction in that regard.

Id. The requirement of this act that notice of the hearing of new county petitions shall be published "at least once a week for two weeks next preceding the date fixed for such hearing" means two weeks immediately preceding the hearing.

The board of county commissioners is without jurisdiction to proceed with a hearing of a petition for the creation of a new county unless publication of the notice as required by this section has been made; if not so made and the board proceeds with the hearing, its action is void. Garry v. Martin, 70 M 587, 591, 227 P 573.

Id. Held, under the rule that where a notice is required to be published at least once a week for a period next preceding a certain date, the word "for" means "throughout" or "during the continuance of" the period prescribed, that the provision of this section, requiring publication of notice of hearing of a petition for the creation of a new county "at least once a week for two weeks next preceding the date fixed for such hearing" means that two full weeks' notice, fourteen days, shall be given, and that therefore publication made for a shorter period of time is insufficient.

One Block

The requirement that territory sought to be excluded from a proposed new county must be in one block—the word "block" implying solidity or compactness—was not met by a petition describing an irregularly shaped tract distributed over fourteen townships, the exterior boundaries of which ran back and forth, in all directions of the compass, alternately including and excluding small tracts, so threaded together as to preserve its continuity, and including those against the creation of the new county and excluding those favoring it. Woodward v. Moulton et al., 57 M 414, 189 P 59.

Id. The interest of the legislature in enacting the provision that territory sought to be excluded from a proposed new county must be in one block, held to have been that a block should be mapped out, irrespective of the personnel of those residing within it, the majority of the residents thereof to determine whether, as a whole and not as individuals, they go with the new or remain with the old county.

Qualified Electors

In computing the number of signatures the petition must bear, the board must take into consideration only those who are qualified electors at the time of the signing of the petition and the number of electors who are shown to have been disqualified must be deducted from the total number residing in the proposed county. State ex rel. Bogy v. Board of County Commrs., 43 M 533, 538, 117 P 1062; State ex rel. Fadness v. Eie, 53 M 138, 145, 162 P 164.

The expression "qualified electors," means persons who possess the necessary constitutional qualifications, and not electors whose names appear on the great register of voters. State ex rel. Lang v. Furnish, 48 M 28, 32, 134 P 297.

Id. The burden of establishing the number of qualified electors residing in territory sought to be excluded from a proposed new county is upon the petitioners seeking exclusion, and not upon the proponents of the new county.

Taxpayer

A "taxpayer" within the meaning of this section, which requires petitions for the creation of a new county to be verified by five resident taxpayers, is one who owns property within the county and who pays, and is subject to and liable for, a tax. State ex rel. Woodward v. Moulton et al., 57 M 414, 189 P 59.

Id. Where the owner of personalty listed it and paid taxes thereon, failure of the assessor to place his name on the tax-roll, or the fact that the property was mistakenly assessed in the name of a newspaper of which he was the owner, did not have the effect of disqualifying him as a "taxpayer" as above defined.

When Protests Must Be Filed

Under this section, petitions for the exclusion of territory and protests against the exclusion must, but protests against the creation of a new county need not, be filed at least one day before the date set for hearing to entitle them to consideration by the board of county commissioners, it being sufficient if such latter protests are filed on or before the time fixed for the hearing. State ex rel. Faragher v. Moulton et al., 68 M 219, 221, 224, 216 P 804.

Withdrawal From Petition

In the absence of legislative expression to the contrary, signers of a petition may withdraw their names at any time before final action thereon; and the board of county commissioners was in error in refusing to consider withdrawals from petitions theretofore filed asking the exclusion of certain territory from a proposed new county upon the ground that the withdrawals of signatures, though filed before final action, had not been presented until after the date fixed for the hearing. State ex rel. Lang v. Furnish, 48 M 28, 35, 36, 134 P 297.

Id. The matter of the creation of a new county must be determined on the case as made upon the date fixed for the hearing, save as it may be affected by subsequent withdrawals before final action taken; therefore, protests against its creation, or petitions for the exclusion of territory from within its proposed boundaries filed after the date fixed for the hearings, may not be entertained by the board of county commissioners.

Held, that the right of one who had signed a petition for the creation of a new county and then signed a withdrawal of his name therefrom, to thereafter and before the hearing withdraw from the withdrawal is not absolute, and therefore no clear legal duty being imposed upon the board of county commissioners to give effect to the withdrawal from the withdrawal, mandamus does not lie to compel it to do so. State ex rel. Faragher v. Moulton et al., 68 M 219, 221, 224, 216 P 804.

4394. Duty of commissioners when findings justify new county—division into township, road, and school districts—change of boundaries of election precincts—election—temporary county seat. If the said board of county commissioners determine that the formation of said proposed new county will not reduce any county from which any territory is taken to an assessed valuation of less than twelve million dollars, inclusive of the assessed valuation, nor the area thereof to less than twelve hundred square miles of surveyed land, and that the proposed new county contains property of an assessed valuation of at least ten million dollars, inclusive of all assessed valuation, and that the proposed new county has an area of at least one thousand square miles of land, and that no line of said proposed new county passes within fifteen miles of the court house situate at the county seat of any county proposed to be divided, except as hereinbefore provided, and that said petition contains the genuine signatures of at least fifty-eight per cent. of the qualified electors of the proposed new county, or in cases where separate petitions are presented from portions of two or more existing counties (as herein required), that each of said petitions contain the genuine signatures of at least fifty-eight per cent. of the qualified electors of that portion of the proposed new county from which it is taken, then the said board of county commissioners shall divide the proposed new county into a convenient number of township, road, and school districts, and define their boundaries and designate the names of such districts. Said board of county commissioners shall also, if necessary for the purpose of the election hereinafter provided for, change the boundaries of the election precincts in said old county or counties to make the same conform to the boundaries of the proposed new county; provided, that the boundary lines of no such precinct shall extend beyond the boundary lines of the then existing county in which it is located, and from which the territory is proposed to be taken; and said board shall appoint election officers to act at said election and to be paid by said board. Within two weeks after its determination of the truth of the allegations of said petition as aforesaid, the said board of county commissioners shall order and give proclamation and notice of an election to be held on a specified day in the territory which is proposed to be taken for the new county, not less than ninety days nor more than one hundred and twenty days thereafter, for the purpose of determining whether such territory shall be established and organized into a new county; and for the election of officers and location of a county seat therefor, in case the vote at such election shall be in favor of the establishment and organization of such new county. All qualified electors residing within the proposed new county who are qualified electors of the county or counties from which territory is taken to form such proposed new county, and who have resided within the limits of the proposed county for a period of more than six months next preceding the day of election, and who are registered under the provisions of the registration laws of the state, shall be entitled to vote at said election. Registration and transfers of registration shall be made and shall close in the manner and at a time provided by law for registration and transfers of registration for a general election in the state of Montana. Such proclamation and notice of election shall be published at least once a week for three weeks before the holding of such election, in some newspaper of general circulation published in the territory which is proposed to be taken for the new county, and a copy thereof shall be mailed immediately by the county clerk of the county in which the petition is filed to the county clerk of each county from which territory is taken for the proposed new county. Such proclamation and notice shall require the voters to cast ballots which shall contain the words, "For the new county of (giving the name of the proposed new county)" "Yes," and "For the new county of (giving the name of the proposed new county)," "No," and each voter desiring to vote for the establishment and organization of said new county shall mark a cross (X) opposite the words, "For the new county of,," "Yes," in the manner now required by law in other elections, and each voter desiring to vote against the establishment and organization of said new county shall mark a cross (X) opposite the words, "For the new county of,," "No," in the manner now required by law in other elections; and shall also contain the names of persons to be voted for to fill the various elective offices designated in said proclamation for counties of the class to which said proposed county will belong, as determined by the board of county commissioners as herein otherwise provided. There shall also be printed upon said ballot the words, "For the county seat," and the names of all cities or towns which may have filed with the county clerk a petition signed by at least twenty-five qualified electors, nominating any city or town within the proposed new county for the county seat, and the voter shall designate his choice for county seat by marking a cross (X) opposite the name of the city or town for which he desires to cast his ballot. At the special election to be held, as provided in this act, the question of the election of the county seat is hereby provided to be submitted to the qualified electors of the proposed new county, and the majority of all the votes cast therefor shall determine the election thereon. In case any city or town fails to receive a majority of all the votes cast, then the city or town receiving the highest number of all votes cast shall be designated as the temporary county seat, and in case any city or town is not the choice of the election for the county seat by a majority of all the votes cast, the question of choice between the two cities or towns for which the highest number of votes shall have been cast shall be submitted in like manner to the qualified electors at the next general election thereafter. When the county seat shall have been selected as herein provided, it shall not thereafter be changed except in the manner provided by law.

The proclamation calling the election and the notice thereof provided for in this act shall be made and given exclusively by the board of county commissioners with which is filed the said petition for the formation and establishment of such new county, and such board shall cause the clerk of said county to furnish to the officers of each precinct in such proposed new county all ballots, poll list, tally lists, registers for voters' signatures, ballot-boxes, and other election supplies and equipment necessary to conduct such election, and which are not hereinafter specifically directed to be furnished by the clerk of another county or counties. Such election shall be governed and controlled by the general election laws of the state, so far as the same shall be applicable, except as herein otherwise provided. The returns of all elections for the creation of the county, and for officers and for location of the county seat as provided for in this act, shall be made to and canvassed by the board of county commissioners of the county from which the largest area is taken by the proposed county.

The county clerk of each county from which territory is taken for the proposed new county shall, not less than five days before the date of such election, furnish to each board of election within said proposed new county, a copy of the official register for the precincts of such proposed new county as are within their respective counties, and the copies of indexes thereof required by law containing the names of all persons who were qualified electors at the last general election before the date of such election.

All returns of election herein provided for shall be made to the board of county commissioners calling such election.

All nominations of candidates for the office required to be filled at said election shall be made in the manner provided by law for the nomination of candidates by petition.

The provisions of the election laws relating to preparation, printing, and distribution of sample ballots, except the provisions of said laws relating to primary elections in this state, shall have application to any election provided for in this act.

NOTE.—Wording of this section changed to conform to sections 4390.

Operation and Effect

After an order calling an election to determine whether a new county should be created had been made and the board of county commissioners clothed with jurisdiction had adjourned sine die, it was without power to grant a rehearing. State v. Board of County Commrs., 49 M 165, 172, 140 P 728.

The matter of dividing a new county into school districts being lodged in the discretion of the commissioners of the old county out of which the new one is created, a court cannot, upon finding that the discretion had been erroneously exercised, substitute its discretion and establish the boundaries so as to exclude territory which should not have been included, or hold the order valid as to the portion properly included and invalid as to the other. State ex rel. School Dist. No. 28 v. Urton, 76 M 458, 459, 248 P 369.

Id. Held, on mandamus, that where upon the creation of a new county the territory embraced within a school district for many years existent in one of the two old counties out of which the new one was created, was cut in two, causing it to lie partly in the new county and partly in the old, and the county commissioners charged with the duty of dividing the new county into school districts did not properly perform it but left the boundaries of the district in question as they were before the creation of the new county, the district ipso facto became a joint one, and therefore refusal of the county treasurer of the old county in which a portion of the district lay to transmit to the treasurer of the new county the funds collected by him as taxes upon the property within that portion for school purposes, was wrongful.

4395. Measures to be taken after election—officers—effect of adverse vote. If, upon the canvass of the votes cast at such election, it appears that fifty-eight per cent. of the votes cast are "For the new county of.....," "Yes," the board of county commissioners shall, by a resolution entered upon its minutes, declare such territory duly formed and created as a county of this state, of the class to which the same shall belong, under the name of county, and that the city or town receiving the highest number of votes cast at said election for county seat shall be the county seat of said county until removed in the manner provided by law, and designating and declaring the person receiving respectively the highest number of votes for the several offices to be filled at said election, to be duly elected to such offices. Said board shall forthwith cause a copy of its said resolution, duly certified, to be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and ninety days from and after the date of such filing said new county shall be deemed to be fully created, and the organization thereof shall be deemed completed, and such officers shall be entitled to enter immediately upon the duties of their respective offices upon qualifying in accordance with law and giving bonds for the faithful performance of their duties, as required by the laws of the state. The clerk of the board of county commissioners with which said petition was filed, as herein provided, must immediately make out and deliver to each of said persons so declared and designated to be elected, a certificate of election authenticated by his signature and the seal of said county. The persons elected members of the board of county commissioners and the county clerk shall immediately, upon receiving their certificates of election, assume the duties of their respective offices.

The board of county commissioners shall have authority to provide a suitable place for the county officers, and to purchase such supplies as may be deemed necessary for the proper conduct of the county government. All other officers take office ninety days after the filing of the resolution herein provided for with the secretary of state. All the officers elected at said election, or appointed under this act, shall hold their offices until the time provided by general law for the election and qualification of such officers in this state, and until their successors are elected and qualified, and for the purpose of determining the term of office of such officers, the years said officers are to hold office are to be computed respectively from and including the first Monday after the first day of January following the last preceding general election. If, however, upon such canvass it appears that more than forty-two per cent. of the votes cast at said election are "For the new county of _____," "No," the board of county commissioners canvassing said vote as provided herein shall pass a resolution in accordance therewith, and thereupon the proceedings relating to division of such county or counties shall cease; and no other proceedings in relation to any other division of said old county or counties shall be instituted for at least two years after such determination.

History: Sec. 4, Ch. 226, L. 1919; re-en. Sec. 4395, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

Held, that though the legislature in the new counties act (this section) did not declare that where all the members of the board of county commissioners must be elected at the creation of a new county, none holding over as members of the board of the parent county because of their residence in the proposed new county, they shall be elected for terms of two, four and six years to comport with the intention of the people in amending section 4, article XVI of the constitution, it did declare that they should hold office until the time provided by general law for the election of such officers, and not until the next general election, and thereby intended that when under the general law a term should not expire with the general election, the commissioner elected should hold over such general election. State ex rel. Foot v. Rogge et al., 80 M 1, 9 et seq., 257 P 1029.

Id. Chapter 106, laws of 1925, (sections 4396.1 and 4396.2 of this code), providing that county commissioners elected at a special election for the creation of new counties shall hold office until the next general election, held, in the nature of an amendment to this section, which not being retroactive, has no effect upon a special election held in 1924.

4396. Officers of new county—judicial district. At the election provided for in section 4394 of this code, there shall be chosen such county, township, and district officers as are now or may hereafter by general law be provided for in counties of the class to which the said new county is determined to belong, as herein provided; provided, that all duly elected, qualified and acting officers of the county or counties, who may reside within the proposed new county, shall be deemed to be officers of said new county if they file with the board of county commissioners, whose duty it shall be to call the election, within five days after the final hearing and determination of said petition for such proposed new county, their intention to become officers of said proposed new county, and the board of county commissioners issuing the proclamation of any election, as in this act provided, shall omit providing for the election of any such officers as may have filed their declaration as herein provided; and provided, also, that all duly elected, qualified, and acting justices of the peace and constables residing within the proposed new county at the time of the division of such county into townships, as hereinbefore in section 4394 provided, shall hold office as such justices of the peace or constables in said county for the remainder of the term for which they were elected on qualifying as justices of the peace or constables for the respective townships in which they reside, when said townships are organized as provided in this act; provided, further, that all duly elected, qualified, and acting school trustees residing within the proposed new county at the time of the division of such county into school districts, as hereinbefore in section 4394 provided, shall hold office as school trustees in said new county for the remainder of the term for which they were elected on qualifying as school trustees for the respective districts in which they reside, as said districts are organized as provided by this act. Each person elected or appointed to fill an office of such new county under the provisions of this act shall qualify in the manner provided by law for such officers, except as herein otherwise provided, and shall enter upon the discharge of the duties of his office within such time as herein provided, after the receipt of the certificate of his election. Each of such officers may take the oath of office before any officers authorized by the laws of the state of Montana to administer oaths, and the bond of any officer from which a bond is required shall be approved by any judge of the district court of the district to which such new county is attached for judicial purposes. The officers elected or appointed under the provisions of this act shall each perform the duties and receive the compensation now provided by general law for the office to which he has been appointed or elected in the counties of the class to which such new county shall have been determined to belong, as herein provided under the general classification of counties in this state.

Said new county, when created and organized in pursuance of the provisions of this act, shall be attached to such judicial district as may be designated by the governor of the state of Montana, in a proclamation to be issued by him, designating such new county as attached to the particular judicial district for judicial purposes.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 226, L. 1919; re-en. Sec. 4396, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

In view of the provision of this section, that all officers of a county out of which a new county is to be created, residing in the proposed new county shall be deemed officers of the new county if within five days after determination on the petition for the creation of a new one they shall indicate their intention to become officers of the new county, and the board of commissioners shall then omit providing for the election of such officers, it would seem that the proclamation for the election of officers of the new county should be made after five days from the determination on the petition. State ex rel. Foot v. Rogge et al., 80 M 1, 6, 257 P 1029.

4396.1. State senator to be elected. At the special election held for the purpose of voting on the creation of a new county, a state senator shall be elected, who will hold office until the next general election.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 106, L. 1925.

4396.2. Board of county commissioners to be elected. At the special election held for the purpose of voting on the question of the creation of a new county, a board of county commissioners shall be elected, who shall hold office until the next general election.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 106, L. 1925.

Operation and Effect

This section, providing that county commissioners elected at a special election for the creation of new counties, shall hold office until the next general election, held, in the nature of an amendment to sec. 4395, which, not being retroactive, has no effect upon a special election held in 1924. State ex rel. Foot v. Rogge et al., 80 M 1, 11, 257 P 1029.

4397. Commission appointed by governor to adjust indebtedness of old and new counties. It shall be the duty of the persons elected to or continuing to hold the office of county commissioners of said new county to meet at the county seat thereof within five days after all of them shall have qualified, and upon organization of said board of county commissioners it shall notify the governor of the state of the organization of said county, and thereupon it shall be the duty of the governor to appoint three persons, one of whom shall be a resident and a taxpayer within the new county, and no two of whom shall be from any one county; the three persons so appointed shall form and be a board of commissioners. Such commissioners shall, within ten days after the notice of the appointment, meet at the county seat of the new county and organize by electing from their number a chairman, and also elect a secretary who must not be a member of said commission. Thereafter such commission may meet at such place or places as it may select. A majority of such commissioners shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Said commission shall have power to compel by citation or subpoena, signed by their president and secretary, the attendance of such persons and the production of such books and papers before said commission as may be required in the performance of the duties imposed by this act, except that the official records of any county or counties from which said new county was formed shall in no case be taken away from the county seat of said county. It shall be the duty of the sheriff of any county to execute in his county all lawful orders and citations of the said commission; and for any services so performed the sheriff shall be allowed the same fees as are allowed to him for services in civil actions; and all witnesses attending before said commission shall be entitled to the same compensation and mileage as is allowed to witnesses in courts of record; provided, that no witness shall be excused from attendance at the time and place mentioned in said order or citation by reason of the failure of the officer making such service to tender to such witness his fees and mileage in advance.

4398. Determination of amount of indebtedness and value of property—taxation. Said board of commissioners shall immediately after its organization ascertain the costs of the election held hereunder, and apportion the same pro rata among each of the counties from which territory was taken to form such new county; shall ascertain the indebtedness of each county from which territory was taken to form the new county, as the same existed at the time when the result of the election was declared by the board of county commissioners, as hereinbefore provided, and also ascertain the total value of all property at the time belonging to each of said counties from which territory was taken and situated within the limits of said old counties, respectively. It shall also ascertain the assessed value of all property in each of the original old counties from which territory was so taken, according to the last completed assessment made for said county, and also the assessed value, under the same assessment, of all property within the territory of the new county which shall have been taken from the old county or counties from which said new county was formed. They shall then find the difference between the amount of the indebtedness of the old county and the value of the property belonging to the old county at the date of the declaration of the result of said election, as hereinbefore provided, and if such indebtedness exceeds the value of such property belonging to the old county, the new county shall pay to the old county a due proportion thereof, to be determined as follows:

“As said assessed value of the property in the old county is to the said assessed value of the property in the territory by this act to be incorporated within the new county from said old county, so is the amount of said excess to the amount to be paid by said new county to said old county.”

Said board of commissioners shall certify forthwith to the board of county commissioners of the new county, and the old counties thereby affected, the amount constituting the due proportion of said excess payable by such new county to each of them; also the value of any property belonging to each old county at the time when said division took effect (as hereinbefore provided), which is situated in the new county. The sum of said ascertained value of said last-mentioned property added to the ascertained proportion of said excess which the new county is to pay the old county, and its proportion of the expense of said election as aforesaid, shall be an indebtedness from the new county to the old county, and the said property situated as aforesaid in the new county shall upon settlement therefor, as provided in this act, become the property of the new county; and the old county shall pay the entire indebtedness against it, and the expense of said election shall be paid by the county calling such election, and any other county affected thereby shall pay its proportion thereof, as hereinbefore provided. The proceedings in this section required to be taken in the ascertainment and adjustment of property rights and debts shall be had and taken as between said new county and each of the counties from which territory is taken to form said new county, in the manner and at the ratio in said section provided. If, upon the settlement between the old and the new county as herein provided for, the new county shall be found to be indebted to the old county, or either of the old counties, the money necessary to pay said indebtedness shall be raised by a tax levied upon the property contained in said new county, and said new county shall pay the same; provided, however, that such payment by said new county may be made in not more than three equal annual payments, or by funds to be derived from the sale of bonds of said new county, as may be determined by a resolution of the board of county commissioners of said new county, adopted within one year after the receipt of the statement from the board of commissioners, as aforesaid, of the amount or amounts due from it. If the value of the property belonging to the old county exceeds the indebtedness of the old county, then the old county shall pay to the new county a due proportion of such excess, which proportion shall be determined by the board of commissioners, and shall be paid by the old county to the new county in the same manner and subject to the same conditions herein provided for payment by the new county to the old county, when the indebtedness of the old county exceeds the value of the property in the old county. In the determination of the value of county property all buildings and their furniture, real estate, road tools, and machinery, and all steel bridges which may have been constructed and in use for a less period than ten years, shall be taken into consideration by the said commissioners.

Delinquent taxes due to the old county against property situated in the new county shall be transcribed in and collected by the new county.

Constitutionality

In proceedings for the organization of a new county, the board of county commissioners is required to act as a quasi judicial tribunal, and this constitutes no invasion of the constitutional provisions which lodge the judicial power of the state in its courts. State ex rel. Arthurs v. Board of County Commrs., 44 M 51, 71, 118 P 804; State ex rel. Jacobson v. Board of Commrs., 47 M 531, 536, 134 P 291; State ex rel. Lang v. Furnish, 48 M 28, 33, 134 P 297.

Delinquent Taxes

Under the new counties act, providing for the apportionment of property and debts between a new and the old situated in that portion of the parent county or counties incorporated in the new county, which are delinquent upon creation of the new one or were delinquent and remain unpaid for previous years, are collectible by and belong to the new county. (See Opinion on Motion for Rehearing.) County of Hill v. County of Liberty, 62 M 15, 16 et seq., 203 P 500.

Id. Delinquent taxes paid on property incorporated in a new county, in the interim between the passing of the resolution by the board of commissioners of the parent county and the expiration of the ninety-day period after its filing with the secretary of state, belong to the parent and not to the new county.

Property of the County

Generally speaking, bridges are not such county property as that their value shall enter into consideration in the adjustment of the indebtedness of the old county with the new one. A bridge is to be treated as but a portion of a public highway. State ex rel. Foster v. Ritch, 49 M 155, 156, 157, 140 P 731.

"Property of the county" within the meaning of section 3, article XVI, constitution, under which, when a new county is created, the net indebtedness of the old county, its ratable proportion of which the new county must pay, is to be determined by deducting from its total indebtedness the value of all property of the old county, held to mean such property as a county holds and can sell. State v. Poland et al., 61 M 600, 203 P 352.

Id. Held, that a partly finished bridge constructed with funds obtained by a bond issue is not such county property as it may sell, and therefore cannot be taken into consideration as county property in the adjustment of indebtedness between an old and a new county.

Since a completed and used bridge belongs to the state and therefore is not "property of the county" within the meaning of section 3, article XVI, constitution, prescribing the method by which, in the creation of a new county out of an old one, the proportion of the net indebtedness of the old county chargeable to the new one shall be ascertained, the legislature was without power to authorize the commissioners appointed to adjust the indebtedness between a new and an old county (as it did by the enactment of section 7, chapter 139, laws of 1915), to take into consideration steel bridges constructed and in use for a period of less than ten years, in determining the value of county property. State ex rel. Missoula Co. v. Brown et al., 73 M 371, 373, 236 P 548.

When Mandamus Is Proper to Compel Adjustment of Indebtedness

Mandamus is the proper remedy to compel commissioners appointed to adjust county indebtedness between an old and a new county to reassemble and correctly apportion such indebtedness; the fact of their adjournment being immaterial. Such proceedings should be brought in the name of the county, and not by the board of county commissioners in their official capacity. State ex rel. Furnish v. Mullen-dore, 53 M 109, 116, 117, 161 P 949.

Id. Error committed by a board of commissioners appointed to adjust the indebtedness between an old and a newly created county, which is a function judicial in character, in taking bridges into consideration as county property, constitutes error within jurisdiction not correctible by certiorari, even though provision is not made for an appeal or some other mode of review of the board's action.

Held, that where the board of commissioners of a county a portion of which was thereafter included in a new county, in order to obtain favorable action by the electors of that portion on a proposed issue of road bonds, passed a resolution, amounting to a promise merely, that in the event the bonds were authorized, a certain proportion of the receipts would be devoted to road improvement in their district, their breach of trust in thereafter failing to carry out their promise could not be remedied by writ of mandate to compel the board of adjusters of the indebtedness between the old and the new county to charge the old county with the amount the district should have received under the resolution, the new counties act (laws 1919, chap. 226) not authorizing the adjusters to take such action. State v. Poland et al., 61 M 600, 203 P 352.

Where two counties out of which a third was created, made no objection to the report of the commissioners appointed to adjust the indebtedness between the counties, and with knowledge of mandamus proceedings instituted by the new county to have the board's findings reviewed, did not intervene though they were represented by their respective county attorneys who took part in the hearing, but waited until final decision in such proceeding and until the new county had incurred expense in the issuance of bonds to pay the indebtedness due the parent counties, and then commenced proceedings to compel the board of adjustment to reassemble and correct its findings, they were guilty of laches warranting dismissal of the proceedings. State ex rel. Cascade Co. v. Poland et al., 66 M 286, 291, 213 P 900.

The matter of dividing a new county into school districts being lodged in the discretion of the commissioners of the old county out of which the new one is created, a court cannot, upon finding that the discretion had been erroneously exercised, substitute its discretion and establish the boundaries so as to exclude territory which should not have been included, or hold the order valid as to the portion properly included and invalid as to the other. State ex rel. School Dist. No. 28 v. Urton, 76 M 458, 459, 248 P 369.

4399. Compensation and expenses of commissioners. On the hearing, the court or judge may examine on oath any of the petitioners, remonstrants, or other persons touching the petition, and may make an order changing the name if there appears any reason, benefit, or advantage for such change, or may dismiss the petition as to the court or judge may seem right or proper.

4434. Duty of clerk of court upon rendition of decree changing name of county. Immediately upon the rendition of any decree changing the name of a county as in this act provided, the clerk of the district court of said county shall transmit, by registered mail, a certified copy of said decree, showing the date of its rendition, to the secretary of state of the state of Montana, who shall file the same and record the same in an appropriate book.

4435. Change in name in official records, forms, blanks, etc. From and after the rendition of the decree, the official records in the custody of the several county officers shall be styled and designated, as in each instance may be proper, with the new name of the county as provided by the decree; and all printed blanks, forms, and all printed matter whatsoever, and all written records of such county, shall be styled and designated with the new name; all the official records, blanks, forms, books and papers belonging to such county before the entry of such decree shall be styled and designated with the new name as in the decree provided; but for the convenience of searchers of public records, and in order to prevent confusion with respect to land titles, or in any other respect, it shall be proper to style, designate, or refer to such records, books, papers, blanks, and forms as were in existence before the rendition of such decree in the following manner:

New Name.	(Formerly)	Old Name County

erty of the county existing under the former name shall be and become the public records and property of the county of the new name, and in all conveyances, indentures, instruments, decrees of courts, and other records, where the former name of the county occurs, said former name shall hereafter be construed to mean the new name of the county. All writs and processes in force and existence under the former name of the county shall thereafter be the writs and processes of and appertaining to the county under its new name; and all bonds, undertakings, and sureties alive and in existence, and running to or standing in the former name of the county, shall have the same force, effect, and relation to the county under its new name as they had to the county under its former name. All suits, actions, and proceedings in law or equity pending in the district court of the county under its former name, or in any of the other courts of said county, shall continue in full force and be in existence in the said court in which they were pending, under the new name of the county; and shall not be in anywise abated or affected by the change of name.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 113, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4436, R. C. M. 1921.

4437. Vested rights and existing laws not affected by change in name. The change of name herein provided for shall not impair or work a forfeiture or alteration of any vested rights, and all laws of a general or special nature applicable to the county under its former name shall thereafter apply with equal force and effect to the county under its new name.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 113, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4437, R. C. M. 1921.

4438. Assumption of indebtedness, bonds, and contracts by county under new name. All indebtedness and obligations of the county, whether bonded or otherwise, shall be assumed by and become the indebtedness of the county under its new name, and shall be the indebtedness and obligations of such county as theretofore; and all bonds theretofore issued by the county under its former name outstanding and unpaid at the time of the rendition of the decree shall be assumed by and become due from and paid by said county under its new name. All contracts and obligations, express or implied, unfulfilled by the county at the date of the rendition of the decree, shall be assumed and discharged by such county under its new name.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 113, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4438, R. C. M. 1921.

4439. Terms of court. The terms of the district court in and for said county as theretofore established by the court or a judge thereof under the former name of the county shall become the terms of said court for the county under its new name, and shall be held as stated in and for said county under its former name.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 113, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4439, R. C. M. 1921.

4440. Retention of office by county, township, and district officials—county boundaries. Persons who are, at the date of the rendition of the decree, the county, township, and district officers or officials, and members of the legislative assembly of the county under its former name, shall remain in office and shall thereafter be the county, township, district, and legislative officials of the county under its new name, and as such shall be entitled to the same salaries or compensation during the remainder of their terms of office that they were entitled to receive from the county under its former name. No change of name shall be so construed as to alter or modify the boundaries of the county as the same existed and were established under the former name of the county, but such boundaries shall be and remain the same until changed according to law.

GENERAL POWERS AND LIMITATIONS UPON COUNTIES

Section 4441.	Every county a body corporate.
4442.	Powers, how exercised.
4443.	Name and designation.
4444.	Enumeration of powers.
4444.1.	Acquisition of land for public recreational purposes.

4444.3.	County may contract for airport—levy of taxes.
4445.	Restriction on loaning credit.
4446.	Restriction on temporary loans.
4447.	Limit of indebtedness.
4447.1.	Counties indebted beyond constitutional limit may operate on cash basis.
4448.	Service of process.
4449.	Witnesses and jurors, competency of.
4450.	No execution to issue.
4451.	Money illegally paid recovered.

4441. Every county a body corporate. Every county is a body politic and corporate, and as such has the power specified in this code, or in special statutes, and such powers as are necessarily implied from those expressed.

History: En. Sec. 4190, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2870, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4441, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4000.

Operation and Effect

A county is one of the civil divisions of the state for political and judicial purposes, created by the sovereign power of the state of its own will, without the consent of the people who inhabit it. It is quasi-corporate in character, but has only such powers as are expressly provided by law or are necessarily implied by those expressed. State ex rel. Lambert v. Coad, 23 M 131, 137, 57 P 1092; Independent Publishing Co. v. County of Lewis and Clark, 30 M 83, 86, 75 P 860; Yellowstone Co. v. First Trust & Savings Bank, 46 M 439, 450, 128 P 596; Hersey v. Neilson, 47 M 132, 143, 131 P 30; Edwards v. County of Lewis and Clark, 53 M 359, 365, 165 P 297; Franzke v. Fergus County et al., 76 M 150, 245 P 962; Lewis v. Petroleum County, 92 M 563, 565, 17 P 2d 60.

While, in a strict sense, a county is not a municipal corporation, yet, in the sense that it is a body corporate with such powers only as are expressly conferred by the code and special statutes, and such as are necessarily implied from those expressed, it comes within the rules and principles applicable to such corporations.

State ex rel. Lambert v. Coad, 23 M 131, 137, 57 P 1092; Morse v. Granite County, 44 M 78, 88, 119 P 286.

A county is a body corporate, but does not possess the powers of local legislation and control which are the distinguishing characteristics of a municipal corporation. Hersey v. Neilson, 47 M 132, 141, 131 P 30.

Id. A county does not have any powers other than those indicated in this section.

Aside from the powers granted to counties by statute and those necessarily implied from the powers expressed, they have none, and where there is a fair and reasonable doubt as to the existence of a particular power, it must be resolved against them and the power denied. Sullivan v. Big Horn County, 66 M 45, 47, 212 P 1105.

Id. A party assuming to deal with a county on the supposition that it possesses powers which it does not cannot maintain an action against it upon its unauthorized action.

Id. A municipal corporation, such as a county, being no more than a political subdivision of the state for governmental purposes, cannot be subject to a penal liability, and therefore an action for treble (or penal) damages for unlawful detainer does not lie.

Id. While an action for unlawful detainer in which treble damages are sought does not lie against a county, one in ejectment may be maintained against it.

“Prerogative” or its synonym “sovereignty” means the inherent power of the people; it must involve the general interest of the state at large, and though the prerogative of the state may be invoked for the protection of the rights of a county—its agent or creature—the county, in the absence of express authority granting it, does not itself possess the power of the sovereign. Bignell et al. v. Cummins, 69 M 294, 299, 222 P 797.

Where a party assumes to deal with a county on the supposition that it possesses powers which it does not in fact possess, he may not recover even though he has performed his part of the contract. Lewis v. Petroleum County, 92 M 563, 565, 17 P 2d 60.

4442. Powers, how exercised. Its powers can only be exercised by the board of county commissioners, or by agents, and officers acting under their authority, or authority of law.

History: En. Sec. 4191, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2871, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4442, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4001.

Operation and Effect

The powers of a county are exercised by the commissioners, but they are not therefore authorized to bring actions in their official capacity on behalf of the county, in the absence of a provision conferring upon them the right to do so. State ex rel. Furnish v. Mullendore, 53 M 109, 117, 161 P 949.

4443. Name and designation. The name of a county designated in the law creating it is its corporate name, and it must be known and designated thereby in all actions and proceedings touching its corporate rights, property, and duties; but this provision does not prevent county officers, when authorized by law, from suing in their name of office for the benefit of the county.

History: En. Sec. 4192, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2872, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4443, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4002.

Operation and Effect

A county by its corporate name is the proper party to bring “all actions and proceedings touching its corporate rights, property and duties”; hence, a mandamus proceeding to compel a board of county commissioners to reapportion an indebtedness between an old county and a new one should be brought in the name of the county; the board itself is not authorized to bring such a proceeding in its own name. State ex rel. Furnish v. Mullendore, 53 M 109, 117, 161 P 949.

4444. Enumeration of powers. It has power:

1. To sue and be sued.
2. To purchase and hold lands within its limits.
3. To make such contracts and purchase and hold such personal property as may be necessary to the exercise of its powers.
4. To make such orders for the disposition or use of its property as the interests of its inhabitants require.
5. To levy and collect such taxes for the purposes under its exclusive jurisdiction as are authorized by this code or by special statutes.

History: En. Sec. 1, p. 498, Bannack Stat.; re-en. Sec. 1, p. 433, Cod. Stat. 1871; re-en. Sec. 335, 5th Div. Rev. Stat. 1879; re-en. Sec. 744, 5th Div. Comp. Stat. 1887; amd. Sec. 4193, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2873, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4444, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4003.

Operation and Effect

A party assuming to deal with a county on the supposition that it possesses powers which it does not cannot maintain an action against it upon its unauthorized action. Sullivan v. Big Horn County, 66 M 45, 47, 212 P 1105.

Id. A municipal corporation, such as a county, being no more than a political subdivision of the state for governmental purposes, cannot be subjected to a penal liability, and therefore an action for treble (or penal) damages for unlawful detainer does not lie.

Id. While an action for unlawful detainer in which treble damages are sought does not lie against a county, one in ejectment may be maintained against it.

A county is merely a subdivision of the state for governmental purposes, and as such is subject to legislative regulation and control; the legislature may within the limitations prescribed by the constitution, circumscribe or extend the powers to be exercised by a county, and legislative authority to regulate or control the disposition of county property not having been limited by the constitution, it could properly declare, as it did by this section and section 4465, that such property may be sold only under the restrictions and in the manner therein indicated. Franzke v. Fergus County et al., 76 M 150, 156, 245 P 962.

4444.1 Acquisition of land for public recreational purposes. The several counties of this state are hereby authorized and empowered to acquire by purchase, grant, deed, gift, devise or condemnation, or otherwise, lands in one tract, suitable for public camping and public recreational purposes, or may lease such land tracts, each of which shall be so situated as to offer ready access to a public highway.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 51, L. 1929.

4444.2. Use of land—limitation of expenditures. All tracts of land acquired under this act shall be set aside and used exclusively for public camping and recreational purposes, and each park so established shall be given an appropriate name or number. Except as hereinafter provided, no county shall be authorized to expend to exceed two hundred fifty dollars ($250.00) for the purpose of acquiring and equipping parks as herein provided, nor may any county thereafter expend to exceed fifty dollars ($50.00) per year in maintenance of the same. The limitations hereinabove provided shall not apply to counties of the first, second, third, fourth and fifth classes. Any county, whatever its classification, may expend not to exceed three hundred dollars ($300.00) per year for maintaining any park created under the terms of this act, if, at the time of such expenditure, any government civilian conservation corps camp or emergency conservation work camp, or any other camp created for recreational purposes by any federal agency, shall be established or maintained in such county.

4444.3. County may contract for airport—levy of taxes. That any county of this state is hereby authorized and empowered to enter into a contract upon such terms and conditions as it may deem proper, with any incorporated city or town within the limits of said county, to equip, maintain, or improve any municipal airport or landing field owned and operated as such by said city or town, or to purchase, equip, maintain and improve jointly with any such city or town, an airport or landing field; provided, however, that the amount of money that may be so appropriated by said county shall not exceed in any one (1) year, a sum in excess of an amount equal to one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) mill levy on the taxable value of all property for tax purposes within said county, for the year in which said appropriation is made.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 36, L. 1931.

4445. Restriction on loaning credit. No county must ever give or loan its credit in aid of, or make any donation or grant, by subsidy or otherwise, to any individual, association, or corporation, or become a subscriber to or a shareholder in any company or corporation, or a joint owner with any person, company or corporation.

History: En. Sec. 4194, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2874, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4445, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4004.

4446. Restriction on temporary loans. All moneys borrowed by or on behalf of any county must be used only for the purpose specified in the law authorizing the loan.

4447. Limit of indebtedness. No county must become indebted in any manner or for any purpose to an amount, including existing indebtedness, in the aggregate exceeding five per centum of the value of the taxable property therein, to be ascertained by the last assessment for state and county taxes previous to the incurring of such indebtedness, and all bonds or obligations in excess of such amount given by or on behalf of such county are void. No county must incur any indebtedness or liability for any single purpose to an amount exceeding ten thousand dollars without the approval of a majority of the electors thereof voting at an election to be provided by law.

History: En. Sec. 4196, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2876, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4447, R. C. M. 1921.

NOTE.—See also XIII, 5 of the state constitution.

Operation and Effect

The issuance by a county of coupon bonds to the extent of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars for the purpose of redeeming outstanding county warrants to that amount is merely a change in the form of a subsisting liability, and not the creation of a new indebtedness or liability, and is, therefore, not within the inhibition of the constitution and laws of the state which provide in effect that counties shall not incur an indebtedness or liability for any single purpose in an amount exceeding ten thousand dollars without the approval of a majority of the electors of the county. Hotchkiss v. Marion, 12 M 218, 223, 224, 29 P 821; see Edwards v. County of Lewis and Clark, 53 M 359, 165 P 297.

4447.1. Counties indebted beyond constitutional limit may operate on cash basis. That in case the total indebtedness of a county, lawful when incurred, by reason of great diminution of taxable values exceeds the limit of five per centum (5%) provided in section 5 of article 13 of the constitution of the state of Montana, it shall be lawful for said county and it is hereby authorized and empowered to thereafter manage and conduct its business affairs on a cash basis and pay the reasonable and necessary current expenses of said county out of the cash in the county treasury and derived from its current revenue, and under such restrictions and regulations as may be imposed by the board of county commissioners of said county by a resolution duly adopted and spread upon the minutes of said board; provided, however, that nothing herein shall restrict the right of said board to make the necessary tax levies for interest and sinking fund purposes, and provided further that nothing herein shall affect the right of any creditor of said county to pursue any remedy now given him by law to obtain payment of his claim.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 93, L. 1935.

4448. Service of process. In all legal proceedings against the county, process must be served on the chairman of the board of county commissioners; and whenever an action or proceeding is commenced, it is the duty of the chairman forthwith to notify the county attorney thereof, and to lay before the board of county commissioners, at its next meeting, all the information he may have in regard to such action or proceeding.

History: En. Sec. 4197, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2877, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4448, R. C. M. 1921.

4449. Witnesses and jurors, competency of. On the trial on an action in which the county is interested, the inhabitants of such county are competent jurors, if otherwise competent and qualified according to law.

4450. No execution to issue. When a judgment is rendered against the county, or against any county officer, in an action prosecuted against him in his name of office, when the same is to be paid by the county, no execution must issue upon the judgment, but the same must be paid as other county charges; and when so collected, must be paid by the county treasurer to the proper person to whom the same is adjudged, upon the delivery of a proper voucher therefor.

4451. Money illegally paid recovered. Whenever any board of county commissioners, without authority of law, orders any money paid as a salary, fees, or for other purposes, and such money has been actually paid, or whenever the county clerk has drawn any warrant or warrants in his own favor, or in favor of any other person, without being authorized thereto by the board of county commissioners, or by the law, and the same has been paid, the county attorney of such county must institute an action in the name of the county against such person or persons to recover the money so paid, and twenty per cent. damage for the use thereof, and no order of the board of county commissioners therefor is necessary in order to maintain such action; when the money has not been paid on such orders, it is the duty of the county attorney to commence an action in the name of the county for restraining the payment of the same; and no order of the board of county commissioners therefor is necessary to maintain such action.

4454. Vacancy, how filled. Whenever a vacancy occurs in the board of county commissioners from a failure to elect or otherwise, the district judge or judges in whose district the vacancy occurs must fill the vacancy, and such appointee shall hold office until the next general election.

Held, under section 511, that refusal or neglect of an officer-elect to file his bond within the time prescribed creates a vacancy in the office, and that in the case of a county commissioner the district judge had authority, under this section upon the expiration of the thirty-day period provided for the filing of a bond, to declare the office vacant and make a prospective appointment to fill the vacancy when it did occur, to-wit, at the commencement of the new term. *State ex rel. Operation and Effect

The power to fill a vacancy in the office of county commissioner is conferred by the constitution upon the district judge of the district in which the vacancy occurs and the provisions of this section, enacted in pursuance thereof, but such power is ministerial, not judicial, in character. Certiorari does not lie to annul an order filling a vacancy deemed by the judge to exist in that office in a newly created county because of the alleged unconstitutionality of the act under which the office was filled by election, and because the incumbent was holding two other offices regarded by him as incompatible. State ex rel. Downen v. District Court, 50 M 249, 251, 252, 146 P 467.

4455. Bond of members of board. Each person elected or appointed to the office of county commissioner must, before he enters upon the duties of his office, execute and file with the clerk of the district court of the county a bond, as provided in section 466 of this code. It is the duty of the district judge on the first day in each term or session of court, in open court, to examine and inquire into the sufficiency of such bond, and order a new bond if found insufficient, and if found sufficient, his approval must be entered in the minutes of the court.

History: Ap. p. Sec. 917, 5th Div. Comp. Stat. 1887; amd. Sec. 4213, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2884, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4455, R. C. M. 1921.

Held, that this section requiring before inter alia, the furnishing of an official bond by county commissioners before assuming office, and imposing upon the district judge the duty of examining such bond on the first day of each term of court, is not open to the construction that county commissioners may file their bonds regardless of approval, and that the judge at the next session of court must approve them if sufficient, such a construction being inconsistent with the provisions of sections 466 to 476, having to do generally with the giving of official bonds or qualifying for county office. State ex rel. Wallace v. Callow, 78 M 308, 324 et seq., 254 P 187.

4458. Meetings and records to be public. All meetings of the board must be public, and the books, records, and accounts must be kept at the office of the clerk, open at all times for public inspection, free of charge.

History: En. Sec. 4216, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2887, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4458, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4035.

tary of state a certified statement of the names and boundaries, and the boundaries of any township altered.

May Not Question Constitutionality of Statute

A ministerial officer, such as a county clerk, to whom no injury can result and to whom no violation of duty can be imputed by reason of his compliance with a statute cannot refuse to perform a duty imposed by it on the ground of its unconstitutionality, since such an officer is not liable for his official acts when acting under process, warrants or other instruments, fair upon their face and issued from a superior tribunal or board. State ex rel. Lockwood v. Tyler, 64 M 125, 131, 208 P 1081.

Right to Question Legality of Claims Against County

The duty of the county clerk to issue warrants for claims passed upon by the board of county commissioners, being ministerial only, he is not clothed with supervisory power to either question or determine the legality of the claims, except where they are void upon their face as without the jurisdiction of the board to pass upon. State ex rel. Lockwood v. Tyler, 64 M 125, 131, 208 P 1081.

4461. Duties of board. The board of county commissioners must cause to be kept:

1. A "Minute Book," in which must be recorded all orders and decisions made by them, and the daily proceedings had at all regular and special meetings.

2. A "Road Book," containing all proceedings and adjudications relating to the establishment, maintenance, change, and discontinuance of roads and road districts, or relating to road supervisors and their reports and accounts, as provided in section 2604 (see note) of this code.

3. A "Franchise Book," containing all franchises granted by them, for what purpose, the length of time, and to whom granted, the amount of bond and license tax required.

4. A "Warrant Book," in which must be entered, in the order of drawing, all warrants drawn on the treasury, with their number and reference to the order on the minute book, with the date, amount, on what account, and name of payee.

History: En. Sec. 4219, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2890, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4461, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4031.

NOTE.—The reference to section 2604, supra, is obsolete, the section having been repealed. See section 1622 of this code.

Operation and Effect

This section providing that a board of county commissioners must cause a minute-book to be kept in which must be recorded all its orders, decisions, and proceedings, does not make such record the only evidence admissible to prove the action of the board nor prohibit oral testimony as to what was actually done, and, when so proved, its action has the same effect as though shown by a minute entry. 4462. Regular meetings—extra sessions. The board of county commissioners, except as may otherwise be required of them, may meet at the county seat of their respective counties on the first Monday of each and every month of the year, for the purpose of allowing bills and attending to any other business that may regularly come before them, and may sit not exceeding three days at each session, except the December session, at which time they may sit not exceeding eight days. But the board may at any time, by giving at least two days' posted public notice, hold an extra session of not over two days' duration; provided, that the limitations as to the time of sessions of the board of county commissioners contained in this section shall not apply to counties of the first, second, third or fourth classes.

NOTE.—Sec. 4465 as it existed in the 1921 code contained all the powers of the county commissioners and had 30 subdivisions. For convenience' sake, these have been divided, and will be found as sections 4465-4465.29.

Supervise Officers

However, the board of county commissioners has general supervision and control over the officers, affairs, and finances of its county and it may be conceded that, unless authority therefor shall be found in the statutes, no other county officer may bind the county by contract, and that a person dealing with a county through one of its agents is bound to know the extent of such agent's authority, and if he enters into an unauthorized contract, he does so at his own risk. (Pue v. Lewis and Clark County, 75 M 207, 243 P 573). Hicks v. Stillwater County, 84 M 38, 42, 274 P 296.

NOTE.—Sections 4465-4465.29 were all listed as section 4465 in the revised codes of 1921, making in all 30 subdivisions to that section. The following annotations were made dealing with all the powers of county commissioners. These annotations were made with no reference to any particular subdivision of section 4465 of the 1921 code. They are placed here for convenience, but should be considered in connection with the next 29 sections, also.

General Provisions

A board of county commissioners, is one of limited powers, and must in every instance justify its action by reference to the provisions of law defining and limiting these powers. If, however, there is no question of the existence of the power to do the act proposed, and the mode of its exercise is not pointed out, the board is left free to use its own discretion in selecting the mode it shall adopt or the course it shall pursue, and the result cannot be called in question if the course pursued is reasonably well adapted to the accomplishment of the end proposed. State ex rel. Lambert v. Coad, 23 M 131, 137, 57 P 1092; State ex rel. Gillett v. Cronin, 41 M 293, 295, 109 P 144; Morse v. Granite County, 44 M 78, 89, 119 P 286; Hersey v. Neilson, 47 M 132, 145, 131 P 30.

A contract with an attorney for his services, entered into by the chairman of the board individually, is not binding on the county, since the commissioners have power to bind the county only where they act as a legal entity. Williams v. Commrs. of Broadwater Co., 28 M 360, 365, 366, 72 P 755.

A contract made by a board of county commissioners, a few weeks before the expiration of its term of office, and upon the expiration of a prior contract, for county printing for the two succeeding years, is valid in the absence of fraud or bad faith in the making, and is not against public policy. Picket Pub. Co. v. Board of County Commrs., 36 M 188, 194, 195, 92 P 524.

While the board of county commissioners has the power under this section to change the boundaries of a county, or to abolish a township altogether, a due regard for other provisions of the code requires that its authority in this respect be limited to the extent that there must always be at least two townships in each county, and in abolishing all but one township in a county it acts in excess of its jurisdiction. State ex rel. Gillett v. Cronin, 41 M 293, 296, 109 P 144.

Counties and school districts are subdivisions of the state government with fixed powers and duties, and any act taken by the commissioners of the former or the trustees of the latter must be justified by the provisions of the statutes defining and limiting their powers. State v. McGraw, 74 M 153, 155, 240 P 812.

Where the legislature has prescribed with particularity the essential steps necessary to be taken by a county in the exercise of a power granted, the statute must be held to exclude any other mode of procedure, under the doctrine expressio unius est exclusio alterius. Granzke v. Fergus County et al., 76 M 150, 153, 245 P 962.

The duty imposed upon the commissioners by this section is mandatory and imperative, and a failure to discharge it may be serious to them. Moore v. Industrial Accident Fund, 80 M 136, 139, 259 P 825.

The board of county commissioners may exercise powers not specifically granted if they are necessarily implied from those granted, and under its implied power it may contract to have work done which is necessary for the proper management of the county's business and the preservation of its property, if the law does not make it the duty of some county officer to do the work. Arnold et al. v. Custer County et al., 83 M 130, 149, 269 P 396.

Id. Where by law the board of county commissioners or other county officer is required to do an act but the method of doing it is not provided, any reasonable and suitable means may be adopted for performing it.

While the board of county commissioners is without power to enter into a contract for services the performance of which is cast upon another county official or board, it may contract with a private individual for information relative to matters of taxation to aid it in the performance of its duties as a county board of equalization, even though, incidentally, the information received may aid other officials in the performance of their duties, provided the grant of power is to be found in the statutes. Simpson v. Silver Bow County, 87 M 83, 93, 285 P 195.

Id. Where the board of county commissioners has a given power, granted expressly or impliedly, but no mode of exercise thereof is indicated, it may in its discretion select any appropriate mode or course of procedure.

4465.1. Division of county into townships, school, road and other districts. The board of county commissioners has jurisdiction and power under such limitations and restrictions as are prescribed by law:

To divide the counties into township, school, road and other districts required by law, change the same, and create others as convenience requires, by consolidation of two (2) or more townships, or otherwise.

History: En. Subd. 2, Sec. 1, Ch. 100, L. 1931. See history of Sec. 4465.

4465.2. Elections, powers concerning. The board of county commissioners has jurisdiction and power under such limitations and restrictions as are prescribed by law:

To establish, abolish and change election precincts, and to appoint judges of election, canvass all election returns, declare the result, and issue certificates thereof.

History: En. Subd. 3, Sec. 1, Ch. 100, L. 1931. See history of Sec. 4465.

4465.3. Highways, ferries and bridges. The board of county commissioners has jurisdiction and power under such limitations and restrictions as are prescribed by law:

To lay out, maintain, control and manage public highways, ferries and bridges, within the county, and levy such tax therefor as required by law; provided, however, that they may in the exercise of a sound discretion, jointly with other counties, lay out, maintain, control, manage and improve public highways, ferries and bridges in adjacent counties, wholly or in such part as may be agreed upon between the boards of county commissioners of the counties concerned, and levy taxes therefor as provided by law; and where joint highway or bridge construction projects are contemplated or necessary and the cooperation of another county, or other counties, or the state or federal government, or either or both, is desired for the construction of such projects they may enter into agreement for adjusted annual contributions over not to exceed six years, toward the cost of such projects, and they shall be authorized to place the same in their budget and levy taxes therefor as according to law.

4465.4. Poor and indigent persons. The board of county commissioners has jurisdiction and power under such limitations and restrictions as are prescribed by law:

To provide for the care and maintenance of the indigent sick, or the otherwise dependent poor of the county; erect and maintain hospitals therefor, or otherwise provide for the same, and to levy the necessary tax therefor per capita, not exceeding two (\$2.00) dollars and a tax on property not exceeding three-fifths ($\frac{3}{5}$) of one per cent (1%) on either of such levies when both are not required, and to expend not to exceed five per cent (5%) of any such levy for the collection of said tax, or of any part thereof.

History: En. Subd. 5, Sec. 1, Ch. 100, L. 1931. See history of Sec. 4465.

Sick and Poor

For a decision concerning the validity of a contract entered into by the board of county commissioners for the care of the poor under former statutes, see Lebcher v. Commrs. of Custer Co., 9 M 315, 23 P 713.

The board of county commissioners did not have the power to erect and maintain a detention hospital for persons affected with contagious or pestilential diseases, at the expense of the county. Yegen v. Board of County Commrs., 34 M 79, 86, 85 P 740.

Held, that in enacting section 4521 et seq., relative to the care by counties of their indigent sick, poor and infirm, the policy of the legislature has been to impose a wide discretion in the county commissioners and that, in carrying out such a policy, their power is not limited to placing the poor in the county poorhouse, where there is one, or to contract for their maintenance, but may, if they deem it proper, extend aid in the shape of fuel, groceries, clothing or by small doles of money, at their respective places of residence. Jones v. Cooney et al., 81 M 340, 346, 263 P 429.

Id. While under section 4833, R. C. M. 1921, the county auditor is made the superintendent of the poor who must care for and examine all claims that may be made upon the county for charity, he must do so under such rules and regulations as the commissioners may prescribe in their discretion.

4465.5. Poor farm. The board of county commissioners has jurisdiction and power under such limitations and restrictions as are prescribed by law:

To provide a farm for the support of the poor of the county, and make regulations for working the same.

History: En. Subd. 6, Sec. 1, Ch. 100, L. 1931. See history of Sec. 4465.

4465.6. Rooms for county purposes. The board of county commissioners has jurisdiction and power under such limitations and restrictions as are prescribed by law: When there are no necessary county buildings, to provide suitable rooms for county purposes.

History: En. Subd. 7, Sec. 1, Ch. 100, L. 1931. See history of Sec. 4465.

Provide Suitable Rooms for County Purposes

Held, that the provision of this section, granting power to the board of county commissioners to provide suitable rooms "when there are no necessary county buildings" refers to a present proprietorship of such buildings by a county and not to property temporarily held and used under lease for county purposes. Bennett v. Petroleum County et al., 87 M 436, 444 et seq., 288 P 1018.

Id. The matter of leasing privately owned property under power granted the board of county commissioners by this section, is one addressed to the sound judgment and discretion of the board.

4465.7. Obtaining property. The board of county commissioners has jurisdiction and power under such limitations and restrictions as are prescribed by law: To purchase, receive by donation, or lease any real or personal property necessary for the use of the county, preserve, take care of, manage and control the same; but no purchase of real property, exceeding the value of one hundred dollars ($100.00), must be made unless the value of the same has been previously estimated by three (3) disinterested citizens of the county appointed by the district judge for that purpose, and no more than the appraised value must be paid therefor.

History: En. Subd. 8, Sec. 1, Ch. 100, L. 1931; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 74, L. 1933. See history of Sec. 4465.

Power to Purchase Property

This section, relative to the manner of purchasing real estate, applies to a bridge.

State ex rel. Donlan v. Board of Commrs., 49 M 517, 523, 143 P 984.

This section refers to an outright purchase of property for county purposes, but it has no application to the acquisition of a right of way under the general highway law. Flynn v. Beaverhead County, 54 M 309, 314, 170 P 13.

4465.8. Erection of county buildings. The board of county commissioners has jurisdiction and power under such limitations and restrictions as are prescribed by law: To cause to be erected and furnished a courthouse, jail, hospital, and such other public buildings as may be necessary.

History: En. Subd. 9, Sec. 1, Ch. 100, L. 1931. See history of Sec. 4465.

4465.9. Sale of property. The board of county commissioners of the several counties in this state shall have the power to sell any property, real or personal, however, acquired, belonging to the county, and which is not necessary to the conduct of the county's business or the preservation of its property. If the property, real or personal, sought to be sold, is reasonably of a value in excess of one hundred ($100.00) dollars, the sale shall be at public auction at the courthouse door after previous notice given by publication in a newspaper published in said county, notice to be published once a week for four successive weeks and posted in five (5) public places in the county. The sale shall be for cash, or on such terms as the board of county commissioners may approve, provided at least twenty per cent (20%) of the purchase price shall be paid in cash. In all sales of property of a value in excess of one hundred ($100.00) dollars, there must before any sale be an appraisal thereof by the board and at a price representing a fair market value of such property, and such appraised value shall be stated in the notice of sale. Any taxpayer who may believe that such appraised value is less than the actual value of the property, may at any time before the day fixed for the sale of such property, file with the board of county commissioners written objections to such appraised value. When any such objection is filed it vacates the sale and the board of county commissioners must at once apply to the judge of the district court to have such property re-appraised. Upon such application the district judge shall appoint for such purpose three disinterested persons whose appraisal must be made and filed with the county clerk and recorder, which new appraisal or re-appraisal shall be used in the next sale of such property. Such appraisers, when appointed by the district judge, and after filing their appraisal report with the county clerk and recorder, shall be allowed five ($5.00) dollars per day for each day necessarily employed in making such appraisal, and their necessary and actual expenses. No sale shall be made at public auction of any property unless it has been appraised within three months prior to the date of sale, and no such sale shall be made for less than ninety per cent (90%) of the appraised value. If no bid or offer is made for any property offered for sale at public auction, after appraisal and notice given, as provided herein, the board of county commissioners may, at any time thereafter, sell such property at private sale, and may on such private sale accept as the purchase price therefor an amount not less than ninety (90%) per cent of the appraised value thereof. All deferred payments on the purchase price of any property sold, shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum, payable annually and may be extended over a period of not more than five (5) years. If the property to be sold is reasonably of a value of less than one hundred ($100.00) dollars, sale thereof may be had at either public or private sale, as in the discretion of the board of county commissioners, may appear to be to the best interests of the county. If it be at public sale, notice shall be given by posting in five public places in the county at least five days before the date of sale. No title to any property sold under the provisions hereof, shall pass from the county until the purchaser, or his assigns, shall have paid the full amount of the purchase price therefor, into the county treasury for the use and benefit of the county. Provided, however, if within three years no immediate sale be had of real estate attempted to be sold under the provisions of this section, the board of county commissioners may make trades or exchanges of real estate for any lands or real estate of equal value located in proximity to land or tracts of land owned by the county.

Power to Sell Property

A county is merely a subdivision of the state for governmental purposes, and as such is subject to legislative regulation and control; the legislature may within the limitations prescribed by the constitution, circumscribe or extend the powers to be exercised by a county, and legislative authority to regulate or control the disposition of county property not having been limited by the constitution, it could properly declare, as it did by section 4444 and this section, that such property may be sold only under the restrictions and in the manner therein indicated. Franzke v. Fergus County et al., 76 M 150, 245 P 962.

Id. Held, on application for writ of injunction, that a county is without power to enter into an agreement to sell land owned by it, on the installment plan, its power in that regard being limited to an actual sale at public auction and for cash by this section.

Id. Held, that the contention of this section, providing the method to be pursued in selling county property, applies only to a sale of property obtained for purely public purposes but no longer needed for such purposes, and that therefore a ranch held by it in its proprietary capacity and not acquired for a public purpose does not fall within its purview, cannot be sustained. 76 M 150, 156 et seq.

4465.10. Examination and allowance of officers' accounts. The board of county commissioners has jurisdiction and power under such limitations and restrictions as are prescribed by law: At the regular monthly meeting of the board, to examine and allow the accounts of all officers having the care, management, collection or disbursements of moneys belonging to the county, or appropriated by law or otherwise for its use and benefit.

History: En. Subd. 11, Sec. 1, Ch. 100, L. 1931. See history of Sec. 4465.

4465.11. Accounts to be examined, settled and allowed. The board of county commissioners has jurisdiction and power under such limitations and restrictions as are prescribed by law: At the regular meetings of the board to examine, settle and allow all accounts legally chargeable against the county except salaries of officers, and order warrants to be drawn on the county treasurer therefor, and provide for the issuing of the same.

History: En. Subd. 12, Sec. 1, Ch. 100, L. 1931. See history of Sec. 4465.

Allowing Accounts

The word "accounts" used in this section must be understood in a broad, generic sense, and as including any right to or claim for money which is due and payable from the county treasury. State ex rel. Dolin v. Major, 58 M 140, 148, 192 P 618.

Construing prior to amendment, the board of county commissioners is given power "to examine, settle and allow all accounts legally chargeable against the county except salaries of officers, and order warrants to be drawn on the county treasurer therefor, and provides for the issuing of the same." The relators' claims come within the meaning of the word "account" as used in this statute. State ex rel. Lockwood v. Tyler, 64 M 124, 131, 208 P 1081.

Construing prior to amendment, the right to recover from the county depends, not only upon the authority of the county attorney to incur the liability against the county, but also upon the necessity for incurring the expense, whether in connection with criminal cases or "contingent expenses necessarily incurred for the use and benefit of the county." The necessity is, primarily, to be determined by the county attorney, but his determination is subject to review by the board when it takes up the claim for allowance or disallowance, under the authority vested in it by this section. In re Hyde, 73 M 363, 368, 236 P 248.

Held, that since under this section, the board of county commissioners is authorized to examine, settle and allow all claims against the county, its failure to ascertain whether charges made under a county printing contract were in accordance therewith deprives the county of the right to charge that claims filed for work done under the contract were fraudulent. Carbon County v. Draper, 84 M 413, 419 et seq., 276 P 667.

4465.12. Taxation. The board of county commissioners has jurisdiction and power under such limitations and restrictions as are prescribed by law: To levy such tax annually, on the taxable property of the county for county purposes as may be necessary to defray the current expenses therefor, including the salaries otherwise unprovided for, not exceeding sixteen (16) mills on each dollar of the assessed valuation for any one (1) year; and to levy such taxes as are required to be levied by special or local statutes.

Power to Tax

Under the law as it stood in 1892, the commissioners of a county had power to levy a tax on the taxable property of a school district within their county to satisfy a judgment against the trustees of such district, where the funds under the control of such district were insufficient to pay the same, and mandamus was available to compel such levy without a statute expressly authorizing county commissioners to make an assessment for such purpose. State ex rel. Shapley v. Board of Commrs. of Yellowstone Co., 12 M 503, 507, 31 P 78.

4465.13. Equalizing assessments. The board of county commissioners has jurisdiction and power under such limitations and restrictions as are prescribed by law: To equalize the assessments.

session, and publication of the financial statement must be made within thirty (30) days after the presentation of the same to the board of county commissioners, and the board of county commissioners shall not allow or order paid any claim for any such publication of minutes and records of proceedings or annual financial statement unless made within the time herein prescribed therefor.

4474. Duty of public weigher. It shall be the duty of each public weigher to keep a stub record of all weighing done by him, which record and the receipt issued by such public weigher shall show for whom property was weighed, and the character and kind thereof, and shall constitute prima facie evidence of the facts therein contained; and all such stub records, or other records which the county commissioners may require him to keep, shall at all times be open to public inspection during business hours, between seven a. m. and six p. m. of any day, save and except Sundays and legal holidays, and such public weigher shall file a sworn statement with the county recorder of the county, as prescribed by the county commissioners thereof, which statement shall show the date and character or kind of property weighed, for whom weighed, and a complete statement of all fees collected.

veyances, not to exceed six and one-quarter ($6\frac{1}{4}$) per centum of all minerals therein or thereafter mined, produced, extracted or otherwise taken therefrom, and in such cases it shall be provided in each conveyance that if the purchaser, his or its heirs, executors, administrators, successors, grantees, assigns, lessees or any other person, firm or corporation, shall mine, produce, extract or otherwise take any minerals from the real property described therein, the one so doing shall at such time or times as the owner of such reservation, or of any interest therein, shall designate, pay in cash to the owner of such reservation, or to each owner of an interest therein in proportion to his interest, the fair market value of the reserved per centum of all such minerals mined, produced, extracted or otherwise taken from said real property, as the value and purchase price of the interest of the owner or owners of said reservation in the minerals so mined, produced, extracted or otherwise taken from said real property, and this obligation shall run with the unreserved portion of said minerals and be binding and obligatory upon any and all persons who mine, extract, produce or otherwise take any of the minerals from said real property. When the county is the owner of the reservation or of any interest therein, such payment shall be made to the county treasurer at such time or times as the board shall designate.

4481.3. Application of proceeds. Where the mineral reservations are in lands which represent a fund or funds, or in which a fund or funds have an interest (other than tax deed lands), the proceeds shall be applied to such fund or funds to the extent of such representation or interest, the balance to be credited to the general fund of the county. The contract shall be let to the newspaper that in the judgment of the county commissioners shall be most suitable for performing said work, provided, that the county commissioners shall require of any contractor to do such county printing, a good and sufficient undertaking in such sum as said commissioners may deem advisable, signed by at least two sufficient sureties, conditioned to the effect that said contractor will faithfully perform all the conditions of said contract in accordance with the terms thereof, or in any default thereof, said sureties shall pay the said county the sum mentioned in said undertaking as the penalty thereof; provided that nothing in this act shall be construed so as to compel the acceptance of unsatisfactory work; also provided, however, that this requirement shall not affect any contract made prior to the passage of this act. No such contract for printing shall extend for a period of more than two years. All newspapers which may receive any contract for printing under this act and which may not be able to execute any part of such contract shall be required to sub-let such contract or portion of contract to some newspaper or printing establishment within the state, which shall do the work under contract so sub-let entirely within the state with Montana labor.

Constitutionality

On the authority of Hersey v. Neilson, 47 M 132, and Stange v. Esval, 67 M 301, held that this section, requiring the contract for county printing to be let to a newspaper published in the particular county continuously for a period of one year immediately preceding its letting, is not void as in violation of the fifth and fourteenth amendments to the federal constitution, as depriving the county of the right to contract and granting a person a privilege or immunity not granted to another, or of section 26, article V of the state constitution, prohibiting the enactment of special or class legislation, or of sections 3 and 27, article III, thereof, as denying the county the right to contract and depriving it of property without due process of law. State ex rel. Woare v. Board of Commrs., 70 M 252, 253 et seq., 225 P 389.

Id. This section held not open to the objection that in making it compulsory upon the board of county commissioners to let the county printing to a newspaper in existence for a year or more even though its bid be higher than that of one not published for that length of time, it indirectly contravenes the provision of section 4, article XII, of the state constitution, prohibiting the levying of taxes upon the inhabitants or property in any county for municipal purposes, since a county is but a subdivision of the state for governmental purposes and as such subject to legislative control, and the state has power, as sovereign proprietor, to provide from whom and upon what terms it will purchase the supplies needed in the discharge of its governmental functions.

Qualification of Bidders

This section provides that the county commissioners shall contract for the county printing with some newspaper which has been published continuously within the county for at least one year immediately preceding the awarding of the contract. Two papers submitted bids, one of which had been established in the county about seven months, while the other had been published therein for several years. The contract was awarded to the former. Held, in a taxpayer's suit that the district court improperly denied an injunction to prevent the carrying out of the contract, it having been the duty of the county commissioners, under this section, to award the contract to the paper which met the requirement of publication within the county for at least one year preceding the awarding of the contract. Stange v. Esval et al., 67 M 301, 304, 215 P 807.

Held, that by the requirement of this section, county commissioners must contract with a newspaper of general circulation "published" within the county and which has been published therein at least one year, to perform the county printing, a paper is contemplated the work of composing, printing, issuing and distributing of which is done in the county, and not one the composition and printing of which is done in another county and sent to the county in which it maintains an office for distribution. State v. Board of County Commrs. et al., 77 M 316, 321, 250 P 606.

Id. This section, as construed above, held not to prohibit the use of "patent insides" used in small country newspapers, they not affecting the status of a paper so long as it otherwise meets the necessary requirements of a newspaper of general circulation.

Id. The fact that a weekly newspaper secured a government permit for entry in the postoffice as second-class matter at the county seat of the county in which it was distributed, though published in an adjoining county, is of no consequence in determining whether it was "published" in the former to qualify it as a bidder for county printing under this section.

Id. Where an eight-page newspaper for some four months of the year necessary to qualify it for bidding on county printing was published in another county, a "supplement" consisting of one sheet printed on one side, issued by the publisher in the former county during the four months, for which, however, no permit for entry in the postoffice had ever been obtained, which was included in and designated a part of the regular issue, and the name of which was subsequently changed to that of the regular paper, was not the newspaper contemplated by this section, and therefore not entitled under the name of the regular paper to bid on county printing.

Rates

This section, authorizing the board of county commissioners to contract for county printing does not authorize it to increase the rates therein prescribed; it, by fixing the maximum rates, by fair implication prohibits the payment of anything in excess thereof; therefore any claims allowed beyond the rates fixed are not legally chargeable against the county and may be recovered in an action by the county attorney in behalf of the county. Carbon County v. Draper, 84 M 413, 418 et seq., 276 P 667.

Id. The board of county commissioners is a quasi-judicial body and its action in examining, settling and allowing claims against the county, in the absence of fraud, is conclusive even though it be erroneous; therefore where it allows charges for public printing in excess of the contract price but less than the maximum rate fixed by law, the county may not recover the excess as an illegal charge.

Id. Held, under this section, a publisher may under his contract with a county for county printing, properly charge the full rate for printing blank forms for a less number than the minimum fixed by the section as the basis rate, and is not required to charge only a proportionate part of the price fixed therein.

Such expense shall be paid by the county or municipal corporation out of the general funds and unless the sum be repaid by the owner or occupant before October 15th next ensuing, the county clerk, or the city clerk, as the case may be, shall certify the amount thereof, with the description of the premises to be charged, and shall extend the same to the assessment list of the said county or city as a special tax on said land, but if the land for any reason be exempt from general taxation, the amount of such charge may be recovered of the owner in a civil action with costs.

Said property shall not be leased unless the lessee shall give a bond such as the board of county commissioners may deem sufficient. No lease shall be executed to permit the use of said premises during any time within three (3) weeks prior to the holding of a county fair. No lease shall be executed unless the lessee shall agree to furnish adequate police protection over all property so leased. Any lease shall be subject to immediate cancellation by the board of county commissioners in case lessee fails to maintain order or to properly police the grounds; provided nothing herein shall be construed to prevent county commissioners to permit schools to use fair grounds for athletic or other public school purposes.

Operation and Effect

Section 1627 places the specific legal duty upon the board of county commissioners to remove obstructions in a highway, and after notice thereof any member of the board who neglects to do so becomes personally liable under this section for any injury caused thereby, and they are not relieved of liability by merely instructing the road supervisor to erect and maintain barriers; hence an allegation in the complaint of one who has been injured, to the effect that the board had not instructed the supervisor to erect and maintain barriers, is not required to render the pleading sufficient. Becker v. Chapple et al., 72 M 199, 202 et seq., 232 P 538.

Operation and Effect

Held that in enacting this section relative to the care by counties of their indigent sick, poor and infirm, the policy of the legislature has been to impose a wide discretion in the county commissioners and that, in carrying out such policy, their power is not limited to placing the poor in the county poorhouse, where there is one, or to contract for their maintenance, but may, if they deem it proper, extend aid in the shape of fuel, groceries, clothing or by small doles of money, at their respective places of residence. Jones v. Cooney et al., 81 M 340, 263 P 429.

4522. Relatives to care for poor—penalty for neglect. Every person without means, who is unable to earn a livelihood in consequence of bodily infirmity, idiocy, lunacy, or other cause, must be supported by the father, grandfather, mother, grandmother, children, grandchildren, brothers, or sisters of such poor person, if they, or either of them, be of sufficient ability, in the order named; and every person who fails or refuses to support his or her father, grandfather, mother, grandmother, child, sister, or brother, in the order named, when directed by the board of county commissioners of the county where such poor person is found, whether such relative reside in the county or not, must pay to the county, for the use of such person, the sum of thirty dollars per month, which may be recovered in the name of the county.

4524.1. Relief to be worked out by able bodied male, when. Where there is an able bodied male person in the family applying for relief, the relief given in money or otherwise, must, when the board of county commissioners so require, be worked out at the prevailing rate of wages for the particular class of labor performed on all unbudgeted governmental work as may be designated by the board of county commissioners, as emergency relief work.

4525. Care of county poor and indigent sick and infirm—letting of contracts by commissioners. The board of county commissioners may, at its regular meeting in August of each year, make an order directing the clerk of the board to publish a notice in a newspaper inviting sealed proposals for the care, support and maintenance of the poor of the county per capita by the week for a period of one year, said proposals to include the entire cost of feeding, clothing and maintaining the county poor; and inviting sealed proposals for the care, support and maintenance of the indigent sick and infirm of the county for a period of one year, said proposals to include the entire cost of feeding, clothing, hospital care and nursing for such indigent sick and infirm and Christian and respectable burial expenses. Such notice must be published once a week for four successive weeks in the official newspaper of the county.

Operation and Effect

The several provisions of the statute, relating to the care of county charges, are to be construed together. State ex rel. Stuewe v. Hindson, 44 M 429, 439, 120 P 485.

Id. There is a manifest contradiction of terms in this section, but when read in connection with section 4526, it is evident that it was the intention of the legislature that bids should be asked for one year only, and that any contract made by the board of county commissioners for the care of the poor should run but one year.

4526. Contracts for care of poor and indigent sick and infirm. Separate proposals may be made for the care, support and maintenance of the county poor, and for the care and maintenance of the indigent sick and infirm of the county, and such proposals shall be addressed to the clerk of the board. The board may annually, at its September meeting, award a contract for the care, support and maintenance of the county poor for the ensuing year to the lowest responsible bidder or bidders therefor, and may also award a contract for the care and maintenance of the indigent sick and infirm of the county for the ensuing year to the lowest responsible bidder or bidders therefor; provided, that if the lowest responsible bidder or bidders for the care, support and maintenance of the county poor shall also be the lowest responsible bidder or bidders for the care and maintenance of the indigent sick and infirm of the county, both of such contracts may be awarded to such bidder or bidders; and provided further, that if a county owns a county poor farm, with suitable buildings of sufficient size to care for the poor and indigent sick and infirm of the county, the county commissioners of such county may employ some suitable person as superintendent of such poor farm, and the county may maintain the said poor and indigent sick and infirm at said farm at the expense of such county. Such superintendent shall at all times be under the control of and subject to the orders of the board of county commissioners, and may be removed by them at any time.

Operation and Effect

For a decision concerning the validity of a contract entered into by the board of county commissioners for the care of the poor under former statutes, see Lebecher v. Commrs. of Custer Co., 9 M 315, 23 P 713.

The board of county commissioners having the power, under section 4528, to reject all bids, no absolute duty is imposed upon it to accept the lowest responsible bid, and hence mandamus does not lie, either at the suit of an unsuccessful bidder or a taxpayer, to coerce the board to let the contract to the lowest responsible bidder. State ex rel. Stuewe v. Hindson, 44 M 429, 440, 120 P 485.

Id. The letting of contracts to the lowest bidder is for the benefit of the public; the provision requiring it does not confer any right upon the lowest bidder as such; but an unsuccessful bidder may, as a taxpayer, invoke the aid of a court, by mandamus, to compel action by the board, where it has failed to act.

Id. In advertising for bids for two years, and in assuming to let a contract to the highest bidder, the board exceeds its authority.

Id. A contract fraudulently let is a nullity.

4527. Contract for medicines and medical attendance. The board must annually, at their December meeting, make a contract with some resident practicing physician to furnish medical attendance to the sick, poor, and infirm of the county, and to the inmates of the county jail, and must also make provision for the furnishing of medicine to the same; provided, however, that the board may let such contract for the furnishing of medical attendance to the physician appointed by such board as county health officer, and may fix a salary or other rate of compensation to be paid to such county health officer for the furnishing of such medical attendance, which salary or other compensation shall be in addition to the salary of such physician as county health officer. Said board may also, when in its judgment the interests of the county require, appoint a deputy county health officer who need not be a resident of the county but who shall be located at a point where he can serve people living in a portion of said county adjacent to his point of residence. The boards of county commissioners of two or more adjacent counties may also, when in their opinion the needs of the county poor living at a distance from the residence of the county health officer, will be better served by such an arrangement, unite in employing a special deputy county health officer whose duty it shall be to attend to the needs of the county poor in any designated part of said adjacent counties.

The county commissioners of the several counties uniting in such an arrangement shall fix the compensation of such special deputy and such several counties shall bear the cost of same on some equitable division.

4528. Board may reject any bid. The board may reject the bid of and refuse to contract with any person whom they deem unsuitable as a contractor under the next three preceding sections.

Operation and Effect

The authority of the board to reject all bids is necessarily implied; and, if the situation warrants it, the board may readvertise. State ex rel. Stuewe v. Hindson, 44 M 429, 440, 120 P 485.

4529. Bond of contractor—duty of physician to examine and notify contractor. Any person with whom any such contract is made must execute a bond to the state in a sum not less than one thousand nor more than five thousand dollars, with two or more sureties, conditioned for the faithful performance of his contract; said bond to be approved by and filed with the chairman of the board. It is the duty of the physician with whom the contract for medical attendance is made to examine each week any person who is a charge upon the county, and if, after such examination, he is satisfied that such person is able to support and maintain himself, he must so notify the contractor having the person in charge, by leaving with the contractor a notice of the fact that such person requires no further medical attendance, and file a duplicate thereof with the clerk of the board. After the serving of said notice and filing the duplicate thereof with the clerk, the person mentioned therein ceases to be a charge upon the county.

4530. Persons falling sick to be cared for. When any non-resident without means is sick within any county in this state, and not able to pay his board, nursing, or medical attendance, the board must, on application being made, give assistance to such person as is necessary, and if the person dies, the board must give him a decent burial, and make allowance for the expenses incurred and order the same to be paid out of the county treasury.

4575. Resolution of intention—publication, mailing and notice. Before creating any special improvement district for the purpose of making any of the improvements, acquiring any private property for any purpose authorized by this act, the board of county commissioners shall pass a resolution of intention so to do, which resolution shall designate the number of such district, describe the boundaries thereof, and state therein the general character of the improvements which are to be made, designate the name of the engineer who is to have charge of the work, and an approximate estimate of the cost thereof. Upon having passed such a resolution the board of county commissioners must give notice of the passage of such resolution of intention, which notice must be published for ten consecutive days in a daily newspaper or in two issues of a weekly newspaper published nearest to the place where such improvement district is to be created, and shall also cause to be posted within the boundaries of such special improvement district, a copy of such notice in three public places, and a copy of such notice shall be mailed to every person, firm or corporation, or the agent of such person, firm or corporation owning property within the proposed district, at his last known place of residence upon the same day such notice is first published or posted.

Such notice must describe the general character of the improvement, or improvements, so proposed to be made, state the estimated cost thereof, and designate the time when, and the place where, the board of county commissioners will hear and pass upon all protests that may be made against the making or maintenance of such improvements, or the creation of such district, and the said notice shall refer to the resolution on file in the office of the county clerk for the description of the boundaries.

Operation and Effect

Failure to give the notice required by this section, in the attempted creation of a rural improvement district deprived the county of jurisdiction to proceed and a property owner, in his action to enjoin the collection of the tax against his property to pay for the improvement, was not estopped to deny the validity of the assessment by his omission to object to the creation of the district prior to its completion. Billings B. W. Assn. v. Yellow-tone Co., 70 M 401, 225 P 996.

4576. Extension of district by county commissioners, when. Whenever a contemplated work, or improvement, in the opinion of the board of county commissioners, is of more than local or ordinary public benefit, or whenever according to the estimates furnished by the county surveyor or an engineer approved by the board of county commissioners and designated in the petition, the total estimated cost and expenses thereof would exceed one-half of the total assessed value of the lots and lands assessed, if assessed upon the lots and lands fronting upon such proposed work or improvement according to the valuation fixed by the last assessment-roll, whereon it was assessed for taxes, the board of county commissioners may make the expense of such work chargeable upon the extended district, and which may include other lots and lands not fronting on the improvement, and which the said board of county commissioners shall in its resolution of intention declare to be the district benefited by said work or improvements, and to be assessed to pay the cost and expense thereof.

4577. Protests against creation or extension of district—hearing. At any time within fifteen days after the date of the first publication of the notice of the passage of the resolution of intention, any owner of property liable to be assessed for said work may make written protest against the proposed work or against the extending or creation of the district to be assessed, or both. Such protest must be in writing and be delivered to the county clerk, who shall endorse thereon the date of its receipt by him. At the next regular meeting of the board of county commissioners, after the expiration of the time within which said protest may be so made, the board of county commissioners shall proceed to hear and pass upon all protests so made, and its decision shall be final and conclusive; provided, however, that when the protest is against the proposed work and the cost thereof is to be assessed upon the property fronting thereon, and the board of county commissioners finds that such protest is made by the owners of more than fifty per cent of the area fronting on the proposed work, or when the protest is against the proposed work and the cost thereof is to be assessed upon the property within the extended district, and the board of county commissioners finds that such protest is made by the owners of more than one-half of the area of the property to be assessed for such improvements, no further proceedings shall be taken for a period of six months from the date when said protest was received by the said county clerk, except in case the improvements are the construction of sanitary sewers, when the said protests may be overruled by a unanimous vote of the board of county commissioners. In determining whether or not sufficient protests have been filed in the proposed district to prevent further proceedings therein, property owned by the county shall be considered the same as other property in the district. The board of county commissioners may adjourn said hearing from time to time.

4578. Jurisdiction attaches, when—resolution creating district. When no protests have been delivered to the county clerk within fifteen days after the date of the first publication of the notice of the passing of the resolution of intention, or when a protest shall have been found by said board of county commissioners to be insufficient, or shall have been overruled, or when a protest against the extending of the proposed district shall have been heard and denied, immediately thereupon the board of county commissioners shall be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction to order improvements, but before ordering any of the said proposed improvements, the board of county commissioners shall pass a resolution creating the said special improvement district in accordance with the resolution of intention theretofore introduced and passed by the board of county commissioners.

4579. Sufficiency of subsequent resolutions, etc. In all resolutions, notices, orders and determinations subsequent to the resolution of intention and notice of improvements it shall be sufficient to briefly describe the work or the assessment district, or both, and to refer to the resolution of intention for further particulars.

4580. Notice inviting proposals—publication and posting—opening bids—re-advertisement. A notice inviting proposals and referring to specifications on file with the engineer selected as hereinbefore provided, shall be published at least twice in a daily, semi-weekly or weekly newspaper published and circulated nearest to the boundaries of the said proposed improvement district, and which paper shall be designated by the board of county commissioners for that purpose, and a copy of said notice shall be posted in at least three public places within the boundaries of the proposed district.

The board of county commissioners may call for bids for proposals for several kinds or types of materials for any of the improvements proposed, reserving the right to select the kind of type or materials to be used in making any or all of said improvements after the bids or proposals therefor shall have been opened, examined and declared.

The time fixed for the opening of the bids shall not be less than fifteen days from the time of the final publication of said notice. All proposals or bids offered shall be accompanied by a check payable to the board of county commissioners, certified by a responsible bank, for an amount which shall not be less than ten per cent. of the aggregate of said proposal. Such proposals or bids shall be delivered to the county clerk, and the board of county commissioners shall, in open session, publicly open and examine and declare the same; provided, however, that no proposal or bid shall be considered unless accompanied by said check.

The board of county commissioners may reject any and all proposals or bids should it deem this for the public good, and also the bid of any party who has been delinquent or unfaithful in any former contract with the board of county commissioners, and shall reject all proposals, other than the lowest regular proposal or bid of any responsible bidder, and may award the contract for such work or improvement, to the lowest responsible bidder at the prices named in his bid.

If the bids are rejected or no bids are received the board of county commissioners may within six months thereafter re-advertise for proposals or bids for the performance of the work as in the first instance, without further proceedings, and thereafter proceed in the manner in this section provided, and shall thereupon return to the proper parties the checks accompanying the bids so rejected, but the check accompanying said accepted proposal or bid shall be held by the county clerk until the contract for doing said work as hereinafter provided has been entered into, either by the said lowest bidder, or by the owners of over fifty per cent. of frontage, whereupon said certified check shall be returned to said bidder, but if said bidder fails, neglects or refuses to enter into the contract to perform said work and improvements as hereinafter provided, then the certified check accompanying his bid, in the amount herein mentioned, shall be declared to be forfeited to the said board of county commissioners, and shall be collected by it, and paid into the general fund of the county.

4581. Reletting or completion of contract on delinquency of contractor.

If the contractor who may have taken any contract does not complete same within the time limited in the contract, or within such further time as may be given him, the engineer selected as hereinbefore provided shall report such delinquency to the board of county commissioners, which may relet the unfinished portion of said work, after pursuing the formalities prescribed herein for the letting of the whole in the first instance, or the board of county commissioners shall have the right, in its option, to complete the contract and deduct any cost in excess of the contract price thereof from any money, bonds or warrants, due such contractor, and in the event there is no money, bonds or warrants due such contractor from which to deduct such cost, then and in such event the board of county commissioners shall have the right to sue such contractor and recover from him such costs.

4582. Bond of contractor or contracting owners. All contractors and contracting owners included shall at the time of executing any contract for any work, execute a bond to the satisfaction and approval of the board of county commissioners, with two or more sureties, payable to said county in a sum not less than twenty-five per cent. of the amount of the contract, conditioned for the faithful performance of the contracts, indemnifying the county from any detriment, damage or loss growing out of said work, and the sureties shall justify before any person competent to administer an oath in double the amount mentioned in said bond, over and above all statutory exemptions; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be considered as to prevent or prohibit the board of county commissioners from requiring or accepting in any case a bond furnished by a surety company authorized to transact business in the state of Montana.

4583. Notice of defects or irregularities—objections. At any time within sixty days from the date of the awarding of a contract, any owner or other person having any interest in any lot, tract or plot of land liable to assessment, who claims that any of the previous acts or proceedings relating to said improvements are irregular, defective, erroneous or faulty, or that his property will be damaged by the making of any of the improvements in the manner contemplated, may file with the county clerk a written notice specifying in what respect said acts or proceedings are irregular, defective, erroneous or faulty, or in what manner and to what extent his property will be damaged by the making of said improvements. Said notice shall state that it is made in pursuance of this section. All objections in any act or proceeding or in relation to the making of said improvements must be made in writing and in the manner and at the time aforesaid, and all claims for damages therefor shall be waived by such property owner, in case no written objection is filed by him; provided, that notice of the passage of the resolution of intention has been actually published and the notice of improvements posted as provided in this act.

4584. Assessment of costs—apportionment of costs—railroads. To defray the cost of making any of the improvements provided for in this act, the board of county commissioners shall adopt the following method of assessment: The board of county commissioners shall assess the entire cost of such improvements against the entire district and each lot or parcel of land assessed in such district to be assessed with the percentage of the whole cost which its assessed valuation as determined by the last preceding assessment roll of the county bears to the total assessed value of all the property in the district; provided, however, that the board of county commissioners in its discretion shall have the power to pay the whole or any part of the cost of any street, avenue or alley intersection out of any funds in its hands available for that purpose, or to include the whole or any part of such costs within the amount of the assessment to be paid by the property in the district. In order to apportion the cost of any of the improvements herein provided for, between the corner lots and inside lots of any block, the board of county commissioners may in the resolution creating any improvement district provide that whenever any of the improvements herein provided for, water systems excepted, shall be along any side street or abutting upon the side of any corner lot or block, that the amount of the assessment against the property in said district to defray the cost of such improvements shall be so assessed that such corner lot or block shall bear double the amount assessed against any inside lot of equal area. Whenever any portion of the surface of a street is kept or used by any person, firm or corporation for railroad or for street railway purposes, the cost and expense of making such improvements between the rails and for one foot on each side thereof shall be paid by the person, firm or corporation owning such railroad, and where double tracks of railroads are laid, such person, firm or corporation shall pay the costs of making such improvement or improvements between such tracks and between all switches and spurs.

4585. Federal property omitted from assessment. Whenever any lot, piece or parcel of land belonging to the United States or mandatory of the government shall front upon the proposed work or improvement, or to be included within the district declared by the board of county commissioners in its resolution of intention to be a district to be assessed to pay the cost and expenses thereof, the said board of county commissioners shall in the resolution of intention declare that said lots, pieces or parcels of land or any of them shall be omitted from the assessment thereto to be made to cover the cost and expenses of said work or improvement and the cost of said work or improvement in front of said lots, pieces or parcels of land shall be paid by the county from its general fund.

Operation and Effect

In an action by the receiver of a national bank to recover an assessment paid under protest for improvements in a rural improvement district under this section on the ground that the bank was a "mandatory" of the government and therefore exempt, complaint held insufficient for failure to allege that the property was excluded from liability in the resolution of intention to create the district or that plaintiff acquired the property prior to the time it was passed by the board of county commissioners. Swords v. Simineo, 68 M 164, 170, 216 P 806.

Held, that an irrigation company engaged in the reclamation of arid lands, under the Carey act is not a mandatory of the federal government, and therefore not exempt from assessments for special improvements. Billings B. W. Assn. v. Yellowstone Co., 70 M 401, 225 P 996.

4586. Tax levy—resolution—term of years. To defray the cost of making improvements in any special improvement district, the board of county commissioners shall, by resolution, levy and assess a tax upon all property in the district created for such purpose, by using for a basis for such assessment the method provided for by this act. Such resolution shall contain a description of each lot or parcel of land, with the name of the owner, if known, and the amount of each partial payment, when made, and the day when the same shall become delinquent. The payment of the assessment to defray the cost of constructing any improvements in special improvement districts may be spread over a term of not to exceed ten years, payment to be made in equal annual instalments.

4587. Notice of resolution—contents—objections. Such resolution, signed by the chairman of the board of county commissioners, shall be kept on file in the office of the county clerk, and a notice signed by the county clerk, stating that the resolution levying a special assessment to defray the cost of making such improvements is on file in the office of the county clerk, subject to inspection, shall be published at least one publication in a newspaper published nearest to where the special improvement is to be made. Such notice shall state the time and place in which objections to the final adoption of such resolution will be heard by the board of county commissioners, and the time for such hearing shall be not less than five days after the publication of such notice. At the time so fixed, the board of county commissioners shall meet and hear all such objections, and for that purpose may adjourn from day to day and may by resolution modify such assessment in whole or in part. A copy of such resolution, certified by the county clerk, must be delivered to the county treasurer two days after its passage.

4588. Damages to be added to costs, when—additional assessments. Whenever the owner or any one interested in any property, situate in the special improvement district, after having filed with the county clerk a written notice, claiming that his property had been damaged, shall be awarded or recover any amount on account of damages sustained to said property by the reason of the construction of any improvement in said special improvement district, before the resolution levying the assessment to defray the cost of making such improvements in said district has been passed and adopted by the board of county commissioners, the amount so ordered as recovered shall be added to and constitute a part of making such improvements, but if the resolution levying the assessment to defray the cost and expenses of making said improvements has been passed and adopted by the board of county commissioners, it shall pass and adopt a supplemental resolution levying an additional assessment against the property in said district for the purpose of paying the amount so awarded of covering the said supplemental resolution, and shall be made in the same manner and prepared and certified the same as the original resolution levying the assessment to defray the cost of making such improvements.

tion of any special improvement district, including the cost of preparation of plans, specifications, maps, plats, engineering, superintendence and inspection, and preparation of assessment-rolls, shall be considered a part of the cost and expenses of making the improvements within such special improvement districts, and it shall be the duty of the engineer selected as hereinbefore provided to keep an account of all costs and expenses incurred in his office in connection with every special improvement district, and certify the same to the county clerk, whose duty it shall be to prepare all necessary schedules and resolution levying the taxes and assessments in such special improvement district.

4590. Special assessments, etc., a lien on property. Any special assessment made and levied to defray the cost and expenses of any of the work enumerated in this act, together with any percentages imposed for delinquency and for cost of collection, shall constitute a lien upon and against the property upon which such assessment is made and levied, and from and after the date of the passage of the resolution levying such assessment, which lien can only be extinguished by payment of such assessment, with all penalties, costs and interest.

4591. Effect of misnomer or mistake. When under any of the provisions of this act special taxes and assessments are assessed against any lot or parcel of land as the property of a particular person, no misnomer of the owner or supposed owner, or other mistake, relating to the ownership thereof, shall affect such assessment or render it void or voidable.

4592. Maintenance of improvements—resolution—change in maintenance districts. Whenever any sanitary or storm sewers, lights or light systems, water-works plants, water systems, or sidewalks, or any other special improvements petitioned for, or created by the state or federal government, have been made, built, constructed, erected or accomplished as in this act provided, it is hereby made the duty of the board of county commissioners, under whose jurisdiction the district was created or supervised or directed, adequately and suitably to maintain and preserve said improvements and fully to keep the same in proper repair and operations by contract or otherwise, in such way or manner as the board shall deem suitable and proper. The whole cost of maintaining, preserving and repairing of said improvements in any improvement district shall be paid by assessing the entire district in the method provided for by section 4576 of this code. It shall be the duty of the board to estimate as near as practicable the cost of maintaining, preserving or repairing the improvements in each district for each year beginning January first or such other time as it may appear necessary; and before the first Monday in September of each year the board shall pass and finally adopt a resolution levying and assessing all the property within the district within an amount equal to the whole cost of maintaining, preserving or repairing said improvements within the district, and the same shall be proportioned as provided in section 4576, supra. Said resolution levying assessments to defray the cost of maintenance, preservation or repairs of such improvements shall be prepared and certified to in the manner as near as may be to a resolution levying assessments for making, constructing and installing the improvements in said special improvement districts, and the money collected therefor shall be paid into a fund known as Special Improvement District No.....Maintenance Fund, the number of which shall correspond with the number of special improvement district in which the improvements so maintained are situated; and such fund shall be used to defray the expense of maintenance, preservation or repair of said improvements, and for not other purpose. Any special assessment levied and made for any of the purposes in this section mentioned, together with all costs and penalties, shall constitute a lien upon and against the property upon which said assessment is made and levied from and after the date of the final passage and adoption of the resolution levying the same, which lien can only be extinguished by payment of such assessment, with all penalties, costs and interest.

The board shall have the power not more than once a year of changing, by resolution, the boundaries of any maintenance district.

4594. Contracts payable in warrants—conversion into cash, when. Whether provided in the call for proposals, or not, all contracts let under the provisions of this act shall be payable in bonds or warrants issued under the provisions hereof, and the board of county commissioners may provide by contract with the person, persons or corporation doing the work, or making the improvement, or maintaining, preserving, or repairing the same, for the payment of which such warrants or bonds are issued, to deliver the said warrants or bonds in instalments as the work progresses, or upon the entire completion thereof; provided, however, that no warrants or bonds must be delivered to such contractor or contractors in excess of the amount of work actually done at the time of the delivery; nor shall the total amount issued be in excess of the total cost and expense of the improvements, and no warrants or bonds shall be delivered or received in payment of a less sum than its face value. And when it becomes necessary to pay for private property taken for the opening, widening or extending of any street, avenue or alley, or to pay any amount awarded or covered on account of damages to any property caused by the making of any improvements, in money, in cases where the persons whose property is so taken or damaged, refuse to receive pay in warrants or bonds, then the board of county commissioners shall have the power, under such regulations as it may prescribe, to sell such bonds or warrants for not less than par, and devote the moneys derived therefrom to the payment of the damages assessed or agreed upon for such property or the damages thereto.

4595. County treasurer to collect assessments. It shall be the duty of the county treasurer, in accordance with the provisions of the revised codes of Montana, where any resolution of assessment, either for construction or maintenance, has been duly certified by the county clerk, to collect such assessment in the same manner and at the same time as taxes for general and municipal purposes are collected by him.

4596. Correction of erroneous or invalid assessment. Whenever, by reason of any alleged non-conformity to any law, or by reason of any omission or irregularity, any special tax or assessment is either invalid or its validity is questioned, the board of county commissioners may make all necessary orders and may take all necessary steps to correct the same, and to re-assess and re-levy the same, including the ordering of work, with the same force and effect as it made at the time provided by law, or resolution relating thereto; and may re-assess and re-levy the same with the same force and effect as an original levy; whenever any apportionment or assessment is made, and any property is assessed too little or too much, the same may be corrected and re-assessed for such additional amount as may be proper, or the assessment may be reduced even to the extent of refunding the tax collected. Any special tax upon re-assessment or re-levy shall, so far as it is practicable, be levied and collected as the same would have been if the first levy had been enforced; and any provision of any law specifying a time when, or order in which acts shall be done in a proceeding which may result in a special tax shall be taken to be subject to the qualifications of this act. Any and every rule and regulation of any board of county commissioners passed in substantial conformity with this section is hereby legalized.

4597. Payment of tax under protest—action to recover. When any tax levied and assessed under any of the provisions of this act is deemed unlawful by the party whose property is thus taxed, or from whom such tax is demanded, such person may pay such tax or any part thereof deemed unlawful under protest to the county treasurer, and thereupon such party so paying, or his legal representative, may bring an action in any court of competent jurisdiction against the officer to whom such tax was paid, or against the county in whose behalf the same was collected, to recover such tax or any portion thereof so paid under protest; provided, however, that any action instituted to recover such tax paid under protest must be commenced within sixty days after the date of payment thereof. The tax so paid under protest shall be held by the county treasurer until the determination of any action brought for the recovery thereof.

4598. Mistake not to vitiate liens. Any mistake in the description of property or the name of the owner shall not vitiate any liens created by this act, unless it is impossible to identify the property from the description.

8. 4600. Jurisdiction of board preserved on adjournment—notice of hearing. Whenever in proceedings hereunder, a time and place for hearing by the board of county commissioners is fixed, and, from any cause the hearing is not then and there held or regularly adjourned to a time and place fixed, the power and jurisdiction of the board of county commissioners in the premises shall not be thereby divested or lost, but the board of county commissioners may proceed anew to fix a time and place for the hearing and cause notice thereof to be given by publication by at least one insertion in a daily, semi-weekly or weekly newspaper, such publication to be at least five days before the date of the hearing, and thereupon the board of county commissioners shall have power to act in as in the first instance.

4601.1. Maintenance of lighting system in rural improvement districts—contract for furnishing light—apportionment of costs—maintenance fund—lien of assessment. When there has been, or shall be, created a rural improvement district, according to the provisions of sections 4574 through 4603, for the purpose of securing a lighting system for the territory embraced in such rural improvement district, and no expense of construction is incurred by such rural improvement district in the installation of such lighting system, and it is necessary only to secure funds for the maintenance and operation of said system, and lights for said territory can best be secured by entering a contract for such lighting with some other person or corporation, the board of county commissioners of such county may enter into a contract with other persons or corporation for the purpose of furnishing light to said rural improvement district. The cost of said service to said rural improvement district may be apportioned among the various tracts of land within said improvement district in proportion to the assessed value of said lands as determined by the said board of county commissioners, and before the first Monday of September of each year, the board of county commissioners shall pass, and finally adopt, a resolution levying and assessing all the property within the district, an amount equal to the whole cost of maintaining said lighting system, and the same shall be proportioned against the several tracts of land in said district as provided herein. Said resolution levying assessments to defray the cost of maintenance shall be prepared and certified to in the manner as near as may be to a resolution levying assessments for making, constructing, and installing the improvements in said special improvement districts, and the money collected therefor, shall be paid into a fund known as Special Improvement District No..... Maintenance Fund, the number of which shall correspond with the number of the special improvement district in which the improvements so maintained are situated, and such funds shall be used to defray the expense of maintenance of said system, and for no other purpose. Any such assessment levied and made for any purpose in this section mentioned, together with all cost and penalties, shall constitute a lien upon and against the property upon which said assessments are made and levied from and after the date of the final passage and adoption of the resolution levying the same, which lien can be only extinguished by payment of such assessments, with all penalties, costs and interest.

4601.2. Power to change boundaries—application of act. The board has the power not more than once a year of changing, by resolution, the boundaries of any maintenance district. Provisions of this act shall only apply to the method of securing funds for the maintenance of rural improvement districts for lighting systems.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 58, L. 1933.

CLAIMS AGAINST COUNTIES—COUNTY WARRANTS

|---------|--|
| Section | 4604. County officer not to present certain claims against county. |
| | 4605. Claims to be itemized and verified—time for presenting. |
| | 4605.1. Request for bids necessary in making purchases exceeding one thousand dollars. |
| | 4606. In what transactions commissioners not to be interested. |
| | 4607. Claims in favor of county commissioners. |

- 4608. Payment of claims incurred in counties of the first class.
- 4609. Account must be filed prior to session.
- 4610. Appeals.
- 4611. Duty of clerk on appeals.
- 4612. Warrants—specification—presentation and payment.
- 4613. Annual examination of warrants by board.

4604. County officer not to present certain claims against county. No county officer must, except for his own service, present any claim, account, or demand for allowance against the county, nor in any way advocate the relief asked on the claim or demand made by another. Any citizen and taxpayer of the county in which he resides may appear before the board and oppose the allowance of any claim or demand made against the county.

History: En. Sec. 4285, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2944, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4604, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4071.

Operation and Effect

While mere benefits received will not ordinarily create an implied promise to pay, where a county (or other municipal corporation) is required by law to furnish one of its officers with the necessary equipment for the performance of his duties, and it does not do so but knowingly permits him to use his own equipment, receiving benefits therefrom, it is liable for the reasonable value of its use as upon an implied contract. Hicks v. Still- water County, 84 M 38, 42 et seq., 274 P 296.

Id. This section, providing that a county officer must not present any claim against the county, except for his own services, nor aid another in procuring allowance of a demand against the county, does not bar an officer from presenting a valid claim against the county, such as the one above referred to, the provision being merely intended to bar the officer from championing the claims of third persons.

4605. Claims to be itemized and verified—time for presenting. No account must be allowed by the board unless the same is made out in separate items, the nature of each item stated, and is verified by affidavit showing that the account is just and wholly unpaid; and if it is for official services for which no specified fees are fixed by law, the time actually and necessarily devoted to such service must be stated. Every claim against the county must be presented within a year after the last item accrued.

What Is a Claim Against the County

A claim against a county for the repayment of taxes paid under protest was an "account" within the meaning of a section similar to the above. Powder River Cattle Co. v. Commrs. of Custer County, 9 M 145, 152, 153, 22 P 383.

The subject-matter of an action against a county by which it was sought to obtain compensation for land taken for road purposes under an agreement, the consideration for which failed, is not a "claim" against the county, within the meaning of this section, an action on which is barred if not brought within one year after its accrual. Flynn v. Beaverhead County, 54 M 309, 314, 170 P 13.

A section similar to the above was held not to apply to the claim of a surveyor for services performed by virtue of his employment under the terms of a special act creating a boundary commission for the survey of the boundaries of certain counties, and empowering such commission to ascertain the expenses incurred in such survey, and to certify to and file with the county clerks of their respective counties the amount thereof. Kornburg v. Commrs. Deer Lodge Co., 10 M 325, 329, 25 P 1041.

A person who serves as a member of a sheriff's posse in obedience to a law requiring him to do so, cannot recover from the county for expenses or services rendered, in the absence of an express or implied provision of law authorizing payment therefor. Sears v. Gallatin County, 20 M 462, 465, 52 P 204. See State ex rel. McGrade v. District Court, 52 M 371, 376, 157 P 1157.

A claim against the county within the meaning of this section the presentation of which to the board of county commissioners is a condition precedent of an action for its recovery, does not comprehend a claim by a school district for its proportion of interest and penalties retained by the county on redemption of property from tax sale, it presenting a question of the law dependent upon the meaning of statutes, thus leaving no room for the exercise of discretion lodged in the board in passing upon the average claim presented for allowance. School Dist. No. 12 v. Pondera Co., 89 M 342, 351, 297 P 498.

Pleading

A complaint in an action against a county to recover witness fees, which failed to allege that the claim had been presented under oath to the county, in separate items, with the nature of each item stated, was held to be defective. First Nat. Bank v. Custer County, 7 M 464, 472, 17 P 551.

The presentation of a claim to the board of county commissioners is a condition precedent to the commencement of an action against the county for its recovery. Powder River Cattle Co. v. Commrs. of Custer County, 9 M 145, 152, 22 P 383; Greeley v. Cascade County, 22 M 580, 588, 57 P 274. See also First Nat. Bank of Billings v. Custer County, 7 M 464, 472, 17 P 551.

4605.1. Request for bids necessary in making purchases exceeding one thousand dollars. No contract shall be entered into by a board of county commissioners for the purchase of any automobile, truck or other vehicle, or road machinery, or other machinery, apparatus, appliances or equipment, or materials, or supplies of any kind, for which must be paid a sum in excess of one thousand dollars ($1,000), without first publishing a notice calling for bids for furnishing the same, which notice must be published at least once a week, for three consecutive weeks before the date fixed therein for receiving bids, in the official newspaper of the county, and every such contract shall be let to the lowest and best responsible bidder; provided, however, that this act shall not apply to contracts for purchases, which in the opinion of the board are made necessary by fire, flood, explosion, storm, earthquake, or other elements, epidemic, riot, insurrection, or for the immediate preservation of order, or of the public health, or for the restoration of a condition of usefulness which has been destroyed by accident, wear or tear, mischief, or for the relief of a stricken community overtaken by calamity.

4606. In what transactions commissioners not to be interested. No member of the board must be interested, directly or indirectly, in any property purchased for the use of the county, nor in any purchase or sale of property belonging to the county, nor in any contract made by the board or other person on behalf of the county, for the erection of public buildings, the opening or improvement of roads, or the building of bridges, or the purchasing of supplies, or for any other purpose.

4607. Claims in favor of county commissioners. All claims against the county presented by members of the board for per diem and mileage, or other service rendered by them, must be verified as other claims, and must state that the service has been actually rendered.

sioners' claims for compensation shall be formulated, and is designed in connection with section 4605 to enable the board to determine in the first instance whether it will even consider the claim. The effect of the section is not to authorize compensation to county commissioners, for attending to business of the county other than meetings of the board, and inspecting and overseeing road work, without a previous order of the board, charges for which services are otherwise illegal. State v. Story, 53 M 573, 582, 583, 165 P 748.

4608. Payment of claims incurred in counties of the first class. The board of county commissioners in any county of the first class may, in its discretion, allow any claims for services rendered or labor performed for or on behalf of the county by any person at the request of any county officer, whether or not such county officer was empowered or authorized to secure, obtain, or contract for the rendition of any such service rendered or labor performed, where the person holding such claim has presented the same in due time in the manner provided by law, prior to the passage of this act; provided, that such claims shall not exceed the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars for any one year.

4609. Account must be filed prior to session. No account must be necessarily passed upon by the board, unless made out as prescribed in the preceding section and filed by the clerk prior to the session at which it is asked to be heard.

4610. Appeals. Whenever a claim against a county is disallowed in whole or in part, or where any taxpayer of the county is not satisfied with any allowance made by the board, the claimant or such taxpayer may appeal from the decision of the board to the district court for the county, by causing a written notice of appeal to be served on the clerk of the board, within thirty days after the making of the decision or allowance, and executing a bond to the county, with surety to be approved by the clerk of the board, conditioned to prosecute such appeal to effect and to pay all costs that may be adjudged against the appellant.

Appeal of Portion of Allowance

An appeal may be taken by a taxpayer from one or more items of a claim against the county allowed by the commissioners, without appealing from the whole of the allowance. Twohy v. Board of Commrs. of Granite County, 17 M 461, 464, 43 P 494.

Board Must Allow or Disallow Claims

When the auditor has disapproved a claim, the board must disallow it so that the claimant may proceed to enforce it against the county by appeal to the district court. State ex rel. Dolin v. Major, 58 M 140, 151, 192 P 618.

Effect of Failure to Appeal

Failure of a taxpayer to appeal to the district court from an order of the board of county commissioners allowing a claim against the county under the authority given him by this section does not limit the right of the county attorney to sue in the name of the county to recover moneys illegally paid under section 4821. Carbon County v. Draper, 84 M 413, 418, 419, 276 P 667.

Independent Action on Claim

A claimant against a county has the right to maintain an independent action on a claim rejected by the board of commissioners in view of section 9035. Greeley v. Cascade County, 22 M 580, 586, 57 P 274.

Judgment on Appeal

Where a taxpayer took an appeal to the district court from an allowance by a board of county commissioners of a claim against a county under a statute similar to the above, and thereafter a judgment by default was rendered by such court upon the failure of the board to appear, adjudging such claim illegal and setting aside the allowance of the same, without a trial or inquiry of any character respecting its merits, such judgment was unauthorized and constituted no defense to an application for a writ of mandamus to compel the payment by the county treasurer of a warrant issued in payment of such claim. State ex rel. Cope v. Minar, 13 M 1, 4, 31 P 723.

Notice on Appeal

Where an appeal was taken by a taxpayer from the allowance by the commissioners of a bill against the county, and a notice of appeal was served upon the county clerk, and the clerk thereupon transmitted the proceedings in the case, with the copy of the notice of appeal, to the district court, all of which was done under statutes similar to those now in force, it was held that the clerk thereby waived any irregularity or insufficiency of the service of the notice. Twohy v. Board of Commrs. of Granite County, 17 M 461, 463, 43 P 494.

Id. On an appeal by a taxpayer from the allowance by the commissioners of a claim against the county under a similar statute, service of the notice of appeal upon the claimant whose bill was allowed was not considered necessary to give the district court jurisdiction, but it was the duty of the court, after acquiring jurisdiction, to give the claimant notice of the pendency of the case and an opportunity to be heard before rendering judgment.

4611. Duty of clerk on appeals. The clerk of the board, upon an appeal being taken, must immediately give notice thereof to the county attorney and must make out a return of the proceedings in the matter before the board, with its decision thereon, and file the same, together with the bond and all the papers therein in his possession, with the clerk of the district court; and such appeal must be entered, tried, and determined the same as appeals from justices' courts, and costs are awarded in like manner.

Appeals How Tried

Appeals from actions of boards of county commissioners are prosecuted and tried like appeals from a justice of the Parties

In the case of claims against counties, the claimant, or the objecting taxpayer, and the county are the real parties in interest, and therefore adversary parties. State ex rel. Hackshaw v. District Court, 48 M 477, 480, 138 P 1100.

On appeal from an order of the board of county commissioners allowing or disallowing a claim under this and the following section, the parties are the county and the claimant, or, in a taxpayer's suit, the county and the objecting taxpayer. Albers v. Barnett, 53 M 71, 79, 161 P 518.

Record on Appeal

Where an appeal from an order of the board of county commissioners disallowing a claim against the county was submitted to the district court without a hearing, resulting in a reversal of the order, the contention of the county attorney made on appeal from the court's order declining to set aside its decision on the ground of inadvertence and mistake based on the assertion that the clerk of the board had failed to lodge with the court a copy of the board's record in the case, held not sustained, it being apparent that to arrive at its decision the court must have impliedly found that the proper record was before it. Huntington v. Yellowstone County, 80 M 20, 23, 257 P 1041.

District Court*, 48 M 477, 480, 138 P 1100; Thien v. Wiltse, 49 M 189, 194, 141 P 146; State ex rel. Lockwood v. Tyler, 64 M 124, 131, 208 P 1081.

peace. State ex rel. Seres v. District Court, 19 M 501, 504, 48 P 1104.

The language of the last clause of this section can mean no more than that the court may try de novo the question whether the action of the board in its allowance or disallowance was correct, and so declare. The board is not a court, and its action is not tantamount to a judgment. Its refusal to allow a claim is not conclusive, even though the claimant does not appeal. Greeley v. Cascade County, 22 M 580, 586, 57 P 274; Albers v. Barnett, 53 M 71, 80, 161 P 518.

Jurisdiction on Appeal

The jurisdiction of the district court on appeal from an order made by county commissioners allowing or disallowing a claim against the county is limited to the determination of the question whether the action of the board was correct and to a declaration affirming or reversing it, with a judgment for costs. Albers v. Barnett, 53 M 71, 80, 161 P 518.

Waiver of Notice

By denying a county attorney's motion to set aside its decision reversing an order of the board of county commissioners disallowing a claim against the county, asked for on the ground of inadvertence and mistake in that the clerk of the board had failed to give him notice of the appeal as required by this section the court impliedly found as contended by respondent, that the county attorney had waived notice by agreeing to a submission of the cause without hearing or argument, and in denying the motion it did not abuse the discretion lodged in it by section 9187. Huntington v. Yellowstone County, 80 M 20, 23, 257 P 1041.

4612. Warrants—specification—presentation and payment. Warrants drawn by order of the board on the county treasurer for the current expenses during each year must specify the liability for which they are drawn and when they accrued, and must be paid in the order of presentation to the treasurer. If the fund is insufficient to pay any warrant, it must be registered and thereafter paid in the order of its registration.

Operation and Effect

An action cannot be maintained against a county on a county warrant. Greeley v.

4613. Annual examination of warrants by board. The board, at its annual March session, or oftener if necessary, must examine the county warrants returned by the county treasurer, by comparing each warrant with the record of warrants issued in the county clerk's office. The board must cause to be entered on said record, opposite to the entry of each warrant issued, the date when the same was canceled; and make a list of the warrants so canceled, specifying the number, date, amount, and the person to whom the same was payable, and enter the same on the minutes of the board. The board must cause to be canceled all county warrants that have remained one year or more uncalled for in the county clerk's office, the same to be canceled in the same manner as other county warrants. At the same time the county treasurer must deliver to the board all warrants or vouchers that he may have in his possession for moneys disbursed by him as treasurer, and the clerk must receipt for the same.

- 4613.9. Construction of act.
- 4613.10. Violation of act constitutes misdemeanor.

4613.1. County budget—estimates by county officers of revenues and expenditures—form of estimates—penalty for failure to file. On or before the first day of July of each year the county clerk and recorder of each county shall notify in writing each county official, elective or appointive, in charge of an office, department, service or institution of the county to file with such county clerk and recorder, on or before the tenth day of July following, detailed and itemized estimates, both of the probable revenues from sources other than taxation, and of all expenditures required by such office, department, service or institution for the current fiscal year. The county commissioners shall submit to the county clerk and recorder the estimate of expenditures for all purposes for such board, and a detailed statement showing all new road and bridge construction to be financed from county road and bridge funds, any special road district funds, and from any special highway fund, and from bond issues theretofore issued or authorized, if any, for the current fiscal year, together with the cost thereof as computed by the county surveyor, or if for construction in charge of a special engineer then by such engineer, and it shall be the duty of the county surveyor and any such special engineer to prepare such estimates of cost for the county commissioners. They shall also submit a similar statement showing road and bridge maintenance expenditures as nearly as can be estimated.

The county commissioners shall also submit to the county clerk and recorder detailed estimates of all expenditures for construction or improvement purposes proposed to be made from the proceeds of bond issues not yet authorized and from the proceeds of tax levies which are required to be submitted to and approved at an election to be thereafter held.

The estimates required in this section shall be submitted on forms provided by the county clerk and recorder, and prescribed by the state examiner, and may only be varied or departed from with permission and approval of said officer. The county treasurer shall prepare the estimates for interest and debt reduction. The county clerk and recorder shall prepare all other estimates the preparation of which properly falls within the duties of his office.

It shall be the duty of each of said officials to file such estimates within the time and in the manner provided in said form and notice, and the county clerk shall deduct and withhold, as a penalty, from the salary of each official failing or refusing to file such estimates as herein provided, the sum of ten dollars for each day of delay; provided, however, that the total penalty against any one official shall not exceed fifty dollars in any one year; and provided further, that in the absence or disability of any such official the duties required herein shall devolve upon the official or employee in charge of such office, department, service or institution for the time being. The said notice shall contain a copy of this penalty clause.

4613.2. Tabulation by clerk of expenditure program—classifications—items included in. From such estimates the county clerk and recorder shall prepare a tabulation showing the complete expenditure program of the county for the current fiscal year, and the sources of revenue by which it is to be financed. Such tabulation shall set forth the estimated receipts from all sources other than taxation for each office, department, service, or institution for the current fiscal year, the actual receipts for the last completed fiscal year, the surplus or unencumbered treasury balances at the close of such last fiscal year, and the amount necessary to be raised by taxation; the estimated expenditure for each office, department, service or institution for the current fiscal year, the actual expenditures for the last completed fiscal year, and all contracts or other obligations which will affect the current year revenues.

Such estimates, appropriations and expenditures shall be classified under the general classes of (1) salaries and wages; (2) maintenance and operation; (3) capital outlay; (4) interest and debt redemption; (5) miscellaneous; and (6) expenditures proposed to be made from bond issues not yet authorized, or from the proceeds of a tax levy or levies which are required to be submitted to and approved at an election to be thereafter held.

Within the general class of salaries and wages each salary shall be set forth separately together with the title or position of the recipient, provided that an unitemized appropriation may be made to cover the expenses of special deputies or assistants in any office where the services of such special deputies or assistants may be required during a part of the fiscal year only. Wages for day labor may be given in totals by designating the general purpose or object for which the expenditure is to be made but the proposed rate per diem for each class or kind of labor shall be set forth. Expenditures under the general class of maintenance and operation shall be classified according to a standard classification to be established by the state examiner. Expenditures for capital outlay shall set forth and describe each object of expenditure separately. Under the general class of interest and debt redemption proposed expenditures for interest and for redemption of principal shall be set forth separately for each series or issue of bonds, and warrant interest and redemption requirements shall be set forth in a similar manner. Under the general class of miscellaneous expenditures for all purposes not listed in, or which cannot properly be assigned to any of the foregoing general classes, shall be set forth and itemized in detail.

The total amount of emergency warrants issued during the preceding fiscal year shall be set forth with the amount issued for each emergency and the amount issued against each fund.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 148, L. 1929.

4613.3. Consideration of budget by commissioners—notice of budget meeting. The said tabulation shall be submitted to the county commissioners by the county clerk and recorder on or before the twentieth day of July. Upon receipt thereof the board of county commissioners shall immediately consider the same in detail, and shall on or before the twenty-fifth day of July make any revisions, reductions, additions or changes therein that they deem advisable, and such tabulation, with such revisions, reductions, additions or changes as have been made therein, as herein provided, shall constitute the preliminary county budget for the fiscal year which it is intended to cover. The board of county commissioners shall then cause a notice to be published stating that said board has completed their preliminary county budget for the current fiscal year, and that said budget has been placed on file and is open to inspection in the office of the county clerk and recorder, and that said board will meet on the Wednesday immediately preceding the second Monday in August thereafter, for the purpose of fixing the final budget and making appropriations, designating the time and place when and where such meeting will be held, and that any taxpayer may appear thereat and may be heard for or against any part of said budget. Said notice shall be published at least one time in the official newspaper of the county, or if there be none, then in a newspaper of general circulation in the county.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 148, L. 1929.

4613.4. Hearings on budget—adoption—fixing of tax levy. On the Wednesday immediately preceding the second Monday in August the county commissioners shall meet at the time and place designated in the notice provided in section 4613.3, at which time any taxpayer may appear and be heard for or against any part of such budget. Such hearing may be continued from day to day but must be concluded not later than the second Monday in August and prior to the fixing of tax levies by such board. The board of county commissioners shall have power to call in the official in charge of any office, department, service or institution, at the time the estimates for their respective offices are under consideration, for examination concerning such estimates, and such official shall be called in by such board upon the request of any taxpayer for questioning, either by the board or any taxpayer upon such estimates.

Upon the conclusion of such hearing the county commissioners shall fix and determine each item of the budget separately and shall by resolution adopt the budget as so finally determined and enter the same in detail in the official minutes of the board.

Said budget as finally adopted shall specify the fund or funds against which warrants may be issued for the expenditures so authorized, respectively and the aggregate of all expenditures authorized against any fund shall not exceed the estimated revenues to accrue to such fund during the current fiscal year from all sources including taxation.

On the second Monday in August, and after adoption of such final budget, the board of county commissioners shall fix the amount of the tax levy for each fund necessary to raise the amount of estimated expenditures to be made therefrom, as finally determined, less the estimated revenues from sources other than taxation, available surpluses and expenditures that are to be made from bond issues.

The county clerk and recorder shall immediately forward a copy of the final budget together with the tax levies to the state examiner.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 148, L. 1929.

4613.5. Appropriations—transfers among appropriations—use of borrowed money—liabilities for expenditures in excess of budget. The estimates of expenditures, itemized and classified as required in section 4613.2, and as finally fixed and adopted by said board of county commissioners, shall constitute the appropriations for the county for the fiscal year intended to be covered thereby, and the county commissioners, and every other county official, shall be limited in the making of expenditures or incurring of liabilities to the amount of such detailed appropriations and classifications, respectively; provided that upon a resolution adopted by the board of county commissioners at a regular or special meeting, and entered upon its minutes, transfers or revisions within the general class of salaries and wages and of maintenance and support may be made, provided, that no salary shall be increased above the amount appropriated therefor. Transfers between the general classes provided in section 4613.2 shall not be permitted, provided and except that in the case of appropriations to be expended from county road or bridge funds, special road district funds, or any special highway fund, any transfer between or among the general classes of (1) salaries and wages, (2) maintenance and support, and (3) capital outlay, may be made.

Moneys received from borrowings shall be used for no other purpose than that for which borrowed, except that if any surplus remain after the accomplishment of the purpose for which borrowed it shall be used to redeem the county debt. Where any budget shall contain an expenditure program to be financed from a bond issue to be authorized thereafter, no expenditure shall be made or obligation incurred thereunder until such bonds have been duly authorized and the proceeds are available, and where any expenditure program is to be financed from a tax levy required to be authorized and approved at an election no expenditure shall be made or obligation incurred thereunder until such levy is so authorized and approved. Expenditures made, liabilities incurred, or warrants issued, in excess of any of the budget detailed appropriations as originally determined, or as thereafter revised by transfer, as herein provided, shall not be a liability of the county, but the official making or incurring of such expenditure or issuing such warrant shall be liable therefor personally and upon his official bond. The board of county commissioners shall not approve any claim, and the county clerk and recorder shall not issue any warrant for any expenditure in excess of said detailed budget appropriations as finally adopted, or as revised under the provisions hereof, except upon an order of a court of competent jurisdiction, or for an emergency as hereinafter provided. Any county commissioner or commissioners, or county clerk and recorder approving any claim or issuing any warrant in excess of any such budget appropriation, except as above provided, shall forfeit to the county fourfold the amount of such claim or warrant, which shall be recovered in an action against such county commissioner, or commissioners, or county clerk and recorder, or all of them, and their several sureties on their official bonds, and it shall be the duty of the county attorney of such county to bring an action therefor in the name of the county.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 148, L. 1929.

4613.6. Emergency expenditures—notice and hearings—objections by taxpayers—appeal—notice and hearing dispensed with in extreme cases—emergency warrants—tax levy—lapse of appropriations. In a public emergency, other than such as are hereinafter specifically described, and which could not reasonably have been foreseen at the time of making the budget, the board of county commissioners, by unanimous vote of the members present at any meeting, the time and place of which all of the commissioners shall have had reasonable notice, shall adopt and enter upon their minutes a resolution stating the facts constituting the emergency and the estimated amount of money required to meet such emergency and shall publish the same, together with a notice that a public hearing will be held thereon at the time and place designated therein, but which shall not be less than one week after the date of said publication, at which any taxpayer may appear and be heard for or against the expenditure of money for such alleged emergency. Such resolution and notice shall be published once in the official newspaper of the county, and if there be none then in a newspaper of general circulation in the county. Upon the conclusion of such hearing, if the commissioners shall approve of such emergency expenditure, they shall make and enter upon their official minutes, by unanimous vote of all of the members of the board present at such meeting, an order setting forth the facts constituting such emergency together with the amount of expenditure authorized by them therefor, which order, so entered, shall be lawful authorization for them to expend such amount, but no more, for such purpose, subject however, to the following limitations: No expenditures shall be made or liability incurred pursuant to said order until five (5) days, exclusive of the day of entry of said order, shall have elapsed, during which time any taxpayer or taxpayers of said county feeling aggrieved by said order may appeal therefrom to the district court for such county by filing with the clerk of such court a verified petition, a copy of which shall theretofore have been served upon the county clerk and recorder of said county as the clerk of the board of county commissioners. Said petition shall set forth in detail the objections of the petitioner or petitioners to said order, giving their reasons why the said emergency does not exist. The service and filing of such petition shall operate to suspend such emergency order and the authority to make any expenditure or incur any liability thereunder, until final determination of the matter by the court. Upon the filing of such petition the court shall immediately fix a time for hearing such petition which shall be at the earliest convenient time. At such hearing the court shall hear the matter de novo and may take such testimony as it deems necessary. Its proceedings shall be summary and informal and its determination as to whether an emergency, such as is contemplated within the meaning and provisions of this act, exists or not, and whether the expenditure authorized by said order is excessive or not shall be final.

Upon the happening of any emergency caused by fire, flood, explosion, storm, earthquake, epidemic, riot or insurrection, or for the immediate preservation of order or of public health, or for the restoration of a condition of usefulness of which has been destroyed by accident, or for the relief of a stricken community overtaken by calamity, or in settlement of approved claims for personal injuries or property damages, exclusive of claims arising from the operation of any public utility owned by the county, or to meet mandatory expenditures required by law, the county commissioners may, upon adoption by unanimous vote of all members present at any meeting, the time and place of which all members shall have had reasonable notice, of a resolution stating the facts constituting the emergency and entering the same upon their minutes, make the expenditures or incur the liabilities necessary to meet such emergency without further notice or hearing.

All emergency expenditures shall be made by the issuance of emergency warrants drawn against the fund or funds properly chargeable with such expenditures, and the county treasurer is authorized and directed to pay such emergency warrants with any money in such fund or funds available for such purpose, and if, at any time, there shall not be sufficient money available in such fund or funds to pay such warrants then such warrants shall be registered, bear interest and be called in for payment in the manner provided by law for other county warrants.

The county clerk and recorder shall include in his annual tabulation to be submitted to the board of county commissioners the total amount of emergency warrants issued during the preceding fiscal year, and the county commissioners shall include in their tax levies a levy for each fund sufficient to raise an amount equal to the total amount of such warrants, if there be any, remaining unpaid at the close of such preceding fiscal year because of insufficient money in such fund to pay the same; provided, however, that no levy shall be made for any fund in excess of the levy authorized by law to be made therefor; and provided further, that the board of county commissioners may submit the question of funding such emergency warrants at an election, as provided by law, and if at any such election the issuing of such funding bonds be authorized it shall not then be necessary for any levy to be made for the purpose of paying such emergency warrants.

All appropriations, other than appropriations for uncompleted improvements in progress of construction, shall lapse at the end of the fiscal year; provided that the appropriation accounts shall remain open for a period of thirty days thereafter for the payment of claims incurred against such appropriations prior to the close of the fiscal year and remaining unpaid. After such period shall have expired all appropriations, except as hereinbefore provided regarding uncompleted improvements, shall become null and void, and any lawful claim presented thereafter against any such appropriation shall be provided for in the next ensuing budget.

4613.7. County clerk's report of expenditures and liabilities against budget appropriations, receipts from taxes and other sources—auditor to furnish statement of liabilities for which warrants not issued. On the first Monday in each month the county clerk and recorder shall submit to the board of county commissioners a report showing the expenditures and liabilities against each separate budget appropriation incurred during the preceding calendar month, and like information for the whole of the fiscal year to the first day of the month in which such report is made, together with the unexpended balance of each appropriation. He shall also set forth the receipts from taxes, and in detail the receipts from all other sources by each fund for the same period. In counties having county auditors the county auditor, on the last business day of each month, shall furnish the county clerk and recorder with a statement showing the total amount of liabilities incurred against each budget appropriation for which warrants have not been issued up to the close of said business day.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 148, L. 1929.

History: En. Sec. 1, p. 99, L. 1899; re-en. Sec. 2915, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4625, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect
Under the act of February 8, 1865, authorizing county commissioners to pay interest on county warrants, it was held that the neglect of the county treasurer to indorse a county warrant, "not paid for want of funds in the treasury," does not release the county from its liability to pay the interest authorized by statute, and that the indorsement should show that the warrant had been presented for payment at a certain time and payment refused for want of funds in the treasury. Territory ex rel. Largey v. Gilbert, 1 M 371, 375, 378.

4626. Lost bond or warrant. The board is authorized, upon satisfactory proof that any original bond, warrant, or coupon has been lost or destroyed, to issue to the owner or holder of such bond, warrant, or coupon a duplicate thereof, which will take the place in order of registration and payment of such original bond, warrant, or coupon, and in all cases supersede and take the place of such original.

History: En. Sec. 1, L. 1881; re-en. Sec. 4251, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2916, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4626, R. C. M. 1921.

4627. Indemnity to be given. Before issuing such duplicate bond, warrant, or coupon, the board must require the person demanding the same to execute and deliver to the treasurer of the county a bond, payable to the county, in double the amount of the bond, warrant, or coupon, with at least two good and sufficient sureties, who must be required to justify as in case of attachment, the conditions of such bond being that the principal and sureties therein will indemnify and save harmless the county from all loss, costs, or damages by reason of the issuing of the duplicate, and will pay to any person entitled to receive the same, as the lawful holder of the original bond, warrant, or coupon, all moneys received upon such duplicate.

History: En. Sec. 2, p. 83, L. 1881; re-en. Sec. 4252, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2917, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4627, R. C. M. 1921.

4628. Duplicate bonds, warrants or coupons, how given. The chairman of the board, at the time of issuing any duplicate bond, warrant, or coupon, must write across or upon the face thereof the word "duplicate," in red ink.

History: En. Sec. 3, p. 83, L. 1881; re-en. Sec. 4253, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2918, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4628, R. C. M. 1921.

4629. What notice imparted. The word "duplicate" upon any bond, warrant, or coupon imparts notice to all persons that the same is issued subject to the provisions of this article.

History: En. Sec. 4, p. 83, L. 1881; re-en. Sec. 4254, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2919, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4629, R. C. M. 1921.

4630. Duty of county treasurer in reference to lost bonds. It is the duty of the county treasurer, upon the production to him of any original bond, warrant, or coupon, by the lawful owner or holder thereof, to assign by indorsement and to deliver to him the bond mentioned in section 4627, and such owner or holder may maintain an action in his own name upon such bond for the recovery of any moneys paid upon such duplicate, but the delivery of such bond does not relieve or exonerate the county from the payment of the amount specified therein upon a demand and refusal of the sureties named in the indemnifying bond to pay the same.

History: En. Sec. 5, p. 83, L. 1881; re-en. Sec. 4255, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2920, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4630, R. C. M. 1921.

4630.1. Board of county commissioners may issue bonds for certain purposes. The board of county commissioners of every county of the state is hereby vested with the power and authority to issue, negotiate and sell coupon bonds on the credit of the county, as hereinafter in this act more specifically provided, for any of the following purposes:

Subdivision (a). For the purpose of acquiring land for sites and grounds for a public building or buildings of any kind within the county and under its control, which the county has lawful authority to acquire or erect, control and maintain; for the purpose of acquiring land for any other public use or activity within the county, under its control and authorized by law.

Subdivision (b). For the purpose of constructing, erecting or acquiring by purchase necessary public buildings within the county, under its control and authorized by law, making additions to and repairing buildings and for the purpose of furnishing and equipping the same.

Subdivision (c). For the purpose of acquiring rights-of-way for and constructing public highways and bridges, or either of them.

Subdivision (d). For the purpose of enabling a county to liquidate its indebtedness to another county incident to the creation of a new county or the changing of any county boundary line.

Subdivision (e). For the purpose of funding, paying and retiring outstanding county warrants lawfully issued against the county general fund, road fund, bridge fund or poor fund, when there is not sufficient money in the fund against which such warrants are drawn to pay and retire such warrants and the levying of taxes sufficient to pay and retire such warrants within a period of three (3) years would, in the judgment of the board of county commissioners, work a hardship and be an undue burden upon the taxpayers of the county.

Subdivision (f). For the purpose of refunding, paying and redeeming optional, redeemable or maturing bonds when there are not sufficient funds available to pay such bonds and it is deemed for the best interests of the county to refund such bonds.

Subdivision (g). For the purpose of funding, paying and retiring outstanding seed grain warrants lawfully issued under the provisions of section 4651, and for the purpose of funding, paying and retiring outstanding special relief warrants lawfully issued under the provisions of section 4692, when there is not sufficient money available to pay such warrants and the levying of special taxes sufficient to pay the same within a period of three (3) years would, in the judgment of the board of county commissioners, work a hardship and be an undue burden upon the taxpayers of the county.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 188, L. 1931.

NOTE.—Sections 4651 and 4692, referred to in subdivision (g), have been repealed.

4630.2. Single purpose. Acquiring land for a site for a public building, or for any other public use within the county, and constructing, erecting or acquiring by purchase any building on such land and furnishing and equipping the same, shall be deemed a single purpose; acquiring a right-of-way for and constructing a public highway, including any bridge or bridges thereon, shall be deemed a single purpose; the construction of two or more bridges forming a part of the same public highway shall be deemed a single purpose; the construction of two or more bridges, when not forming a part of the same public highway, shall be deemed separate purposes; a contribution by a county to the cost of a federal aid bridge shall be deemed a separate purpose, and a contribution by a county to the cost of a federal aid highway project on a highway leading to said bridge shall be deemed a separate purpose.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 188, L. 1931.

4630.3. Limitation on amount of bonds—issuance in excess of limitations void. No county shall issue bonds for any purpose which, with all outstanding bonds and warrants, except county high school bonds and emergency bonds, will exceed two and one-half per centum of the value of the taxable property therein, to be ascertained by the last assessment for state and county taxes previous to the issuance of such bonds; provided, however, that a county may issue bonds which, with all outstanding bonds and warrants will exceed two and one-half per centum, but will not exceed five per centum of the value of such taxable property, when necessary to do so for the purpose of replacing, rebuilding, or repairing county buildings, bridges or highways which have been destroyed or damaged by an act of God, disaster, catastrophe, or accident, or when necessary to do so for the purpose of acquiring land for a site for county high school buildings and for erecting or acquiring buildings thereon and furnishing and equipping the same for county high school purposes; provided, however, that this act shall not be construed to extend limitations on bonded indebtedness for county high school purposes, as fixed by section 1276, and acts amendatory thereof; and further provided, that the foregoing limitations shall not apply to refunding bonds issued for the purpose of paying or retiring county bonds lawfully issued prior to March 1, 1923. All bonds issued by any county in excess of the limitations herein fixed shall be null and void. The words "value of the taxable property," as used in this section, are used in the same sense as in section 5 of article 13, of the constitution, and shall be given the same meaning and construction.

NOTE.—Section 1276 referred to in this section has been repealed. See section 1262.14 of these codes.

4630.5. Form of bonds. All bonds hereafter issued by any county shall be either amortization bonds or serial bonds, and all things being equal amortization bonds shall be issued in preference to serial bonds, otherwise serial bonds may be issued.

The term "amortization bonds," as used in this act, is hereby defined as meaning that form of bond on which a part of the principal is required to be paid each time interest becomes due and payable, which part payment of principal increases with each following installment in the same amount the interest payment decreases, so that the combined amount payable on principal and interest is the same on each interest payment date; provided, however, that the final payment may vary in amount from the other payments to the extent resulting from disregarding fractional cents in the other payments.

The term "serial bonds," as used in this act, is hereby defined as being a bond issue payable in equal annual installments, one (1) installment consisting of one (1) or more bonds, becoming due and payable each year, the amount to be paid and redeemed each year being determined by dividing the total amount of the bonds to be issued by the total number of years the issue is to run, so that the total amount of principal to be paid each year the bonds are to run will be the same; provided, however, that the final payment may vary in amount from the other payments to the extent resulting from fixing the amount of each bond of the other payments at one hundred dollars ($100.00) or some multiple thereof.

4630.6. Bonds issued for certain purposes may be issued without holding an election. Bonds issued for the purpose of enabling a county to liquidate its indebtedness to another county incident to the creation of a new county or the changing of a county boundary line; for the purpose of funding, paying and retiring outstanding county warrants issued prior to July 1, 1931; for the purpose of refunding, paying and redeeming optional, redeemable or maturing bonds issued prior to May 1, 1923; and for the purpose of funding seed grain warrants and special relief warrants, as set forth in subdivisions (d), (e), (f) and (g) of section 4630.1, may be issued without submitting the same to an election. In order to issue bonds for any of said purposes it shall only be necessary for the board of county commissioners, at a regular or duly called special meeting, to pass and adopt a resolution setting forth the facts in regard to the indebtedness to be paid or bonds to be refunded, showing the reason for issuing such bonds and fixing and determining the details thereof, giving notice of the sale thereof in the same manner that notice is required to be given of the sale of bonds authorized at an election, and then following the procedure prescribed in this act for the sale and issuance of such bonds.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 188, L. 1931.

4630.7. Petition and election required for bonds issued for other purposes. County bonds for any other purpose than those enumerated in section 4630.6 shall not be issued unless authorized at a duly called special or general election at which the question of issuing such bonds was submitted to the qualified electors of the county and approved, as provided in section 4630.13; and no such bond election shall be called unless there has been presented to the board of county commissioners a petition, asking that such election be held and such question be submitted, signed by not less than twenty per centum (20%) of the qualified electors of the county, who are taxpayers upon property within the county and whose names appear on the last completed assessment roll for state and county taxes.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 188, L. 1931.

4630.8. Form, contents and proof of petition. Every petition for the calling of an election to vote upon the question of issuing county bonds shall plainly and clearly state the purpose or purposes for which the proposed bonds are to be issued, and shall contain an estimate of the amount necessary to be issued for such purpose or purposes. There may be a separate petition for each purpose, or two (2) or more purposes may be combined in one (1) petition if each purpose, with an estimate of the amount of bonds necessary to be issued therefor, is separately stated in such petition. Such petition may consist of one (1) sheet, or of several sheets identical in form and fastened together after being circulated and signed so as to form a single complete petition before being delivered to the county clerk as hereinafter provided. The petition shall give the postoffice address and voting precinct of each person signing the same.

Only persons who are qualified to sign such petitions shall be qualified to circulate the same, and there shall be attached to the completed petition the affidavit of some person who circulated, or assisted in circulating such petition, that he believes the signatures thereon are genuine and that the signers knew the contents thereof before signing the same. The completed petition shall be filed with the county clerk who shall, within fifteen (15) days thereafter, carefully examine the same and the county records showing the qualifications of the petitioners, and attach thereto a certificate under his official signature and the seal of his office, which certificate shall set forth:

(1) The total number of persons who are registered electors and whose names appear upon the last completed assessment roll for state and county taxes.

(2) Which and how many of the persons whose names are subscribed to such petition are possessed of all of the qualifications required of signers to such petition.

(3) Whether such qualified signers constitute more or less than twenty per centum (20%) of the registered electors whose names appear upon the last completed assessment roll for state and county taxes.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 188, L. 1931.

4630.9. Consideration of petition—calling election. When such petition has been filed with the county clerk and he has found that it has a sufficient number of signers, qualified to sign the same, he shall place the same before the board of county commissioners at its first meeting held after he has attached his certificate thereto. The board shall thereupon carefully examine the petition and make such other investigation as it may deem necessary.

If it is found that the petition is in proper form, bears the requisite number of signers of qualified petitioners, and is in all other respects sufficient, the board shall pass and adopt a resolution which shall recite the essential facts in regard to the petition and its filing and presentation, the purpose, or purposes, for which the bonds are proposed to be issued, and fix the exact amount of bonds proposed to be issued for each purpose, which amount may be less than but must not exceed the amount set forth in the petition, determine the number of years through which such bonds are to be paid, not exceeding the limitations fixed in section 4630.4, and making provision for having such question submitted to the qualified electors of the county at the next general election, or at a special election which the board may call for such purpose.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 188, L. 1931.

4630.10. Notice of election—election hours—election officers. Whether such election is held at the general election, or at a special election, separate notice shall be given thereof. Such notice shall state the date when such election will be held, the hours between which the polls will be open, the amount of bonds proposed to be issued, the purpose of the issue, the term of years through which the bonds are to be paid, and such other information regarding the holding of the election and the bonds proposed to be issued as the board may deem proper. If bonds are to be issued for two (2) or more purposes, each purpose and the amount therefor must be separately stated. Such notice shall be posted in each voting precinct throughout the county in the same manner as notices for a general election are required to be posted. Such notice must also be published once each week for four (4) consecutive weeks preceding the election in the official newspaper of the county.

If the question of issuing bonds is submitted at a special election called for such purpose the board of county commissioners shall fix the hours through which the polls are to be kept open, which shall be not less than eight (8), and which must be stated in the notice of election, and may appoint a smaller number of election judges than is required for a general election, but in no case shall there be less than three (3) judges in the precinct, and such judges shall act as their own clerks.

If the question of issuing bonds is submitted at a general election, the polls shall be kept open during the same hours as are fixed for such general election and the judges and clerks for such general election shall act as the judges and clerks for such bond election.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 188, L. 1931.

4630.11. Form of ballots and conduct of election. The form of ballots shall be as prescribed by section 4722; but if bonds are sought to be issued for two (2) or more separate purposes, then separate ballots must be provided for each purpose. The election shall be conducted in the manner prescribed by said section 4722, and the general election laws of the state shall govern insofar as they are applicable; but if such question be submitted at a general election the votes thereon must be counted separately and separate returns must be made by the judges and clerks at such election.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 188, L. 1931.

4630.12. Who are entitled to vote. All qualified electors of the county, whose names appear upon the registration list of the county and upon the poll books of the precinct in which they seek to vote, shall be qualified to vote at all county bonding elections, and no property assessment or tax paying qualification shall be required.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 188, L. 1931.

4630.13. Percentage of electors required to authorize bond issue. Whenever the question of issuing county bonds for any purpose is submitted to the qualified electors of a county, at either a general or special election, not less than forty per centum (40%) of the qualified electors entitled to vote on such question must vote thereon, otherwise such proposition shall be deemed to have been rejected; provided, however, that if forty per centum (40%), or more of such qualified electors do vote on such question, at such election, and a majority of such votes shall be cast in favor of such proposition, then such proposition shall be deemed to have been approved and adopted.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 188, L. 1931.

4630.14. Canvass of election returns—resolution for bond issue. If the bonding election be held at the same time as a general election, then the returns shall be canvassed at the same time as the returns from such general election; but if the bonding election is a special election, then the board of county commissioners shall meet within ten (10) days after the date of holding such special election and canvass the returns. If it is found that at such election forty per centum (40%) or more, of the qualified electors entitled to vote at such election voted on such question, and that a majority of such votes were cast in favor of the issuing of such bonds, the board of county commissioners shall, at a regular or special meeting held within thirty (30) days thereafter, pass and adopt a resolution providing for the issuance of such bonds. Such resolution shall recite the purpose for which such bonds are to be issued, the amount thereof, the maximum rate of interest the bonds may bear, the date they shall bear, the period of time through which they shall be payable, the optional provisions, if any; and provide for the manner of the execution of the same. It shall provide that preference shall be given amortization bonds but shall fix the denomination of serial bonds in case it shall be found advantageous to issue bonds in that form, and shall adopt a form of notice of the sale of the bonds.

The board may, in its discretion, provide that such bonds may be issued and sold in two or more series or installments.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 188, L. 1931.

Operation and Effect

In view of the purpose of chapter 24, laws extraordinary session 1933-34, i.e., to permit counties to secure the benefits of the national industrial recovery act by borrowing money from the federal government for emergency relief, and the fact that it was apparent at the time the act was passed that the conditions and requirements of the government would conflict with the general laws of the state with relation to issuance and sale of bonds, held, that failure of a board of county commissioners strictly to comply with the provisions of this section and section 4630.15, as to the form of resolution to be passed by it providing for the issuance of bonds voted to obtain a federal loan was not fatal to their validity; having followed those provisions as closely as it was possible for it to do, and at the same time conform to the requirements of the federal government, their action was sufficient; so far as not in harmony with the federal requirements, this section and the following section must be held inapplicable. Shekelton v. Toole County et al, 97 M 213, 216 et seq., 33 P 2d 531.

4630.15. Form of notice of sale of bonds. The notice of sale shall state the purpose or purposes for which the bonds are to be issued and the amount proposed to be issued for each purpose and shall be substantially in the following form:

Operation and Effect

In view of the purpose of chapter 24, laws extraordinary session 1933-34, i.e., to permit counties to secure the benefits of the national industrial recovery act by borrowing money from the federal government for emergency relief, and the fact that it was apparent at the time the act was passed that the conditions and requirements of the government would conflict with the general laws of the state with relation to issuance and sale of bonds, held, that failure of a board of county commissioners strictly to comply with the provisions of the preceding section and this section, as to the form of resolution to be passed by it providing for the issuance of bonds voted to obtain a federal loan was not fatal to their validity; having followed those provisions as closely as it was possible for it to do, and at the same time conform to the requirements of the federal government, their action was sufficient; so far as not in harmony with the federal requirements, this section and the preceding section must be held inapplicable. Shekelton v. Toole County et al., 97 M 213, 216 et seq., 33 P 2d 531.

4630.16. Publication of notice of sale. The board of county commissioners shall cause such notice to be published once each week for four successive weeks immediately preceding the date of sale in the official newspaper of the county; and the board may in its discretion cause such notice to be published in some financial newspaper published in the city of New York, or in the city of Chicago, or in financial newspapers published in each of said cities.

4630.17. Notice to the state board of land commissioners. At the same time the notice is sent to the official newspaper of the county for publication the county clerk shall send a copy of such notice to the secretary of the state board of land commissioners and shall thereupon furnish to the said secretary a transcript of the proceedings had for the issuance of bonds, and such other information relating thereto as the secretary may find necessary.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 188, L. 1931.

4630.18. Sale of bonds. The board of county commissioners shall meet at the time and place fixed in the notice to consider bids for the bonds. The bonds shall be sold at not less than par and accrued interest to date of delivery, and each bidder shall specify the form of bonds to be issued, whether amortization or serial, and the rate of interest at which he will purchase the bonds. A bid for amortization bonds shall have the preference over a bid for serial bonds, all other things being equal; and in determining the kind of bonds to be issued the board shall take into consideration not only the rate of interest demanded on each kind, but also all other known elements affecting the interests of the county, and the board shall accept the bid which they shall judge most advantageous to the county; provided, that no bid shall be accepted which will require the bonds to bear a rate of interest exceeding six per centum (6%) per annum. No attorney fees, brokerage or other fees, or commission of any kind shall be paid to any person or corporation for assisting in the proceedings, or in the preparation of the bonds, or in negotiating the sale thereof. The board is authorized to reject any or all bids and to sell the bonds at private sale if they deem it for the best interests of the county; provided, however, that such bonds shall not bear a greater rate of interest than six per centum (6%) and shall not be sold at less than par and accrued interest to date of delivery.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 188, L. 1931.

4630.19. Form and execution of bonds. At the time of the sale of the bonds or at a meeting held thereafter the board of county commissioners shall prescribe the form of the bonds, whether amortization bonds or serial bonds, and of the coupons to be attached thereto. Each and every county bond and every coupon attached thereto must be signed by the chairman of the board of county commissioners and the county treasurer and attested by the county clerk, and each bond shall have the county seal affixed thereto; provided, however, that lithographic or engraved facsimiles of the signatures of the chairman of the board, the treasurer and the county clerk may be affixed to the coupons in place of their signatures when such fact is so recited in the bond.

History: En. Sec. 19, Ch. 188, L. 1931.

4630.20. Printing of the bonds. Under the direction of the board, the county clerk shall cause the bonds, with coupons thereto attached, to be printed or lithographed at the expense of the county at lowest commercial rates; provided, however, that a purchaser of such bonds may furnish the same to the county for execution if the same is done at his own expense and without expense to the county.

History: En. Sec. 20, Ch. 188, L. 1931.

4630.21. Registration of bonds—copy to be preserved. When duly executed by the officers of the county as herein provided, the bonds shall be registered by the county treasurer in a book provided for that purpose before being delivered to the purchaser. Such registration shall show the number and amount of each bond, the date of issue, date redeemable and date when the same becomes due, the amount of all payments of both principal and interest required to be made on each bond with the dates when the same are required to be paid, and the name and address of the purchaser. The county clerk shall also deliver to the county treasurer an unsigned and cancelled printed copy of a bond of each issue, as so issued and registered, to be preserved in his office.

4630.22. Delivery of bonds—payment for same. In case the state board of land commissioners is the purchaser of the bonds, the county treasurer shall forward the registered bonds to the secretary of the board who shall cause the same to be delivered to the state treasurer and payment therefor shall be made in the manner provided by law. In case the bonds are purchased by other investors the county treasurer shall deliver the bonds to the purchaser upon receiving full payment therefor. All moneys arising from the sale of such bonds shall be paid to the county treasurer and shall be immediately available for the purpose or purposes for which the bonds were issued and for no other purpose.

History: En. Sec. 22, Ch. 188, L. 1931.

4630.23. Counties liable on bonds. All bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be legal and valid obligations of the county issuing the same, and the full faith and credit of such county are hereby irrevocably pledged for the prompt payment of both principal and interest thereof as the same became due.

History: En. Sec. 23, Ch. 188, L. 1931.

4630.24. Treasurer's certificate as to principal and interest to be paid. Whenever any county has any issue or series of bonds outstanding and there is not sufficient funds on hand available for the payment of the full amount of the interest and principal thereof, the county treasurer of such county shall, between the first and fifth days of August in each year while such bonds, or any thereof, remain outstanding and unpaid, make out and deliver to the board of county commissioners of such county a statement showing the amount required to be raised by tax levy during the then current fiscal year for payment of interest and principal becoming due and payable during such fiscal year, or within ninety (90) days thereafter, on each issue or series of bonds outstanding, or if no part of the principal of any such issue or series of bonds will become due and payable within such time, then such statement shall show the amount required to be raised by tax levy during such year for payment of interest becoming due during such time and to place the proper amount in the sinking fund for the payment of the principal of such bonds when they become due, as provided in section 4630.25.

History: En. Sec. 24, Ch. 188, L. 1931.

4630.25. Tax. The board of county commissioners, at the time of making the levy of taxes for county purposes, must levy a separate and special tax, upon all taxable property in the county, for the payment of interest on and principal of each series or issue of bonds outstanding, and the tax levy for any one series or issue of bonds must be entirely separate and distinct from such levy for any other series or issue of bonds. The levy made for the purpose of paying interest on and principal of each series or issue of bonds must be high enough to raise an amount sufficient to pay all interest on and so much of the principal, if any, of such bonds as will become due and payable during the then current fiscal year or within ninety (90) days thereafter, as such amount is shown by the treasurer's statement provided by section 4630.24; and if no part of the principal of such bonds will become due and payable within such time, then such tax levy must be high enough to raise an amount sufficient to pay all interest which will become due and payable during the current fiscal year or within ninety (90) days thereafter, and to also place in the sinking fund for such issue or series of bonds, for the payment of the principal thereof when the same becomes due, an amount not less than a sum produced by dividing the whole amount for which such series or issue of bonds were originally issued by the number of years for which the same were originally issued to run.

4630.26. Liability of members of board of county commissioners. If the board of county commissioners of any county shall fail, neglect or refuse in any year to make a levy sufficient to pay the interest on and principal of any issue or series of bonds, as required by the provisions of section 4630.25, the holder of any bond of such issue or series, or any taxpayer paying taxes on property situated in such county, may apply to the district court of the county issuing such bonds for a writ of mandate to compel the board of county commissioners of such county to make a proper and sufficient levy for such purposes, and if, upon the hearing of such application it shall appear to the satisfaction of the court that the board of county commissioners has failed, neglected or refused to make any levy whatever for such purposes, or has made a levy but that the same is insufficient to raise the amount required to be raised for such purposes under the provisions of section 4630.25, the court shall determine the amount of the deficiency and shall issue a writ of mandate directed to and requiring such board of county commissioners, at the next meeting thereof for the purpose of making and fixing county levies, to raise the amount of such deficiency, which levy shall be in addition to the levy required to be made for the then current fiscal year; provided, that any costs which may be allowed or awarded the petitioner in any such proceeding shall be paid by the members of the board of county commissioners, and shall not be a charge against such county.

History: En. Sec. 26, Ch. 188, L. 1931.

4630.27. County bond funds. The county treasurer of each county shall keep in his books a special and separate sinking and interest fund account for each series or issue of outstanding bonds issued by his county, and each such fund must at all times show the exact condition thereof. All taxes collected for interest and principal on county bonds shall be placed to the credit of the sinking and interest fund for which the same were levied, and such fund shall not be used for any purpose other than the payment of principal and interest on such bonds so long as any of such bonds remain outstanding. When all bonds of any series or issue, with the interest thereon, have been fully paid, or called in for payment, and there remains in the sinking and interest fund for such series or issue any amount not required for the payment of such bonds and interest, such excess amount and all amounts subsequently collected for such fund shall be transferred to the general fund of the county, or to the sinking and interest fund of any other series or issue of bonds outstanding that the board of county commissioners may designate.

History: En. Sec. 27, Ch. 188, L. 1931.

4630.28. Payment of principal and interest. The county treasurer shall pay from the proper sinking and interest fund the interest and principal of each issue or series of outstanding bonds, as such interest and principal become due and at the place where said bonds are payable, upon the presentation and surrender of the coupon or coupons, bond or bonds to be paid; provided, however, that if the bonds are held by the state of Montana, then all such payments shall be made at the office of the state treasurer, who shall cancel the coupons or bonds and return the same to the county treasurer together with his receipt.

Any and all installments of interest or principal on bonds held by the state and not promptly paid at the office of the state treasurer when due, shall draw interest at the rate of six per centum (6%) per annum from the date due until actually paid, irrespective of the rate of interest on the bonds themselves.

4630.29. Redemption of bonds before maturity. Whenever there is available money in any sinking and interest fund, over and above the amount required for payment of principal and interest, becoming due on the next interest payment date, sufficient to pay and redeem one or more of the outstanding bonds of the issue or series to which such sinking and interest fund belongs, and such bonds are held by the state of Montana, the county treasurer must apply such available money in payment of as many of such bonds as the same will pay. Not less than fifteen (15) days before the next interest payment date, the county treasurer must give notice to the state board of land commissioners that on such interest payment date such bond or bonds will be paid, and the county treasurer, before such interest payment date, must remit to the state treasurer the amount required to pay such bond or bonds, with the interest thereon. Upon receipt of such amount the state treasurer must cancel such bond or bonds and all unpaid interest coupons attached thereto, and return the same, with his receipt, to the county treasurer.

Whenever there is available money in any sinking and interest fund, over and above the amount required for payment of principal and interest becoming due on the next interest payment date, sufficient to pay and redeem one or more outstanding optional bonds of the issue or series to which such sinking and interest fund belongs, and which bonds are not yet due but are then redeemable or will become redeemable on the next interest payment date, and such bonds are not held by the state of Montana, the county treasurer, when directed by the board of county commissioners, must apply such available money in payment and redemption of as many of such bonds as the same will pay and redeem. The county treasurer must give notice to the holder of such bond or bonds, if known to him, or to any bank or financial institution at which such bonds are payable, at least fifteen (15) days before the next interest payment date, that such bonds will be paid and redeemed on such date. The county treasurer must also publish in the official newspaper of the county, once a week for two (2) consecutive weeks immediately preceding such interest payment date, a notice that such bond or bonds have been called in for redemption and will be paid in full on such interest payment date. If such bonds are payable at some bank or financial institution the county treasurer must remit to such bank or financial institution, before such interest payment date, an amount sufficient to pay and redeem such bonds. If such bonds are not presented for payment and redemption on such interest payment date interest thereon shall cease on such date.

All bonds paid and redeemed under the provisions of this section must be paid and redeemed in the numerical order in which the same were issued.

4630.30. Investment of sinking and interest fund. Whenever there is available money in any sinking and interest fund, over and above the amount required for payment of principal and interest becoming due on the next interest payment date, sufficient to pay and redeem one or more outstanding bonds of the issue or series to which such sinking and interest fund belongs, and such bonds are not held by the state of Montana and are not yet redeemable or due, the county treasurer, at the direction of the board of county commissioners, shall purchase such bond or bonds of such issue or series, if this can be done at not more than par and accrued interest, or at such reasonable premium as the board may feel justified in paying, not in any case exceeding five per centum (5%).

If the board cannot purchase any of the outstanding bonds at such reasonable price then such available money in such sinking and interest fund shall be invested by the county treasurer, under the direction of the board of county commissioners, in other bonds of the county, in warrants of the county or any other county of the state, in bonds or warrants of the state, or in bonds or treasury certificates of the United States; provided, however, that such sinking and interest funds shall only be invested in such securities as will become due and payable at least thirty (30) days before the date when the bonds of the county of such series or issue will become redeemable.

4630.31. Cancellation of bonds, coupons and warrants. All bonds and interest coupons paid by the county treasurer from time to time shall be cancelled by him, and he shall enter on the record of the registration of such bonds the date of the payment of the same and the several coupons attached thereto, and he shall deliver the same, after such cancellation, to the county clerk, with a report showing the numbers of such bonds and the amounts paid as principal and interest thereon, and the county clerk shall exhibit such bonds and coupons, with such report, to the board of county commissioners at the next regular meeting thereof.

Whenever bonds are issued for the purpose of funding outstanding warrants or refunding outstanding bonds it shall be the duty of the county treasurer to apply the proceeds derived from the sale of such bonds to the payment of such warrants or bonds to be so funded or refunded, and he shall, upon taking up such warrants or bonds, cancel the same, keep a record thereof, and deliver the same to the county clerk, with a report showing the numbers thereof and the amounts paid for principal and interest, and the county clerk shall exhibit such warrants and bonds with such report to the board of county commissioners at the next regular meeting thereof.

4630.32. Exchange of bonds for amortization bonds. Subject to the approval of the state board of land commissioners the board of county commissioners of any county is hereby vested with the power and authority to issue amortization bonds for the purpose of refunding any outstanding bonds of such county held by the state of Montana and which were not issued either as amortization or serial bonds, whether such bonds are due or not, and to exchange the same for such outstanding bonds. Such amortization bonds shall conform in all respects to the definition of amortization bonds as set forth in section 4630.5, and shall bear interest at such rate as may be agreed upon between the board of county commissioners and the state board of land commissioners, but which shall not exceed six per centum (6%) per annum. Such amortization bonds may be issued and exchanged for such outstanding bonds without submitting the question of issuing the same to an election, and it shall not be necessary to publish any notice of sale of such bonds. This section shall not be construed so as to deprive boards of county commissioners of the right to advertise, sell and issue refunding bonds in the manner provided by this act.

History: En. Sec. 32, Ch. 188, L. 1931.

4630.33. Application to outstanding bonds. All of the provisions of this act with reference to the payment of interest and principal of bonds, redemption and payment thereof, investment of sinking and interest funds, levy of taxes for payment of principal and interest, maintenance of separate sinking and interest funds, and all other provisions of this act which can be made applicable thereto, shall apply to all bonds heretofore lawfully issued by any county under any law or laws of this state, and which bonds shall be outstanding at the time this act takes effect.

History: En. Sec. 33, Ch. 188, L. 1931.

4631. County commissioners to transfer funds. The board is authorized to transfer all surplus moneys that may be on hand in any of the several county funds, except the school fund, to such fund or funds as they may deem for the best interest of the county, or to appropriate said surplus moneys to the payment of the outstanding indebtedness of the county; but no moneys belonging to the school fund must be taken therefrom except for school purposes.

The board of county commissioners, with the approval of the state examiner, may set aside a sum of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) out of the general fund, which shall be known as a petty cash fund, for the purpose of paying incidental expenses such as freight, express, postage and other similar items which must be paid in cash at time of delivery, in counties having a county auditor, the county auditor shall be responsible for expenditures from the petty cash fund. In counties not having a county auditor, the county clerk shall be responsible for expenditures from the petty cash fund.

4639.1. Investment of county moneys in county warrants. Whenever the county has under its control any moneys in any special fund subject to deposit which in the judgment of the board of county commissioners it would be advantageous to invest in county warrants, the county commissioners are authorized in their discretion to direct the county treasurer to purchase county warrants of the same county, thereafter issued against funds in which there is not sufficient money to pay such county warrants at the time of issuance, and in case of such purchase the county commissioners shall designate the fund or funds, to be so invested, and shall fix the amount thereof, and shall also designate the county warrant or warrants which are to be purchased by such funds. The county clerk and recorder shall thereupon cause to be attached to, or stamped, written or printed upon the warrants so ordered to be purchased a notice to the effect that the county will exercise its preference right to purchase such warrant. The county treasurer shall thereafter when such county warrant is presented to him, purchase the same out of the proper fund as designated by the board of county commissioners, and the warrant so purchased shall be registered as other county warrants, and bear interest as provided by law. 4679.2. Procedure for executing release.

4679.3. Intent and purpose of act.

4679.1. Release of lien of county seed grain loans. That in all cases where the eight (8) year statute of limitations provided by the laws of Montana for limiting actions on contracts in writing, shall have run against the enforcement of any seed grain contract, note or obligation executed to any county under the provisions of the Montana seed grain act of 1918, sections 4640 to 4679, inclusive, revised codes of Montana, 1921, the county commissioners of the several counties of the state, are hereby authorized and empowered to direct the county clerk to execute and deliver on behalf of the county, a release of any real or personal property described in any such seed grain contract, from the lien of said contract and from the lien of any so-called "tax" which has heretofore been imposed upon said property, real or personal, under the provisions of said grain act.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 121, L. 1935.

NOTE.—Sections 4640 to 4679, inclusive, revised codes of Montana, 1921, were repealed by chapter 29 of the laws of 1935.

4679.2. Procedure for executing release. For the purpose of carrying out this act, the county commissioners shall enter upon their minutes a brief description of the contract in question and an order directing the county clerk to execute a release in accordance with the terms of this act and the county clerk shall thereupon be fully empowered, and it shall be his duty to execute such release on behalf of the county, the same to be acknowledged by him as required by law for the acknowledgment of grants of real property.

QUESTION OF RAISING MONEY TO BE SUBMITTED TO A VOTE.

Section 4717. Commissioners not to borrow money except as herein provided.

4718. Commissioners to determine amount necessary.

4719. Notice of election to be given.

4720. Ballots—what to contain.

4722. Form of ballots—voting.

4717. Commissioners not to borrow money except as herein provided. The board of county commissioners must not borrow money for any of the purposes mentioned in this title, or for any single purpose to an amount exceeding ten thousand dollars, without the approval of a majority of the electors of the county, and without first having submitted the question of a loan to a vote of such electors; provided, that it shall not be necessary to submit to the electors the question of borrowing money to refund outstanding bonds, or for the purpose of enabling any county to liquidate its indebtedness to another county incident to the creation of a new county or the change of any county boundary lines.

History: En. Sec. 4270, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2933, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 92, L. 1919; re-en. Sec. 4717, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

The term "incur indebtedness or liability," as used in section 5, article XIII, of the constitution, is not synonymous with the term "borrow money" used in this section; the former having to do with the creation of new indebtedness, while the latter deals with borrowing money through the instrumentality of issuing bonds for any of the purposes mentioned in the title of which the section forms a part. Edwards v. County of Lewis and Clark, 53 M 359, 369, 370, 165 P 297.

See also State v. State Board of Examiners, 59 M 557, 567, 197 P 988.

The restraint laid upon the legislature by the constitutional provision, limiting the amount of new indebtedness that a county could incur, did not operate to prevent it from imposing upon counties further limitations in the management of county finances. Edwards v. County of Lewis and Clark, 53 M 359, 379, 165 P 297.

Id. The board of county commissioners cannot borrow money to refund outstanding indebtedness exceeding ten thousand dollars, by the issuance of bonds or otherwise, without having first obtained the approval of the electors of the county.

The meaning of this section and section 5, article XIII, of the constitution, declaring that counties shall not incur any indebtedness in an amount exceeding $10,000, without the approval of a majority of the electors "voting at an election," etc., coupled with section 4721, providing that such a loan may be made "if a majority of the votes cast" is in favor of it, is the same, and the approval of a majority of the electors voting at an election to determine whether a proposed indebtedness shall be incurred was sufficient to legalize a bond issue. Morse v. Granite County, 44 M 78, 95, 96, 119 P 286.

Id. Though the language of this section deviates from that employed in section 5 of article XIII of the constitution, it was evidently enacted in pursuance thereof, and must be held to mean the same.

4718. Commissioners to determine amount necessary. Whenever it is necessary to submit to a vote of the electors of the county the question of making a loan, the board must first determine the amount necessary to be raised.

History: En. Sec. 4271, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2934, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4718, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

Upon submitting the question of a bond issue to the voters, the determination by the board of the amount of the issue is a necessary prerequisite to the validity of subsequent proceedings, and in so doing the board may proceed upon its own initiative and determine the necessity of the loan, without waiting the filing of a petition. Morse v. Granite County, 44 M 78; 90, 119 P 286.

The only question which the board of county commissioners was required to submit to the electors upon the proposition of procuring funds to erect a court-house was whether a loan in the amount found necessary should be effected for such purpose. Morse v. Granite County, 44 M 78, 91, 92, 93, 119 P 286; Carlson v. City of Helena, 39 M 82, 102 P 39, distinguished.

Where the board of county commissioners has determined the amount necessary for the general purpose of a proposed bond issue, such as the erection of a court-house, it is not required, before submitting the question to a vote, to ascertain the cost of a suitable site for the building, nor that of the necessary furnishings. Morse v. Granite County, 44 M 78, 90, 91, 119 P 286.

4719. Notice of election to be given. Notice of the election, clearly stating the amount to be raised and the object of the loan, must be given, and the election held and conducted, and the returns made in all respects in the manner prescribed by law in regard to the submission of questions to the electors of a locality under the general election law.

History: En. Sec. 4272, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2935, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4719, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

This section has no reference to the printed form of the ballot, but merely requires that the provisions of the general election law touching the qualifications of the voters, the appointment of judges and clerks, the secrecy of the ballot, and the method of voting should be observed. Tinkel v. Griffin, 26 M 426, 430, 68 P 859.

The order and notice for a special election held for the issuance of bonds to create a highway system, with bridges, which included public ferries, was not invalid because merely stating those purposes generally, and not mentioning ferries, a "ferry" being a mere incident or movable portion of a highway where it crosses a stream. Reid v. Lincoln County, 46 M 31, 57, 58, 125 P 429. Distinguished in State ex rel. Kehoe v. Stromme, 49 M 25, 27, 139 P 1002.

4720. Ballots—what to contain. There must be written or printed on the ballots the words "For the loan" and "Against the loan," and in voting the elector must vote for the proposition he prefers by making an X opposite the proposition.

History: En. Sec. 4273, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2936, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4720, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

In an election held for the incurring of indebtedness by the issue of bonds for the erection and furnishing of a county court-house, ballots on which were printed the words "for the loan" and "against the loan," without specifying the nature and purpose of the proposed loan, were held sufficient. Tinkel v. Griffin, 26 M 426, 430, 68 P 859; Reid v. Lincoln County, 46 M 31, 61, 125 P 429.

4721. When loan may be made. If a majority of the votes cast are in favor of the loan, then the board may make the loan, issuing bonds, or otherwise, as may seem best for the interests of the county.

History: En. Sec. 4274, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2937, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4721, R. C. M. 1921.

4722. Form of ballots—voting. Hereafter whenever, in due course of law, in the manner and form required by law and according to the provisions and requirements of law, any question or proposition of or relating to bonded indebtedness, or of issuing bonds or of refunding, increasing, or creating a bonded indebtedness is submitted, ordered submitted, or to be submitted to the electors of any county, at a general or other election, when, at the same time, candidates for national, state, or county office or offices are to be voted upon or for by the qualified electors of such county, such question or proposition relating to bonds or bonded indebtedness shall not be placed or printed upon the official ballots furnished electors at such election for the purpose of voting for candidates for any office or offices, and containing the names of candidates for office or offices to be voted for at such election, but the county commissioners shall authorize, and the county clerk shall have printed and furnished to election judges and officials in each voting precinct of such county, separate ballots therefor, equal in number to the official ballots so furnished, and containing the names of such candidates for office. Said separate ballots shall be white in color and of convenient size, being only large enough to contain the printing herein required to be done and placed thereon, and shall have printed thereon in fair-sized, legible type and black ink, in one line or more, as required, the words "For" said bonding proposition (stating it and the terms thereof explicitly and at length), and thereunder the words "Against" said bonding proposition (stating it and the terms thereof explicitly and at length in like manner, as above); and there shall be before the word "For" and before the word "Against," each, a square space of sufficient size to place a plain cross or X therein, and such arrangement shall be in this manner:

<input style="width: 40px; height: 25px;" type="checkbox"/>	For (stating propositions.)

Such separate ballots shall be kept, stamped, given out, received, counted, returned, and disposed of by election judges in like manner as other official ballots herein referred to. Each qualified elector offering to vote and permitted to vote shall, at the time he is offered by the election judges an official ballot bearing the names of candidates for office, be handed one of the separate ballots above described, and he may then and there, in a booth as provided by law, and not otherwise, vote on such separate ballot for or against said proposition by placing a cross or X before the word "For" or the word "Against," in the vacant square provided therefor; and such separate ballot shall be returned to the election judges by the voter, with said other official ballot, if the voter chooses to vote for candidates for office and is entitled to do so. The election judges shall deposit said separate ballot on the bonding proposition, separate from the voter's other official ballot, in the ballot-box.

History: En. Sec. 1, p. 13, L. 1901; re-en. Sec. 2938, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4722, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

The ballot, in a special election to authorize the issuance of county bonds for a public highway system in a county, which recited that the issue was the bonding of the county in a designated amount to provide funds for a system of public highways, bridges, and free ferries, said bonds to be payable in twenty years and redeemable in fifteen, was sufficient under this section. Reid v. Lincoln County, 46 M 31, 59, 125 P 429. See Tinkel v. Griffin, 26 M 426, 429, 68 P 859.

Operation and Effect

The general power to fill vacancies is lodged in the board, and though such power is always to be narrowly construed, in case a vacancy is not specifically provided for, it should be exercised in order to prevent an interregnum in the office and the consequent suspension of the public business. State ex rel. Rowe v. Kehoe, 49 M 582, 590, 144 P 162.

Where a person has been elected to succeed himself as county assessor, but dies after his election and before the beginning of the new term, another person appointed immediately after his death to fill the vacancy holds office only until the expiration of the original term of the deceased, and such appointee must, when the new term begins, surrender the office to one appointed to fill the office for the new term. *State ex rel. 4744. Quarterly inspection of official bonds. At the regular quarterly meetings of all boards of county commissioners in this state, in March and September of each year, every board of county commissioners shall carefully examine all official bonds of all county and township officials of its county, then in force and effect, and investigate the qualifications and financial condition and liability of all sureties thereon and their sufficiency; and, if it appear to the satisfaction of any such board of county commissioners, or a majority of the members thereof, that any surety upon any such bond within and for its county has, since the approval and acceptance of such bond, died or withdrawn therefrom, or removed from the state, or disposed of all of his property in this state, or become insane, insolvent, financially embarrassed, or not good and responsible for the amount of his liability thereon, such board of county commissioners shall immediately cause the clerk of said board, for it, to notify in writing the judge of the district court of that district of its action and conclusion, and all facts in connection therewith and the reasons thereof; and said judge shall forthwith take cognizance thereof and investigate such matter and take steps, by order to show cause or other order, citation, step, or action, as may be necessary to make such bond good and sufficient, according to the requirements of law in the premises, and ample security for the amount thereof.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 125, L. 1935.

4749.4. Commissioners' right to consolidate offices without petition not limited. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed as limiting in any manner the discretion of the county commissioners to consolidate the several offices named in the aforesaid article of the constitution, without the filing of the petition provided for in this act.

General Provision Regarding Duties

The provisions of this section are mandatory. The use of the word "only" in the fifth subdivision limits the power of the treasurer to pay out the money of the county, both as to the amount and the precedent conditions of payment. In re Farrell, 36 M 254, 261, 92 P 785. See also County of Silver Bow v. Davies, 40 M 418, 426, 107 P 81.

The duty of a county treasurer to account for and pay over the moneys paid directly to him by members of the public, as revenue due the county, or directed by a court or by statute to be deposited with him for safe-keeping, is clearly statutory, and his liability for dereliction in this respect is a liability created by statute. Gallatin County v. United States F. & G. Co., 50 M 55, 62, 144 P 1085.

The county treasurer is a ministerial officer, without authority other than that conferred on him by statute, and he is not required to perform any duties not imposed on him by law. Rosebud County v. Smith et al., 92 M 75, 80, 9 P 2d 1071.

Payment of Juror's Certificates

The phrase, "or as otherwise provided by law," in the fifth subdivision of this section, includes juror's certificates, and the restrictions as to the power of payment by the treasurer applies as well to them as to other claims against the county. In re Farrell, 36 M 254, 261, 92 P 785; County of Silver Bow v. Davies, 40 M 418, 426, 107 P 81.

Warrants

The owner of a warrant which the treasurer refuses to pay cannot obtain a money judgment against the county in an action on the warrant. Greeley v. Cascade County, 22 M 580, 588, 57 P 274.

Where the petition for writ of mandate to compel a county treasurer to register warrants shows on its face that the warrants were not properly made out, signed or executed, it does not state facts sufficient to justify the granting of the writ, since such a warrant is no warrant at all, and upon its presentation the officer may entirely disregard it. State ex rel. Lockwood v. Tyler, 64 M 124, 130, 208 P 1081.

4751. Receipt to be given by county treasurer. When any money is paid to the county treasurer, he must issue a receipt for such money in triplicate, the original of which shall be delivered to the person paying the same, the duplicate of which shall be delivered to the county clerk and the triplicate shall be retained in his office.

4752. Mode of redeeming warrants. When a warrant is presented for payment, if there is money in the treasury for that purpose, he must pay the same, and write on the face thereof "Paid," the date of payment, and sign his name thereto.

4753. Registry of warrants—interest. When any warrant is presented to the treasurer for payment and the same is not paid for want of funds, the treasurer must indorse thereon, "Not paid for want of funds," annexing the date of presentation, and sign his name thereto; and from that time until paid the warrant bears six per cent. per annum interest.

School District Warrants

School district warrants may be registered and bear interest as provided herein.

4754. Notice of redemption of warrants. When there are sufficient moneys to pay the warrants drawing interest, the treasurer must give notice in some newspaper published in his county, or, if none is published, then by written notice posted upon the courthouse door, stating therein that he is ready to pay such warrants. From the first publication or posting of such notice such warrants cease to draw interest.

4755. What it must state and how published. In advertising warrants under the provisions of this section in any newspaper, the treasurer must not publish the warrants in detail, but give notice only that county warrants presented for payment prior to such date, stated in the notice, are payable. When a part only of the warrants presented for payment on the same day are payable, the treasurer must designate such payable warrants in the advertisement.

History: En. Sec. 4355, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2991, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4755, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4150.

State ex rel. Case v. Bolles et al., 74 M 54, 65, 238 P 586.

4756. Priority in payment of warrants. Warrants drawn on the treasury and properly attested are entitled to preference as to payment out of moneys in the treasury properly applicable to such warrants according to the priority of time in which they were presented. The time of presenting such warrants must be noted by the treasurer, and upon the receipts of moneys into the treasury not otherwise appropriated, he must set apart the same, or so much thereof as is necessary for the payment of such warrants.

4757. Warrants must be registered in name of payee. The county treasurer must not register any county order or warrant in the name of any person other than the payee thereof, except at the request of such payee, or his agent, assignee, or legal representative, whose authority must be produced to the treasurer in writing, and he must not pay any order or warrant except to the payee thereof, or to his agent, assignee, or legal rep-representative, whose authority must be in writing and delivered to him, and must be returned with such order or warrant, when paid, to the board of county commissioners.

History: En. Sec. 98, p. 453, Cod. Stat. 1871; re-en. Sec. 444, 5th Div. Rev. Stat. 1879; re-en. Sec. 897, 5th Div. Comp. Stat. 1887; re-en. Sec. 4357, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2993, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4757, R. C. M. 1921.

4758. Funds reserved sixty days therefor. If such warrants be not re-presented for payment within sixty days from the time of the notice hereinbefore provided for is given, the fund set aside for the payment of the same must be by the treasurer applied to the payment of unpaid warrants next in order of registry. The board of county commissioners may, on application and presentation of warrants properly indorsed, which have been advertised, pass an order directing the treasurer to pay them out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

History: En. Sec. 4358, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2994, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4758, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4152.

While county warrants are not negotiable instruments in the sense of the law-merchant, and the transferee takes them subject to all legal and equitable defenses to them which existed in the hands of the payee, failure of the transferee to re-present a registered warrant within sixty days after it was called for payment (this section) does not render it invalid and may not be relied upon as a defense in an action to compel payment. State ex rel. Case v. Bolles et al., 74 M 54, 64, 65, 238 P 586.

Id. Held, that the word "may" appearing in this section, which provides that the board of county commissioners may on application of the holder of a warrant who failed to re-present a warrant within sixty days after issuance of the call for its payment, order the county treasurer to pay it, means must or shall.

Id. The only penalty a holder of a registered warrant incurs, under this section, for failure to re-present it for payment within sixty days after issuance of the call is loss of interest thereon.

Id. Where the board of county commissioners had wrongfully refused to issue an order for the payment of a warrant not re-presented for payment until after the sixty-day period provided for in this section, had expired, and thereafter the bank in which its funds were deposited became insolvent, the county was not discharged from liability thereon under section 8493, by the holder's neglect to make timely demand for payment, since the detriment suffered by it was traceable to its improper refusal and not to the holder's failure to act.

4759. Notation on warrant of interest paid. When the treasurer pays any warrant on which any interest is due, he must note on the warrant the amount of interest paid thereon, and enter on his account the amount of such interest distinct from the principal.

4760. Settlements, how made—monthly and annually. The treasurer must settle his accounts relating to the collection, care and disbursement of public revenue, of whatsoever nature and kind, with the county clerk, on the first Monday of each month. For the purpose of making such settlements he must make out a statement, under oath, of the amount of money or other property received prior to the period of such settlement, the sources whence the same was derived, the amount of payments or disbursements, and to whom, with the amount remaining on hand. He must, in such settlements, deposit all warrants redeemed by him and take the county clerk's receipt therefor. He must make a full settlement of all accounts with the county clerk, annually, on the first Monday of January, in the presence of the county commissioners, who have control thereof.

4761. Report to board of commissioners each session. Each county treasurer must make a detailed report, at every regular meeting of the board of county commissioners of his county, of all moneys received by him and the disbursement thereof, and of all debts due to and from the county, and of all other proceedings in his office, so that the receipts into the treasury and the amount of disbursements, together with the debts due to and from the county, may clearly and distinctly appear.

4762. Penalty for not reporting. If any county treasurer neglects or refuses to settle or report, as required in the preceding section, he forfeits and must pay to the county the sum of five hundred dollars for every such neglect or refusal, and the board of county commissioners must institute suits for the recovery thereof.

4763. When he must sue county attorney. If the county attorney refuses or neglects to account for and pay over money received by him, as required by the fifth subdivision of section 4819, the county treasurer must bring an action against him for the recovery thereof in the name of the county, and may recover in such action, in addition to the amount so received, fifty per cent. thereon by way of damages.

4764. When he must sue coroner. If the coroner, or any justice of the peace acting as coroner, fails to deliver to the treasurer, within thirty days after any inquest upon a dead body, all money and property found upon such body, unless claimed in the meantime by the public administrator or other legal representative of the decedent, as required by section 4850, the treasurer must proceed against the coroner, or justice acting as coroner, to recover the same by civil action in the name of the county.

4765. Disposition of property received from coroner. The treasurer, upon receiving from the coroner, or justice acting as coroner, money found on a dead body, must place it to the credit of the county. On receiving other property in like manner he must, within thirty days, sell it at public auction upon reasonable public notice, and must in like manner place the proceeds to the credit of the county.

History: En. Sec. 4365, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3001, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4765, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4159.

4766. Money from coroner in treasury may be demanded within six years. If the money in the treasury is demanded within six years by the legal representatives of the decedent, the treasurer must pay it to them, after deducting the fees and expenses of the coroner and of the county in relation to the matter; or the same may be so paid at any time thereafter upon the order of the board of county commissioners.

History: En Sec. 4366, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3002, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4766, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4160.

4767. Deposit of public funds by county, city and town treasurers. It shall be the duty of all county, city and town treasurers to deposit all public moneys in their possession and under their control in any solvent bank or banks located in the county, city or town of which such treasurer is an officer, subject to national supervision or state examination as the board of county commissioners in the case of a county, or of the council in the case of a city or town, may designate, and no other. The sums so deposited shall bear uniform interest at the rate of not more than two per centum (2%) per annum, payable quarter annually. The treasurer shall take from such bank such security as the board of county commissioners, in the case of a county, or the council, in the case of a city or town, may prescribe, approve and deem fully sufficient and necessary to insure the safety and prompt payment of all such deposits on demand, together with the interest thereon. Provided, however, that said board of county commissioners, city or town council may require security for only such portion of deposits as is not guaranteed or insured according to law. Such securities shall consist of bonds of some surety company authorized to do business in the state of Montana, or bonds guaranteed by such companies directly or indirectly, bonds and securities of the United States government and its dependents, bonds and warrants of the state of Montana or of any county, city, town or school district of Montana, Federal Land Bank bonds, bonds of other states and counties of other states, bonds of the Dominion of Canada, and Canadian Provinces, and other Canadian bonds guaranteed by the Canadian government or provinces thereof, personal bonds, as hereinafter provided, when accompanied by a sworn statement of the resources and liabilities of each of the sureties thereon, which shall be attached and made a part of the bond and bonds issued in the United States of America, which are quoted on the New York market, which shall be acceptable at not to exceed ninety per centum (90%) of such market quotation. Provided, further, that when negotiable securities are furnished, such securities may be placed in trust and the trustee's receipt may be accepted in lieu of the actual securities when such receipt is in favor of the treasurer, his successors and the state of Montana, and the form of receipt and the trustee have been approved by the state examiner. All warrants or other negotiable securities must be properly assigned or endorsed in blank. It shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners in the case of county funds, or the council in the case of funds of a city or town, upon the acceptance and approval of any of the above mentioned bonds or securities, to make a complete minute entry of such acceptance and approval upon the record of their proceedings, and such bonds and securities shall be reapproved at least quarter annually thereafter. When more than one bank is available in any county, for the deposit of county funds, or in any city or town for the deposit of city or town funds, such deposits shall be distributed ratable among all of such banks qualifying therefor, substantially in proportion to the paid-in capital and surplus of each such bank willing to receive such deposits under the terms of this act, and it shall be the duty of said county, city or town treasurer to prorate all such deposits among all of the banks qualified to receive the same as in this act provided, to the end that an equitable distribution of such deposits shall be maintained. Whenever it shall come to the attention of the state examiner that the funds of any county, city or town are not properly distributed as provided in this act, the state examiner shall order the treasurer of such county, city or town to distribute said funds in accordance herewith, and if such treasurer shall refuse or neglect to comply with such order, it shall be the duty of the state examiner to institute proceedings against such treasurer at the cost of the county, city or town of which such treasurer is an officer, on the official bond of such treasurer. If no such bank exists in the county, city or town, or if any bank or banks existing therein fails or refuses to qualify under the terms of this act to receive such deposits, then and in such case, or in either of such cases, such moneys as have not been accepted by any bank or banks within said county, city or town, shall be deposited under the terms of this act, in the bank or banks most convenient to such county, city or town, willing to accept such deposits under the terms of this act, and qualified as above provided. Any bank or banks receiving such deposits, shall, through its president and cashier, make a statement quarter annually of account, under oath, showing all such moneys that have been deposited with such bank during the quarter, the amount of daily balance in dollars, and the amount of interest by such bank or banks credited or paid therefor, and showing that neither such bank nor any officer thereof, nor any person for it, has paid or given any consideration or emolument whatsoever to the treasurer or to any other person other than the interest provided for herein, for or on account of the making of such deposits, with any such bank. All such deposits shall be subject to withdrawal by the treasurer in such amounts as may be necessary from time to time, and no deposit of funds shall be made, or permitted to remain in any bank, until the security for such deposits shall have been first approved by the board of county commissioners in the case of county funds, or by the council in the case of city or town funds, and delivered to the treasurer. All interest paid and collected on such deposits shall be credited to the general fund of the county, city or town to whose credit such funds are deposited. Where moneys shall have been deposited in accordance with the provisions of this act, the treasurer shall not be liable for loss on account of any such deposit that may occur through damage by the elements, or for any other cause or reason occasioned through means other than his own neglect, fraud, or dishonorable conduct.

No personal bond shall be accepted except when such bond is for the purpose of renewing a personal bond now in effect, and from and after December 31, 1930, personal bonds shall not be considered as acceptable security; provided, further, that from and after the passage and approval of this act, no new or additional deposit accounts shall be opened by any treasurer under any personal bond.

Approval of Bonds

The bond required of county depositaries under this section, as amended by ch. 89, laws of 1923, must be approved by the board of county commissioners as an entity, its approval by the chairman of the board being insufficient. State v. American Bank & Trust Co., 75 M 369, 372, 243 P 1093.

Id. In an action on a bond furnished a county under the depositary act which had been returned by the board of county commissioners as not needed and canceled but subsequently without the knowledge of the sureties thereon redelivered to the board, evidence reviewed and held sufficient to justify the conclusion of the court that the bond had not been approved by the board on a certain day as contended by the board.

Id. This section as amended by chapter 89, laws of 1923, providing that a county depositary bond shall not be effective until approved by the board of county commissioners, in the manner prescribed, is a special statute and controls even though there be a general statute on the subject inconsistent with it.

Id. Where a depositary bond had not been approved, its return amounted to a rejection, and after the sureties had been informed of the action of the board of county commissioners, it was not within the power of the board upon its resubmission by the bank without the knowledge of the sureties to thereafter approve it, a bond being a contract which requires the assent of both parties to the same thing at the same time.

While generally speaking, a depositary bond is not binding until it has been approved by the proper authority, a different rule applies where the bond was voluntarily entered into and the principal enjoyed the benefits which it was intended to secure and a breach occurred; in such case the sureties are estopped from availing themselves of such a defense, if they acted with knowledge of their rights, were aware of the facts and the county (depositor) was misled by their acts and changed its position in reliance thereon, was justified in so doing and was prejudiced or the sureties were benefited. State v. Corvallis State Bank et al., 84 M 297, 300, 275 P 265.

Id. Under the last above rule, held, that where sureties on a bond of a bank which had been designated as a depositary of county funds under the depositary act (this section) were stockholders and directors of the bank and thus financially interested in the transaction, were sureties on a bond about to expire and, desirous that the bank be continued as a county depositary, executed a new bond found sufficient by the county authorities with the exception that they required one additional signature which was secured and the bond delivered to the treasurer, who accepted it and continued his deposits in the bank, the sureties were bound although the bond was not formally approved until five days after the failure of the bank.

Depositary Bonds

Where a county treasurer had county funds on deposit in a bank in the sum of thirty-three thousand dollars, without first having exacted an indemnity bond, and the bank later furnished bond in the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, the legal effect of such latter action was a redeposit of a sum equal to one-half the amount of the bond, and neither its validity nor sufficiency was impaired by the wrongful act of the treasurer in keeping on deposit a sum in excess of the latter amount. Yellowstone Co. v. First Trust & Savings Bank, 46 M 439, 449, 128 P 596.

A depositary of public funds is not an officer and a depositary bond is not an official bond within the meaning of section 484, providing that if there are any defects in the approval or filing thereof, etc., the bond shall not be void so as to discharge the officer or his sureties. State v. American Bank & Trust Co., 75 M 369, 372, 243 P 1093.

A bond given in pursuance to this section, to insure the safety and prompt payment of county funds deposited by the county treasurer (disregarding an unintelligible clause therein), held, a contract for the direct payment of money, warranting the issuance of a writ of attachment against the property of the sureties in an action to recover thereon. State v. Pondera Valley State Bank et al., 77 M 1, 5, 248 P 207.

In the absence of a statute prohibiting it, a state bank may pledge its securities to indemnify a surety who signs a bond in its behalf in order that the bank may obtain deposits of public funds. Ainsworth v. Kruger, 80 M 468, 475, 260 P 1055.

Id. A bank director who became surety on a bond given by the bank to secure deposits of public funds was not, by virtue of his office, disqualified from accepting notes and mortgages from the bank to indemnify him for possible loss because of his engagement as surety, where the bank was believed to be solvent at the time and the transaction was in entire good faith.

Id. Where the directors of a state bank on the second last day of 1922 in passing a resolution under which certain of its securities were pledged to one of their number to indemnify the latter for possible loss on a depository bond, had in contemplation the execution of a like bond for the subsequent year and the director in question in 1923 signed a new bond, and loss occurred to him under the latter bond, he was entitled to hold the securities delivered to him under the first bond to indemnify himself for such loss.

A depository bond executed to take the place of one about to expire and providing that the principal should faithfully account for all moneys "deposited with it," covered moneys on deposit on the date the bond was delivered to the treasurer as well as those subsequently deposited, the law looking to the purpose for which the instrument was required and given to determine the tense of the verb. State v. Corvallis State Bank et al., 84 M 297, 300, 275 P 265.

Held, that a depository bond furnished to a county treasurer under this section and approved by the board of county commissioners providing for "conventional" subrogation, i.e., that in case of the bank's failure and before the county was paid in full, the surety should be entitled to share with the county in dividends paid by the receiver, was invalid as contrary to public policy, in that it had a tendency adversely to affect the public welfare and impair the public revenue. American Surety Co. v. N. Y. v. Clarke, 94 M 1, 9, 20 P 2d 831.

Liability of City Treasurer

This section requires the city treasurer to deposit public funds in banks designated by the council, he taking such securities as the council may prescribe, approve and deem fully sufficient to insure the safety of the funds, and when deposits are made as prescribed by the act the treasurer shall not be liable for losses except when due to his neglect or fraud. Defendant city treasurer had on deposit in a bank, designated by the council as a city depository, at the time of its closing some $23,000 in excess of securities approved by the council; the council had not designated the amount of the securities which the treasurer should require from the bank nor taken any action as to the amount which should be deposited therein. Held, in an action by the city to recover on the official bond of the treasurer the amount lost by the failure of the bank, that under the act above it was the duty of the council to see that securities fully sufficient to protect the deposits were furnished; that under the facts the treasurer could not be held guilty of neglect of duty in making deposits in excess of the securities approved by the council, and therefore was not liable on his official bond for the loss sustained. (Mr. Justice Angstman dissenting.) Billings v. Massachusetts B. & I. Co., 88 M 91, 94, 290 P 246.

Liability of County for Other Funds

Held, that the contention that the legislature by the enactment of chapter 128, laws of 1923, authorizing school districts to issue warrants in a stated amount where the banks in which their funds had been deposited became insolvent—an emergency measure—modified or repealed this section, so as to relieve the county of its liability under that section for funds deposited with its treasurer by school districts and by him deposited in county depositories, has no merit. State v. McGraw, 74 M 152, 157 et seq., 240 P 812.

Id. Under chapter 137, laws of 1925, amendatory of this section, title to moneys deposited by a school district with the county treasurer passes to the county; the moneys become county funds; the county becomes the debtor of the school district and upon redeposit thereof in county depositories is liable to the district for their loss occasioned by such depositories becoming insolvent, such loss being the loss of county and not school district funds.

Held, under State ex rel. School District v. McGraw, ante, that a county is liable to an irrigation district for the loss of funds deposited by the latter with the treasurer of the former as required by this section, and redeposited by the treasurer in county depositories which failed. State v. McGraw, 74 M 164, 240 P 187.

Liability of County Treasurer

The fact that neither the county commissioners nor the state examiner, whose duty it was to ascertain the depositories of county funds and inquire into the sufficiency of the bonds held to secure them, interposed any objection to a county treasurer's wrongful conduct in depositing county funds in a bank without exacting any security, did not constitute an estoppel on the part of the county to claim that his act was wrongful. Yellowstone Co. v. First Trust & Savings Bank, 46 M 439, 451, 128 P 596.

Id. A county, not having authority to empower its treasurer to make a general deposit of its funds without requiring security as provided by statute, cannot ratify the treasurer's wrongful act in doing so, and therefore is not estopped to assert that such act was wrongful because of its presumed ratification thereof.

By the adoption of chapter 88, laws of 1913 (this section) and amendment thereof (chapter 137, laws of 1925), requiring the county treasurer to deposit all "public moneys"—which term includes moneys belonging to a school district or other branch of the state government—in his possession in county depositories designated by the board of county commissioners, the treasurer becomes the agent of the county in handling such funds and he and his bondsmen are relieved from liability for their loss occasioned through the failure of the depositories. State v. McGraw, 74 M 152, 157 et seq., 240 P 812.

Under this section, as amended by chapter 89, laws of 1923, a county treasurer may not lawfully deposit public funds, nor permit them to remain, in a bank unless such bank has been designated by the board of county commissioners, after approval by it of an indemnity bond or other prescribed security, as a proper depository; disregard of such requirement is a violation of official duty and, in case of loss, subjects the treasurer to liability upon his official bond. State v. Rosman et al., 84 M 207, 213, 274 P 850.

Since the enactment of chapter 89, laws of 1923, where the county treasurer deposits county funds in a bank designated by the board of county commissioners as a county depository, first requiring proper security, he is no longer custodian of such funds, and liable in case of loss only if occasioned by his own neglect, fraud or dishonorable conduct. Rosebud County v. Smith et al., 92 M 75, 81, 9 P 2d 1071.

The provisions of this section, relating to depository bonds which the county treasurer must furnish and the board of county commissioners approve to insure the safety and prompt payment of deposits made, became as much a part of a surety bond at the time it was executed and delivered as if written into the contract. American Surety Co. of N. Y. v. Clarke, 94 M 1, 9, 20 P 2d 831.

Personal Bond

Where a personal bond is given to secure county deposits "in addition to" other bonds furnished by surety companies, the liability of the sureties on the former is not postponed until the corporation bonds have been exhausted. State v. Pondera Valley State Bank et al., 77 M 1, 5, 248 P 207.

Preferred Claims Against Insolvent Banks

Where a county treasurer has county funds on deposit in a bank, in compliance with this section, the moneys so deposited constitute a general deposit and make of the county a general creditor of the bank.

In case of the bank's failure, it must, under these circumstances, either share alike with other general creditors in the distribution of the bank's assets, or look to the surety for relief. Yellowstone Co. v. First Trust & Savings Bank, 46 M 439, 449, 128 P 596.

Id. That a county treasurer was following a custom established by his predecessor in depositing public moneys in bank, without requiring the security prescribed by statute, was no defense to a suit by the county to have the bank declared a trustee ex maleficio of such moneys for its benefit, and to be decreed entitled to preference in the distribution of the assets of the bank then in the hands of a receiver.

Id. The keeping of county funds on deposit to the extent of $20,500, excess over and above the sum of $12,500 secured by bond, as required by this section, was unlawful and without the county's consent, and as to such excess, the bank, chargeable with knowledge of the unlawful conduct of the county treasurer, and therefore an active participant in the wrong, became a trustee ex maleficio, for the use and benefit of the county.

In an action upon sureties to establish a preference upon the assets of an insolvent bank to satisfy the amount which they were required to pay a county for funds on deposit therein at the time of its suspension, held that in the absence of constitutional or statutory provision conferring the right of sovereignty upon counties they do not possess it; that therefore the county could not assert the right of preference with respect to county funds lawfully on deposit in the bank which the state enjoys in its sovereign capacity, and hence that the sureties were not entitled to claim that they were subrogated to such right of preference. Bignell et al. v. Cummins, 69 M 294, 304, 222 P 797.

See City of Missoula v. Dick et al., as to preference right of a citizen, 76 M 506, 248 P 193.

Before it may be said that a bank which accepts deposits of public funds made illegally by their custodian and thereafter becomes insolvent is a trustee ex maleficio of such funds for the public body to which they belong, it must be made to appear that the bank had notice or knowledge of the illegality of the deposits. State ex rel. Rankin v. Benton State Bank, 81 M 322, 325, 263 P 689.

Id. Where a bank under the depository law had qualified to receive county funds to the amount of $325,000 but had received deposits only to the amount of $251,538 without knowledge or notice that the county treasurer in depositing that amount with it had done so in disregard of this section, which required him to prorate the funds among all the banks in the county which had qualified as depositories, the county, upon subsequent insolvency of the bank, was not entitled to an order declaring it a preferred creditor to the amount of the excess between the sum which the treasurer should have deposited under a proper prorating and the sum actually deposited, on the theory that it was a trustee ex maleficio of the excess deposits; not having been an active participant in the wrongdoing of the treasurer and having received the deposits without knowledge or notice that he was transgressing the law, its status as a general depository was not changed to that of a trustee.

Held, under this section, as amended by chapter 89, laws of 1923, making it the duty of the county treasurer to deposit public funds only in such banks as may be designated by the board of county commissioners, upon receipt by him of such securities from them as may be prescribed and approved by the board as sufficient to safeguard the deposits, the treasurer is absolved from responsibility in the selection of the depository; the deposits when commingled with other moneys of the bank become general deposits and in case of the bank's subsequent insolvency and the insufficiency of the securities to save the county harmless, the county may not claim a preference payment out of its assets to the extent of the deficit, but may take only as a general creditor. County of Missoula et al. v. Lochrie, 83 M 308, 312, 271 P 710.

County depository bank, receiving deposits exceeding amount of its bond contrary to county commissioners' direction, violated law (this section). County treasurer's deposit in depository bank held traceable into cash in receiver's hands; presumption being that money disbursed therefrom was other money. First Nat. Bank of Forsyth, Mont. v. Fidelity & Deposit Co., 48 F 2d 585.

Prorating Between Depositories

The county treasurer who collects taxes for a city and which constitute city and not county funds, is without authority to prorate such funds among banks designated by the board of county commissioners as depositories for county moneys. State v. McNamer, 62 M 490, 495 et seq., 205 P 951.

Where a board of county commissioners, acting under chapter 88, laws of 1913 (this section before amendment), had designated a bank a county depository, the county treasurer was, in the absence of the statute requiring a periodical designation thereafter, justified in continuing to make deposits therein upon receipt of approved securities, until notified to the contrary. State ex rel. Rankin v. Madison State Bk., 77 M 498, 501, 251 P 548.

Id. Held, that this section before amendment, not having prescribed that the board of county commissioners in designating a bank as county depository should cause its action to be recorded in its minutes, the board, under the rule that where the mode of the exercise of a power granted to it is not prescribed it may use its own discretion in selecting the mode, could properly choose any method of making known to the treasurer the bank entitled to receive county deposits it deemed adapted for that purpose.

Id. Under the above rules, held that where a board of county commissioners made an order pursuant to the provisions of this section, designating a certain bank a county depository, but failed to cause such order to be entered in its minutes, the board was properly permitted, on a taxpayer's petition to require the receiver of the bank upon its insolvency to recognize the claim of the county as a preferred one on the ground that the deposits therein had been unlawfully made in that the board's order designating the bank a depository had not been entered in its minutes, to prove its action in that regard by oral testimony; that the funds were legally deposited and that therefore the county was a general creditor and not entitled to a preference.

4774. Duties of sheriff. The sheriff must:

1. Preserve the peace.
2. Arrest and take before the nearest magistrate, for examination, all persons who attempt to commit, or have committed a public offense;
3. Prevent and suppress all affrays, breaches of the peace, riots, and insurrections which may come to his knowledge;
4. Perform duties of humane officer within his county with reference to the protection of dumb animals;
5. Attend all courts, except justices and police courts, at their respective terms or sessions held within his county, and obey their lawful orders and directions.
6. Command the aid of as many male inhabitants as his county as he may think necessary in the execution of these duties;
7. Take charge of and keep the county jail and the prisoners therein;
8. Indorse upon all notices and process the year, month, day, hour, and minute of reception, and issue therefor to the person delivering it, on payment of fees, a certificate showing the names of the parties, title of paper, and time or reception;
9. Serve all process or notices in the manner prescribed by law;

10. Certify under his hand upon the process of notices the manner and time of service, or, if he fails to make service, the reasons of his failure, and return the same without delay.

Operation and Effect

Where a sheriff had employed a number of men, sworn in as deputy sheriffs, to guard railroad strikers, after having assured the company that he was able to enforce the peace without such aid, and the company had agreed to pay for such services, the company was liable for such payment, notwithstanding the statutory provision empowering the sheriff to call to his aid such persons as may be necessary to suppress unlawful assemblies, and the provision prohibiting a sheriff from demanding for official services any greater fees than are allowed by law. Sullivan v. U. & N. Ry. Co., 11 M 236, 243, 28 P 807.

Whether it was necessary for the sheriff to assemble his deputies, the policemen, and the employees of the defendant as a posse comitatus we need not inquire. Presumably the sheriff was acting within his authority; and he was the one to judge whether he needed help to preserve the peace. It was his duty to prevent and suppress breaches of the peace, riots and insurrections, and to command the aid of as many male inhabitants of his county as he thought necessary to execute that duty. Upon such an occasion the sheriff is the commander of all he summons to his aid and all under his command are in duty bound to obey his lawful orders. McCarthy v. Anaconda Copper Min. Co., 70 M 309, 313, 225 P 391.

A sheriff without authority, as such, beyond the confines of the state; the ordinary discharge of his duties does not authorize him to leave the state except where he is designated the agent of the state in cases of extradition. Brannin v. Sweet Grass Co., 88 M 412, 416, 293 P 970.

4775. Under-sheriff to be appointed. The sheriff, as soon as may be after he enters upon the duties of his office, must, except in counties of the seventh and eighth classes, appoint some person under-sheriff to hold during the pleasure of the sheriff. Such under-sheriff has the same powers and duties as a deputy sheriff.

4776. Duties of under-sheriff. Whenever a vacancy occurs in the office of sheriff, the under-sheriff must in all things execute the office of sheriff until a sheriff is elected or appointed and duly qualified. Any default, misfeasance, or malfeasance of such under-sheriff in the meantime, as well as before, is a breach of the condition of the bond given by the sheriff who appointed him, and also a breach of the conditions of the bond given by him to the sheriff.

4777. Action may be prosecuted against executors. Any action for default or misconduct of any sheriff, his under-sheriff, jailer, or any of his deputies, may be prosecuted against the executors or administrators of such sheriff.

History: En. Sec. 4384, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3013, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4777, R. C. M. 1921.

4778. Return by mail to another county. When process or notices are returnable to another county, the sheriff may inclose such process or notice in an envelope, addressed to the officer who sent them, and deposit it in the postoffice, prepaying postage.

History: En. Sec. 4385, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3014, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4778, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4177.

4779. Return prima facie evidence. The return of the sheriff, upon process or notices, is prima facie evidence of the facts in such return stated.

History: En. Sec. 4386, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3015, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4779, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4178.

Operation and Effect

The return of an officer upon a search-warrant is prima facie evidence only of the facts stated therein and may, therefore, be overcome by other evidence. State ex rel. Merrell v. District Court, 72 M 77, 231 P 1107.

The return of a sheriff on execution sale is only prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein; it may be contradicted by other evidence, especially where the return is at variance with the officer's certificate of sale, by virtue of which latter instrument title to the property passes, subject to redemption; nor can the title of a purchaser at an execution sale be affected by defects or informalities in the return. Commercial Bank & Trust Co. v. Jordan, 85 M 375, 386, 278 P 832.

A sheriff's return on execution is merely prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated—it may be overcome by other evidence; hence, where his return in an action for the rescission of a land contract recited that he had delivered certain articles of personal property as directed, evidence regarding loss of or damage thereto was properly admissible. Silfvast v. Asplund et al., 99 M 152, 158, 42 P 2d 452.

4780. Penalty for non-return of process. If the sheriff does not return a notice or process in his possession with the necessary indorsement thereon without delay, he is liable to the party aggrieved for the sum of two hundred dollars and for all damages sustained by him.

4781. Liability for refusing to levy or sell. If the sheriff to whom a writ of execution or attachment is delivered neglects or refuses, after being required by the creditor or his attorney, to levy upon or sell any property of the party charged in the writ which is liable to be levied upon or sold, he is liable to the creditor for the value of such property.

History: En. Sec. 4388, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3017, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4781, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4180.

Operation and Effect

Where a sheriff wrongfully refuses to levy upon and sell property on execution issued on a money judgment, he is liable in damages to the judgment creditor on his official bond, and therefore the latter has a plain, speedy and adequate remedy and is not entitled to a writ of mandate to compel the officer to proceed under the execution. State ex rel. Duggan v. District Court, 65 M 197, 200, 210 P 1062.

Id. Where a judgment creditor is entitled to the possession of specific property and the sheriff refuses to proceed under execution, the remedy of an action for damages on the officer's bond is not adequate, and mandamus lies to compel action.

Complaint in an action against a sheriff and his official bondsman for damages flowing from the refusal of the officer to levy a writ of attachment, alleging that the judgment in the attachment suit and all of the rights of the judgment creditor against the defendants had been assigned to plaintiff and that plaintiff is the assignee of all of the rights of the said judgment creditor against them, held sufficient to show an assignment of the cause of action in the absence of a special demurrer or motion to make more definite and certain. Gotzian & Co. v. Morris et al., 89 M 307, 311, 297 P 489.

4782. Damages for refusing to pay over money. If he neglects or refuses to pay over, on demand, to the person entitled thereto, any money which may come into his hands by virtue of his office (after deducting his legal fees), the amount thereof, with twenty-five per cent. damages and interest at the rate of ten per cent. per month from the time of demand, may be recovered by such person.

History: En. Sec. 4389, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3018, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4782, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4181.

Operation and Effect

Since under this section a means is provided for compelling a sheriff to pay moneys which may have come into his hands by virtue of his office, to the person entitled thereto, mandamus does not lie to compel him to do so. State ex rel. Grantier v. Woods, 67 M 337, 339, 215 P 671.

An officer who comes into possession of funds by virtue of his office and deposits the same, exercising good faith and due care in the selection of the depository, is not liable on his official bond for their loss resulting from the failure of the bank.

Wells-Dickey Co. v. Benjamin, 74 M 170, 175, 239 P 771.

Id. Held that this section providing that if a sheriff refuses to pay over money which came into his hands by virtue of his office, the person entitled thereto may recover it with twenty-five per cent damages, has application only to cases of intentional delinquency, merely prescribes punishment for wilful or corrupt neglect of duty, and is therefore inapplicable to a case where his failure to pay was due to the closing of a bank in which the money was deposited.

4783. Liability for permitting an escape. A sheriff who suffers the escape of a person arrested in a civil action, without the consent or connivance of the party in whose behalf the arrest or imprisonment was made, is liable as follows:

1. When the arrest is upon an order to hold to bail or upon a surrender in exoneration of bail before judgment, he is liable to the plaintiff as bail;
2. When the arrest is on an execution or commitment to enforce the payment of money, he is liable for the amount expressed in the execution or commitment;
3. When the arrest is on an execution or commitment other than to enforce the payment of money, he is liable for the actual damages sustained;
4. Upon being sued for damages for an escape or rescue, he may introduce evidence in mitigation or exculpation.

4785. No action for escape or rescue after return or recapture. An action cannot be maintained against a sheriff for a rescue, or for an escape of a person arrested upon an execution or commitment, if, after his rescue or escape and before the commencement of the action, the prisoner returns to the jail, or is retaken by the sheriff.

4786. Direction to sheriff must be in writing. No direction or authority by a party or his attorney to a sheriff, in respect to the execution of process or return thereof, or any act or omission relating thereto, is available to discharge or excuse the sheriff from a liability for neglect or misconduct, unless it is contained in a writing signed by the attorney of the party or by the party.

History: En. Sec. 4393, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3022, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4786, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4185.

4787. When office of sheriff deemed vacant. When the sheriff is committed under an execution or commitment for not paying over money received by him by virtue of his office, and remains committed for sixty days, his office is vacant.

4788. When sheriff justified in executing process. A sheriff, or other ministerial officer, is justified in the execution of and must execute all process and orders regular on their face and issued by competent authority, whatever may be the defect in the proceedings upon which they were issued.

History: En. Sec. 4395, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3024, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4788, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4187.

Operation and Effect

In an action against a sheriff for the value of personal property sold under execution issued against the property of a third person, the officer cannot justify under the execution, without proving the existence of a valid judgment. Ford v. McMaster, 6 M 240, 241, 11 P 669; Marcum v. Coleman, 8 M 196, 200, 19 P 394; Palmer v. McMaster, 10 M 390, 394, 25 P 1056.

4791. Service on sheriff, how made. 4792. Coroner to execute process when sheriff is a party. When the sheriff is a party to an action or proceeding, the process and orders therein, which it would otherwise be the duty of the sheriff to execute, must be executed by the coroner of the county.

1. When the sheriff and coroner are both parties;
2. When either of these officers is a party and the process is against the other; and
3. When either of these officers is a party and there is a vacancy in the office of the other; or, when it appears by affidavit to the satisfaction of the court in which the proceeding is pending, or the judge thereof, that both of these officers are disqualified, or by reason of any bias, prejudice, or other cause would not act promptly or impartially. When process is delivered to an elisor, he must execute and return it in the same manner as the sheriff is required to execute similar process. The court or judge may at any time on its own motion appoint an elisor.

He has the custody and must keep all the books, records, maps, and papers deposited in his office.

4796. What to be recorded. He must, upon payment of his fees for the same, record, or correctly copy, separately, in large and well-bound, or to be bound, separate books, either in a fair hand or by printing or by typewriting, or by the use of prepared blank forms:

History: En. Sec. 4411, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3032, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 68, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4796, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4235.

Operation and Effect

Since an option to purchase land is not itself a contract to purchase the land, the book kept by the county clerk and recorder for the recording of contracts for the purchase or sale of real property is not, but the miscellaneous record book required by this section, subd. 15, for entry of such other writings as are required or permitted by law to be recorded, is the proper book for recordation of such a contract. Guerin v. Sunburst Oil & Gas Co., 68 M 365, 369, 218 P 949.

4797. Recordation of certain instruments declared proper. All instruments which have heretofore been filed for record in the several recorders' offices of the state of Montana, including all instruments which were offered for record pursuant to the previous section, which have been recorded in the offices of the recorders of the several counties by being correctly copied, separately, in large and well-bound, or to be bound, separate books, either in a fair hand or by printing or by typewriting, or by the use of prepared blank forms, or by being so inscribed or printed on a single loose leaf or leaves of a book, which leaf or leaves have heretofore or are to become a permanent part of any such book or volume, which, when completed, has or shall have the pages thereof securely locked, sealed, or bound into the volume, shall be and are hereby declared to be properly recorded under the laws of the state of Montana.

4798. Same—validation of such instruments. And all such instruments as have been recorded in accordance with the requirements of the foregoing section are hereby expressly validated, in so far as validation may be necessary to establish them as correctly or legally recorded instruments for all purposes.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 138, L. 1917; re-en. Sec. 4798, R. C. M. 1921.

The names of the parties in the first column of the several indexes must be arranged in alphabetical order, and when a conveyance is executed by a sheriff, the name of the sheriff and the party charged in the execution must both be inserted in the index; and when an instrument is recorded to which an executor, administrator, or trustee is a party, the name of such executor, administrator, or trustee, together with the name of the testator or intestate, or party for whom the trust is held, must be inserted in the index.

History: En. Sec. 4417, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3038, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4804, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4240.

Operation and Effect

No rights under a recorded instrument will be impaired or affected by the failure of a county clerk and recorder to index or enter the same, as required by statute. Palmer v. Murray, 8 M 174, 183, 19 P 553.

4805. Duty on receipt of instrument to be recorded. When any instrument, paper, or notice, authorized by law to be recorded, is deposited in the office of the county clerk, as ex-officio recorder, for record, accompanied by the required fee, he must indorse upon the same the time it was received, noting the year, month, day, hour and minute of its reception, and must record the same without delay, together with the acknowledgment, proofs, and certificates written upon or annexed to the same, with the plats, surveys, schedule, and other papers thereto annexed, in the order and as of the time when the same was received for record, and must note at the foot of the record the exact time of its reception. The county clerk shall not receive for recording, any deed, mortgage or assignment of mortgage unless the postoffice address of the grantee, mortgagee or assignee of the mortgagee, as the case may be, is contained therein, provided that this requirement shall not affect the validity of the record of any instrument which has been or may be recorded.

History: En. Sec. 4418, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3039, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4805, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 2, L. 1929; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 27, L. 1931. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4241.

4806. Recorded instrument to be indorsed. He must also indorse upon each instrument, paper, or notice, the time when and the book and pages in which it is recorded, and must thereafter deliver it, upon request, to the party leaving the same for record, or to his order.

History: En. Sec. 4419, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3040, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4806, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4242.

4807. To make searches. He may, upon the application of any person, and upon the payment or tender of the fees therefor, make searches for conveyances, mortgages, and all other instruments, papers, or notices recorded or filed in his office, and furnish a certificate thereof, stating the names of the parties to such instruments, papers, and notices, the dates thereof, the year, month, day, hour, and minute they were recorded or filed, the extent to which they purport to affect the property to which they relate, and the book and pages where they are recorded.

4808. Liable for neglect of certain duties. If any county clerk, as ex-officio recorder, to whom an instrument, proved or acknowledged according to law, or any paper or notice which may be by law recorded, is delivered for record:

2. Records any instruments, papers, or notices untruly, or in any other manner than as hereinbefore directed; or

3. Neglects or refuses to keep in his office such indexes as are required by this article, or to make the proper entries therein; or

4. Neglects or refuses to make the searches and to give the certificates required by this chapter; or if such searches or certificates are incomplete or defective, when such incompleteness or defect is due to his direct responsibility particularly affecting the property in respect to which it is requested; or 4809. Fees to be prepaid. He is not bound to record any instrument, or file any paper or notice, or furnish any copies, or to render any service connected with his office, until the fee for the same, as prescribed by law, is, if demanded, paid or tendered.

History: En. Sec. 4422, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3043, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4809, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4245.

Operation and Effect

Where a paper entitled to be filed is deposited with the proper custodian, and, if prepayment of the filing fee is required, the fee tendered, it is filed, the marking thereof as "filed" not constituting the filing. In re Dewar's Estate, 10 M 426, 437, 25 P 1025.

Under this section the county clerk may, but is not required to, demand prepayment of filing or other fees; section 4892 having to do with the payment of fees in advance, being inapplicable. Minneapolis Steel & Machinery Co. v. Thomas, 54 M 132, 135, 163 P 40.

Id. Where a corporation sent its annual report to the county clerk with the request that he advise it as to his fee for filing his answer, accompanying his refusal to file it because not acknowledged, "will state that the fee for filing is one dollar," was not such a demand for prepayment as is contemplated by this section.

4810. Records open to inspection. All books or records, maps, charts, surveys, and other papers on file in his office, must, during office hours, be open for the inspection of any person who may desire to inspect them, and may be inspected without charge; and he must arrange the books of record and indexes in his office in such suitable places as to facilitate their inspection.

4811. Duties of county clerk. The county clerk must:

1. Take charge of and safely keep, or dispose of according to law, all books, papers, and records which may be filed or deposited in his office;
2. Act as clerk of the board of county commissioners;
3. Draw warrants on the county treasurer in favor of all persons entitled thereto in payment of all claims and demands chargeable against the county, which have been legally examined, allowed, and ordered paid by the board of county commissioners; also for all debts and demands against the county, when the amounts are fixed by law, and which are not directed to be audited by some other person or tribunal; which warrants shall be signed by the county clerk and the chairman of the board of county commissioners, excepting warrants drawn on the redemption fund;
4. He must keep accounts current with the treasurer, and when any person deposits with the county treasurer any money paid into the treasury, the county clerk shall be furnished by the treasurer with a duplicate of the receipt issued to such person, which duplicate receipt shall be filed in the office of the county clerk, and such county clerk shall charge the treasurer with the amount thereof.

5. Make the annual statement as prescribed in section 4814 of this code.

Operation and Effect

The county attorney, in his every duty, is under the supervisory powers of the attorney general; nor is there any official act to be discharged by him in the performance of which he may not, where public interests require it, be assisted by that official. State ex rel. Nolan v. District Court, 22 M 25, 30, 55 P 916.

4821. Authority to sue to recover money illegally paid. If the board of county commissioners, without authority of law, order any money paid as a salary, fees, or for any other purposes, and such money has been actually paid; or if any other county officer has drawn any warrant or warrants in his own favor, or in favor of any other person, without being authorized thereto by the board of county commissioners or by law, and the same has been paid, the county attorney is empowered, and it is his duty, to institute an action in the name of the county against such person or persons to recover the money so paid, and twenty-five per cent. damages for the use thereof; and no order of the board of county commissioners therefor is necessary to maintain such suit; but when the money has not been paid on such order or warrants, it is the duty of the county attorney, upon receiving notice thereof, to commence an action in the name of the county for restraining the payment of the same, and no order of the board of county commissioners is necessary to maintain such action.

History: En. Sec. 4452, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3054, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4821, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

Under this section an action to recover county funds unlawfully paid must be brought by the county attorney in the name of the county, it being the real party in interest, and cannot therefore be maintained by a taxpayer. Gregg v. Bayers, 73 M 165, 166, 235 P 337.

Id. Where a county attorney fails or refuses to bring an action to recover county funds illegally paid out, he may be compelled to act by mandamus or proceedings for his summary removal may be instituted.

Except when the county attorney is himself the accused, the duty devolves upon him to prosecute public offenses. State ex rel. McGrade v. District Court, 52 M 371, 373, 157 P 1157.

Failure of a taxpayer to appeal to the district court from an order of the board of county commissioners allowing a claim against the county under the authority given him by section 4610, does not limit the right of the county attorney to sue in the name of the county to recover moneys illegally paid under this section. Carbon County v. Draper, 84 M 413, 417, 276 P 667.

4829. Must keep records. The county auditor shall carefully preserve all documents, books, records, and other papers required to be kept in his office, and each county auditor on going out of office, shall deliver over to his successor in office all documents, books, records, and property in his hands belonging to the county.

4830. Must audit and investigate claims. It shall be the duty of persons holding claims against any county having a county auditor to present the same to the county auditor, whose duty it shall be to audit the same. The county auditor shall also investigate and examine into all claims presented to him, and report the same with his finding to the board of county commissioners at their regular session after such investigation shall have been completed, with his approval or disapproval indorsed thereon, and he shall keep a complete record of all such claims and of his investigations and examinations of the same in a book kept for that purpose. In all counties having a county auditor, all bills, claims, accounts, or charges for materials of any kind or nature that may be purchased by and on behalf of the county by any of the county officers, or contracted for by the county commissioners, shall be investigated, examined, and inspected by the county auditor, who shall indorse his approval or disapproval thereon before any warrant for the payment of the same can be drawn. In all counties having a county auditor, no claim against the county shall be paid or warrant drawn therefor unless the same shall have the approval of the county auditor; provided, however, that the judge of the district court of the county where any claim has been disapproved by the county auditor may order the payment of the same.

History: En. Sec. 7, p. 229, L. 1891; re-en. Sec. 4566, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3106, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4830, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

The word "audit" is not used in its narrow and restricted sense, and does not limit the auditor to merely ascertaining whether the claims are in proper form and mathematically correct. State ex rel. Dolin v. Major, 58 M 140, 152, 192 P 618.

Id. It would seem that the proviso empowering district judges to order the payment of claims against the county after the approval by the auditor, is repugnant to section 1 of article IV of the constitution for the reason that it undertakes to cast upon district judges a power which pertains exclusively to the executive branch of the government.

Id. The board may exercise its judgment in ordering paid those claims which have the approval of the auditor, but the only power which the board has in reference to claims disapproved by him is to disallow them.

4831. Must record list of claims. The county clerk and recorder shall return to the county auditor, within ten days after the adjournment of each session of the board of county commissioners, a list of the claims allowed or rejected either in whole or in part by them, which list shall be recorded by the auditor in a book kept for that purpose, and carefully preserved in his office.

4832. Must examine books and accounts. It shall be the duty of the county auditor to make an examination of the books and accounts of the county treasurer, the county clerk and recorder, the sheriff, and clerk of the district court, and all other county and township officers, within fifteen days next preceding each regular session of the board of county commissioners at their next session immediately following such examination, unless a longer time be granted him by the board in which to report the same, and said report shall contain a full and complete statement of the moneys received and disbursed by each of the said officers since the last examination and report of the same, and for this purpose the county auditor shall have free access to all books and papers in each of said offices.

4833. County superintendent of poor. The county auditor hereby created is also made county superintendent of the poor, whose duty it shall be, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the county commissioners, to care for and examine all claims that may be made upon the county for charity; also to have, under the direction of the county commissioners, general supervision of the county poorhouse or farm.

Operation and Effect

While the county auditor is made the superintendent of the poor under this section, who must care for and examine all claims that may be made upon the county for charity, he must do so under such rules and regulations as the commissioners may prescribe in their discretion. Jones v. Cooney et al., 81 M 340, 348, 263 P 429.

4834. Other duties. The county auditor shall also perform such other duties, clerical or otherwise, as he may be directed to perform by the county commissioners; provided, a reasonable amount of time must be allowed the county auditor for the performance of the duties definitely set forth in this act.

Operation and Effect

Under the law as it stood in 1898, a 4884.1. Same—liability of approving board for exceeding authorized amount—use of railroad when suitable required. Whenever it shall be necessary for any state or county officer to use his own automobile in the performance of any official duty where traveling expense is allowed by law, such officer shall receive not to exceed seven cents (7c) per mile for each mile necessarily traveled unless otherwise specifically provided by law and the members of any lawful approving board shall be liable upon their official bonds, for any claim which they may allow in excess of such amount. Provided, further, that in no case shall an automobile be used as herein provided if suitable transportation can be had by railroad.

4885. Mileage and expense of sheriff. Sheriffs delivering prisoners at the state prison or at the state reform school, or insane persons at the state insane asylum, shall receive actual expenses necessarily incurred in their transportation, which shall include the expenses of the sheriff in going and returning from such institution. They shall take vouchers for every item of expenses incurred by them in such transportation, the amount of which expenses, as shown by the said vouchers when served by said sheriff, shall be audited and allowed by the state board of examiners or by the board of county commissioners, as the case may be, and paid out of the same money and in the same manner as are other expense claims against the state or counties, and no other or further compensation shall be received by sheriffs for such expenses. While in the discharge of his duties, both civil and criminal, except as hereinbefore provided, the sheriff shall receive ten cents per mile for each and every mile actually and necessarily traveled; and for transporting any person by order of court, except as hereinbefore provided, he shall receive ten cents additional per mile, the same to be in full for transporting and dieting of such person during such transportation. The county shall not be liable for nor shall the board of county commissioners pay for any claim of the sheriff or other officer, for team or horse hire, or any other expense incurred in travel or for subsistence, in cases where mileage is allowed under this section; the fees for mileage named in this section being in full for all such traveling expenses in both civil and criminal work.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 86, L. 1905; re-en. Sec. 3137, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4885, R. C. M. 1921.

This section was held to be constitutional when applied to officers elected prior to its passage. Scharrenbroich v. Lewis and Clark County, 33 M 250, 256, 260, 83 P 482.

A sheriff, constable, or other peace officer, traveling in the discharge of his duties, is entitled to charge only for each mile "actually and necessarily" traveled; and a chief of police is guilty of misconduct in office in claiming and collecting mileage fees for services performed by another officer, he paying to the latter his actual traveling expenses and retaining for himself the balance of the total amount received. State ex rel. Wynne v. Examining and Trial Board, 43 M 389, 399, 117 P 77.

The term "fees," as used in this section, connotes mileage payable to the sheriff by the county in certain cases. State v. Story, 53 M 573, 578, 165 P 748.

The provision in this section that the sheriff "while in the discharge of his duties, both civil and criminal," shall receive ten cents per mile actually and necessarily traveled, held not to mean that he may collect that amount per mile in the performance of every duty imposed upon him, but rather that, in the performance of duties for which by other provisions of the law he is authorized to charge mileage, it shall be fixed at ten cents per mile. Brannin v. Sweet Grass Co., 88 M 412, 416, 293 P 970.

4886. Fees for board of prisoners. The fees allowed sheriffs of the several counties of the state for the board of prisoners confined in jail under their charge shall be at the rate of seventy-five cents per day for each of said prisoners, when the number of prisoners shall be twenty or less each day; and when the number of the prisoners per day shall exceed twenty and be less than fifty, then at the rate of sixty cents per day for each of said prisoners in excess of twenty per day and less than fifty per day; and when the number of the prisoners per day shall exceed fifty, then at the rate of fifty cents per day for each of said prisoners in excess of fifty per day.

History: En. Sec. 4605, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3138, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 81, L. 1919; re-en. Sec. 4886, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

The term "fees," as used in this section, designates the recompense payable by the county for boarding prisoners. State v. Story, 53 M 573, 578, 165 P 748.

This section, limiting the fees of the sheriff for the board of prisoners to a certain amount per day for each prisoner, has reference to prisoners confined by state authority and not to federal prisoners. Majors v. County of Lewis and Clark, 60 M 608, 616, 201 P 268.

Held, that while the word "board" may include both room rent and meals, as used in this section, fixing the fee allowable to a sheriff for "board of prisoners" confined in the county jail, means food or meals only, since under section 12469, counties must provide for a county jail with a sufficient number of rooms to accommodate the prisoners confined therein. Pacific Coal Co. v. Silver Bow County, 79 M 323, 324 et seq., 256 P 386.

Id. The fee allowed to sheriffs by this section for board of prisoners confined in the county jail covers the total amount of the county's liability for that purpose; hence a charge for fuel for preparing the food was properly disallowed by the board of county commissioners.

4887. Fees must be paid into county treasury, when. All salaried officers of the several counties must charge and collect for the use of their respective counties, and pay into the county treasury on the first Monday in each month, all the fees now or hereafter allowed by law, paid or chargeable in all cases, except as provided in section 9811 of the code of civil procedure; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be held to apply to the compensation received by the sheriff as mileage while in the performance of official duties, or for the board of prisoners or other persons while in his custody.

History: En. Sec. 4606, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3139, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4887, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

The term "fees," as used in this section, imports specific charges to be collected from private individuals for parti-

4888. Statement and affidavit of fees collected. The fees and compensation collected and chargeable for the use of the county in each month must be paid to the county treasurer on the first Monday of the following month, and must be accompanied by a statement and copy of the fee book for the preceding month, duly verified by the officer making such payment. The affidavit must be in the following form:

D. 19____, and that said fee book shows the full amount received or chargeable in said month, and since my last monthly payment; and neither myself, nor, to my knowledge or belief, any of my deputies or assistants, have rendered any official services, except for the county or state, which is not fully set out in said fee book; and that the foregoing statement thereof is a full, true, and correct copy thereof. tion, imports specific charges to be collected from private individuals for particular services. State v. Story, 53 M 573, 578, 165 P 748.

4889. Treasurer to file affidavits and statements. The treasurer must file and preserve in his office said statements and affidavits, and must issue to the officer one original and one duplicate receipt therefor, and the officer receiving said receipts must preserve one in his office and file the duplicate with the county clerk, whereupon the clerk must charge the treasurer with the amount shown by the receipt.

4890. Payment of salary not to be made until statement and report filed. State of Montana, }
County of..... } ss.

I do swear that I have rendered services as deputy for the month of, 19....., and that I am entitled to receive the full sum of my compensation for the same for my own use and benefit, and that I have not paid, deposited, or assigned, nor contracted to pay, deposit, or assign any part of such compensation for the use of any other person, nor in any way, directly or indirectly, paid or given, nor contracted to pay or give, any reward or compensation for my appointment to office, or the emoluments thereof, to my principal or to any other person.

Held that an irrigation district created under chapter 146, laws of 1909, is a public corporation exercising essential governmental functions, one of which is the right to levy taxes, organized for the government of a portion of the state and for the promotion of the public welfare, and as such must be deemed a subdivision of the state within the meaning of this section relieving it, as such subdivision, from the payment of fees for the recordation of papers in the county clerk and recorder's office. Crow Creek Irr. Dist. v. Crittenden, 71 M 66, 68, 227 P 63.

For making every arrest in a criminal proceeding, or executing a search-warrant, besides mileage, one dollar and fifty cents.

For all services in summoning and taking charge of a jury, two dollars.

For serving a subpoena, including copy on each person, besides mileage, twenty cents.

When two or more persons are brought before a magistrate or to jail at the same time, or might have been so brought, the officer must be allowed but one mileage.

For conveying a person when under arrest, the actual expense incurred in the transportation of such person must be allowed by the board of county commissioners, but the officer must pay his own expenses out of his mileage.

The total amount of fees allowed in criminal cases by the board of county commissioners must not exceed five hundred dollars ($500.00) in any one year. The excess must be paid into the contingent fund of the county treasury.

Jurors in courts not of record are not allowed to receive mileage. Wade v. Lewis and Clark County, 24 M 335, 339, 61 P 879.

4936. Witnesses' fees. For attending in any civil or criminal action or proceeding before any court of record, referee, or officer authorized to take depositions, or commissioners to assess damages or otherwise, for each day, three dollars. For mileage in traveling to the place of trial or hearing, each way, for each mile, seven cents; provided, however, that no officer of the United States, the state of Montana, or of any county, incorporated city or town within the limits of the state of Montana shall receive any per diem when testifying in a criminal proceeding, and that no witness shall receive fees in any more than one criminal case on the same day.

Operation and Effect

A party to whom costs are awarded is entitled to mileage of witnesses who appeared and testified, although the record does not show that they were subpoenaed. McGlaulin v. Wormser, 28 M 177, 182, 72 P 428. See also Lynes v. Northern Pac. Ry. Co., 43 M 317, 330, 117 P 81.

Although witnesses are not obliged to appear at a trial held out of the county in which they reside unless the distance is less than thirty miles, if such witnesses do appear, and the court finds that their testimony was necessary, they are entitled to mileage the same as witnesses who attend in the usual way. McGlaulin v. Wormser, 28 M 177, 182, 72 P 428; Great Falls Meat Co. v. Jenkins, 33 M 417, 422, 84 P 74. See also Lynes v. Northern Pac. Ry. Co., 43 M 317, 330, 117 P 81.

The mileage of witnesses which a successful party to an action may recover, under this section and section 9802, is not limited to travel from and to their place of residence; whether the mileage shall be computed from the place of residence will depend upon the circumstances of each case. Lynes v. Northern Pac. Ry. Co., 43 M 317, 330, 117 P 81.

The mileage of witnesses in civil actions allowed litigants under this section is limited to travel within the state. Chilcott v. Rea, 52 M 134, 141, 155 P 1114.

4937. Duties of clerk as to jurors. The clerk must give to each juror, at the time he is excused from further service, a certificate taken from a book containing a stub with a like designation, signed by himself under seal, in which must be stated the name of the juror, the number of days' attendance, the number of miles traveled, and the amount due, and on presentation of such certificate to the county treasurer, the amount specified in the certificate must be paid out of the general fund, and the clerk must make a detailed statement containing a list of the jurors, the amount of fees and mileage earned by each, and file the same with the clerk of the board of county commissioners on the first day of every regular meeting of the board, and no quarterly salary must be paid the clerk until such

The word "fees" refers to the per diem and mileage of witnesses. State v. Story, 53 M 573, 578, 165 P 748.

A material witness who resided outside the county in which the case was tried at a distance greater than thirty miles and voluntarily attended the trial at the request of the prevailing party, and who after his arrival on the day set for trial had to wait for about a week before he was required to testify on account of congestion of court business, was entitled to per diem for the whole time he was in attendance and not only for the day on which he gave his testimony, as well as to mileage, the service of a subpoena not being a prerequisite to their allowance. Helena Adjustment Co. v. Claflin, 75 M 317, 326, 243 P 1063.

An attorney, nonresident of Montana at the time he was subpoenaed as a witness for plaintiff in a suit to set aside a fraudulent default judgment, who had acted as plaintiff's counsel in the action out of which the equitable suit arose but was not representing him therein, held properly entitled to mileage from the state line to the place of trial and return, under this section. Bullard v. Zimmerman et al., 88 M 271, 281, 292 P 730.

Operation and Effect

This section is mandatory, both as to the duty of the clerk and of the treasurer; for the word "must" indicates that the duty of the clerk becomes imperative as soon as a juror is entitled to his pay. It also indicates that the duty of the treasurer is imperative as soon as a certificate, properly issued by the district court clerk, is presented to him. In re Farrell, 36 M 254, 261, 92 P 785. See County of Silver Bow v. Davies, 40 M 418, 426, 107 P 81.

A juror's certificate, which does not bear the seal required by this section, is void, and therefore not a subject of forgery. In re Farrell, 36 M 254, 266, 92 P 785. See also County of Silver Bow v. This section does not require the certificates to be addressed to the treasurer; his duty requires him to pay upon their presentation. County of Silver Bow v. Davies, 40 M 418, 425, 107 P 81.

4938. Duties of clerk in reference to witnesses' certificate. The witnesses in criminal actions must report their presence to the clerk the first day they attend under the subpoena, and at the time any witness is excused from further attendance the clerk must give to each witness a certificate taken from a book, containing a stub with like designations signed by the clerk, under seal, in which must be stated the name of the witness, the number of days in attendance, the number of miles traveled, and the amount due, and on presentation of such certificate to the county treasurer, the amount specified in the certificate must be paid out of the general fund.

Operation and Effect

This section does not require the certificates to be addressed to the treasurer; his duty requires him to pay upon their presentation. County of Silver Bow v. Davies, 40 M 418, 425, 107 P 81.

Id. The clerk must observe the same formalities in issuing jurors' certificates as in issuing witnesses' certificates.

CHAPTER 373

OTHER COUNTY CHARGES

- Section 4951. County charges to be audited.
4952. Enumeration of county charges.
4953. Costs on removal of criminal actions.
4954. Proceedings in collection of such costs.

4951. County charges to be audited. Accounts for county charges of every description must be presented to the board of county commissioners to be audited as prescribed in sections 4465.10 and 4465.11 and in section 4605.

History: En. Sec. 4680, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3198, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4951, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 19, L. 1935. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4343.

4952. Enumeration of county charges. The following are county charges:

1. Charges incurred against the county by virtue of any provision of this title.

2. One-half of the salary of the county attorney, and all expenses necessarily incurred by him in criminal cases arising within the county.

3. The salary and actual expenses for traveling when on official duty, and for the board of prisoners allowed by law to sheriffs, and the compensation allowed by law to constables for executing process on persons charged with criminal offenses.

4. The sums required by law to be paid to grand and trial jurors and witnesses in criminal cases.

5. The accounts of the coroner of the county for such services as are provided by law.

6. All charges and accounts for services rendered by any justice of the peace for services in the examination or trial of persons charged with crime as provided for by law.

7. The necessary expenses incurred in the support of county hospitals and poor-farms, and the indigent sick and the otherwise dependent poor whose support is chargeable to the county.

8. The contingent expenses necessarily incurred for the use and benefit of the county.

9. Every other sum directed by law to be raised for any county purpose under the direction of the board of county commissioners, or declared to be a county charge.

History: En. Sec. 4681, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3199, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4952, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4344.

Operation and Effect

This section restricts the liability of the county to such expenses as may be incurred under statutory authority directly conferred or necessarily implied from the powers granted to the county. Sears v. Galatin County, 20 M 462, 465, 52 P 204.

Expenses, not imposed by law, are not a charge against a county. Wade v. Lewis and Clark County, 24 M 335, 340, 61 P 879.

Under subdivision 3, all expenses necessarily incurred by a county attorney in prosecutions for public offenses arising in the county are a county charge. Ind. Pub. Co. v. Lewis and Clark County, 30 M 83, 85, 75 P 860.

A county attorney of a county of the third class had power to bind the county for services of a stenographer employed by the day if such services were necessary to the proper discharge of the duties of his office; and in the absence of a showing that they were unnecessary, the district court properly directed the board of county commissioners to pay the claim, under this section, providing that contingent expenses necessarily incurred for the use and benefit of the county are county charges. In re Hyde, 73 M 363, 366, 236 P 248.

Id. That which the law does not impose as an expense upon a county is not properly chargeable to it.

Where a sheriff predicated his demand for reimbursement for expenses incurred by him for services performed beyond the state line upon his legal rights incident to his position as sheriff, and not upon a contract of employment by the county attorney at which direction he acted, and he did not show that he first obtained the consent of the board of county commissioners to absent himself from the state (sec. 4739), he was not entitled to recover on the theory that the claim was allowable under authority of subdivision 2, this section, making the county chargeable with expenses necessarily incurred by the county attorney in criminal cases arising within the county. Brannin v. Sweet Grass Co., 88 M 412, 419, 293 P 970.

4953. Costs on removal of criminal actions. When a criminal action is removed before trial, the costs accruing upon such removal and trial must be a charge against the county in which the indictment was found or information filed.

History: En. Sec. 4682, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3200, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4953, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4345.

Operation and Effect

Where a criminal action is removed from one county to another for trial, it is the duty of the county to which it is transferred to furnish a prosecuting officer, and if for any reason its county attorney is unable to act as such officer, and the court appoints special counsel to represent the state, the cost incident to his employment is not a proper charge against the county from which the change of venue was had. State ex rel. Cascade Co. v. Lewis and Clark County, 34 M 351, 355, 86 P 419.

4954. Proceedings in collection of such costs. The district court of the county to which such action is removed must certify the amount of costs allowed and certified by the court to the board of county commissioners of their county, and such board of county commissioners shall audit the same and draw their warrants therefor upon the treasurer of the county from which such action was removed, and such board of county commissioners shall forward to said treasurer and board of county commissioners of the county from which said action was transferred, as aforesaid, a certified copy of the total amount allowed by the court, giving each item as certified to them by the clerk of the district court and the court; and the board of county commissioners receiving such certified copy of said costs allowed shall enter the same in their books as a charge against the treasurer of their county, and the county treasurer of the county from which such action was removed must immediately upon presentation pay said warrant out of the general fund of said county; or if, at the time of presentation, there is not sufficient moneys in the said general fund to pay the same, he must indorse upon said warrant, "Not paid for want of funds," and said warrant must be registered, and shall draw interest at the same rate and be paid in the same manner as though it had been drawn by the board of county commissioners of the county where the indictment was found or information filed.

History: En. Sec. 4683, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3201, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4954, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4346.

Operation and Effect

The mere certification of the costs resulting from the removal of a cause for trial from one county to another, required under this section, may not be said to have the force and effect of a judgment against the county from which the cause was removed, where no action was pending to which it was a party. State v. Lewis and Clark County, 34 M 351, 356, 86 P 419.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 109, L. 1931.

4954.2. Method of adoption. (a) Upon a petition filed with the board of county commissioners signed by not less than 20 per cent. of the whole number of voters who voted at the last general election asking that a referendum be held on the question of adopting the county manager form of government, it shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners to submit the question at the next regular election or call a special election for the purpose. If a special election is called it shall be held not more than ninety days nor less than sixty days from the filing of the petition, but not within thirty days of any general election. The question submitted shall be worded: "Shall the county manager form of government be adopted in.....county?"

(b) It shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners to publish a notice of the referendum in a daily paper twice a week for a period of three consecutive weeks, or in case there is no daily paper of wide circulation in the county, then in a weekly paper for four consecutive weeks.

(c) If a majority of the votes cast on the question at the election shall be in favor of the county manager form of government it shall go into effect at a date designated in the petition or resolution. Provided: That no elected official then in office, whose position will no longer be filled by popular election, shall be retired prior to the expiration of his term of office, but that from and after the establishment of such form of government, his duties shall be such duties as are assigned to him by the county manager.

The county board shall have the power to fix bonds in excess of these amounts and to require bonds of other county officers in their discretion, conditioned on the faithful discharge of their duties and the proper accounting for all funds coming into their possession.

GENERAL POWERS OF CITIES AND TOWNS

Section 4955. General powers.

4956. Distribution of powers of cities.

4957. Distribution of powers of towns.

4958. City and town, how named, general corporate powers.

4955. General powers. A city or town is a body politic and corporate, with the general powers of a corporation, and the powers specified or necessarily implied in this chapter, or in special laws heretofore enacted.

History: Ap. p. Secs. 323, 324, 5th Div. Comp. Stat. 1887; re-en. Sec. 4700, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3202, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4955, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4354.

Operation and Effect

A city has only such authority as is conferred upon it by express legislative declaration or necessary implication, and where there is a fair and reasonable doubt as to the existence of a particular power, it must be resolved against the municipality and the power denied. Davenport v. Kleinschmidt, 6 M 502, 527, 13 P 249; City of Helena v. Kent, 32 M 279, 283, 80 P 258; State ex rel. Quintin v. Edwards, 40 M 287, 303, 106 P 695; Helena etc. Ry. Co. v. City of Helena, 47 M 18, 31, 130 P 446; Shapard v. City of Missoula, 49 M 269, 278, 141 P 544; Sharkey v. City of Butte, 52 M 16, 19, 155 P 266; State ex rel. Billings v. Billings Gas Co., 55 M 102, 108, 173 P 799.

A city has no powers except such as are conferred upon it by legislative grant either directly or by necessary implication. Davenport v. Kleinschmidt, 6 M 502, 527, 13 P 249; City of Helena v. Kent, 32 M 279, 283, 80 P 259; Palmer v. City of Helena, 40 M 498, 507, 107 P 512; Sharkey v. City of Butte, 52 M 16, 19, 155 P 266.

It is the duty of a city organized under the laws of this state to establish and improve streets, and damages can be recovered by one who is injured by its negligence in permitting its streets to become and remain in a dangerous condition. Sullivan v. City of Helena, 10 M 134, 141, 25 P 94; Snook v. City of Anaconda, 26 M 128, 134, 66 P 756; May v. City of Anaconda, 26 M 140, 142, 66 P 759; Ford v. Great Falls, 46 M 292, 306, 127 P 1004.

This section, taken in connection with section 4958, and subdivision 1 of section 5039, constitutes a general grant of power, as well as a limitation of power, for authority is given to the city to pass all ordinances necessary for its government and management, and such ordinances shall not contravene constitutional or statutory provisions. City of Helena v. Kent, 32 M 279, 285, 80 P 259.

When the mode of exercising any power is pointed out in the statute granting it to a municipal corporation, the mode thus prescribed must be pursued in all substantial particulars. McGillie v. Corby, 37 M 249, 254, 95 P 1063; Carlson v. City of Helena, 39 M 82, 109, 102 P 39; Shapard v. City of Missoula, 49 M 269, 278, 141 P 544.

In an action against a city to recover damage for injuries to real property, an averment in the complaint that the city "is a municipal corporation, organized and existing under the laws of the state," was sufficient as against the objection that the pleading did not state a cause of action. Judicial notice will be taken of the fact that during a certain year a city was a municipal corporation existing under the laws of this state. Drew v. City of Butte, 44 M 124, 125, 119 P 279.

No consistency whatever has been observed in the legislative use of the term "town." State ex rel. Powers v. Dale, 47 M 227, 230, 131 P 670.

The entire municipal code is to be treated as one statute whose provisions are interdependent. Brown v. Foster, 48 M 114, 118, 135 P 993.

4956. Distribution of powers of cities. Every city has legislative, executive, and judicial power. Its legislative power is vested in a city council, its executive power in a mayor and his subordinate officers, and its judicial power in a police court.

 4966. Such cities become cities of the first or second class or towns.
 4967. Old officers continue in office—election.
 4968. Effect of reorganization of cities and towns hereunder.

4959. Cities and towns classified. Every city having a population of ten thousand or more is a city of the first class; every city having a population of less than ten and more than five thousand is a city of the second class; every city having a population of less than five thousand and more than one thousand is a city of the third class; and every municipal corporation having a population of three hundred and less than one thousand is a town.

4960. Basis of classification. The census taken under the direction of Congress of the United States in the year eighteen hundred and ninety, and every ten years thereafter, shall be the basis upon which the respective populations of said municipal corporations shall be determined, unless a direct enumeration of the inhabitants thereof be made by the state or municipal corporation, in which case such direct enumeration constitutes such basis.

4961. Organization of cities and towns—petition and census. Whenever the inhabitants of any part of a county desire to be organized into a city or town, they may apply by petition in writing, signed by not less than fifty qualified electors, residents of the state, and residing within the limits of the proposed incorporation, to the board of county commissioners of the county in which the territory is situated, which petition must describe the limits of the proposed city or town, and of the several wards thereof, which must not exceed one square mile for each five hundred inhabitants resident therein. The petitioners must annex to the petition a map of the proposed territory to be incorporated, and state the name of the city or town. The petition and map must be filed in the office of the county clerk. Upon filing the petition, the board of county commissioners, at its next regular or special meeting, must appoint some suitable person to take a census of the residents of the territory to be incorporated. After taking the census, the person appointed to take the same must return the list to the board of county commissioners, and the same must be filed by it in the county clerk's office. No municipal corporation must be formed unless the number of inhabitants is three hundred or upwards.

History: First general municipal incorporation act was that of Feb. 17, 1881 (L. 1881, pp. 13-38); superseded by Secs. 315-440, 5th Div. Comp. Stat. 1887. Many of the provisions of this act are so different from the present law that exact historical comparisons of the several sections cannot be made. This section en. Sec. 315, 5th Div. Comp. Stat. 1887; re-en.

4962. Election—how conducted. After filing the petition and census, if there be the requisite number of inhabitants for the formation of a municipal corporation, as required in the preceding section, the county commissioners must call an election of all the qualified electors residing in the territory, described in the petition. Said election must be held at a convenient place within the territory described in the petition, to be designated by the board, notice of which election must be given by publication in some newspaper published within the limits of the territory to be incorporated, or, if none be published therein, by posting notice in three public places within said limits. The notice must be published thirty days prior to the election, and must specify the time and place when and where the same is held, and contain a description of the boundaries of the city or town. The board must appoint judges and clerks of election, who must qualify as required by law, and after the election they must report the result to the board, together with the ballots cast at said election. The ballots used at the election must be "For incorporation" or "Against incorporation," and all elections must be conducted as provided in sections 531 to 828 of these codes.

4963. First election for officers. When the incorporation of a city or town is completed, the board of county commissioners must give notice for thirty days in a newspaper published within the limits of the city or town, or, if none be published therein, by posting notices in six public places within the limits of the corporation, of the time and place or places of holding the first election for offices of the corporation. At such election all the electors qualified by the general election laws of the state, and who have resided within the limits of the city or town for six months, and within the limits of the ward for thirty days preceding the election, are qualified electors and may choose officers for the city or town, to hold office as prescribed in the next succeeding section.

Operation and Effect

The expression "preceding the election," as used in this section, is equivalent in meaning to "next preceding the election." Dowty v. Pittwood, 23 M 113, 118, 57 P 727.

4964. Officers elected and conduct of election. At such election there must be elected, in a city of the first class, a mayor, a police judge, a city attorney, a city treasurer, a city marshal, and two aldermen from each ward into which the city may be divided; in a city of the second class, a mayor, a police judge, a city treasurer, a city marshal, and two aldermen from each ward; in a town, a mayor, and two aldermen from each ward, who hold office until the first Monday of May after the first annual election, and until their successors are elected and qualified. The persons so elected must qualify in the manner prescribed by law for county officers. The board of county commissioners must appoint judges and clerks of election, and canvass and declare the result thereof. The election must be conducted in the manner required by law for the election of county officers.

4965. Existing cities reorganized hereunder. All cities and towns existing or heretofore incorporated under the laws of the territory or state of Montana, either under general or special laws or charters, on the adoption of this code become and are incorporated under the provisions of this code relative to the government of cities and towns, and have the powers conferred, or that may hereafter be conferred by law, upon cities or towns of the class to which each may belong.

and other sections of the code. State ex rel. Powers v. Dale, 47 M 227, 229, 230, 131 P 670.

Operation and Effect

The use of the term "incorporated," as applied to cities and towns, clearly connoting the opposite idea of unincorporated cities or towns, is clearly shown in this 4966. Such cities become cities of the first or second class or towns. Such cities or towns are and become cities of the first or second class or towns according to their population as determined by the federal census of 1890.

4967. Old officers continue in office—election. All officers of such city or town holding office at the time of the adoption of this code remain in office until the next annual election and the first Monday of May next ensuing thereafter, and until their successors are elected and qualified. The duties and compensation of such officers and the liabilities of sureties on official bonds remain the same. All elections must be held under the provisions of this code relative to the government of cities and towns.

4968. Effect of reorganization of cities and towns hereunder. Any such city or town is the identical corporation theretofore existing, and the reorganization hereunder in no way affects or impairs the title to any property owned or held by such city or town, or in trust therefor, or any debts, demands, liabilities, bonds, or other evidences of indebtedness, or other obligations in favor of or against such city or town, or any action or proceeding then pending, nor does it operate to repeal or affect in any manner any ordinance, resolution, or by-law theretofore passed or adopted and remaining unrepealed, or to discharge any person from any liability, civil or criminal, for any violation thereof; but such ordinances, resolutions, and by-laws, so far as the same are not in conflict with that part of this code relating to the government of cities and towns, are and remain in full force until repealed or amended, and all proceedings commenced theretofore, after the adoption of this code, must be conducted in accordance with the provisions of this code relating to the government of cities and towns.

Operation and Effect

This section is not curative in character, but was intended simply to preserve the statu quo of all municipal corporations in existence at the time of the adoption of the code of 1895. It imparted no validity to a void ordinance providing compensation for the acting mayor of a municipality. McGillie v. Corby, 37 M 249, 254, 95 P 1063.

CHAPTER 377

CHANGE OF CLASSIFICATION OF CITIES AND TOWNS

- Section 4969. Proceedings for advancement and census.
- 4970. Resolution declaring the advancement.
- 4971. New officers—election.
- 4972. Old ordinances, etc., remain in force until when.
- 4973. Cities may be reduced in class—proceedings.
- 4974. Disincorporation of city or town—proceedings.
- 4975. Duty of county clerk and city or town treasurer—property and money to be turned over.

4969. Proceedings for advancement and census. Whenever it manifestly appears to a city or town council from the last federal, state, county, city, or town census, that such city or town has the requisite population to entitle it to be classified as provided in section 4959 of this code, such city or town must be advanced as provided in the next section.

History: En. Sec. 4950, Pol. C. 1895; amd. Sec. 1, p. 225, L. 1897; re-en. Sec. 3447, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4969, R. C. M. 1921.

4970. Resolution declaring the advancement. If it appears by such census that the city or town contains the requisite population to be advanced, the council must thereupon, by resolution, declare that the town is advanced to a city of the first, second, or third class, or a city of the third class is advanced to a city of the second or first class, or a city of the second class is advanced to a city of the first class, as the case may be, and file a certified copy of such resolution in the office of the county clerk of the county and in the office of the secretary of state. Whereupon such town becomes a city of the first, second, or third class, and a city of the third class becomes a city of the second or first class, and a city of the second class becomes a city of the first class, as the case may be, to be governed under the provisions of this code relative to cities and towns.

History: En. Sec. 4952, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3449, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4971, R. C. M. 1921.

History: En. Sec. 4953, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3450, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4972, R. C. M. 1921.

4973. Cities may be reduced in class—proceedings. Whenever it appears by the census taken by the United States, state, or otherwise, that the population of a city of the first or second class has decreased so as to be insufficient in number to entitle it to be a city of that class, the council must thereupon, by a resolution, declare that such city be reduced to a city of the second class or town, as the case may be. A certified copy of such resolution must be filed in the office of the county clerk and in the office of the secretary of state, and thereafter such city becomes a city of the second class or a town, as the case may be, to be governed under the provisions of this code relative to cities and towns. The provisions of sections 4971 and 4972 of this code apply to this section.

History: En. Sec. 4954, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3451, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4973, R. C. M. 1921.

4974. Disincorporation of city or town—proceeding. Whenever it appears by such census that a city or town has a population of less than five hundred (500) inhabitants, the corporate existence of such city or town under this code relative to cities and towns, may be discontinued, upon the filing of a petition requesting that such corporate existence be discontinued, signed by at least two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) of the resident freeholders of said city or town, as certified to by the county clerk and recorder of the county in which said city or town is situated, with the board of county commissioners of said county. Upon the filing of said petition as above provided, with the board of county commissioners, the said board must declare by resolution, that the incorporation thereof be discontinued, and must provide for the payment of the indebtedness of the same, and thereafter annually levy a tax on all the property situated within the limits of such city or town until all of such indebtedness is paid. The books, documents, records, papers and seal of such city or town must be deposited with the county clerk for safe-keeping and reference, and the records of the police judge or police court must be deposited with one of the justices of the peace of the township in which such city or town is situated, who has power to execute and complete all unfinished business of such police judge or court.

History: En. Sec. 4955, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3452, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4974, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 3, L. 1931.

Held, in interpretation of this section, providing for the disincorporation of a town, and declaring that it may be disincorporated "upon the filing of a petition, signed by at least two-thirds of the resident freeholders of said town, as certified to by the county clerk, with the board of county commissioners," etc., that thereunder the county clerk is authorized to certify to the fact that the petition is signed by the required number of resident freeholders. State ex rel. Peck v. Anderson, 92 M 298, 301, 13 P 2d 231.

Id. In carrying out the command of the statute above (this section), the county clerk has the implied power of investigating and determining who are the resident freeholders of the town the disincorporation of which is sought, whether or not the signatures to the petition are genuine, and whether or not the total number of

Id. While ordinarily the certificate, made by the county clerk under this section, that the petition for disincorporation meets the requirements of the act, is conclusive and the board of county commissioners must make the order of disincorporation, mandamus should not issue to compel it to do so, if fraud or mistake on the part of the clerk be made apparent, the board having the implied power to disallow the petition if at a hearing wrongdoing or mistake be proven.

Id. Signers of a petition such as the one above referred to may withdraw therefrom at any time before the county clerk has certified thereto and filed it with the board of county commissioners, unless they signed under misrepresentations of material facts to induce action on their part, in which event, if they act promptly, they may be allowed to withdraw after the date of filing, provided their proof of fraud be clear and convincing.

4975. Duty of county clerk and city or town treasurer—property and money to be turned over. The county clerk must send a certified copy of the resolution of discontinuance to the secretary of state, and all moneys in the hands of the city or town treasurer must be paid to the county treasurer, which must be applied in payment of the indebtedness of such city or town, and all other property must be delivered to the board of county commissioners, which must be sold and disposed of for the purpose of paying such indebtedness.

ADDITIONS TO CITIES AND TOWNS

4977. Additions, how made.

4979. Election on the question of annexation.

4976. Additions to cities or towns. Whenever territory adjoining any incorporated city or town is surveyed, and laid off into streets or blocks as an addition thereto, upon filing the map or plat thereof in the office of the county clerk, said territory may become a part of such city or town, upon the approval of the mayor and a majority of the council indorsed thereon.

History: En. Sec. 4724, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3212, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4976, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

Where a certain tract of land was not a part of the city, and the owner was not entitled to the privileges of an owner of city lots, he was under no obligation to pay special assessments for a sewer constructed by the city in the street in front of such land. Farlin v. Hill, 27 M 27, 36, 69 P 237. See Sharkey v. City of Butte, 52 M 16, 21, 155 P 266.

The use of the term "incorporated," as applied to cities and towns, clearly connoting the opposite idea of unincorporated cities or towns, is clearly shown in this

The approval of the mayor and a majority of the council indorsed on the map or plat of an addition to a city or town is essential to bring the territory included therein within the jurisdiction of the council. Pool v. Town of Townsend, 58 M 297, 304, 191 P 385.

4977. Additions, how made. The council has control of all such additions, and power by ordinance to compel the owners of these additions to lay out streets, avenues, and alleys, so as to have the same correspond in width and direction and be continuations of the streets, avenues, and alleys in the city or town, or in the addition thereto, contiguous to or near the proposed addition. The owner of any addition has no rights or privileges unless the terms and conditions of the ordinance are complied with, and the plat thereof has been submitted to and approved by the mayor and council, and such approval indorsed thereon.

4978. Extension of boundaries to include contiguous platted tracts. (1) Cities or towns of the first class. Any tracts or parcels of land, which have been or may hereafter be platted into lots or blocks, streets, and alleys, and the map or plat thereof filed in the office of the county clerk and recorder of the county in which the same are situated, and which shall be contiguous to any incorporated city of the first class, may be embraced within the corporate limits thereof, and the boundaries of such city of the first class extended so as to include the same in the following manner: When, in the judgment of any city council of a city of the first class, expressed by resolution duly and regularly passed and adopted, it will be to the best interest of such city and the inhabitants thereof, and of the inhabitants of any contiguous platted tracts or parcels of land, as aforesaid, that the boundaries of such city shall be extended, so as to include the same within the corporate limits thereof, the city clerk of such city shall forthwith cause to be published in the newspaper published nearest such platted tracts or parcels of land, at least once a week for two successive weeks, a notice which shall be to the effect that such resolution has been duly and regularly passed, and that for a period of twenty days after the first publication of such notice, such city clerk will receive expressions of approval or disapproval, in writing, of the proposed extensions of the boundaries of such city of the first class, from resident freeholders of the territory proposed to be embraced therein. The clerk shall, at the next regular meeting of the city council of such city of the first class after the expiration of said twenty days, lay before the same all communications in writing by him so received for its consideration, and if, after considering the same, such council shall duly and regularly pass and adopt a resolution to that effect, the boundaries of such city of the first class shall be extended so as to embrace and include such platted tracts or parcels of land, the time when the same shall go into effect to be fixed by such resolution; provided, that such resolution shall not be adopted by such council if disapproved, in writing, by a majority of the resident freeholders of the territory proposed to be embraced.

(2) Cities and towns of the second and third class. Any tracts or parcels of land, which shall be contiguous to any incorporated cities or towns of the second and third class, may be embraced within the corporate limits thereof and the boundaries of such cities or towns of the second and third class extended so as to include the same in the following manner: When, in the judgment of any such city or town council, expressed by resolution duly and regularly passed and adopted, it will be to the best interest of such city, or town and the inhabitants thereof, and of the inhabitants of any contiguous tracts or parcels of land, as aforesaid, that the boundaries of such city or town shall be extended, so as to include the same within the corporate limits thereof, the city or town clerk or such city or town shall forthwith notify in writing all property holders within the boundaries of the territory proposed to be embraced, and cause to be published in the newspaper published nearest such tracts or parcels of land, at least once a week for two successive weeks, a notice which shall be to the effect that such resolution has been duly and regularly passed and that for a period of twenty days after the first publication of such notice, such city or town clerk will receive expressions of approval or disapproval, in writing, of the proposed extensions of the boundaries of such city or town, from freeholders of the territory proposed to be embraced therein. The clerk shall, at the next regular meeting of the city or town council after the expiration of said twenty days, lay before the same all communications in writing by him so received for its consideration, and if, after considering the same, such council shall duly and regularly pass and adopt a resolution to that effect, the boundaries of such city or town of the second or third class, shall be extended so as to embrace and include such tracts or parcels of land, the time when the same shall go into effect to be fixed by such resolution; provided, that such resolution shall not be adopted by such council, if disapproved, in writing, by a majority of the freeholders of the territory proposed to be embraced.

(3) Whenever two or more adjacent tracts taken as a whole shall adjoin the city, they may be included in one resolution under subdivision 2 hereof, although one or more of said tracts taken alone may not be adjacent to the corporate limits as then existing.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 30, L. 1905; re-en. Sec. 3214, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4978, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 52, L. 1925.

Remedy for Illegal Inclusion

The remedy of injunction is available to one whose taxes would be increased by an illegal inclusion of his property within the limits of a city. Sharkey v. City of Butte, 52 M 16, 23, 155 P 266.

Id. The recital in a city council's resolution that territory proposed to be annexed to the city was contiguous and platted, when such was not the fact, could not inure to the city's benefit, or preclude a resident of the territory attempted to be annexed, from any available remedy he would otherwise have.

Term "Incorporated"

The use of the term "incorporated," as applied to cities and towns, clearly connoting the opposite idea of unincorporated cities and towns, is clearly shown in this and other sections of the code. State ex rel. Powers v. Dale, 47 M 227, 229, 230, 131 P 670.

4979. Election on the question of annexation. When a city or town desires to be annexed to another and contiguous city or town, the council of each thereof must appoint three commissioners to arrange and report to the municipal authorities respectively, the terms and conditions on which the annexation can be made, and if the city or town council of the municipal corporation to be annexed approves of the terms thereof, it must by ordinance so declare, and thereupon submit the question of annexation to the electors of the respective cities or towns. If a majority of the electors vote in favor of annexation, the council must so declare, and a certified copy of the proceedings for annexation and of the ordinances must be filed with the clerk of the county in which the cities or towns so annexed are situated, and when so filed the annexation is complete, and the city or town to which the annexation is made has power, in addition to other powers conferred by this title, to pass all necessary ordinances to carry into effect the terms of the annexation. Such annexations do not affect or impair any rights, obligations, or liabilities then existing, for or against either of such cities or towns.

History: En. Sec. 322, 5th Div. Comp. Stat. 1887; re-en. Sec. 4727, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3215, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4979, R. C. M. 1921.

Unplatted Ground

A city may not extend its boundaries so as to include unplatted ground, and proceedings had to annex territory, a portion of which was unplatted, contrary to the provisions hereof, were void in toto. Sharkey v. City of Butte, 52 M 16, 21, 155 P 266.

Id. Where the purpose of a taxpayer's action was to have proceedings looking to the annexation of territory to a city declared void ab initio, and the city enjoined from assuming jurisdiction over the persons or property situated within unplatted territory illegally sought to be included, the attack was direct and not collateral.

When Eligible for Incorporation

The language of this section is unequivocal, declaring that before any territory is eligible for incorporation in a city by an extension of the city's boundaries, such territory must be (a) platted into lots or blocks, streets, and alleys; (b) a map or plat thereof must be on file with the county clerk and recorder; and (c) the territory must be contiguous to the city's limits. Sharkey v. City of Butte, 52 M 16, 20, 155 P 266.

CHAPTER 379

ALTERATION OF BOUNDARIES OF CITIES AND TOWNS

- Section 4979.1. Alteration of boundaries of cities and towns—exclusion of portion.
 4979.3. Resolution and map to be filed—effective date of resolution.
 4979.4. Liability of excluded territory for existing indebtedness.
 4979.5. Jurisdiction of city or town for levying tax to pay existing indebtedness.

4979.1. Alteration of boundaries of cities and towns—exclusion of portion. The boundaries of any incorporated city or town of this state may be altered and a portion of the territory thereof excluded therefrom, and the councils of such cities and towns are hereby granted power to enact resolutions for that purpose after proceedings had as required in this act.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 33, L. 1927.

4979.2. Petition—contents—notice—consideration of communications—action of council—meaning of terms “contiguous” and “adjacent.” A petition in writing signed by a number of the qualified electors residing within the corporate limits of such city or town, equal to a majority of the votes cast at the last city election held therein, or by the owners of not less than three-fourths in value of the territory sought to be excluded, shall be filed with the clerk of such city or town. Such petition shall set out and describe the territory to be excluded from the corporate limits, which territory must be on the border of such city or town, and the alteration of the boundaries desired by the petitioners, together with the boundaries of the city or town as it will exist after such change is made, and shall pray that the council of such city or town shall enact a resolution altering the boundaries of such city or town and excluding therefrom the territory therein described. Said petition shall also describe the streets, alleys, avenues and public places, if any, in the territory sought to be excluded, and shall distinctly specify which of said streets, avenues, alleys or public places are to be retained for the use of the public after the territory has been excluded from the corporate limits of such city or town. Such petition shall be presented to the council of such city or town at the next regular meeting after the filing thereof. If said council by resolution, duly and regularly passed and adopted, shall find that said petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified electors of said city or town, or by the owners of not less than three-fourths in value of the territory to be excluded, and that the territory petitioned to be excluded is within the corporate limits and on the border thereof, and that the granting of said petition will be to the best interest of such city or town and the inhabitants thereof, and will not materially mar the symmetry of such city or town, the city or town clerk of such city or town shall forthwith cause to be published in the newspaper nearest such territory petitioned to be excluded, at least once a week for two successive weeks, a notice which shall be to the effect that such resolution has been duly and regularly passed and that for a period of twenty days after the first publication of such notice, such city or town clerk will receive expressions of approval or disapproval, in writing, of the proposed alterations of the boundaries of such city or town by the exclusion of the territory petitioned to be excluded, from the owners of the territory proposed to be excluded. The clerk shall, at the next regular meeting of the city or town council, after expiration of the said twenty days, lay before the same all communications in writing by him so received for its consideration, and if, after considering the same, such council shall duly and regularly pass and adopt a resolution to that effect, the boundaries of such city or town shall be altered so as to exclude the territory described in said petition. Said resolution shall also describe the streets, avenues, alleys and public places in said excluded territory which are to be vacated and abandoned and, upon the filing of the certified copy of the resolution as hereinafter provided, all such streets, avenues, alleys and public places, unless expressly excepted in said resolution, shall be deemed to be vacated and abandoned and the title thereto shall revert to the owners of the adjacent property. Such resolution shall not be finally adopted by such council after written disapproval by a majority of the owners in value of the territory proposed to be excluded, nor after written disapproval or protest by a majority of the owners in value of property within the corporate limits of said city or town immediately adjacent and contiguous to the territory sought to be excluded. That for the purposes of this act the words "contiguous" and "adjacent" shall include property on the opposite side of a street or alley from the property sought to be withdrawn.

4979.4. Liability of excluded territory for existing indebtedness. Such alteration shall not relieve any territory excluded from the limits of a city or town, from its liability on account of any outstanding bonded indebtedness of such city or town, or any indebtedness of any improvement district of which the excluded territory is a part, existing at the time of the passage of such resolution.

The officers of a city of the first class consist of one mayor, two aldermen from each ward, one police judge, one city treasurer, who may be ex-officio tax collector, who must be elected by the qualified electors of the city as hereinafter provided. There may also be appointed by the mayor, with the advice and consent of the council, one city attorney, one city clerk, one chief of police, one assessor, one street commissioner, one city jailer, one city surveyor, and whenever a paid fire department is established in such city, a chief engineer and one or more assistant engineers, and any other officers necessary to carry out the provisions of this title. The city council may, by ordinance, prescribe the duties of all city officers and fix their compensation, subject to the limitations contained in this title.

History: En. Sec. 4740, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3216, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4995, R. C. M. 1921.

NOTE.—The reference to “title” in this section refers to a division of the Revised Codes of 1907 which included most of the laws relating to cities and towns.

Operation and Effect

The grant of power contained in this section, in the matter of prescribing the duties and fixing the compensation of city officers, is subject not only to the express and implied limitations found elsewhere in the title under which the section falls, but contains in itself a limitation as to the mode in which the power granted may be executed. McGillie v. Corby, 37 M 249, 254, 95 P 1063.

The fact that the chief of police is named in the general law, and the rest of the police officers were left to be brought into existence by the city council, cannot be construed as a declaration by the legislature that his relation to the city and the public must be regarded as different from that of any other member of the police force. State ex rel. Wynne v. Quinn, 40 M 472, 476, 107 P 506.

Id. In so far as the method of appointment of members of the police force is concerned, this section is repealed by the provisions of section 5108; the method of appointment and removal by the later law is wholly inconsistent with the notion that the mayor and council are authorized to exercise the power of appointment as provided in the older law.

4996. Officers of city of second and third classes. The officers of a city of the second and third classes consist of one mayor, two aldermen from each ward, one police judge, one city treasurer, who may be ex-officio tax collector, who must be elected by the qualified electors of the city as hereinafter provided. They may also be appointed by the mayor, with the advice and consent of the council, one city clerk, who is ex-officio city assessor, one chief of police, one city attorney, and any other officer necessary to carry out the provisions of this title. The city council may prescribe the duties of all city officers, and fix their compensation, subject to the limitations contained in this title.

4997. Officers of towns. The officers of a town consist of one mayor and two aldermen from each ward, who must be elected by the qualified electors of the town as hereinafter provided. There may be appointed by the mayor, with the advice and consent of the council, one clerk, who may be ex-officio assessor and a member of the council, and one treasurer, who may be ex-officio tax collector, and one marshal, who may be ex-officio street commissioner, and any other officers necessary to carry out the provisions of this title. 4998. Trustees of public libraries—funds. The trustees of any public library created or existing in a city or town must be appointed by the mayor, with the advice and consent of the council. The number of such trustees and their duties must be prescribed by ordinance; provided, however that the “library fund” provided for in section 5049 of this code shall be invested by the city treasurer under the direction of the trustees of the library; and no money shall be paid out of said fund by him except on an order or warrant from said trustees, who shall have exclusive power to make contracts and expenditures for the support and maintenance of the library, and the purchase of books and other things for a library.

4999. Council has power to abolish office. The city or town council has the power to abolish any office, the appointment to which is made by the mayor, with the advice and consent of the council, and discharge any officer so appointed, by a majority vote of the council; but no office created under this title must be abolished by the council.

History: En. Sec. 4744, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3220, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4999, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

The only officers of a city of the first class actually created by the legislature are the mayor, two aldermen from each ward, a police judge, and a city treasurer, none of whom can be in any way affected by any action of the council, though other offices may be abolished. State ex rel. Quintin v. Edwards, 38 M 250, 269, 99 P 940.

This section has no application to a fireman, since section 5110 declares that he is to be deemed a municipal officer. State ex rel. Driffill v. City of Anaconda, 41 M 577, 581, 111 P 345.

The city council may, by a bare majority vote, abolish the office of city purchasing agent at any time and discharge the person appointed to fill it; hence, if the incumbent of it be an alderman, the two offices are incompatible, and one individual cannot fill both at the same time. State ex rel. Klick v. Wittmer, 50 M 22, 25, 144 P 648.

5000. Power to consolidate offices. The city or town council may, by ordinance, consolidate any of the offices, the appointment to which is made by the mayor, with the advice and consent of the council, and may require any of the elected officers to perform any of the duties of an appointed officer whose office has been abolished.

History: En. Sec. 4745, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3221, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 5000, R. C. M. 1921.

5001. City or town to be divided into wards. The first city or town council elected under the provisions of this title must divide the city or town into wards for election and other purposes, having regard to population so as to make them as nearly equal as possible.

History: En. Sec. 4746, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3222, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 5001, R. C. M. 1921.

5002. Division of cities and towns into wards. Cities of the first class must be divided into not less than four nor more than ten wards; cities of the second class into not less than three nor more than six; and cities of the third class into not less than two nor more than four wards; and towns into not less than two nor more than three wards. All changes in the number and boundaries of wards must be made by ordinance, and no new ward must be created unless there shall be within its boundaries one hundred and fifty electors, or more.

History: En. Sec. 4747, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3223, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 74, L. 1909; re-en. Sec. 5002, R. C. M. 1921.

5003. Annual elections in cities and towns—terms of office. On the first Monday of April of every second year a municipal election must be held, at which the qualified electors of each town or city must elect a mayor and two aldermen from each ward, to be voted for by the wards they respectively represent; the mayor to hold office for a term of two (2) years, and until the qualification of his successor; and each alderman so elected to hold office for a term of two (2) years, and until the qualification of his successor; and also in cities of the first, second and third class, a police judge and a city treasurer, who shall hold office for a term of two (2) years, and until the qualification of their successors; provided, however, that in all cities and towns when the term of office of the incumbent mayor, alderman, police judge or city treasurer will not expire until the first Monday in May, 1936, a special election must be held on the first Monday in April, 1936, at which election a successor to such mayor, alderman, police judge or city treasurer shall be elected for a term of one (1) year, and thereafter no election shall be held for the election of city officers, except every second year.

5004. Qualification of mayor. No person shall be eligible to the office of mayor unless he shall be at least twenty-five years old and a taxpaying freeholder within the limits of the city, and a resident of the state for at least three years, and a resident of the city for which he may be elected mayor two years next preceding his election to said office, and shall reside in the city or town for which he shall be elected mayor during his term of office.

History: En. Sec. 8, p. 65, Ex. L. 1887; amd. Sec. 4749, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3225, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 5004, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

Under this section, requiring the mayor of a city to be a "taxpaying freeholder," a person who, at the time of his election, owned and paid taxes on personalty, and owned realty on which he was not liable for taxes for that year because acquired since the date of assessment, is eligible to the office. Mayor v. Sweeney, 22 M 103, 105, 55 P 913.

5005. Terms of aldermen—how decided. At the first annual election held after the organization of a city or town under this title, the electors of such city or town must elect two aldermen from each ward, who must, at the first meeting of the council, decide by lot their terms of office, one from each ward to hold for a term of two years, and one for the term of one year, and until the qualification of their successors.

History: En. Sec. 4750, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3226, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 5005, R. C. M. 1921.

5006. Terms of office—when to begin. The terms of all officers elected at a municipal election are to commence on the first Monday in May after such election.

History: En. Sec. 4751, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3227, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 5006, R. C. M. 1921.

5007. Who eligible. No person is eligible to any municipal office, elective or appointive, who is not a citizen of the United States, and who has not resided in the town or city for at least two years immediately preceding his election or appointment, and is not a qualified elector thereof.

History: En. Sec. 365, 5th Div. Comp. Stat. 1887; amd. Sec. 4752, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3228, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 5007, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

The phrase "preceding the election," as used in this section, is equivalent in meaning to the expression "next preceding the election." Dowty v. Pittwood, 23 M 113, 118, 57 P 727.

This section is of general application, and controls aldermanic candidates who aspire to office at a first election after incorporation, as well as to those who seek like honors at subsequent elections. Brown v. Foster, 48 M 114, 119, 135 P 993.

The office of the police judge is the creation of the statute and not of the constitution. State ex rel. Shea v. Cocking et al., 66 M 169, 172, 213 P 594.

Id. Where the legislature in creating an elective office prescribes no limitations or qualifications, the right to hold it is an implied attribute of citizenship and is presumed to be coextensive with that of voting at an election held for the purpose of choosing an incumbent for that office, those only who are competent to select the officer being deemed competent to hold it.

Id. Held, that blindness does not disqualify one from holding the office of police judge.

5008. Qualification of aldermen. No person shall be eligible to the office of alderman unless he shall be a taxpaying freeholder within the limits of a city, and a resident of the ward so electing him for at least one year preceding such election.

History: En. Sec. 366, 5th Div. Comp. Stat. 1887; amd. Sec. 4753, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3229, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 5008, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

The provision of this section requiring that any person, to be eligible to the office of alderman, must have been a resident of the ward where elected "for at least one year preceding the election," means one year next preceding the election. Dowty v. Pittwood, 23 M 113, 117, 57 P 727.

5009. Registration of electors. The council must provide by ordinance for the registration of electors in any city or town, and may prohibit any person from voting at any election unless he has been registered; but such ordinance must not be in conflict with the general law providing for the registration of electors, and must not change the qualifications of electors except as in this title provided.

History: En. Sec. 4754, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3230, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 5009, R. C. M. 1921.

Impliedly Repealed

. Held, that this section, 5278 and 5279, relating to registration and qualifications of electors in special elections called on proposals to create or increase city indebtedness, were impliedly repealed by chapter 47, laws of 1929, (5199.1 and 5199.2 of this code) to the extent the chapter conflicts with said sections, except as to the matter of giving notice of such election, in which respect section 5279, is still con-

5010. Qualifications of electors. All qualified electors of the state who have resided in the city or town for six months and in the ward for thirty days next preceding the election are entitled to vote at any municipal election.

History: En. Sec. 4755, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3231, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 5010, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

The residence of a voter is to be determined from his acts and intent; but this fact, like any other fact involved in a civil action or proceeding, may be established by circumstantial evidence, and any declaration of the voter touching the subject, if a part of the res gestae, or any declarations in disparagement of his right to vote, if made at or before the election, may be received in evidence. Sommers v. Gould, 53 M 538, 165 P 599.

5011. Election judges and clerks—voting places. The council must appoint judges and clerks of election, and places of voting. There must be at least one place of voting in each ward, and there may be as many more as the council by ordinance shall fix, and the elector must vote in the ward in which he resides. The election precincts in a city or town must correspond with wards, but a ward may be subdivided into several voting precincts, and when so divided the elector shall vote in the precinct in which he resides, and all elections must be conducted according to the general laws of the state. In all cities where voting-machines are used, the city council must subdivide the wards into such number of voting precincts that there will be no more than six hundred votes in each precinct.

Registration and Qualification

Held, on original application for writ of injunction, that the provisions of chapter 98, laws of 1923, as amended by chapter 47, laws of 1929, (5199.1 and 5199.2 of this code) and not this section, 5278 and 5279, govern the procedure to be followed for the registration of electors and their qualifications in a special city election called for the purpose of submitting to them the question of the issuance of city water plant bonds. Weber v. City of Helena et al., 89 M 109, 115 et seq., 297 P 455.

Id. The presumption of a right to vote arises from the fact of registration, but slight proof of the lack of any necessary qualifications to vote is sufficient to overcome that presumption, and calls for evidence in affirmation of the voter's qualifications from the party who would benefit from the vote.

5012. Canvass—when and how made. On the Monday following any election, the council must convene and publicly canvass the result, and issue certificates of election to each person elected by a plurality of votes. When two or more persons have received an equal and highest number of votes for any one of the offices voted for, the council must thereafter, at its first regular meeting, decide by vote between the parties which is elected. If the council from any cause fails to meet on the day named, the mayor must call a special meeting of the council within five days thereafter, and, in addition to the notice provided for calling special meetings, must publish the same on two successive days in some newspaper published in such city or town. If the mayor fails to call said meeting within said five days, any three councilmen may call it. At such special meeting all elections, appointments, or other business may be transacted that could have been on the day first herein named.

History: En. Sec. 4757, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3233, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 5012, R. C. M. 1921.

5013. Oath and bonds—vacancy. Each officer of a city or town must take the oath of office, and such as may be required to give bonds, file the same, duly approved, within ten days after receiving notice of his election or appointment; or, if no notice be received, then on or before the date fixed for the assumption by him of the duties of the office to which he may have been elected or appointed, but if any one, either elected or appointed to office, fails for ten days to qualify as required by law, or enter upon his duties at the time fixed by law, then such office becomes vacant; or if any officer absents himself from the city or town continuously for ten days without the consent of the council, or openly neglects or refuses to discharge his duties, such office may be by the council declared vacant; or if any officer removes from the city or town, or any alderman from his ward, such office must be by the council declared vacant.

History: En. Sec. 4758, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3234, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 5013, R. C. M. 1921.

may be filled by the appointing power. State ex rel. Bennetts v. Duncan, 47 M 447, 453, 133 P 109.

Operation and Effect

The failure of the person elected or appointed to a city office to qualify within ten days, by taking the official oath, creates a vacancy under this section, which 5014. When duties of office begin. The officers elected enter upon their duties the first Monday of May succeeding their election, and officers appointed by the mayor, with the advice and consent of the council, within ten days after receiving notice of their appointment.

History: En. Sec. 4759, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3235, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 5014, R. C. M. 1921.

5015. Vacancies—how filled—removal of officer. When any vacancy occurs in any elective office, the council, by a majority vote of the members, may fill the same for the unexpired term, and until the qualification of the successor. A vacancy in the office of alderman must be filled from the ward in which the vacancy exists, but if the council shall fail to fill such vacancy before the time for the next election, the qualified electors of such city or ward may nominate and elect a successor to such office. The council, upon written charges, to be entered upon their journal, after notice to the party and after trial by the council, by vote of two-thirds of all the members elect, may remove any officer.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 72, L. 1903; re-en. Sec. 3236, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 5015, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

To justify removal of an officer for misconduct, it is not necessary that the actions made the basis of the charge against him must have been wilful; the official doing of an act may constitute misconduct, although there was no corrupt or malicious motive. Leggatt v. Prideaux, 16 M 205, 207, 40 P 377; State ex rel. Wynne v. Examining and Trial Board, 43 M 389, 399, 117 P 77; State ex rel. Rowe v. District Court, 44 M 318, 324, 119 P 1103; State ex rel. Ryan v. Board of Aldermen, 45 M 188, 195, 122 P 569; Bailey v. Examining and Trial Board, 45 M 197, 201, 122 P 572.

The office of police judge is a creature not of the constitution, but of the statute, and the incumbent thereof is not liable to impeachment. He is, however, a city officer, and may therefore, in a proper case, be removed by the city council. State ex rel. Working v. Mayor, 43 M 61, 63, 114 P 777.

Id. This section is in consonance with section 18, article V, of the state constitution, subjecting officers not liable to impeachment to removal in the manner provided by law, and is a proper exercise of the legislative authority therein granted.

Id. Until written charges have been filed with a city council, in conformity with the provision of this section, no proceeding looking to the removal of a city officer has been instituted.

Id. Prohibition does not lie at the suit of a police judge of a city to prohibit the city council from proceeding to remove him from office, where written charges have not been filed against him as required by this section.

An alderman was properly found guilty of misconduct in office and removed, on the grounds that in his capacity as an attorney at law he defended one charged with conducting business without paying a license tax, and accepted a retainer to prosecute a suit against the town for damages and an injunction in regard to a sewer. State ex rel. Ryan v. Board of Aldermen, 45 M 188, 193, 122 P 569.

The provision of this section, requiring "a majority vote of the members" of the city council, that is, a majority of those constituting the actual membership of the body at the time, to fill a vacancy in an elective city office, and not section 5054, making "a majority of the whole number of the members elected" requisite for such purpose, is applicable in case a vacancy in its own body caused by resignation or death is to be filled. State ex rel. Wilson v. Willis, 47 M 548, 552, 133 P 962. See State ex rel. Kliek v. Wittmer, 50 M 22, 26, 144 P 648.

Having been rightfully chosen by the city council to fill a vacancy in its own body, and after taking and subscribing the constitutional oath, an alderman had the right to have his vote on the question of filling another vacancy, caused by death, recorded, even though a certificate of election had not been issued to him, and irrespective of the mayor's refusal to recognize him, or of the fact that an action to determine his official status was then pending. State ex rel. Wilson v. Willis, 47 M 548, 553, 133 P 962.

5016. Accountability of officers provided for. It is the duty of the council to provide for the accountability of all officers provided for in this title, by requiring of them sufficient security for the faithful performance of their duties or trust, which security must be given by them before entering upon their respective duties. If such security becomes insufficient, additional security may be required, and if not given within ten days, the council, by a vote of two-thirds of the members, may declare the office vacant, and may thereafter fill the same.

History: En. Sec. 4761, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3237, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 5016, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

This section provides for the accountability of all municipal officers, but does not prescribe what the conditions of the bond shall be. City of Philipsburg v. Degenhart, 30 M 299, 303, 76 P 694.

5017. Official bonds—how given. The city treasurer, city clerk, and city marshal, and such other city officers as the council by ordinance may require, must give official bonds, in such sums and securities as the ordinance may prescribe, which bonds must be approved by the council and filed with the city clerk, except the bond of the city clerk, which must be filed with the city treasurer, and no officer must become surety upon the official bond of another.

History: En. Sec. 4762, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3238, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 5017, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

Money collected from gambling houses and brothels by city officers, and receipted for by the treasurer, was held to have been received for the city, though such money was illegally collected, and the failure of the treasurer to pay it over to his successor in office was a breach of his official bond, for which his sureties were liable. City of Philipsburg v. Degenhart, 30 M 299, 303, 76 P 694.

5018. Salaries must be fixed. The council must, by ordinance, fix the salaries and compensation of the city officers, policemen, and other employees, which must not exceed the amount specified in this code.

History: En. Sec. 4763, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3239, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 5018, R. C. M. 1921.

5019. Salaries and qualifications of mayor and aldermen. The annual salary of a mayor of a city of the first class must not exceed four thousand dollars; and the annual salary of the mayor of a city of the second class must not exceed two thousand dollars; and the annual salary of the mayor of a city of the third class must not exceed six hundred dollars; and each alderman in a city of the first class may be allowed and paid not exceeding six dollars per diem, to be fixed by ordinance, for each day of session held by city council; provided, that no alderman shall be paid for more than five days' service during any one month; and aldermen of cities of the second and third class may be allowed and paid not exceeding three dollars per diem for each day of session, to be fixed by ordinance, but no alderman shall be paid for more than two days' service during any one month. No salary or compensation shall be allowed to the mayor or alderman of a town. No person shall be elected to the office of mayor or alderman in any city who is not a resident and freeholder within the limits of the city.

History: En. Sec. 4764, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3240, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 111, L. 1913; re-en. Sec. 5019, R. C. M. 1921.

5020. Salaries of police judges. The annual salary and compensation of police judges must be fixed by ordinance, and in a city of the first class, with a population in excess of fifty thousand inhabitants, must not exceed, for all services rendered, three thousand dollars; and in a city of the second class must not exceed fifteen hundred dollars; and in a city of the third class must not exceed six hundred dollars, and, in addition, a police judge is entitled to receive in all civil cases the fees which are now or may hereafter be allowed justices of the peace. In all criminal actions or proceedings arising under the criminal laws of the state, when acting as a justice of the peace or committing magistrate, he must receive no compensation whatever; provided, however, that none of the provisions of this act shall affect cities operating under the commission form of government.

History: En. Sec. 4765, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3241, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 61, L. 1919; re-en. Sec. 5020, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

It was held under this section, prior to its amendment, that a police judge is not entitled to collect fees in cases arising out of violations of city ordinances, either from the city or from the defendant. State ex rel. Rowe v. District Court, 45 M 205, 209, 122 P 270.

5021. Compensation of justices of the peace acting as police judge. In towns, the council may designate a justice of the peace of the township in which the town is situated to act as police judge, and may by ordinance fix his compensation for his services, not exceeding one hundred dollars per annum, and the justices of the peace so designated must act as a police judge in all cases arising out of a violation of ordinances where the town is a party.

History: En. Sec. 4766, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3242, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 5021, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

A justice of the peace, acting as police judge, has exclusive jurisdiction in all cases arising under the ordinances, in addition to his jurisdiction as a justice. The two jurisdictions are separate and distinct, however, because he can act as police judge only by virtue of his designation under the statute and by the mode of procedure provided for that purpose. State ex rel. Streit v. District Court, 45 M 375, 380, 123 P 405.

A justice of the peace has no jurisdiction over cases arising under town ordinances, except where he may have been designated under this section to act as police judge, in which event failure to style himself "police judge," instead of "justice of the peace," is a mere irregularity insufficient to divest him of jurisdiction. Grant v. Williams, 54 M 246, 252, 169 P 286.

Id. In an action for malicious prosecution against a justice of the peace, by a person aggrieved by an act of such justice acting in the designated capacity of police judge, it must be alleged that such officer had not been designated to act as police judge; otherwise the presumption will prevail that official duty was regularly performed.

5022. Salary of treasurer. The annual salary and compensation of the treasurer must be fixed by ordinance, and must be for all services rendered by such treasurer in any capacity, and no treasurer must be allowed any percentages or fees in addition thereto. In cities of the first class, the annual salary of the treasurer must not exceed three thousand dollars, in cities of the second class must not exceed two thousand dollars, and in cities of the third class it must not exceed seven hundred dollars, and in towns it must not exceed five hundred dollars.

5023. Salary of city attorney. - 5037. Duties of chief of police.

5029. Executive officers. The executive officers of a city or town are the mayor, marshal, and such officers for the assessment, collection, auditing, safe-keeping, and disbursing the revenue, and keeping the records and journals of the city or town, as the council may provide.

History: En. Sec. 4780, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3249, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 5029, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4385.

5030. Powers of mayor. The mayor is the chief executive officer of the city or town, and has power:

1. To nominate, and, with the consent of the council, to appoint all non-elective officers of the city or town, provided for by the council, except as provided in this title.

2. To suspend, and, with the consent of the council, to remove any non-elective officer, stating in the suspension or removal the cause thereof.

3. To cause the ordinances of the city or town to be executed, and to supervise the discharge of official duty by all subordinate officers.

4. To communicate to the council, at the beginning of every session, and oftener if deemed necessary, a statement of the affairs of the city or town, with such recommendations as he may deem proper.

5. To recommend to the council such measures connected with the public health, cleanliness, and ornament of the city or town, and the improvement of the government and finances, as he deems expedient.

6. To approve all ordinances and resolutions of the council adopted by it, and, in case the same do not meet his approbation, to return the same to the next regular meeting of the council, with his objections in writing, and no ordinance or resolution so vetoed by the mayor must go into effect unless the same be afterwards passed by two-thirds vote of the whole number of members of the council.

7. To veto any objectionable part of a resolution or ordinance, and approve the other parts. If the mayor fail to return any resolution or ordinance as aforesaid, the same takes effect without further action.

8. To call special meetings of the council, and when so called he must state by message the object of the meeting, and the business of the meeting must be restricted to the object stated.

9. To cause to be presented, once in three months, a full and complete statement of the financial condition of the city or town.

10. To bid in for the city or town any property sold at a tax or judicial sale, where the city or town is a party or interested.

12. To take and administer oaths.

13. To call on every male citizen of the city or town, over the age of eighteen years, to aid in the enforcement of the laws and ordinances in case of riots; to call out the militia to aid him in suppressing the same or other disorderly conduct, preventing and extinguishing fires, for securing the peace and safety of the city, or for carrying into effect any law or ordinance; and any person who does not obey such call forfeits to the city or town a fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars.

14. To require of any of the officers of a city or town an exhibit of his books and papers.

15. To grant pardons and remit fines and forfeitures for offenses against city or town ordinances, when in his judgment public justice would be thereby subserved; but he must report all pardons granted, with the reasons therefor, to the next council.

16. To perform such other duties as may be prescribed by law or by resolution or ordinance of the council.

17. He has such power as may be vested in him by ordinance of the city or town, in and over all places within five miles of the boundaries of the city or town, for the purpose of enforcing the health and quarantine ordinances and regulations thereof.

History: Ap. p. Sec. 367, 5th Div. Comp. Stat. 1887; amd. Sec. 13, p. 126, L. 1893; amd. Sec. 4781, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3250, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 5030, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4386.

Subdivision 1, Appoint Non-Elective Officers

In so far as the method of appointment of members of the police force is concerned, this section is repealed by section 5108. State ex rel. Wynne v. Quinn, 40 M 472, 480, 107 P 506.

The town clerk is an appointive officer, and the mayor of a city or town has power "to nominate, and, with the consent of the council, to appoint all non-elective officers of the city or town, provided for by the council." The power to nominate to fill a non-elective office also includes like authority when a vacancy arises therein; but in either event the appointment is not effective until concurred in by a majority of the city or town council. State ex rel. Peterson et al. v. Peck, 91 M 5, 7, 4 P 2d 1086.

The nominee of a mayor for a city office (city engineer) who fails of confirmation by a majority of the city council as required by statute and ordinance does not assume the status of an officer. State ex rel. Sandquist v. Rogers, 93 M 355, 361, 18 P 2d 617.

Subdivision 2, Suspension and Removal

The power of suspension and removal, granted the mayor by the second subdivision of this section, is taken from him by section 5108. State ex rel. Quintin v. Edwards, 38 M 250, 270, 99 P 940.

Subdivision 8, Special Sessions

It is not necessary, in order to convene the council in special session, that a formal proclamation be issued by the mayor, or that notice shall be given. The law does require that the mayor shall deliver to the council a message stating the object of the meeting. O'Brien v. Drinkenberg, 41 M 538, 546, 111 P 137.

In an injunction suit to restrain the payment of municipal funds for work done in repairing sidewalks, one ground of the complaint in which was that though the meeting of the council at which the walk was ordered replaced was a special one, it was held without any notice, proclamation, or message of the mayor, as required by the eighth subdivision of this section, the plaintiff had the burden of proving that the meeting was a special one. O'Brien v. Drinkenberg, 41 M 538, 543, 111 P 137.

Status of Mayor Generally

While the mayor of a city is not, strictly speaking, a member of the council in the sense than an alderman is, yet he is such to the extent of the powers committed to him. (This section and the next). State ex rel. O'Hern v. Loud, 92 M 307, 311, 14 P 2d 432.

Id. Held, in quo warranto proceedings, under section 5031, providing that the mayor of a city shall be the presiding officer of the council and decide by his vote all ties, that where the council was evenly divided on the question of confirmation of the mayor's appointee to the office of city attorney, he had the right to cast the decisive vote.

5031. Mayor to preside, sign warrants, etc. The mayor is the presiding officer of the council, must sign the journals thereof and all warrants on the city treasurer, and decide by his vote all ties, and has no other vote.

History: En. Sec. 4782, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3251, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 5031, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

Under the law as it existed in 1895, the mayor was deemed to be a constituent part of the council, and, where there was a tie vote of the aldermen on the confirmation of an officer, he had the right to vote for confirmation. State ex rel. Young v. Yates, 19 M 239, 241, 47 P 1004.

While the mayor of a city is not strictly speaking a member of the council in the sense that an alderman is, yet he is such to the extent of the powers committed to him. State ex rel. O'Hern v. Loud, 92 M 307, 308, 14 P 2d 432.

5032. Council to elect president. The council may elect a president, who, in the absence of the mayor, is the presiding officer and may perform the duties of mayor, and in the absence of the president the council may appoint one of its number to act in his place.

Operation and Effect

The council may or may not elect a president. When elected, he must be held to know whether provision has been made for his compensation; if none has been made in the mode prescribed by law, then he is entitled to none, and has no legal claim against the city therefore. McGillie v. Corby, 37 M 249, 255, 95 P 1063.

Where accountants are employed to audit the books of a city and their contract calls for a report to the city, but before it is made two copies thereof are handed to the mayor, at his request, one of which he presents to the city council, and the other he receives as his own, the mayor's duty is fully discharged, after seeing that the copy presented to the council finds its way into the hands of the city clerk, and is by him filed among the records of his office; the mayor has a right to retain the other copy among his private papers. City of Butte v. Nevin, 46 M 380, 383, 128 P 600.

5033. Duties of clerk. It is the duty of the clerk:

1. To attend all meetings of the council, to record and sign the proceedings thereof and all ordinances, by-laws, resolutions, and contracts passed, adopted, or entered into, and to sign, number, and keep a record of all licenses, commissions, or permits granted or authorized by the council.

2. To enter in a book all ordinances, resolutions, and by-laws passed and adopted by the council. Such book is called "The Ordinance Book."

3. To enter in a book kept for that purpose the date, amount, and person in whose favor and for what purpose warrants are drawn upon the city treasury; such book is called "The Finance Book."

4. To countersign and cause to be published or posted, as provided by law, all ordinances, by-laws, or resolutions passed and adopted by the council.

5. To file and keep all records, books, papers, or property belonging to the city or town, and to deliver the same to his successor when qualified.

6. To make and certify copies of all records, books, and papers in his possession, on the payment of like fees as are allowed county clerks, which fees must be paid into the city treasury.

7. To give notice of all elections as required by law, and to notify all persons of their election or appointment to office.

8. To make and keep a complete index of the journal ordinance book, finance book, and all other books and papers on file in his office.

9. To perform such duties in and about the assessment, levy, and collection of taxes and assessment as may be prescribed by law or ordinance.

10. To take and administer oaths, but must not charge or receive any fees therefor.

11. To certify to the county clerk, within ten days after their election and qualification, the names and terms for which they are elected, of the mayor, city clerk, and city treasurer.

12. To perform such other and further duties as the council may prescribe.

History: En. Sec. 4784, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3253, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 5033, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. Sec. 4393.

Operation and Effect

The presentation of protests or objections against the creation of special improvement districts is no part of the duties of the city clerk, and the leaving of such protests at the clerk's office is of no avail. Hensley v. City of Butte, 36 M 32, 38, 92 P 34. Compare Tiggerman v. City of Butte, 44 M 138, 142, 119 P 477.

The mayor of a city in this state is not required to keep a record of his official acts. The duty to keep the files and records of the city appertains to the clerk, who is bound to deliver them to his successor. City of Butte v. Nevin, 46 M 380, 383, 128 P 600.

If a person has been lawfully elected a member of the city council, and has taken the required oath, the intention of the law is that the oath, when taken and subscribed, shall become a record of the city, and it is the clerk's duty to file and keep it as such. It is also the clerk's duty to record the newly elected officer's vote on a question; and the performance of the clerk's duty, in either respect, may be enforced by mandamus. State ex rel. Wilson v. Willis, 47 M 548, 554, 133 P 962.

If the mayor chooses to keep a record including copies of documents which must be preserved in the files of the clerk's office, they are his private property, and title to them does not vest in the city by virtue of the fact that he is acting as its chief executive at the time. City of Butte v. Nevin, 46 M 380, 383, 128 P 600.

Under the circumstances, the relators' remedy was by writ of mandate to compel the mayor to nominate a person acceptable to the council as town clerk, who then would be entitled to the custody of the books and records of the town, under this section, subd. 5. State ex rel. Peterson et al. v. Peck, 91 M 5, 7, 4 P 2d 1086.

5033.1. Financial statement of city or town—contents—copies, to whom furnished. Within sixty (60) days after the close of each fiscal year the city or town clerk of each city and town in this state must make out, in triplicate, a full and complete statement of the financial condition of the city or town for such fiscal year, showing:

1. The indebtedness of the city or town, funded and floating; the amount of each class of indebtedness; and the amount of money in the treasury subject to the payment of each class of indebtedness;

2. The amount of money received from taxes upon real and personal property;

3. The amount of money received from fines, penalties and forfeitures;

4. The amount of money received from licenses;

5. The amount of money received from all other sources, each source and the amount received therefrom being shown separately;

6. For each fund the amount of money, if any, on hand at the beginning of such fiscal year, the amount received by and the amount paid out during such fiscal year. The total amount of money paid out must be deducted from the sum of money on hand at the beginning of the fiscal year and money received during such year by the city or town treasurer, and a balance must be struck for each fund;

7. A concise description of all property owned by the city or town with an approximate estimate of the value thereof;

8. The rates of taxation and purposes for which levied for such fiscal year;

9. Such other information as may be, from time to time, required by the state examiner;

The forms on which such statements shall be made shall be prescribed by the state examiner.

The city or town clerk must, not later than the 31st day of August following the close of each fiscal year, transmit one copy of such statement to the state examiner and one copy thereof to the state board of equalization, and must present the third copy thereof to the city or town council, or commission, at the first regular meeting thereof in the month of September.

The city or town clerk shall not receive any salary or compensation for the month of August, or for any month thereafter, until he shall have filed in his office receipts from the state examiner and state board of equalization that such copies have been received and filed.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 24, L. 1927.

5034. Duties of city treasurer. It shall be the duty of the city treasurer:

1. To receive all moneys that come to the city or town, either from taxation or otherwise, and to pay the same out on the warrant of the mayor, countersigned by the clerk, drawn in accordance with law.

2. To perform such duties in the collection of taxes, licenses, or assessments as are or may be prescribed by law or ordinances.

3. To present on the first Monday of each month to the council a full and detailed statement of the amounts of money belonging to the city or town, received by him and by him disbursed during the preceding month, and the state of each particular fund, which statement must be verified by his oath.

4. To keep the books and accounts of the city or town in such manner as to correctly present the condition of the finances thereof, which must always be open to the inspection of the mayor, council, or any member thereof.

5. To keep a separate account of each fund or appropriation, and the debits and credits thereof.

6. To give every person paying to him money as treasurer, a receipt therefor, specifying the date of payment, the amount, and for what paid.

7. To render at any time an account to the council, showing the money on hand and the condition of the treasury.

8. To keep a register of all warrants paid, called "The Registry Book," which must show the date, amount, and number, and the person to whom, and the fund from which the same was paid, and to deliver and file with the city clerk all vouchers, warrants, or orders paid by him.

9. To annually make out and submit to the city council, at its last meeting prior to May first, a detailed account of all receipts and expenditures during the past fiscal year, file the same with the clerk, and an abstract thereof must be published in some newspaper in the city or town, or, if none is published, such abstract must be posted in the room or building occupied by the council.

10. To pay out, in the order which they are registered, all warrants presented for payment, when there are funds in the treasury to pay the same.

11. To deposit all public moneys in his possession and under his control, excepting such as may be required for current business, in any solvent bank or banks located in such city or town, subject to national supervision or state examination, as the council shall designate, and no other, and the sums so deposited shall bear interest at the rate of two and one-half per centum per annum, payable quarter-annually.

History: En. Sec. 4788, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3257, Rev. C. 1907; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 88, L. 1913; re-en. Sec. 5034, R. C. M. 1921. Cal. Pol. C. 4392.

Deposit of Public Moneys

Under former statutes it was held that a city treasurer, who was obliged by law of the state and an ordinance of the city to keep the funds of the city on deposit, if he used reasonable prudence and caution in selecting the bank, and was without fault or negligence in keeping his deposit, was not liable for a loss occasioned by the failure of the bank in which he deposited the money. City of Livingston v. Woods, 20 M 91, 102, 49 P 437. Compare Commissioners of Jefferson County, v. Lineberger, 3 M 231, 239.

Under this section, the city treasurer must deposit public moneys in such bank or banks as the city council shall designate, and under section 5036, he must take from the banks such security as the city council may prescribe, approve and deem fully sufficient to insure the safety of deposits made by him. A city treasurer complied with the foregoing provisions; the city council deemed a bond in the sum of $15,000 sufficient to safeguard the deposits made by him though they exceeded at times the amount of the bond. At the time the designated city depository closed its doors its deposits did exceed the amount of the bond. Held, in a proceeding against the receiver of the insolvent bank to have the excess declared a preferred claim on the ground that it had been unlawfully deposited with the knowledge of the bank and therefore it became a trust fund, that, the treasurer having complied with the statutory requirements, the city must be deemed to have consented to the deposits as made, that they were legally made and that therefore they were general in character and hence that the city was not entitled to a preference. City of Missoula v. Dick et al., 76 M 502, 507, 248 P 193.

Reports of Moneys Received and Disbursed

In an action by a city against the sureties on the official bond of the treasurer, reports of the treasurer to the city council of moneys received and disbursed during the month, made under this section, may be given in evidence against such sureties, and are prima facie true, and, when not contradicted by the sureties, are binding on them. City of Philipsburg v. Degenhart, 30 M 299, 304, 305, 76 P 694.

5035. Transfer of municipal funds—how made. No money must be transferred from one fund to another, except by ordinance or resolution of the council.

5036. Repealed—Chapter 89, laws of 1923.

5037. Duties of chief of police. It is the duty of the chief of police:

1. To execute and return all process issued by the police judge, or directed to him by any legal authority, and to attend upon the police court regularly.

2. To arrest all persons guilty of a breach of the peace or for the violation of any city or town ordinance, and bring them before the police judge for trial.

3. To have charge and control of all policemen, subject to such rules as may be prescribed by ordinance, and to report to the council all delinquencies or neglect of duty or official misconduct of policemen for action of the council.

4. The chief of police has the same powers as a constable in the discharge of his duties, but he must not serve a process in any civil action or proceeding except when a city or town is a party.

5. To perform such other duties as the council may prescribe.

History: En. Sec. 4785, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3254, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 5037, R. C. M. 1921.

Operation and Effect

The chief of police is a policeman or police officer in the same sense as is an ordinary policeman. When the circumstances demand it, he is required to perform all the duties of the ordinary policeman, for, though he has the additional duty of supervision and control of the entire force, this does not lessen or abridge the duties which are enjoined upon all police officers under the general laws of the state. State ex rel. Wynne v. Quinn, 40 M 472, 475, 107 P 506.

5038. Qualifications, term of office, and duties of city attorney. The city attorney to be appointed shall be a person who has been licensed to practice as an attorney in this state. He shall hold his office for two years, unless suspended or removed as provided by this act. It shall be the duty of the city attorney to attend before the police court and other courts of the city and the district court, and prosecute on behalf of the city, and he shall generally do and perform such other acts as pertain to the office of the city or corporation council. He shall, when required, draw for the use of the council contracts and ordinances for the government of the city, and, when required, give to the mayor or city council written opinions on questions pertaining to the duties and the rights, liabilities, and powers of the corporation. For such services he shall receive such salary and fees as may be fixed by the city council by ordinance. Nothing herein shall be taken or construed as preventing the city council from employing other and additional council in special cases, and providing for the payment of such services. The city attorney may be suspended or removed from office by the city council for the neglect, violation, or disregard of the duties required by this act, or the ordinances of the city.

NOTE.—Sec. 5039 as it existed in the 1921 code, contained all the powers of the city council and had 84 subdivisions. For convenience' sake, these have been divided up and will be found as sections 5039-5039.83.

General Welfare Clause

The business of conducting a rooming-house, though a legitimate one, is so far concerned with the health, morals and welfare of the public that it is within the police power of a city to regulate it under the authority conferred by this section, denominated the "general welfare clause," State ex rel. Altop v. City of Billings et al., 79 M 25, 32 et seq., 255 P 11.

Id. A city ordinance which vests in its officials a discretion to grant or refuse to grant a license to carry on a lawful business, to be valid, need not, where the ordinance relates to the administration of a police regulation necessary to protect the general welfare, morals and safety of the public, prescribe all the conditions upon which such license shall be granted or refused; the fact that in instances it may be exercised arbitrarily, in the absence of specific directions, not being an argument against its validity, since in such a case the person discriminated against may apply to the courts for relief.

Notwithstanding repeal of the state prohibition laws, a city has the power to prohibit by ordinance, traffic in intoxicating liquors under its general powers granted it by this section, and the specific provision of section 5039.25 under which it may pass ordinances to prevent acts or conduct calculated to disturb the public peace or which are offensive to public morals. State ex rel. Moreland v. Police Court, 87 M 17, 22, 285 P 178.

NOTE.—Sections 5039-5039.83 were all listed as section 5039 in the revised codes of 1921, making in all 84 subdivisions to that section. The following annotations were made dealing with all the powers of the city council. These annotations were made with no reference to any particular subdivision of section 5039 of the 1921 code. They are placed here for convenience but also should be considered in connection with the next 83 sections.

Powers in General

The council is the governing body of the municipality, and, as such, is given the exclusive control of streets and highways. Snook v. City of Anaconda, 26 M 128, 134, 66 P 756; Ford v. City of Great Falls, 46 M 292, 305, 127 P 1004.

As a city council has, under this section and section 5079, the sole power to determine the amount that shall be expended in carrying on the city government, it, and not the mayor, has the power to reduce the police force for economical reasons, or when it becomes unnecessarily large. State ex rel. Rowling v. Mayor of Butte, 43 M 331, 336, 117 P 604.

Under its general legislative power the council of a city or town may provide for the appointment of as many policemen, including a chief of police in case of a city, and a marshal in case of a town, as may be necessary to preserve the peace and enforce the ordinances. Grush v. Bishop, 46 M 97, 99, 126 P 619.

The frequent use, in the laws of this state, of the prefix "street," before "railroads" or "railways," indicates the legislative intention to maintain a distinction between railroads and street railroads, and suggests that, in construing enactments touching railroads, they should not be held to apply to street railroads unless the intention that they should so apply is apparent. Helena etc. Ry. Co. v. City of Helena, 47 M 18, 34, 130 P 446.

When a city is engaged in operating a municipal plant, under an authority granted by general law, it acts in a proprietary or business capacity, and stands upon the same footing as a private individual or business corporation similarly situated. Milligan v. City of Miles City, 51 M 374, 384, 153 P 276.

Id. Where a city was authorized to conduct an electric light and power plant, it could lay a main to heat a building by the waste steam from the plant, and incidentally furnish steam for heat to private buildings abutting on the main.

Id. A city has the power to install at public expense a lighting plant to supply light not only for its public buildings and streets, but also for use by its inhabitants.

A city has no inherent power to levy taxes on property within its corporate limits, its power in that respect being limited to that conferred by statute, which must be strictly construed. First Nat. Bank of Glendive v. Sorenson, 65 M 1, 8, 210 P 900.

The statute creating a municipality, or under which it exists, is the charter of its powers, and it has only such authority as is conferred expressly and such as is necessarily implied or is indispensable in order properly to accomplish the purpose of its organization. State ex rel. City of Butte v. Police Court, 65 M 94, 97 et seq., 210 P 1059.

In grants of authority to municipal corporations, authority to commit a nuisance will not be implied but must be expressed, since in the use of their private property they are subject to the same rules as private individuals, and when the use and enjoyment of a legislative grant does not necessarily and naturally create a nuisance, but the nuisance results from the method of the use and enjoyment, the grant constitutes no defense. Lennon et al. v. City of Butte, 67 M 101, 105, 106, 214 P 1101.

Laws enacted in the exercise of the police power, whether by municipal corporations acting in pursuance of the laws of the state or by the state itself, must be reasonable, and are always subject to the provisions of both the federal and state constitutions and judicial scrutiny. Betty v. City of Sidney, 79 M 314, 318, 257 P 1007.

Id. The question of the reasonableness of an ordinance is, in the first instance, for the determination of a city or town council, and in the absence of a clear showing to the contrary its reasonableness will be presumed.

Held, that the powers of a city operating under the commission-manager plan granted by section 5409, with respect to punishments of violations of its ordinances, are the same as and no greater than those granted by this section to cities generally. City of Bozeman v. Merrell, 81 M 19, 25, 28, 261 P 876.

5039.1. Levy and collection of taxes. The city or town council has power: To levy and collect taxes for general and special purposes on all property within the town or city subject to taxation under the laws of the state.

History: En. Subd. 2, Sec. 5039, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 115, L. 1925; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 20, L. 1927. See also history of Sec. 5039.

5039.2. Licenses—requirements. The city or town council has power: To license all industries, pursuits, professions, and occupations, and to impose penalties for failure to comply with such license requirements.

History: En. Subd. 3, Sec. 5039, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 115, L. 1925; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 20, L. 1927. See also history of Sec. 5039.

License of Industry, Etc.

Section 2328, requires every coal dealer in the state to pay annually to the state a license of one dollar and in addition thereto five cents per ton for every ton of coal sold by him during any one year upon which the mine license fee exacted by section 2317 has not been paid by the mine operator. Under this section the power of cities or towns to license an industry or business is limited to an amount of not to exceed the sum required by the state to be paid to it by the same business. Held, that a city ordinance exacting a fee of one dollar from coal dealers and in addition five cents for every ton of coal sold, without incorporating therein the clause limiting the payment of the five cents to coal upon which the mine license fee exacted by section 2317 had not been paid to the state, was invalid as in excess of the power of the city to impose. State ex rel. City of Butte v. Police Court, 65 M 94, 97 et seq., 210 P 1059.

Operation and Effect

This section and city ordinances must yield to chapter 96, laws of 1923, fixing the time and method of collecting taxes and interest thereon. Thomas v. City of Missoula et al., 70 M 478, 482, 226 P 213.

A city cannot raise revenue for general municipal purposes by the imposition of license taxes. State v. Police Court, 68 M 435, 445, 219 P 810.

Id. This section provides that the license fee which a city may impose upon industries and businesses must not exceed the sum required by statute when the state requires a license therefor. Chapter 154, laws of 1923, while authorizing the state railroad commission to require the payment of a license not to exceed $10 per motor vehicle, does not declare that a license shall be exacted. A city imposed a license fee of $25 for the first taxi operated for hire and $12 for each additional one. Held, that in the absence of a showing that the railroad commission had exercised the power given it by chapter 154, the fee exacted by the city council cannot be said to exceed the fee imposed by the state for the same purpose.

While the legislature may not constitutionally authorize a city to provide revenue for general municipal purposes by the imposition of license taxes, it may properly authorize it to impose such a tax upon any industry or upon the right to transact any business which falls within the scope of police regulations. City of Bozeman v. Nelson, 73 M 147, 153 et seq., 237 P 528.

Id. Although revenue may result incidentally from an undisputed exercise of the police power, that fact alone does not divest the regulation of its police character and make it an exercise of the taxing power.

Id. Taxicabs and auto-busses operated for hire are legitimate objects of license fees.

5039.3. Issuing licenses. The city or town council has power: To fix the amount, terms and manner of issuing and revoking licenses; but the council may refuse to issue licenses when it may deem it best for the public interests.

5039.4. Building or hiring and lighting and heating buildings for municipal purposes. The city or town council has power: To build or hire all necessary buildings for the use of the city or town, and to heat and light the same.

History: En. Subd. 5, Sec. 5039, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 115, L. 1925; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 20, L. 1927. See also history of Sec. 5039.

5039.5. Streets, alleys, sidewalks, parks and public grounds. The city or town council has power: To lay out, establish, open, alter, widen, extend, grade, pave, or otherwise improve streets, alleys, avenues, sidewalks, parks, and public grounds and vacate the same.

History: En. Subd. 6, Sec. 5039, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 115, L. 1925; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 20, L. 1927. See also history of Sec. 5039.

5039.6. Lighting and cleaning streets—regulation of sidewalks—removal of offensive material from public ways and grounds—tax levy. The city or town council has power: To provide for lighting and cleaning the streets, alleys, and avenues; to regulate the use of sidewalks, and to require the owners of the premises adjoining to keep the same free from snow or other obstruction; to regulate the disposition and removal of ashes, garbage, or other offensive matter in any street, alley, or on public grounds or on any premises, and to provide for levying the cost of such removal as a special tax against the property from which such matter was deposited.

History: En. Subd. 7, Sec. 5039, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 115, L. 1925; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 20, L. 1927. See also history of Sec. 5039.

Operation and Effect

Under an ordinance making it the duty of the occupant of premises to keep the adjoining sidewalks free from snow, ice, etc., the city has a right to proceed against the occupant, as well as the owner, whose duty in this respect is laid down in this section. The remedy against the occupant is merely cumulative, and its assertion is not inconsistent with the exercise of the power granted in this section. City of Helena v. Kent, 32 M 279, 288, 80 P 258.

Held, that while this section gives a city the power to regulate the removal and disposition of garbage, it does not give it the right to so deposit it as to create a condition injurious to health or offensive to the senses and thus interfere with the comfortable enjoyment of life and property. Lennon et al. v. City of Butte, 67 M 101, 105, 106, 214 P 1101.

A city ordinance which requires property owners to keep the sidewalks in front of their premises free from ice and snow under penalty of a fine is not intended for the protection of the individual by the owner, but as an aid to the city in discharging its primary duty in that behalf, such an ordinance but making the owner a joint agent with city employees in performing that duty, and therefore failure to comply with its requirements, with consequent injury to a pedestrian, does not

5039.7. Regulation of public ways and grounds—obstructions to be prevented. The city or town council has power: To provide for and regulate street crossings, curbs, and gutters; to regulate and prevent the use or obstruction of streets, sidewalks, and public grounds by signs, poles, wires, posting handbills or advertisements, or any obstruction.

History: En. Subd. 8, Sec. 5039, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 115, L. 1925; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 20, L. 1927. See also history of Sec. 5039.

5039.8. Traffic and sales on public ways and grounds. The city or town council has power: To regulate and prohibit traffic and sales upon the streets, sidewalks, and public grounds.

History: En. Subd. 9, Sec. 5039, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 115, L. 1925; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 20, L. 1927. See also history of Sec. 5039.

5039.9. Speed regulation. The city or town council has power: To regulate or prohibit the fast driving of horses, animals, or vehicles within the city or town.

History: En. Subd. 10 Sec. 5039, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 115, L. 1925; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 20, L. 1927. See also history of Sec. 5039.

5039.10. Railroads—regulation of use and speed. The city or town council has power: To regulate and control the laying of railroad tracks, and prohibit the use of engines and locomotives propelled by steam or otherwise, or to regulate the speed thereof when used.

History: En. Subd. 11, Sec. 5039, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 115, L. 1925; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 20, L. 1927. See also history of Sec. 5039.

5039.11. Lighting of railroad tracks—crossings—enforcement of requirements. The city or town council has power: To require the lighting of any railroad track or route within a city or town, the cars of which are propelled by steam or otherwise, and fix and determine the number, style, and size of lamp posts, burners, lamps, and all other fixtures and apparatus necessary for such lighting, and the points of location of the lamp posts, and to require the construction of crossings on the line of any railroad track or route within the city or town, the cars of which are propelled by steam or otherwise, where the said track intersects or crosses any street, alley, or public highway, or runs along the same, and to fix and determine the size and kind of such crossing and the grades thereof; and, in case the owner of such railroads fails to comply with such requirements, the council may cause the same to be done, and it may assess the expense thereof against such owner, and the same constitutes a lien on any property belonging to such owner within such city or town, and may be collected as other taxes.

History: En. Subd. 12, Sec. 5039, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 115, L. 1925; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 20, L. 1927. See also history of Sec. 5039.

Crossings and Lighting Railroad Tracks

This section does not apply to street railroads; hence an ordinance requiring a street railway company to light its track within the corporate limits, without expense to the city, is void. Helena etc. Ry. Co. v. City of Helena, 47 M 18, 37, 130 P 446.

Before a city may exercise the power conferred by this section, to order the construction of a subway street crossing necessitating a change in the grade of the street, it must comply with the provisions of section 5039.67 and section 5300, they being limitations upon the exercise of its police power in that behalf. State v. Northern Pac. Ry. Co., 88 M 529, 545, 295 P 257.

5039.12. Street railroads—authorization and regulation. The city or town council has power: To license and authorize the construction and operation of street railroads, and require them to conform to the grade of the street as the same are or may be established.

the general provision contained in section 5039, confers all the powers necessary for the policing of street railroads. Helena etc. Ry. Co. v. City of Helena, 47 M 18, 37, 130 P 446.

Street Railroads

This section, taken in connection with 5039.13. Numbering of houses and lots. The city or town council has power: To regulate the numbering of houses and lots, and to change the same.

History: En. Subd. 14, Sec. 5039, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 115, L. 1925; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 20, L. 1927. See also history of Sec. 5039.

5039.14. Water regulation. The city or town council has power: To provide for the cleaning of waters, water-courses, and streams within the city, or to alter, straighten, or widen the same, and the draining and filling in of ponds, wells, or shafts on private property, when necessary to the public health or public welfare.

Contracts

The mode of exercising the power granted by this section is subject to the limitation prescribed in that section of the code in reference to the awarding by municipalities of contracts exceeding a certain amount to the lowest responsible bidder; this limitation is, furthermore, exclusive, and applies to all municipal bodies. Missoula St. Ry. Co. v. City of Missoula, 47 M 85, 95, 130 P 771.

Under section 5039.72 and this section, a city may contract for rates with a public utility, subject, however, to the paramount authority of the state to exercise its power in the premises whenever it chooses to do so. State ex rel. Billings v. Billings Gas Co., 55 M 102, 110, 173 P 799.

The purpose of the legislature, in employing the very general language used in this section and in section 5039.72, was not to surrender fully the distinctively governmental function to regulate rates, but rather to permit municipalities to protect themselves and their inhabitants against extortionate rates until the state itself should act in the premises. State ex rel. Billings v. Billings Gas Co., 55 M 102, 111, 173 P 799.

5039.63. Purpose for which indebtedness may be incurred—limitation—additional indebtedness for sewer or water system—procuring water supply and system—jurisdiction of public works appurtenances. The city or town council has power: To contract an indebtedness on behalf of a city or town, upon the credit thereof, by borrowing money or issuing bonds for the following purposes, to-wit: Erection of public buildings, construction of sewers, bridges, waterworks, lighting plants, supplying the city or town with water by contract, the purchase of fire apparatus, the construction or purchase of canals or ditches and water rights for supplying the city or town with water, and the funding of outstanding warrants and maturing bonds; provided, that the total amount of indebtedness authorized to be contracted in any form, including the then existing indebtedness, must not, at any time, exceed three per centum of the total assessed valuation of the taxable property of the city or town, as ascertained by the last assessment for state and county taxes; provided, that no money must be borrowed on bonds issued for the construction, purchase, or securing of a water plant, water system, water supply, or sewerage system, until the proposition has been submitted to the vote of the taxpayers affected thereby of the city or town, and the majority vote cast in favor thereof; and, further provided, that an additional indebtedness shall be incurred, when necessary, to construct a sewerage system or procure a water supply for the said city or town, which shall own or control said water supply and devote the revenue derived therefrom to the payment of the debt. The additional indebtedness authorized, including all indebtedness heretofore contracted, which is unpaid or outstanding, for the construction of a sewerage system, shall not exceed ten per centum over and above the three per centum heretofore referred to, of the total assessed valuation of the taxable property of the city or town as ascertained by the last assessment for state and county taxes; and, provided further, that the above limit of three per centum shall not be extended, unless the question shall have been submitted to a vote of the taxpayers affected thereby, and carried in the affirmative by a vote of the majority of said taxpayers who vote at such election. It is further provided, that whenever a franchise has been granted to, or a contract made with, any person or persons, corporation or corporations, and such person or persons, corporation or corporations, in pursuance thereof, or otherwise, have established or maintained a system of water supply, or have valuable water rights or a supply of water desired by the city or town for supplying the said city or town with water, the city or town granting such franchise or entering in such contract or desiring such water supply, shall, by the passage of an ordinance, give notice to such person or persons, corporation or corporations, that it desires to purchase the plant and franchise and water supply of such person or persons, corporation or corporations, and it shall have the right to so purchase the said plant or water supply, upon such terms as the parties agree; in case they cannot agree, then the city or town shall proceed to acquire the same under the laws relating to the taking of private property for public use, and any city or town acquiring property under the laws relating to the taking of private property for public use, shall make payment to the owner or owners of the plant or water supply of the value thereof legally determined, within six months from and after final judgment is entered in the condemnation proceedings. For the purpose of providing the city or town with an adequate water supply for municipal and domestic purposes, the city or town council shall procure and appropriate water rights and title to the same, and the necessary real and personal property to make said rights and supply available, by purchase, appropriation, location, condemnation, or otherwise. Cities and towns shall have jurisdiction and control over the territory occupied by their public works, and over and along the line of reservoirs, streams, trenches, pipes, drains, and other appurtenances used in the construction and operation of such works, and also over the source of stream for which water is taken, for the enforcement of its sanitary ordinances, the abatement of nuisances, and the general preservation of the purity of its water supply, with power to enact all ordinances and regulations necessary to carry the powers hereby conferred into effect. For this purpose the city or town shall be authorized to condemn private property in the manner provided by law, and shall have authority to levy a just and equitable tax on all consumers of water for the purpose of defraying the expenses of its procurement.

Operation and Effect

The last clause of this section, which, in the codes of 1895, declared that no municipality having a water supply furnished by private persons shall erect a water plant to be operated by itself, but that it should purchase or condemn that owned by such private persons was declared unconstitutional. Helena C. W. Co. v. Steele, 20 M 1, 4, 49 P 382; State ex rel. Gerry v. Edwards, 42 M 135, 148, 111 P 734.

In the ownership and control of its water system, a city acts in its proprietary character, as distinguished from its governmental capacity. H. C. W. Co. v. Steele, 20 M 1, 6, 49 P 382; Public Service Commission v. City of Helena, 52 M 527, 534, 159 P 24.

A city is authorized by this section to acquire by condemnation proceedings water rights for the purpose of establishing a water supply system. City of Helena v. Rogan, 26 M 452, 469, 68 P 798.

In enacting this section, it is apparent that the legislature intended to pursue strictly the provisions of section 6, article XIII, of the constitution, with a view of effectuating its object. Butler v. Andrus, 35 M 575, 580, 90 P 785; Carlson v. City of Helena, 39 M 82, 98, 102 P 39; Lepley

v. City of Fort Benton, 51 M 551, 555, 154 P 710.

Under this section, there may be no extension, if there is no debt already contracted, for the word "additional" qualifies the character of the debt to be contracted, and refers also to a pre-existing amount of indebtedness to which it may be added. The word "necessary" defines the condition of affairs which requires the additional indebtedness. The condition must be such as to create the necessity. Butler v. Andrus, 35 M 575, 581, 90 P 785; Lepley v. City of Fort Benton, 51 M 551, 555, 154 P 710.

Id. The proviso under which the legislature may authorize an extension of the constitutional limit of three per cent., found in this section, is clear in purpose, to-wit, to allow such extension when it is necessary to construct a sewerage system or to procure a water supply. It cannot be granted or made available for any other purpose nor under any other circumstances than those which create the necessity for it.

The purpose of the limitation in matters of indebtedness, contained in this section, is to prevent extravagance, and such provisions should be so construed as to accomplish the desired end so far as possible. Butler v. Andrus, 35 M 575, 580, 90 P 785.

Id. A city's arbitrary action in placing a bond issue within the extended ten per cent. limit of indebtedness authorized, under certain conditions, by this section, when there was sufficient margin within the constitutional three per cent. limit to cover it, does not affect the validity of such bonds as a liability of the city.

Where the legislature had, by a general law applicable to all municipalities alike, such as that contained in this section, extended the constitutional limit of indebtedness which a city could incur in the procurement of a water supply or the construction of a sewer system, it was not necessary that the question whether the necessity calling for an extension of the limit of indebtedness existed be first submitted to the law-making power, and authority obtained from it through a special act. The determination of such necessity rested with the taxpayers affected by the contemplated improvement. Carlson v. City of Helena, 39 M 82, 98, 102 P 39.

Id. This section does not make it incumbent upon a city, when it desires to acquire a water supply of its own, to purchase the system then maintained therein by any person or corporation under a franchise granted or contract made by the municipality, the course pointed out in the proviso in said section relative to the purchase of the then existing system being obligatory only when the city "desires" to so purchase; if not, it may procure any other available supply.

Under this section, a town council has power to condemn a sidewalk and order a new cement one in its stead, thereby exercising a legislative function, and, except for fraud or abuse of discretion, its action is not subject to judicial review. O'Brien v. Drinkenberg, 41 M 538, 544, 111 P 137.

It is only for special purposes, to-wit, sewerage systems and water supplies, that cities may incur indebtedness in excess of the constitutional limit of three per cent., when authorized by the taxpayers, but the constitutional provision does not limit the amount to which the legislature may authorize the taxpayers to extend the indebtedness. Arnold v. City of Miles City, 46 M 478, 481, 128 P 915.

Id. From this section it is clear that it was the intention of the law-making body to compel a city to refrain from becoming indebted for general purposes in excess of three per cent. of the value of its taxable property, and that, so long as it keeps within this limit, regard being had to the assessed valuation at the time the indebtedness is proposed to be contracted, it is proceeding according to law.

Id. A city, after having necessarily and legally incurred an outstanding indebtedness for a water supply and a sewer system, under the ten per cent. limit, may afterward incur an additional indebtedness of five thousand dollars, under the three per cent. limit, for building a bridge, where the existing indebtedness of the city, incurred under the three per cent. limit, has fallen below that limit by reason of payments thereon, or on account of the fact that the assessed valuation of taxable property has increased so as to leave a sufficient margin within the three per cent. limit.

Where a city had authorized an issue of bonds for sewer purposes which fully exhausted the three per cent. constitutional limit, it was without power to subsequently issue further bonds for the construction of a lighting plant by having recourse to the device of classing the first issue within the extended ten per cent. limit—which may be resorted to only for the procurement of a sewerage system or a water supply—a large enough margin being thus created within the three per cent. limit to accommodate the later issue. Lepley v. City of Fort Benton, 51 M 551, 555, 154 P 710.

Where a city acquires a water supply without resort to indebtedness beyond the constitutional three per cent. of the city's taxable property, it stands on an equal footing with an individual or private corporation engaged in furnishing water to it and its inhabitants, and is subject to all reasonable regulation and control by the state under the police power. Public Service Commission v. City of Helena, 52 M 527, 534, 159 P 24.

A city which has acquired a water supply by resorting to the extended limit of indebtedness is not thereby exempted from control and regulation by the state through the agency of the public service commission. Public Service Commission v. City of Helena, 52 M 527, 538, 159 P 24.

Authority of a city to incur indebtedness beyond the three per cent. limit for the purpose of rendering or maintaining its water supply wholesome and fit for the purpose intended is clearly implied, if not expressly conferred. McClintock v. City of Great Falls, 53 M 221, 226, 163 P 99.

This section refers only to the contracting of an indebtedness in addition to the "then outstanding indebtedness of the city." Parker v. City of Butte, 58 M 531, 533, 193 P 748.
